

Chapter 640

This voice suddenly thundered amongst the silence.

It caused a huge commotion within the crowd.

Indeed, it was Chuck. His expression was cold and even filled with the intent to kill.

In fact, he had been watching in the crowd for a long time and did not see Willa, the person he had been looking for all this time. Just as he felt helpless, he suddenly looked over.

His gaze fell on the woman who had attracted the gaze of everyone present. She was absolutely gorgeous.

The wedding dress had shown off her curves, and she was stunning. As Chuck stared at her back, he suddenly felt a sense of familiarity...

There had been many times where Chuck had fantasized about Willa wearing jeans, so he could look at her figure from behind. Therefore, he had remembered.

As soon as he saw the wedding dress, realization dawned upon Chuck. It was the person that he had come all this way for and the woman whom he had been searching for so long. He finally saw Willa.

However.

He felt a mixture of emotions. He was surprised, shocked, pained and so much more.

Why was Willa wearing a wedding dress?

Why was Willa getting married?

Why didn't Willa invite him even if she had gotten married?

Chuck could barely restrain himself. There were so many questions he had in mind.

What was going on?

What on earth was happening?

Chuck's objection immediately angered the Yeager family. The reason was simple: how dare he make a scene during the wedding of the hidden family!

Everyone turned around and looked at him. Tens of thousands of eyes shot daggers at him.

Loomis' expression immediately fell upon seeing him. He could barely remember who he was, but he knew that it was Chuck!

It was the man he had let off previously!

At the same time, he was also the person that Willa liked. Why was he here?

Willa, who had just refused the marriage in pain, was confused and took off her veil. When she saw the angry man, she felt a nagging sense of familiarity...

Slowly, Willa found that her vision had become clouded. She could no longer see him clearly. Was she crying?

Who was he?

Willa's beautiful eyes were dull. Her body was trembling and her head was stinging. She tried her best to remember...

"What did you say?"

Loomis asked indifferently. His voice was as cold as ice, threatening to freeze everything around him.

"I'm telling you! She won't marry you!" Chuck answered firmly.

His tone was furious.

Chuck was filled with anger.

The head of the Yeager family, Brooke, glared at Chuck expressionlessly. It was as if Chuck's fate had already been decided right after he interrupted such a holy wedding ceremony. He had to die.

Chuck's fury had angered every single member of the Yeager family present. Their expressions were filled with anger.

"Which b*stard is this? How dare he cause a scene in my house? Who let him in!"

"That's right, who's that idiot?"

Their voices were filled with anger and coldness.

The prestige of the hidden family had been trampled by a nameless punk!

As a hidden family member, this was definitely not allowed!!

The atmosphere was tense, and the silence was deafening.

At the guest area.

Adriana watched as the whole scene unfolded before her. She chimed interestingly, "That was fast. I thought that you would've noticed it later!"

Nelson sneered sinisterly beside her.

He could feel the tension in the room. This was the anger of the hidden family. Everyone would be able to feel it.

He made sure not to miss out on anything, because he was sure that Chuck would face the wrath of the Yeager family soon!

Someone as irrelevant as Chuck would never be able to take on the Yeager family.

Insane torture was next in store for him.

Nelson would definitely not miss it. He hoped that Adriana would only save him right before his death.

Things would certainly be interesting.

He even had the urge to record it with his phone and let Karen see for herself how her son was about to meet with a very cruel fate...

"Miss Adriana, Chuck is really something else," Nelson remarked.

"Yeah, he is," Adriana agreed. Chuck was not afraid of the Yeager family. She felt that her taste in men was not bad.

After all, if Chuck didn't even have the courage to stop them, then why should she let such a piece of trash become her husband?

Chuck had boldly stepped forward. Therefore, Adriana was even more convinced that Chuck was a good candidate. Furthermore, she was even more convinced that he must marry into her family and take after the name of Whitlock.

"Well, I've expected that the Yeager family would be terribly angered," Adriana commented.

She was about to let Chuck know how powerful she was in just a moment!

"Would you beg me for my help later? As long as you are willing to beg for it, I'll help you. So beg me!" She thought to herself.

Adriana stared at the expressionless Chuck. Right then, she felt a little excited.

"You're right, Miss," Nelson kept an eye on the whole scene. He wouldn't miss it for anything in the world...

Loomis was already furious when Willa had refused to pay her respects to the elders. Now that Chuck was here, he was further angered.

He wanted to kill Chuck!

"You're digging your own grave!" Loomis hissed.

However, he suddenly restrained his anger and became calm.

On second thought, why should he be angry?

Who was Loomis? He was one of the future heirs of the Yeager family!

Hence, why should he be angry with some plebian like Chuck?

Haha!

Chuck wasn't worth Loomis' anger.

Loomis raised his hand and snapped his fingers.

The crisp snap resonated in the room, like a firecracker going off in the middle of the night.

However, after Loomis snapped his fingers, an ominous killing intent that came from the hidden family spread throughout the room.

There was a flash of movement.

Ten burly men in black appeared and surrounded Chuck.

All of them were staring at Chuck coldly as if they were looking at his dead body.

They were all combat experts.

They could silence Chuck in a matter of milliseconds!

As long as Loomis snapped his fingers again or even cast a gaze, Chuck, who disrupted the wedding, would be on the ground...

He would regret even coming here and his words...

However, Chuck was not afraid. Even his bland expression remained unchanged. He just stared at them.

Meanwhile, Willa was trembling.

"Auntie Logan! What's wrong? What on earth happened?"

Chuck, who was currently in the middle of danger, did not roar at his opponents. At this moment, there was only tenderness in his voice.

He had missed Willa's gentleness for days and nights!

Finally, he saw her. Luckily, she was safe. She was still alive!

Chuck would've never expected to meet her again under such circumstances.

He felt like he was dreaming, but he could feel the pain in his heart as he looked at Willa. She was wearing a wedding dress with tears in her eyes.

Suddenly, Chuck thought of his dream. It was the dream where Willa was cowering helplessly in the corner.

It turned out that Willa was really helpless. She was to be wed today, but there was no one she knew in the crowd.

Auntie Logan?

It sounded so familiar!

Upon hearing this, Willa's body trembled. She looked at the gentle man, her vision still blurry from the tears. She had indeed heard this voice before.

Willa's head was killing her, but still, she tried to remember. Instantaneously, countless memories poured into Willa's mind!

She was reminded of the first time she knew the man's name in front of her.

She thought of the first time she had seen this man; the first time she had heard him call her Auntie Logan; the first time she started missing him, and their first kiss. That kiss was really sweet...

Willa's memory came back. She wiped away her tears so that she could see clearly.

It was really Chucky!

Willa's gaze was blurred by tears again!

She remembered that the person she liked was not Loomis, but the man in front of her. In the dark night, outside the bar, he took her first kiss after sharing an intimate gaze with her...

The person's name was Chuck!

He was the one she liked!

"Chucky..." Willa was close to tears. She trembled as she called out his name. As his name passed her lips, she finally felt at ease. It had been so long since she called him like this.

Upon hearing this, Chuck smiled. Now that he was no longer confused, what else was there for him to worry about?

There was no need for any further explanation. Willa had called out his name, clearly indicating that she was against the marriage. What else was there left to do here?

He would take her away and leave this place. She was unwilling to get married, and he was also unwilling to see her so helpless. Hence, he would bring her away this instant!

"Auntie Logan, I'll bring you away now!" Chuck's voice was loud, and it echoed in the large hall.

Chapter 641

"Yes!"

Willa wiped away her tears. She still had a headache, but she was no longer lost and in pain. The man whom she had always liked had told her that he would bring her away and leave this place!

She didn't want to know why Chuck was even here. She didn't need to know why! The fact that Chuck could appear right at her loneliest and most painful moment, was enough for her.

He was going to take her away from this agonizing place.

"What did you say? You b*tch!"

Loomis was enraged.

Upon hearing what Willa said, Loomis was once again angered. He had told himself that there was no need for him to be angry with someone like Chuck, but he couldn't hold himself back when he saw how Willa was looking at Chuck.

Similarly, Brooke was furious.

Thomson was even angrier!

How dare Willa do this? Did she not know what was good for her?

D*mn it!

All members of the Yeager family were enraged. The tension in the air was heavy.

The prestige and honor of the Yeager family had just been trampled on.

"What the f*ck? How dare this b*tch take someone else's side? Loomis, think carefully about this! This b*tch should just die!" One of the elders said, seething with anger.

The Yeager family was one of the hidden families. When had they ever been provoked by someone this insignificant?

Never!

Today was the first time. To defend their dignity, they had to cleanse the halls with Chuck's blood!

"That's right. Loomis, there are other women in the world. So what if this woman is beautiful? How dare she try to leave with another man! She must die!" Another added.

This was an insult to both Loomis and the family!

He couldn't stand it.

Every member of the Yeager family couldn't bear it.

Chuck smiled in the face of danger.

Everyone present glared daggers at him, and Chuck would might as well be dead by now if looks could kill.

However, Chuck wasn't afraid at all. Why?

It was because Willa was willing to leave with him. She had agreed!

"Okay, I'll take you with me," Chuck laughed heartily.

"Okay," Willa was moved. She smiled gently, an expression that was reserved only for Chuck.

She knew the consequences of her actions. She was aware of what she had to face.

However, Chuck's words were enough for her. It didn't matter if she couldn't leave this place. She no longer needed to suffer in pain like she had to previously.

"Willa, I'll give you one last chance. Say it again, who are you willing to be with?" Loomis had a ferocious look on his face.

"Loomis! What did you just say? Are you giving her a chance?" Thomson was furious!

Brooke was also irritated. He glared at Willa coldly.

"That's right, Loomis! Why are you giving her a chance? She's just a b*tch!" Another shouted, not understanding Loomis' intentions at all.

"Dad, I know! But I have other ideas. How can I just let her go this easily after humiliating me? I will torture her!" Loomis hissed, his eyes bloodshot as he looked sinisterly at Willa.

Upon hearing this, Thomson nodded with relief and approved of his actions, "Good!"

The rest of the Yeager family members also agreed. This was for the best!

"Willa, I'm asking you again, who are you choosing?" Loomis sneered as he stared at Willa.

"Did you know? I was really surprised that you could even remember. But do you know who I am? Do you know where you are? Do you even know what the consequences waiting for both you and him are? So think wisely, who are you going to stay with?" Loomis asked with a vicious smile.

His threatening tone was expected.

After all, this was Yeager family territory.

How dare Willa and Chuck even try to leave?

It was an idiotic dream of theirs.

"Willa, don't you understand what I just said? If you don't, it doesn't matter. Listen, if you choose him, you will die today. But if you choose to follow me, you can still live! Although you will suffer, I still can let you live..."

Loomis smiled. Everyone stared at his terrifying smile.

"He'll die regardless of whether I choose to follow you, right?" Willa narrowed her eyes.

Her steady and unrelenting gaze had returned to her!

"That's right! However, there's also a difference. If you follow him and walk away from here, then I'll chop him up and feed him to the dogs - the same goes for you. However, if you choose me, you'll stay alive. I'll be slightly happier and will leave his corpse intact. Of course, I'll cut off his limbs and head and piece them together. It's still much better than chopping him into mincemeat, right?" Loomis cackled eerily.

"Haha! Loomis is so cool!"

"That's the way things should be. That b*stard and b*tch should be dealt with accordingly!"

All the Yeager family members burst out laughing. This was great!

"No, he won't die! I won't let him die!" Willa shook her head.

"Oh, then do you mean that you're not choosing me?" Loomis's eyes were that of a wild beast, staring straight at Willa.

"No, I will never choose you! My head has been aching all the time. I suspect that you've done something to me," Willa glared at him.

She was smart. She had remembered her pain and remembered that she had been in a daze for such a long time. She finally understood that Loomis had never intended for her to remember anything!

A flash appeared in Chuck's eyes. He realized that Willa had lost her memories.

"Oh, you've finally realized? But it's too late. Well, since you chose him, I'll let you die slowly. You'll regret this!" Loomis sneered.

He was extremely furious.

The rest of the Yeager family were also enraged. How dare this b*tch pull this on them!

Loomis's father was infuriated, and Brooke was also similarly furious.

"D*mn it!"

"I won't regret it!" Willa took off the jewelry on her neck and ears, and then tore off the hem of her long skirt behind her.

She didn't need these burdensome clothing and jewellery since she realized what she would face next!

"Whoosh!"

Willa suddenly lashed out. If she could catch Loomis and take him hostage, then it was possible for them to leave!

There were too many people present with too many bodyguards of the Yeager family. No matter how powerful she and Chuck were, it was impossible for them to escape unscathed!

Therefore, she had to capture a person as a hostage.

"B*tch, are you really trying to capture me?" Loomis asked with disdain. He had a bodyguard following him around.

The bodyguard's fist flew straight at her.

Willa was already weak, and the injury on her head was still recovering.

She was immediately thrown back after getting punched.

Right before falling onto the ground, a strong arm caught her.

Chuck had run over!

Willa coughed, "Chucky..."

Chuck embraced her.

The two of them naturally hugged!

If she had to die today, she would have no regrets!

Chuck also felt amazing to see Willa again. However, seeing that she had been stranded helplessly for so long, all he wanted now was to take her with him and leave this place!

That was the only thing on Chuck's mind.

"Kill them. Wait, kill them slowly. I want to see how they die, how they wail and how they beg for mercy..." Loomis snapped his fingers!

He didn't pity Willa at all even after seeing how she got punched before she could reach him.

To him, a b*tch like her who didn't know what was good for her should die!

It was just that he felt that it was a pity.

Even now, he still hadn't managed to win Willa over for even a moment. She truly was one of her kind.

This was the only regret he had!

However, this regret had been burned away by his anger. How could such a b*tch be worthy of being touched by him?

The men in black immediately surrounded Chuck and Willa.

They were terrifying as they gave off intense killing intent.

All of the Yeager family members were observing from the sidelines. Those who trampled on the prestige of the Yeager family would meet with such a fate.

Die!

"Auntie Logan, are you afraid?" Chuck asked calmly.

Chuck knew that these ten bodyguards were just a small part of the team belonging to the Yeager family. The experts had not come out yet!

From the look in their eyes, Chuck could tell that the truly powerful ones didn't even bother to fight him. The men who were surrounding him right now were weak and irrelevant to the family!

However, Chuck could also tell that the ten men around them had confidence to finish the two of them off immediately!

"No, because Chucky, you are by my side," Willa smiled gently, but Chuck felt brokenhearted at her pale face.

Who on earth had caused Willa to become like this?

Willa was stranded alone for so long. It was all because of that one person!

Chuck swore that he would find out the person who had hurt Willa!

"Auntie Logan, let's go!" Chuck said calmly.

"Great! I really want to leave."
