

Chapter 847

It was the ultimate showdown!

The fight took place on top of the wrecked bridge.

The two of them were fighting at close quarters!

All of a sudden!

Eleanor's fist landed on Karen's broken arm, and she broke into a small smile.

Crack!

The cast that was holding it together fell apart.

Karen's arm was dislocated till the point that the fractured bone could be seen.

Once again, her arm fell limply to the side!

It physically hurt just to look at it.

"I must say, your combat skills are impeccable. You're the strongest person I've ever met in my life. If your arm isn't broken, I can't be certain if I can beat you. It's a pity that I can't disobey Miss Whitlock's orders. You must die an accidental death, so I have to blow you up! Well, at the very least, I was able to have fun just now!" Eleanor admitted truthfully in her excitement.

Her excitement was fuelled by her sparring with Karen.

Fighting with Karen, she felt as if she had met her match.

Karen stared down at her broken arm in silence. Then, she put it behind her back without any sign of pain.

She was fighting against Eleanor with one hand!

Eleanor's faint grin turned cold.

"I'll give you three seconds to wipe away the blood on your head. It's ugly!" said Eleanor mercifully.

Karen reached out her hand to wipe the blood from her forehead.

The blood had already dyed her sleeve crimson red.

However, it did not make her seem any weaker.

After all, she had been standing upright with a stoic expression face right from the start.

Her expression hadn't changed because of the blood!

Additionally, she showed no sign of pain due to her injury!

She was a living statue.

Fearless in the face of danger, her refusal to surrender was simply heroic.

After all, she was Karen Lee!

"Three seconds have passed. Let's continue!" Eleanor smirked lightly.

Karen was only using one hand against her!

The more Eleanor fought, the more thrilled she became.

Her current opponent made her feel different than others had.

She found it ridiculous that it was a middle-aged woman in her forties that made her feel that way.

All of a sudden!

Eleanor's fist descended!

In the face of danger, Karen did not waver. Instead, she raised her fist to meet hers!

Bang!

The hands of the two women collided.

However, they seemed to be on equal footing

Eleanor's brows were tightly knitted together as she retracted her fist. There was actually a trace of pain!

Her fist was capable of shattering a rock.

However, she experienced pain when she fought Karen.

Meanwhile, Karen wore no expression on her face!

Chasing after Eleanor, she threw a punch with her only hand!

Bang!

Eleanor took a step back. Had she actually been forced back?! wondered Eleanor incredulously.

Instantly, her expression became ghastly. "I guess, it would have been really difficult to deal with you if your head and arm weren't injured. However, you don't have the chance to make it difficult for me anymore!"

She counterattacked with both fists.

She attacked with all her might as a top-tier fighter.

Karen, who was only using one hand, retreated expressionly.

All of a sudden!

Eleanor kicked out with her leg!

Karen blocked it with her fist!

"You're looking down on this move of mine! Go down!"

Eleanor smiled faintly and kicked at Karen's fist.

Karen squinted and retreated to the edge of the pier!

She tried to steady herself, but things were not working in her favour!

"Go down!"

Eleanor added another kick!

Karen was on the verge of falling down at any time.

One of her legs was hanging in the air!

A single gust of wind could blow her down!

There was a raging river below!

It was frighteningly fast!

If she fell down, it would be a 20 meter drop. Anyone who fell onto the water surface would be rendered unconscious.

Not to mention that a single wave could knock someone out.

Therefore, if she fell down, she would definitely die!

"Still struggling to put up a last-ditch fight? It's useless!" Eleanor sneered viciously.

There was no way out for Karen!

Eleanor pressed forward vehemently!

There was no way for her to retreat!

The only way out was to jump down.

"I can let you live a little longer if you beg me! Beg me!" Eleanor laughed wickedly.

Karen was the current number one expert in fighting.

Yet, she was in such a sorry state in front of Eleanor at the moment!

A depraved sense of pleasure filled Eleanor!

Nevertheless, Karen remained expressionless. She glanced at the fast flowing river below her, yet she was not afraid of the danger it posed at all.

"I don't beg. I've only begged two people in my life, and I won't add you to the list!"

"Oh, then you still have some guts! Do you still have any last words? I'll give you thirty seconds!" asked Eleanor, a hint of glee playing at her lips.

She was intensely savage.

"I..." Karen fell silent.

"If it weren't for Miss Whitlock's instructions, I could have let you make a call to your son to tell him that you're going to die! But since she wanted you to die an accidental death, you definitely can't do that!" Eleanor explained in a sickening manner.

The truth was she really wanted to see Karen say her last words to Chuck!

It would certainly be interesting to watch.

"I wonder what your son Chuck is doing now. Maybe he's playing around? That's even more interesting! Alright, it's been 30 seconds! Go down!"

With a giggle, Eleanor launched a kick at Karen.

However!

The moment she extended her leg, Karen shut her eyes and took a step back.

Her body fell down from the pier!

It was like a statue falling!

Bang!

Karen fell from the sky and landed on the water surface!

The surrounding river water was dyed red!

Puff!

A huge wave drowned Karen!

From above, Karen's body didn't move and it seemed that she had been knocked unconscious. She sank rapidly and in the blink of an eye, she was nowhere to be seen. The only thing left was the rapidly dissipating pool blood!

Eleanor's smile was feral. After watching for a long time, Karen didn't break through the surface.

Therefore, Eleanor concluded that she must have drowned in the water.

She had been washed away.

Eleanor forcefully pushed Karen's car down the bridge.

She had to make sure it looked like an accident.

Crash!

The car fell into the water.

It sank to the bottom as well.

"You fell from such a high place. Your head is injured and your arm is broken so you must've died! I've already let you die a meaningful death! Rest in peace! Your son, Chuck, will never know about this! Never!" Eleanor thought to herself.

Then, Eleanor called Adriana's bodyguard.

"Hey, Karen is dead! The task has been completed!"

Chapter 848

"Miss Whitlock! Eleanor has completed the task!"

Adriana's bodyguard was excited.

After all, that was the best piece of news he had received recently.

Ever since Karen hurt him last time, he wanted Karen dead.

While he couldn't do it himself, Eleanor had done it.

"Oh! Is her death confirmed?" Adriana sat up straight.

The lazy expression she had been wearing vanished instantly.

In its place was an excited look.

"It's confirmed! Eleanor planted a bomb on the bridge! When it exploded, Karen's car hit a rock and was wrecked completely. When she came out, her head was bleeding and her arm was broken! After a fierce fight, Karen was exhausted and was forced to jump down by Eleanor!" He chattered on with increasing excitement.

The happy feeling building up within him was simply uncontrollable.

"She jumped into the river?" Adriana's eyebrows furrowed together when she heard that.

"That's right! That's the most dangerous river in the United States. She fell from a height of over 20 meters! Even metal wouldn't be intact from that height! What's more, Eleanor monitored the river for nearly 20 minutes, but Karen did not come out. So, she was washed away by the water!"

Hearing that, Adriana was relieved.

She was clear which river he was talking about.

That river was so arduous that if anyone jumped down into it, they would die for sure.

Considering Karen's heavy injuries and her exhausted state, since she had jumped down, that must have turned into her final futile struggle for survival!

"Good job!" Adriana praised.

Eleanor was indeed the top combat expert of the Whitlock family.

Even Karen ended up dying at her hands.

The recent event had proven so.

"That's right. It's Eleanor we're talking about, after all!"

"Was it a clean job?" Adriana was still somewhat worried about that.

"Miss Whitlock, don't worry! You don't have to worry about how Eleanor handles things!"

"If Karen wasn't so meddlesome, I wouldn't have wanted her to die so early. Well, how should I put it? I kind of admire a woman like her! However, she doesn't know what's good for her! She can't blame me!" she rationalized.

"Where is Chuck?" Adriana suddenly asked.

"He's still dealing with his own business empire! But it's not a big deal. It's nothing to worry about!"

"I want to see him!" she cried.

"Miss Whitlock, do you want to tell him that his mother is dead?" the bodyguard enquired in a sadistic manner.

Adriana shot him a glance. "No, how can I tell him something like this? He has to learn about this from someone else. I can't even show up! I can only wait and see how he responds!"

"What kind of reaction would he have? Until now, Chuck has always relied on his mother. Without Karen, Chuck is nothing! Now that Karen is dead, Chuck has lost his main support. But now, Chuck still has you to rely on, and you are much better than Karen!"

He took Chuck lightly.

"Let's go and pay Chuck a visit!" Adriana yelled as she walked out.

The bodyguard followed closely behind her.

At the moment, Chadrick was looking at the map, studying the Cannon family's location.

It was part of his homework.

However, Chadrick was not in the mood to look at it as he was restless.

Smash!

He wanted to drink water. But the cup in his hand fell to the ground and broke into pieces.

He squatted down to clean up. In the process, his fingers began to bleed.

He furrowed his brows and called Karen, but her phone was off.

"Karen is rarely like this. Why would she turn off her phone?"

Chadrick muttered to himself. He couldn't understand why Karen's phone was off.

It had never happened before!

He kept calling but it was to no avail.

He stared at his phone. Just then, someone knocked on the door.

"Come in!"

"Mr. Cannon wants to see you!" A woman walked in.

"Grandpa? Didn't we see each other earlier in the morning?"

Chadrick muttered to himself. Nevertheless, he rose and followed the woman to see his grandfather.

Grandpa was still in the dark room.

The cloudiness of his eyes were apparent.

"What can I do for you, Grandpa?" Chadrick enquired.

"I want you to go to the country right away!"

"Go to the country? Didn't you tell me not to go out recently?" Chadrick muttered to himself. The uneasiness in his heart was growing intense.

"Things have changed! I want you to find your son!"

"Okay!"

Chadrick also wanted to see his son Chuck. After all, he hadn't seen Chuck since the last time they met.

Sometimes, he felt that he was invisible as he was not involved in Chuck's affairs. It had always been Karen who handled it.

Would Chuck feel like he was a stranger?

"Remember, I let you look for Karen. But I didn't let you have a son together. Chuck is your pawn!"

"Grandpa, Chuck is my son! He's not a pawn!"

Chadrick shook his head and objected resolutely.

"B*stard! Chuck isn't in the family registry! He's just an outsider! An outsider is just a pawn that can be used at any time! I hope you can understand this!"

"Ah! I'll go to the country!"

"I'll let you go find him, but don't reveal yourself. Help him from the shadows! Don't let the Yeager family find out that Chuck is your son!"

"I understand. By the way, Grandpa. Why are you suddenly asking me to go to the country?" The ill feeling within him propelled him to ask.

"It's not anything big! I had a lapse in judgement! We've lost a pawn." Osford shook his head, clearly unshaken.

"Lost? Which pawn is lost?" Chadrick probed, trembling.

"The pawn I looked up to the most, Karen! I just received a message that Karen met a problem on the way to the technology company. She plunged into the river along with her car and drowned!"

The head of the Cannon family, Osford, acted like he was talking about something trivial as he reported her demise.

Chapter 849

"Mr. Cannon, do you need someone to follow Young Master Chadrick? He seemed to be..." suggested the woman who had brought Chadrick over.

When Chadrick heard the news from Osford, he closed his eyes for a moment before he left the room without saying a word.

Osford shook his head. "He doesn't understand. Once a pawn is gone, it's gone for good. There are still many pawns to use..."

"That's just how Young Master Chadrick's personality is! However, is Karen really dead?" The woman couldn't help but ask.

"That's right. She fell into the river from such a high place, so she must be dead! I've never expected this. When I chose her as a pawn twenty years ago, I thought that she would achieve something. But she died just like this." Osford wept crocodile tears with a hint of regret.

"Then that's a pity!" The woman commented indifferently.

"Pack up Chadrick's things. He will go back to the country!" Osford instructed her.

"Yes, sir!"

The woman went to prepare.

Chadrick drove to the wrecked bridge. Looking at the raging river, his last shred of hope finally vanquished.

She had a car accident and crashed down from a height like that.

There was no possible way that she would survive.

Even though he didn't want to admit it, Karen must have died there...

He remained silent for a long time, his expression blank as he muttered to himself...

"I'm sorry... I've been using you for so many years... I'm sorry."

Chadrick squatted on the bridge as he spoke his inner thoughts.

"I remember the first time I met you in school. It was Grandpa who let me meet you. In fact, I refused to meet you at the start, very much so. I wondered, how good can come out of a woman who can fight so well?"

"Yet, when I saw you, I was bewildered! At that moment, I had only one thought, and that was to marry you. The first time I saw you, that was what I thought."

"I forgot about Grandpa's mission. Later, after you gave birth to Chucky, I remembered why I had gotten into contact with you."

"I remember the first time I left our house. I couldn't sleep all night. I don't know if you slept that night, but I didn't..."

"I started to distance myself from you..."

"But you didn't understand."

"You didn't understand my intentions. I never helped you, nor have I helped you in business matters. But when I wanted money, you always gave it to me as soon as possible..."

He laughed sadly. "Actually, I was never short of money. I just wanted you to distance yourself from me."

"However, you still didn't get it. For twenty years, I look for you just to take your money each year. I've taken so much but you didn't even question me..."

"Sometimes, I think you are stupid. Every time I ask you for money, you would just give it to me. But now, I understand. I'm the one who's stupid. I distanced myself from you for so many years. I'm the one who's stupid..."

"I know that you've started to doubt me recently. This is what I've always wanted! But..."

"Now that I'm actually here, I'm honestly scared. I was scared that you would discover that I've been using you for so many years and I didn't dare to say anything more to you."

"I understand that I'm the one who's stupid."

Chadrick sat alone on the bridge above the rushing river. As he spoke his inner thoughts, he maintained a light smile on his face. Yet, it was marred by silence, sadness, and a complex feeling. Finally, his eyes turned red...

"How should I... Tell Chucky that you're already..."

"Miss Yeager! Miss Yeager!"

Sabina was dealing with the Yeager family's matters at the moment.

All of a sudden, Alfred rushed in.

"You don't have to rush me. When the month is up, I'll agree to let a man sleep with me!"

Sabina thought that Alfred had come in for that reason.

"No, that's not what I came here to say. Karen is dead!" Alfred informed excitedly.

Crash!

The cup in Sabina's hand fell to the ground and shattered into pieces.

She was stunned!

"What did you say? Karen is dead? How did she die? Didn't I tell you not to make a move first? I told you that I wanted to deal with her personally, didn't I?" Sabina fumed, her tone extremely frigid.

"We didn't do it. She was driving to her technology company when the road collapsed, sending her car plunging into the river."

"Do you mean that huge, dangerous river?"

"Yes! It's that river! She's so unlucky that she died just like that." Alfred too hadn't wanted Karen to die so easily.

After all, Karen had broken into the Yeager family previously.

Her action had scared them out of their wits!

How could they let Karen die so easily?

How could he stand it?

"How could this be?" Sabina was flabbergasted.

"Isn't it a good thing that Karen died? What do you think, Miss Yeager?" Alfred grinned slightly.

As long as she was dead, all was well.

"She's dead, but why did she die like this?"

"What's the big deal? No matter how skilled she is, she's not invincible. No matter how lucky she is, it's useless when she encounters things like that!"

"You actually died just like that, you actually..." Sabina muttered to herself. She remembered the time when Karen had let her go.

Suddenly, she let out a sigh!

"Now that Karen is gone, Chuck is nothing to worry about. Miss Yeager, you don't have to wait any longer. Let's just kill Chuck!" Alfred came up with an idea.

Sabina released a deep sigh. Perhaps it was her pity towards a combat expert!

Who would have thought that Karen would die just like that?

"Chuck's father is a man who lives off Karen, so he can't help him much. Now that Karen is dead, Chuck might as well be an orphan. He may not be able to recover from this setback. Miss Yeager, this is a good opportunity!" Alfred explained, smiling.

Chapter 850

"Miss Yeager?"

Sabina remained unresponsive for a long time.

Therefore, Alfred called out to her.

"Whatever!" Sabina sighed.

"Then I'll go and make preparations to deal with it, Miss Yeager."

"Go!" In fact, Sabina wasn't listening to him at all.

After all, the reason why she had been practicing like crazy recently was because she wanted to fight with Karen again in the future!

She refused to lose so quickly like she had previously.

However, her wish could not become a reality.

Unexpectedly, Karen had died in an accident.

She suddenly felt that life was too unpredictable...

Meanwhile, Alfred was grinning from ear to ear. Turning around, he left to deal with that matter.

Without Karen, Chuck would come to an end as well!

Ah!

"All I can say is, rest in peace!" Sabina sighed and muttered to herself.

Boom!

Meanwhile, in a hidden location deep in the mountains.

Black Rose was training herself. Last time when she was shot, all of her wounds had been stitched up by Karen.

Karen's operation turned out to be very successful as Black Rose suffered no after effects.

At the moment, she was training herself to restore her strength.

All of a sudden!

She received a phone call.

Looking at the phone, she saw that it was Alexandrina, the head of the assassin organization.

Black Rose was reluctant to pick up.

After all, she didn't want to be a killer anymore.

Over the past few years, she had made enough money. Therefore, she suddenly thought of finding a quiet place to spend the rest of her life.

Yet, her phone kept ringing.

Finally, Black Rose relented and picked up the call. "Hello..."

"Where are you?" Alexandrina's tone sounded very solemn!

"I'm at home. What's the matter?"

"I know you're at home. That's why you haven't received news about someone!"

"Yes, I'm at home and I haven't paid any attention to what's happening outside. So... Who's in trouble?"

Black Rose finally asked.

"I just can't believe that something that something happened to her... because it's her I find it most unbelievable." Her voice grew even heavier.

"Who is it?"

"Karen!"

"What happened to her?" Black Rose instantly became nervous.

Black Rose was still alive because Karen had let her go when they had first met.

During their last encounter, it was also Karen's operation that saved her life!

Therefore, she was absolutely grateful to Karen!

It was true that she was furious when Chuck drove her away.

Nevertheless, from the beginning to the end, she harboured no anger towards Karen.

Not a single bit!

"She died in a car accident." On the other end, Alexandrina breathed a heavy sigh.

When Black Rose heard the news, she was stunned for a long time.

She couldn't believe that it was true.

Thud!

Alexandrina heard the sound of a phone falling to the ground. Receiving the news, Black Rose's phone slipped from her hands.

"Impossible! How could she have gotten in a car accident?"

Impossible!" Black Rose simply could not accept it!

"Nothing is impossible! Who would know when an accident would happen?"

Black Rose shed tears for the first time.

"Really? She died just like this?" Black Rose was grateful to Karen as she was her benefactor. Yet, she had died just like that.

Sometimes, she even wanted to see Karen.

Was there no chance for her to do so?

"Sigh, I... I think Chuck must have heard about this..."

"He..."

Black Rose fell into a daze.

"What did you say? Karen died in a car accident?" Samantha was shocked!

"That's right, Master. The news had spread far and wide."

Samantha stood up, trembling. "That's impossible, isn't it? Karen's car is custom-made too. Unless she crashed into a dump truck or a huge lorry, she wouldn't die from a car accident!"

Samantha was an arms dealer. Hence, she was aware how Karen had personally designed her own car.

Admittedly, it was not invincible.

Yet, if an ordinary car were to collide with Karen's car head-on, her car would not be affected!

"She fell into the river..."

That piece of information jarred Samantha even more.

Yvette's phone fell to the ground.

At the moment, Yvette was still in the United States.

While she was dealing with her own matters when she suddenly received a phone call, telling her a piece of astounding news.

Karen was dead!

"You... You killed my dad. You should have died by my hands. How can you die like this? No, no!"

Not long ago, Yvette had wanted to kill Karen even in her dreams.

She had gone out to train recently because she wanted to have a life-and-death duel with Karen one day.

Alas!

She was actually dead!

Yvette could not accept it!

She sat on the ground feebly as if she had lost her purpose in life. "How could you die like this?"

...

"Chuck, the movie company has been set up!" Yolanda reported to Chuck.

She was ready to produce another batch of medicine from the factory.

At the same time, there was also the movie company to attend to.

It was all part of Chuck's ten-year plan.

"Okay!" Chuck finished up what he was dealing with.

He felt that the movie company project, the pharmaceutical factory and the jewelry store were all in full bloom.

Chuck had to continue investing.

He wanted to emulate his mother, who always went on a purchasing spree when she returned to the country.

"According to your instructions, I've singled out a promising chain hotel and arranged a talk with the owner. Shall we head over now?"

"Let's go!"

Chuck stood up. He couldn't afford to waste any time when it came to making investments.

If there was a chance, they had to go!

When Chuck rose, there was a loud sound. His hand knocked into something and the cups on the table fell to the ground. Instantly, broken shards were scattered all over the floor...
