

Chapter 762

At that moment...

Not a single one of the Yeager family members objected. She had their utmost respect!

They were not fools. They could tell that Sabina was different from the cruel Loomis. She would be a good head of the family!

From that day onwards, the Yeager family's status would be strengthened!

Sabina had no expression on her face while she was talking to them.

The position was supposed to be hers in the first place. She was just taking it back with a legitimate reason.

"Loomis, what should I do?" Loomis' father was in despair.

Sabina glanced coldly at him, "Carry him out!"

"Kill him!"

"Yes, he is an accomplice to Grandpa's murder. We have to kill him!"

The Yeager family was furious!

They were mad.

The bodyguards went over and brought Loomis' father out.

"No, Sabina, spare my life!" he pleaded.

At that moment, Loomis gave up on him. He really regretted having a son like Loomis!

It was true that he could even kill his own grandfather. So, what was he to him?

"Take him out and deal with him!" Sabina said coldly.

The prestige of the Yeager family had to be established!

Loomis' father couldn't stop begging!

"From today onwards, whoever dares to betray the Yeager family will face the same consequence as him!"

Sabina uttered indifferently.

Her domineering aura made everyone feel as if it was winter and the temperature in the room dropped to freezing point.

No one dared to speak!

"Also, starting from today, I'm going to redesign the layout of the entire Yeager family residence! You have to be prepared!"

Sabina continued.

The fact that Karen was able to break in meant that the current layout was full of loopholes!

The Yeager family had no objections.

All of them were really frightened that day.

Someone broke in suddenly and pointed guns at them!

It really scared them to death!

They had to rebuild everything again. If someone could break in so easily, how could they even call themselves a 'hidden' family?

"All of you can go and take a rest," Sabina said.

The Yeager family then dispersed!

An old man walked in. He was the bar owner who helped Sabina.

He was the only person who believed in Sabina!

"Head of the family!" The old man lowered his head.

"You don't have to be so polite."

"I should. Your aura is much stronger than the previous head," the old man lowered his head and said.

Loomis' role as the head of the family was to make one feel afraid. However, Sabina was different. She could actually convince the Yeager family, that was the difference.

"Sabina, what's your plan now?"

The old man asked.

He truly believed that with Sabina as the head of the family, the Yeager family could advance and surpass the Whitlock family!

They were going to be the world's strongest family!

All of that would depend on Sabina!

"There are a lot of things to be done. But you... I want you to keep an eye on Chuck and Karen. I want to know their every move and action!" Sabina ordered.

Sabina vividly remembered the moment the shot was fired!

"Yes! Then, are you going to deal with Chuck and Karen?" The old man asked.

"Yes! Now I'll have fun with the two of them!" Sabina's beautiful eyes were stunning, but at that moment, they became cold with killing intent!

That coldness was meant for Chuck!

"Chuck, I want you to regret the day you shot at me!"

The old man trembled. She was stone cold. At that moment, Sabina was filled with murderous intent!

Ring!

The phone rang.

Sabina answered it, and it was Adriana.

"Not bad, you've become the head of the family. Congratulations!"

"There's nothing to congratulate."

"Forget it then. Don't forget what I told you to do. I hate when people forget what I say. Don't make me hate you!"

"I know!"

Then they hung up!

"You want me to force Chuck to ask you for help? I will... I will make him regret what he has done!"

Sabina said coldly. At that moment, she was emotionless.

Back then, she would never allow herself to harm Chuck. However, she would definitely do so from that day onward.

Because that shot had shattered Sabina's heart, and she could not bear the pain...

Elise's operation went smoothly, but she was still in a coma.

After the operation, Karen left to check on the situation at the Yeager family.

She failed this time.

After so many years, it was the first time that Karen thought she was perhaps too soft-hearted.

She let out a bitter laugh.

"Chuck, I've already called my sister and asked her to come over. I'll bring Elise back." Sophia was reluctant to leave.

Her family was still alive.

It was fine as long as she went back.

"Okay, I'll see you off." Chuck felt a little more reassured.

"No, you and I are too close. They will find out the relationship between us. Don't be like this." Sophia could not bear it.

Chuck was silent for a moment, and he sighed at last.

There were certain things in that current situation that needed to be kept in the dark.

It was unfair to Sophia, but Chuck had no other choice.

"My sister is coming. I'll take Elise away." Sophia's sister arrived with professional help. She took Elise and boarded the plane.

"Goodbye. I don't regret what happened between us." Sophia's beautiful eyes burst into tears.

"Me too."

Sophia left. Chuck stayed there for some time until his mother came over to look for him.

Yvette and Willa were there too.

"Sabina has become the head of the family," Karen said seriously.

Karen knew better than anyone what that meant.

Chuck was silent. What else could he say?

All of that was caused by him. Wouldn't it be better if he had killed Sabina that time?

Then, they would not end up like this.

He was creating a strong enemy for himself!

He didn't know how Sabina would deal with him!

In any case, Chuck knew that the two of them were now enemies.

"Mom, what should we do now?" Chuck asked. He knew the immense pressure on his mother.

His mother had only twenty years of experience, and the hidden family had thousands of years of history. The gap between them was too huge.

There was no other choice.

"Sabina's strategy is completely different from Loomis'. She won't play dirty, but she will use her strength to defeat you! So now, Chucky, I want you to establish your own strength as soon as possible. Build your own circle, your own empire!" Karen was finding ways.

This was the best way.

Chuck was so talented in business that he might be able to earn a lot of money in a short time.

Only when he had the strength could he fight alongside Karen!

"Yes." Chuck had always wanted to establish his own business empire.

"But, I've been busy since I came to the United States. I just don't have the time!"

The only project he had was to build a casino with his mom's help!

He has to work harder!

His mother was so powerful. How could he be such a disgrace as a her son?

Willa and Yvette also agreed.

Yvette and Willia's family had established well in businesses. They might be of help.

"But, where do we start?" Chuck asked. In the United States or...?

Chapter 763

"That's up to you, Chucky," Karen replied.

Chuck was still having second thoughts. How should he put it? He was actually very hesitant. There was no way he could resolve this misunderstanding between Sabina and him in such a short period of time.

Sabina's Yeager family was established in the United States and likewise with Adriana's Whitlock family, which most likely established there too.

Then, he would most likely face a lot of issues in the United States!

Chuck thought, "Why not go back to our home country first?"

It has been a long time since he had returned to his home country. He did not know what was going on with Zelda and Quinn.

"Mom, let me go back to our home country." Chuck made up his mind.

Returning to Yolanda's side was a good choice. He could expand his business empire there and then continue to expand in the neighboring countries.

Only by strengthening himself could he then deal with Sabina's Yeager family.

"Well, it's up to you!" Karen had no objection.

Chuck was grown up and could make his own decisions.

"Yvette, Willa, what about you two?" Karen knew that Yvette would not return with them.

What she wanted was to surpass Karen.

Yvette was cold and silent, while she looked at Chuck reluctantly.

Karen understood.

As she had expected, Yvette wanted to find a place where she could surpass Karen.

Yvette was silent. Chuck understood as well. He sighed in his heart.

Willa would definitely follow Chuck to return to the home country.

"Alright, Chucky, go and prepare yourself," Karen said.

Chuck nodded and left.

Yvette also left quietly.

"I, I..."

Willa was still hesitant as the situation was rather unique. The hidden family was like a boulder that was pressing on her shoulders, it was particularly heavy.

"You can stay in the United States or follow Chuck back. It's up to you," Karen said.

"I, I will stay in the United States first. I also have a company here. After I'm settled, only then I'll go and find you guys," Willa lowered her head and said.

Karen had no objection. She just sighed. "Are you afraid that Yvette would misunderstand if you and Chucky both leave together?"

Yes, that was what indeed what Willa thought.

Yvette wasn't even leaving with Chuck. What right did she have to leave with him?

Willa was not confident because she had that drunken night with Chuck.

"I won't mingle in your affairs. It's all up to you." Karen couldn't do anything about it.

Willa lowered her head in silence.

In the room...

Chuck was packing up while Yvette hugged him from behind. "Hubby, you head back first. I have to stay here, or maybe go somewhere else..."

Yvette wanted to improve herself.

She couldn't wait any longer.

"Okay." Chuck packed up his things calmly.

"Are you mad at me?"

"No. But if you want to have a duel with my mom, you must tell me in advance, or else I will be mad!" Chuck sounded serious.

"I will. I won't sneak up on her. I will tell you in advance."

Sigh!

There would be no way to avoid that battle.

When the time comes, what could he do!

Chuck had no other way.

After packing up his things, Chuck still had to meet Patricia and make arrangements to let her manage the casino. He felt that she was capable to do more, so Chuck planned to entrust her with the rights for franchises.

That was for as long as she could manage it.

There shouldn't be a problem.

Patricia was a capable lady, but he had to trust her.

He had to believe in her. Chuck believed that she would have some surprising results for him.

After staying with Chuck for a while, Yvette went ahead to pack up her things too.

Chuck still had to bid farewell to a few other people. He had to tell Alexandrina that he was leaving.

The two of them couldn't bear to part with each other.

After Yvette left, Chuck went to look for Willa.

"Auntie Logan, aren't you going back?"

Chuck asked.

"I'll stay here for a few more days first, then I'll go back," Willa said.

Meanwhile, Willa really wanted to give him a hug, but Willa did not dare to. He might be shocked.

"Okay." Chuck did not say anything else.

Chuck also felt that Willa was a little depressed recently.

He didn't know why. Perhaps, she had a lot going on in her mind.

Chuck didn't quite understand.

Even if he asked, he would assume that Willa wouldn't open up to him!

"Then... Auntie Logan, I will be waiting for you back home!"

"Sure."

The two of them were silent.

Chuck gave Willa a hug.

Willa trembled and tried not to let Chuck sense it.

"Well, I have to leave first."

"Okay, be careful."

When Chuck left, Betty was prepared to fly the plane and send Chuck home.

Chuck told her that he had to head to Patricia's place first.

Betty, as if she knew what Chuck was thinking, flew the plane with a smile.

Chuck left!

Willa's beautiful eyes were filled with reluctance. She sighed.

Behind her, Yvette approached her slowly. "Auntie Logan, in fact, I don't mind you following him back..."

Yvette really didn't mind it. She knew that Karen was the person responsible for her dad's death. Thus, she knew she would not have the chance to be with Chuck.

She could not be a part of Chuck's life and make him happy.

Willa, who was so gentle and considerate, could make Chuck happy.

"I know, but... I can't." Willa shook her head.

Silence!

Yvette was speechless, and so was Willa!

The two of them were just staring at the plane!

Both of them had been watching it for a while.

Betty took Chuck to the casino. Betty waited for him while Chuck got off to meet Patricia.

When she saw Chuck, Patricia was delighted and couldn't wait to invite him for a drink. "Chuck, you're here? Why don't you come to my house for a drink tonight?"

"Well, I'm going back."

"Where are you heading?" Patricia was stunned.

"Back to my home country."

"You..." Patricia was taken aback. Back to his home country? Then, she wouldn't have anyone to drink with anymore.

Chuck wanted her to drink less. If she was with someone else the last time she was drunk, what would that person have done to her!

When she woke up the next day, she would definitely cry to death.

"Have a safe journey," Patricia sighed. She didn't say anything else and felt lonely.

"Yes, thank you."

"No. I want to offer you a job. I'll offer you a five-year job that you will definitely be satisfied with!" After listening to him, Patricia suddenly felt like crying.

Why did it turn out like this?

Wasn't Chuck going back? Why did she cry when he was leaving?

Was it because no one would accompany her to drink anymore?

Well, it must be that.

"Patricia, don't pressure yourself. You are also a woman."

"I'm not a woman, it's not like that." Patricia shook her head and felt sorrow in her heart.
