

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 51- 60

Chapter 51

After the unpleasant disturbance, Miriam didn't see Bryan again for half a month, nor contacted him.

Just sitting in the office every day, she would still unconsciously glance at the direction of the opposite building, but the curtains were kept being drawn, thinking that he should have returned to Jincheng long ago.

He had always distinguished personal and official affairs, and she smiled at this idea and quickly put it behind her.

At noon, facing the computer for a long time, Miriam ate and went to the company's fitness facility and walked slowly on the treadmill.

Recently busy, she almost forgot that she is a pregnant woman, but her belly is the biggest concern now, and she must take care of it.

"Manager Lu, what are you doing?" The colleague who came in to the gym saw her walking slowly while occupying a treadmill, and couldn't help blinking strangely.

Miriam smiled, "Can't you take a walk after dinner?"

"Okay! You are walking on the treadmill in such a big company, Sister Miriam, I will convince you." Someone gave her a thumbs up, but it was more ridicule.

Miriam didn't care, put the earphones in her ears and continued walking slowly.

Ten minutes later, the machine stopped slowly. She stopped, leaning on the treadmill and panting slightly.

“Sister Miriam, here!”

A clean and lively voice suddenly came out behind him.

Miriam was taken aback, turned around and smiled at a beautiful and clean young face, unplugged the headphones, took the water glass in his hand, “Thank you.”

Mu Ming, an intern who just joined her department half a month ago, is three years younger than her. She is highly motivated and lively. She likes it.

“How is your work recently? Are there any difficulties?”

Mu Ming got on the treadmill next to her and ran slowly, grinning, showing white teeth, “What can be difficult for me? The biggest difficulty may be...too idle.”

“...”

Miriam was speechless for a second. She hasn't been able to take a rest recently. He is still free, so he is not afraid of her boss being angry?

Mu Ming seemed to see her depression, and said with a smile: “I do the work at hand relatively quickly, Sister Miriam, if you are too busy, I can help you and promise to complete the task.”

Miriam raised her eyebrows, leaned on the treadmill to rest, looked at him, and joked: “Why do I feel that my job is about to be lost? Are you sure you didn't come to grab a position with me?”

“Don’t dare, I’m not as good as Sister Miriam, even if I can be in your position in a year, then you will definitely still be my boss.” He smiled uncontrollably, with a youthful feeling .

“One year?” Miriam’s mouth twitched fiercely.”Boy, sister, I have been working hard day and night for three years.”

Mu Ming smirked.

Miriam put down the cup, stepped off the treadmill, changed the fitness equipment, and stated lightly, “Aren’t you very free? I have a party in the afternoon. Xiao Zhang has something to do. You can go with me.”

Mu Ming’s eyes lit up, “Do you want me to keep you out of alcohol?”

“ ... ”

Miriam looked at him weirdly, “You are very excited to stop me from drinking alcohol? Could you still be a drunkard?”

Mu Ming smiled, “I have never missed the heroic salvation of the United States. Besides, I still stop drinking for my boss. Sister Miriam, you must give me a credit for the year-end assessment.”

“ ... ”

Miriam really wanted to roll her eyes speechlessly. She looked at him for a few seconds and teased: “You have only worked for half a month, so you know the way of the workplace. Boy, you will definitely be better than your sister and me in the future.”

Mu Ming pretended to be innocent, and touched the back of his head, “Is there? Then I have to borrow your auspicious words, and I will never forget your cultivation in the future.”

Miriam was amused by him.

In the afternoon, Jinhua Hotel.

Miriam dressed formally, with a slightly loose black coat, completely covering her belly, her long hair tied back to her head, low heels, and a small bag in her hand and appeared with Mu Ming.

The boy was dressed in a suit, showing a bit of calmness, but when he spoke, his temperament was completely destroyed.

“Sister Miriam, our dress is too formal, isn’t today’s guest important?”

Miriam looked at him who was about 1.8 meters tall. Although he wanted to pretend to be serious, he couldn’t help but smile, “Speaking less for a while, just follow me. I have never seen this guest. Ting Henry I always say I have an identity.”

Yesterday, you could hear from the tone of Henry Zong, if he hadn’t been on a business trip abroad, he would have come to meet him in person.

“Oh...” He nodded in a daze, and pulled the bow tie with his hands with nowhere to rest.

Miriam snorted and couldn’t help but smile, stretched out her hand to help him tidy up, and said, “Not that serious, don’t be nervous. I really thought I was not afraid of it.”

Mu Ming touched his nose unnaturally and smiled awkwardly, “I, I...I’m not afraid to shame you?”

“I’m not ashamed, I’m afraid that people will look down on the two of us. If that’s the case, no amount of diligence will help.” She shrugged indifferently.

If Mr. Henry is not here, let her be a department manager. If the other party's status is really high, it would be really embarrassing.

The elevator door opened, the two got into the elevator, Miriam casually pressed down on the third floor.

Finding the private room on the third floor, Miriam knocked on the door carefully.

After a few seconds, the door was opened and the two walked in.

There are a lot of people in the large private room. Until then, Miriam realized that it was not a one-on-one appointment at all, but a reception.

Looking around, some people in the industry she knows are companies and enterprises that have a certain weight in City Two.

"Sister Miriam." Mu Ming lowered his head and exchanged glances with her.

Miriam waved her hand to make him feel safe, and then walked into the crowd with a smile on her face.

Halfway through, I asked a waiter, "Where is President Shang?"

"Zong always is over there."

Miriam looked in the direction he was pointing and nodded, "Thank you."

After that, she took a few steps forward, looked at the people in the center surrounded by the crowd, and went in to say hello, "President Shang, hello, I am Miriam, the manager of Yingxin Technology."

The surface was calm, but she was a little shocked.

I thought he was a fat, big-eared middle-aged greasy uncle, but the handsome guy who looks no less than Bryan in front of him is really President Shang?

This year, the handsome guy is either handed over to the country or dedicated to the big screen. There are even people who are exhausted in business. Sure enough, he really complied with that sentence. You can rely on looks but you have to rely on talent to pretend.

Hearing the sound, the man turned his attention to her, looked up and down for a second, smiled and stretched out his hand, "Hello, Shang Rui."

Miriam was taken aback for a moment. After patronizing and paying attention to her appearance, she forgot to take the initiative to reach out and regained consciousness in a second. She hurriedly shook it back, "Hello."

Shang Rui looked at her with a deep gaze, pursed her lips and smiled slightly, "Don't be so cautious, I'm not asking you to come here today for business talks, just a little bit."

Chapter 52

Miriam was stunned again, when she reacted, the man had released her hand and went elsewhere.

He could actually see her restraint.

"Sister Miriam, what are we doing next?" Mu Ming said out behind her.

Miriam glanced around for a while, then rolled her eyes, and looked at him with a weird smile, "Give you a chance and let me see your abilities."

She looked down at the watch on her wrist and said, "I am waiting for you by the side. I will give you half an hour to get ten manager-level business cards. I will give you extra points for the end-of-year assessment."

Mu Ming was taken aback, then sighed: "Ten? Or the manager? These are all famous companies in City Two. Are you sure you didn't intentionally fix me?"

Miriam curled her lips and glanced at Shang Rui in the distance, "If you can come to Shang Zong, I will shorten the assessment time by one third."

"..."

Mu Ming didn't know if he was hit or inspired, he looked at her for a few seconds, gritted his teeth and nodded, "Okay, wait, I'll try."

Miriam nodded without a smile, then patted him on the shoulder as a sign of encouragement.

After they left, she chatted with a few acquaintances for a few minutes and then went to the corner to sit alone.

When I was bored, I turned on the phone and checked the Shang Rui online.

She just heard Mr. Henry say that he is the boss of a very famous Internet company, with a high status and very famous in the circle.

Enter the name, information and pictures all popped up.

"Thirty, thirty years old?" Miriam couldn't help feeling sad when he saw the column of birth date.

Although it looked the same, she thought that rich people would take care of it very well. It should be almost forty when she looked thirty, but she was indeed thirty.

Looking at the cover of the characters on the Internet, she couldn't help but think of Bryan again. Although she didn't know how much the net worth was between the two, Bryan was thirty-two, and she was indeed young and promising.

She sighed and searched for his other information. Finally, she found that apart from the public information in the encyclopedia, she could hardly find any more private information, and she did not even indicate her marital status.

However, it is not difficult to imagine that people with this status are either pure and self-conscious, or a lot of mistresses.

“Why? Want to know me?”

A voice suddenly exploded in her ear.

Miriam was shocked and subconsciously raised her head just to hit the man's chin.

She panicked and hurriedly stood up, “Shang, President Shang?”

When did he come? Wasn't he still drinking with others in the distance?

Yu Guang caught a glimpse of the page where her phone was still on, she was embarrassed and hurriedly closed it away.

Shang Rui was amused by her appearance like a big enemy, and sat down, taking photos of her side, “Sit down, just help me block it, and I can secretly rest for a while.”

Miriam understood that she was probably annoyed by those people, but the incident just made her a little embarrassed and hesitated to sit down.

“Did you just say you belonged to Yingxin?” Shang Rui didn’t care about her entanglement, and started talking.

Miriam’s thoughts moved, how did she forget, this is a big man, how can she be worthy of her running today if you don’t get it together.

After thinking about it, she sat down without losing etiquette and nodded with a smile, “Well, I’m from Yingxin, you should know our President Henry.”

“I have seen it twice, but this is the first time I have come to City Two.”

Miriam was startled, a little surprised.

Although City Two does not rank among the first-tier cities, it is certain that it is firmly in the second-tier. He has never been here, which is a bit surprising.

“How? So is your first impression of here still good?”

The man shook his head and smiled, his gentle and elegant temperament fully revealed, “Unfortunately, I only arrived last night, and I haven’t had time to take a stroll.”

Miriam was a little curious, “Then why did you suddenly want to come here because of work?”

I haven’t been here, presumably their company doesn’t have much business here. If Yingxin can be successfully recommended, then her year-end award should be doubled.

Thinking of the white silver, Miriam immediately got motivation.

No way, she is now a super lack of money, of course, always thinking about how to make money.

Shang Rui nodded, "Well, I plan to invest in a few companies here. By the way, I will find some companies that I can cooperate with. If Miss Lu has any good suggestions, you can recommend it to me."

really.

Miriam was slightly happy in her heart, but she was not in a hurry to recommend herself. Instead, she took out her three years of accumulated work experience and eloquence, and analyzed the entire City Two business circle with ease.

Of course, many of them are her own opinions, and most of them are very simple in analysis and not professional enough, but what she wants to express is not this, mainly to show her sincerity.

Balabala said a lot, and forgot everything about her pastoral name. When she finished, there was an extra glass of juice in front of her.

The man was looking at her with a smile.

After a few seconds of silence, Miriam understood something, her face flushed, and she was embarrassed to find a hole in the hole, "Sorry... Mr. Shang, it's a laugh at the door of the class in front of you."

She was really ashamed to play a big knife in front of Guan Gong.

"Drink your mouth water to moisturize your throat." Shang Rui smiled unchanged, without any disdain expression at all, and there was even a little bit of unpredictable light in his eyes. "I think your Henry always chose to send you here after careful consideration. Yes, Miss Lu is very good and she has her own ideas. If you are willing, I hope you can work there."

what?

Miriam was a little confused.

Isn't it about work? She had been laying the groundwork for a long time to get Yingxin out. How did she get it to her?

She took the cup in his hand and said thank you. She wanted to say something more when she saw him suddenly stand up and pulled out a napkin from the table, and took out a pen from his suit pocket to write the next series of numbers.

“The cell phone is at the secretary's. This is my cell phone number. I think we can make an appointment alone next time. It is very happy to chat with Miss Lu, but it is a bit inconvenient today.

Miriam was a little flattered, still in a state of ignorance, and quickly stood up and nodded, “Oh, well, thank you, you go ahead.”

Shang Rui took a deep look at her, then turned and left slowly, his tall and slender back set off a somewhat unique and expensive.

Miriam looked at it and couldn't help but admire in her heart. The most important thing is that she is rich, famous, and has a good figure. The most important thing is that she has self-cultivation, and she is calm and calm. It is estimated that a woman can't resist this charm. Of course, if she is not pregnant, she is not hiding her You will be addicted to a bastard.

No, there is no one hiding in her heart, she loves no one now.

Miriam patted her small face to make herself sober.

“Sister Miriam, why are you doing self-harm?” Mu Ming emerged from behind and looked at her strangely.

Chapter 53

Miriam was startled again, and stared at him, “Are you walking without sound?”

If she had a heart attack, she would definitely be scared to death tonight.

“Hehe... This is my trophy.” He smiled triumphantly, and shook the business cards in his hands before her.

Miriam was taken aback, took the business card in his hand and looked at it, a little surprised, “So many? Are you coming one by one?”

There are absolutely thirty of them.

Some of them are vice presidents, how did this kid do it?

“Well, it definitely didn’t time out. I saw you chatting with Mr. Shang just now, so I didn’t come to bother.” Mu Ming picked up the juice in front of her and drank it.

Miriam tilted her head and saw that his tail was about to reach the sky. She suddenly narrowed her eyes and said, “You won’t... betray your hue?”

“puff!”

Mu Ming almost choked into the throat with a mouthful of juice, looked at her weirdly for a second, and then pointed to the surroundings, “Then how many gays are there.”

“...”

Miriam looked around, her mouth twitched, and she was choked.

Throughout the audience, there are really not many women.

“Furthermore, Pi Xiang was given by my parents and my strength. You can’t discriminate.” He emphasized dissatisfiedly.

Miriam was unable to complain, so she could only return all the business cards to him, and touched his head solemnly, “It really didn’t disappoint me, it’s awesome, I will recommend you to Henry Zong later.”

“What about you?” He glanced at her provocatively. “Have you gained anything from talking to the boss for a long time?”

Miriam raised her eyebrows, then curled her lips and smiled wickedly, waved the napkin in her hand in front of him, “What do you think? Do you think your sister is in the position of manager?”

“But... Sister, that word... seems to be blurred.” Mu Ming stared at the paper in her hand and hesitated to remind.

Miriam’s face changed, and she looked down conditionedly.

I don’t know when the paper towel got wet, and the numbers that were not very clear are all smudged, and the middle numbers are gone.

“what!”

Miriam instantly fell into the ice cellar from a state of joy, staring bitterly at the water stain on the table, wanting to curse.

She spent a long time talking and talking, and all was soaked.

Mu Ming watched her sullen face and swallowed her saliva timidly, and carefully suggested, "Why...you go and ask him again?"

"Do I have that face?" She had already condescended to write it again, and she ran to Baba to ask for it again. It would be even more embarrassing if she didn't give it.

After being depressed for a while, she exhaled and said: "Forget it, it's not without gain tonight anyway, Mr. Shang, who is coming to Japan, hope he can remember me next time we meet."

Mu Ming shrugged and smiled, "He must remember you so beautiful."

Miriam suddenly rolled her eyes.

At the end of the reception, it was still early, but looking at get off work in half an hour, she did not plan to go back to the company again. She stood at the door of the hotel and said to Mu Ming: "Thanks for your hard get off work. You can leave work earlier today. No need to follow me."

"Then where are you going?"

"Of course I also go home."

Mu Ming looked at the time and smiled: "Don't you have a car? Why are you so anxious? Or I will invite you to dinner."

"Are you sure you are asking me instead of asking me to pay?" Miriam looked suspicious.

Mu Ming was helpless, "Manager Lu, can't you give me a chance to bribe you?"

Miriam touched her chin, pretending to hesitate, “If you don’t look like a poor brother, I can still consider it, otherwise, I might feel uneasy.”

“So you still have a conscience.” He was surprised.

“...”

When they drove to a nearby restaurant, the two of them found an empty spot in the hall and sat down.

Mu Ming glanced at the opposite restaurant through the window, and said regretfully: “I heard that the hot pot restaurant opposite is newly opened. It’s not bad. I wanted to try it with you.”

Miriam immediately shook her head, “Don’t, I’m suitable for eating light, heavy-tasting things these days, you’d better come with friends next time.”

For the baby, she must always pay attention.

Mu Ming poured her a cup of hot tea, and he casually curled his lips, “I found that you have become plump a lot recently. It’s not like a light and edible one.”

Miriam’s heart jumped, fearing that he might suspect something, and pretending to stare at him viciously, “You’re only getting fat. Anyway, I won’t eat this meal and go home to lose weight.”

The boy hurriedly begged for mercy, “Well, I won’t say anything, Manager Lu is the thinnest, the best and the most beautiful.”

“I’ll order food!” She snorted coldly, squinted at him, and began to worry in her heart.

She’s like this, I’m afraid it won’t last long.

“Oh, you can order whatever you want, don’t be polite with me.”

“Don’t worry, I won’t be polite.” Miriam took the menu and lowered her head and began to choose.

I picked a few without asking him for advice, and handed the menu to the waiter.

While waiting for food, she took out her mobile phone and called Mother Lu.

“Mom, I don’t need to cook my meal tonight, I will eat out.”

“ ... ”

“Well, rest early after you eat, don’t wait for me.”

“ ... ”

“Okay, I will pay attention and hang up.”

When she hung up the phone, she looked up and saw Mu Ming looking at herself inexplicably.

“Why look at me like that?”

“Sister Miriam, I heard people in the company say that you are already married.”

Miriam lowered her head and drank her saliva, concealing the emotions in her eyes, and said lightly: “Am I still waiting to be an old maiden without getting married at this age? I shouldn’t be so ugly that there is no market at all.”

In fact, she is not very old. Bryan, who was married at the age of 24, is now only 27. It is common for girls to be unmarried at her age.

But there may be many things experienced, no enthusiasm for everything, and the mentality has become old.

“Yes.” Mu Ming thought about it for a few seconds, and then smiled, “With your beautiful and capable daughter-in-law, men should like them all, right?”

“Aren’t you a man? You’ll know if you ask yourself.” Miriam pulled the corners of her lips, smiling or not.

No matter how beautiful and capable she is, it is not the one Bryan likes, and the man will not give her more tenderness because of this.

So, if a man loves a woman, it doesn’t matter how good or capable she is, whether she can cook or not, as long as it is something he likes, it is better than anyone else.

Mu Ming didn’t seem to notice her strangeness, and felt a little confused, “I don’t know.”

Miriam was stunned, looking at him with a hint of surprise, “You don’t have a girlfriend yet?”

Isn’t it? Isn’t the small fresh meat all in demand these days? He is still single, Qingqi.

“No.”

“What about the ex-girlfriend?”

“Uh... there is one.” He thought for a few seconds before saying.

Chapter 54

Miriam didn't feel weird at once, “Oh, it turns out that I can't forget it, I can't see that you are quite infatuated.”

Mu Ming shook his head, and his eyes were clear and clean.”No, I talked about it when I was a teenager. I can't remember what she looks like now.”

“...”

Miriam was a little embarrassed.

It turned out that this one in front of her was still a pure innocent virgin, and it seemed that she couldn't just joke with him next time.

It happened that the waiter served the food to save her from the embarrassing situation. Miriam was very grateful in her heart and picked up the chopsticks and said, “Let's eat.”

After all the dishes were served, Mu Ming stared at the dishes on the table for a long time, and then asked the waiter blankly, “Nothing?”

“Sir, all the dishes you ordered are finished.”

“Oh, well, I get it.”

After the waiter left, he looked at the woman in front of him who was already concentrating on eating, and he couldn't laugh or cry, “Sister Miriam, I said I'll treat you, don't you need to save me this way? You make me lose face...”

A table of dishes are all vegetarian, just a plate of meat dishes or small fried pork.

Isn't she afraid he can't afford it?

Miriam didn't lift her head and said, "Didn't I tell you that I like light ones? And, who told you to say that I am fat, I want to lose weight and eat now! I will not eat any more.

Mu Ming had no choice but to give up.

After the meal, the sky was completely dark. After Mu Ming left, Miriam was not in a hurry to go home, and wandered around nearby.

Right in the center of the city, there are lots of lights and lively.

Miriam felt that no one had relaxed like this for a long time, and walked aimlessly along the sidewalk.

Before the divorce, she always wanted to be like Bryan, even if she walked side by side, she would be satisfied.

But every time he met, he never went to other places except to go to the vegetable market and supermarket, and because he didn't have time, he passed by in a hurry, even without getting off the car.

Thinking about it now, it's really ridiculous, how did she persist for so long in the first place.

With a slight loss, she walked absent-mindedly for a while, and her thoughts were pulled back by the vibration of the phone.

"Hey, Lynn."

“Miriam, where are you now?” A woman’s tired voice came from the phone.

“I was out.”

“busy?”

“Not busy, what’s the matter?” Miriam stopped.

“I just got off work, where are you, I will find you.”

Miriam looked around and said, “It’s okay, but I think you are quite tired, don’t you go back to rest soon?”

“No, I have something to do with you, and we will talk when we meet.”

“okay.”

Kristy hung up after hurriedly speaking.

Miriam was a little worried, and sent her a location via WeChat, and then went into the cafe next to it.

Half an hour later, a woman with delicate makeup but tired face pushed open the glass door and came in.

“Have you eaten?” Miriam stood up.

“I haven’t eaten, and I have no appetite.” She took off her coat and sat down, as if suddenly venting her energy, lying softly in the inner chair.

“Did something happen?”

Kristy, her university roommate, is now a very good friend. She has been working for a few years and has gained a foothold in City Two through her own efforts. She also bought her own apartment and took over her parents.

She has always been assertive and cautious in her work. She always has the upper hand with reason. She is shrewd and transparent but not sophisticated.

Miriam rarely sees her appearance, probably because of something urgent.

She was silent for a few seconds before beckoning to the waiter, "Is there any alcohol?"

"..."

This is a cafe, where's the wine.

Miriam said for her: "A glass of juice and two desserts, thank you."

"OK, just a second."

Kristy looked at her bitterly and muttered, "I want to drink."

Miriam glanced at her and said coolly, "I won't let you drink until you finish talking."

Kristy glared at her. After a few seconds, she was discouraged, and irritably grabbed the delicate curly hair she had repaired."Well, I drank too much while socializing last night, so I rolled into bed with the surname Huo."

"..."

Miriam was blank, her expression seemed to be still.

Before she was about to scream, Kristy calmly covered her mouth.

Miriam's eyes widened, she broke her hand away, and asked seriously, "You did everything?"

"It's all drunk, do you still expect me to push him away?"

"..."

Miriam calmed down, "What did he say today."

She knew that the surname Huo was Huo Qiming, her boss, and the relationship between the two had been in an ambiguous state. No one had indicated that she was probably scrupulous about the same company, so she almost pierced the window paper.

Kristy was a little embarrassed, "I ran away today before he woke up, and then I avoided him all day, and I haven't seen him yet."

"You are too naive, right? You will always meet, what do you plan to do?"
Miriam frowned.

Kristy frowned, "I haven't figured it out yet. Hey... Ma Dan, don't I just roll the sheets when I'm so scared? How come it's like an innocent girl."

Miriam was speechless, and then said solemnly: "You are still in the mood to make a joke at this time? If he wants to confirm the relationship with you, of course it is best. If he pretends to deny, how will you face him in the future?"

Kristy curled her lips weakly, "It had nothing to do with him, it was my wishful thinking. Maybe I drank too much last night and held him down..."

Miriam choked.

She remembered Kristy told her that she liked him a lot, but she wasn't sure what Huo Qiming's attitude was.

Without knowing what she thought of, Kristy was suddenly worried, "You said, would he think of me as those casual sl*tty women? He began to look down on me from now on."

"..."

Miriam was really pleased by her, and said contemptuously: "You mean you were drunk and brave last night?"

The woman nodded her head vigorously.

"Is he tied up on his limbs or is he also drunk. A big man can't push a woman away? Even if he really has other thoughts about you, is it a gentleman's work when he is in danger? You dare to ask for this kind of man. ?"

"I..." Kristy was so speechless that she bit her lip, squeezing out a word for a long time, "What happened last night...I don't remember at all."

She has no memory of who on earth it was, but the relationship did happen, and she still feels whether she has done her body.

Miriam also had a big head, pressing her brows and thinking about the solution, suddenly thought of something, and said solemnly, "Have you taken the medicine?"

Chapter 55

Kristy suddenly rolled her eyes, "You think I am as confused as you. If you are divorced, you have to raise children for others."

“ ... ”

Miriam was poked at the center of the matter by her, her pretty face blackened, “Who is it for? It’s obviously my birth. Besides, I remind you, do you have to ridicule me?”

Kristy glanced at her guiltily, “Sorry, baby, I was wrong.”

She knew about the things she had with Bryan more or less, and just now she didn’t even think about it.

Miriam said angrily: “Then what are you looking for me for? You know the truth, you don’t need to say that you know it, but you can’t do it, no matter how much I said, you still won’t do it. Answer It’s here at Huo Qiming, you will never get results unless you confess to him.”

She hadn’t seen the man, and didn’t know whether it was good or bad. At most, it was some beautiful words that she often heard from her mouth.

Kristy’s expression faded and she fell silent suddenly.

The two of them stayed quiet for a long time, and no one spoke again, or the phone she placed on the table suddenly rang.

Kristy’s eyes narrowed, “He called.”

Miriam stared at the vibrating mobile phone, looking at her, “You won’t answer?”

The woman hesitated.

Miriam guessed her thoughts at a glance, “You are afraid that he will reject you and completely cut off your hope, and this layer of paper will be broken. You can’t continue to work under him?”

Kristy pursed her lips and said nothing.

Miriam sighed and pushed the phone in front of her, “Listen to his bad attitude? If he deliberately denies it, you can completely give up, and you don’t have to think about him again. Wouldn’t it be better if he likes you? .”

Kristy’s eyes were a little loose, she looked up at her, hesitated to press to connect, and then to hands-free.

“Xiao Lin, where are you? Can I talk to you about what happened last night?”

Kristy was startled, did not speak, and looked at Miriam with questioning eyes.

Miriam also hesitated for a second, then nodded.

After reporting the address, Kristy hung up without saying a word.

Miriam looked at her worriedly, “I might be inappropriate here, do I need to avoid it?”

Kristy looked at the night outside the window, and smiled wearily, “You go back first, your mother will not worry about having a big belly. What’s the result, I will call you back.”

Miriam raised her eyebrows, “If it’s not a pleasant result, are you sure you won’t get drunk here? I think I’d better watch you here. When he arrives, I will go and avoid him.”

Kristy laughed and mocked: “Do you think I’m still a girl who knows nothing about the world? Don’t you just get out of bed? Don’t you just be rejected? The old lady will be eaten by a dog and continue to enjoy life tomorrow.”

“Well, I believe you about this.” Miriam nodded without doubt, and smiled: “That’s why I am here to look at you. In case he pretends not to recognize it, I will be beaten on the head by you. I have to go inside to fish you tomorrow.”

Although she was a little bit counseled in front of the person she liked, she was absolutely merciless when she met a sc*mbag.

Miriam suddenly became worried about that Huo Qiming again.

“Bah, I’m a lady, how can I do that simple and rude thing?” Kristy pouted dissatisfiedly, lowering her head to hold the nail she just made.

After waiting for almost twenty minutes, Miriam confessed to her, got up and went to the empty seat in the corner.

A few minutes later, a figure walked in outside the door, looking for something.

I haven’t seen it anyway, Miriam looked up at him generously without dodge.

He looks quite ..., his shirt is paired with suit trousers, and looks quite calm on the surface, but Miriam somehow feels that his eyes are quite urgent.

I probably saw Kristy, without hesitation, and walked over quickly.

Miriam looked at it, and was inexplicably relieved.

Perhaps, the result is not so bad.

Chapter 56

I don't know how long they talked, Miriam didn't always stare at the two of them, occasionally she cast her gaze out of the window, her eyes were a little dazed, she didn't know what she was thinking.

After a long time, she was patted on the shoulder, and she suddenly regained her senses, and saw Kristy already standing next to her, her expression a little softer than before.

"Good news?" Miriam guessed something without asking.

Kristy rarely showed a bit of embarrassment, pursed her lips, sat down, held her arm, and said softly: "He said he didn't know how he felt about me, but he didn't want to see me sad. He said he I will be responsible. If I were his girlfriend, he would be willing."

"..."

Miriam was stunned for a few seconds, and suddenly didn't know what to say.

How did it feel to meet the second Bryan.

If you don't love, you don't love, and what the hell do you talk about irresponsibility, can demeanor eat or heal the wound?

Not wanting to make her sad anymore, Miriam still didn't say anything, but just smiled and comforted, "It seems that Mr. Huo is not a sc*m, he is still a man."

"There's an ass! Talking for a long time is like nonsense." Kristy directly said what Miriam didn't dare to say, with some mockery in her eyes.

Miriam twitched her lips awkwardly, "Then how did you answer? Promise him?"

Kristy sat up, looked at her, and stated lightly, "I said that I will calm down for a few days, so I don't want to meet again during this time."

"How did he react."

Kristy shrugged, unable to see whether she was disappointed or happy."He didn't respond much, and he was silent for a long time before suffocating a good word. It's damn undecided."

Miriam looked at her for a few seconds, then smiled slightly, "Obviously, what should you do if you are not ready? It is also possible that he is also testing you, without showing his attitude, just to see who can't stand it first. ."

"f&ck!" Kristy gritted her teeth and cursed bitterly, "It really is a black-bellied man."

Miriam despised, "Then you are not going to die for love."

"..."

Seeing that she was in a good mood, Miriam ate some food with her, and then drove the people back.

On weekends, Miriam rarely needs to work overtime when he is free, and the weather is good, helping Lu Mu clean up the house at home.

When the withered flowers in the vase were being poured out, the doorbell rang suddenly.

Mother Lu called her from the balcony, "Miriam, go open the door."

"Oh."

Miriam guessed who came to the door early in the morning, and when she opened the door, she was rushed by a small dumpling.

After a moment of stunned, she saw Tian Tian's small face clearly, and she was happy, "Tian Tian."

Xiang Southeast pulled Tian Tian back nervously, and reprimanded, "Next time you can't rush over like this, you will hurt Auntie."

She probably didn't understand the explanation of the pregnancy, and Xiang Dongnan could only change the way.

Tian Tian looked at Miriam guiltily, then nodded his head ignorantly.

Miriam smiled meaninglessly and opened the door, "Brother, it's okay, come in quickly."

The man nodded, carrying a gift in his hand, and then handed her a bouquet of roses in his arms, "For you."

Miriam was startled, staring at the large bouquet of red roses in front of him, for a second at a loss, then took it, and smiled stiffly, "Thank you, brother, don't be so polite next time."

"Who...ah!"

The scream of Mother Lu suddenly came from the balcony.

"Mom!" Miriam's expression changed, she put down the flowers and walked toward the balcony very quickly.

He walked steadily to the southeast, rushed to the balcony in two steps, saw Mother Lu who fell to the ground, and was startled, "Auntie!"

“mom!”

Miriam’s face turned pale, and he hurriedly bent over to help her, and asked flusteredly, “How are you? Are you okay? Did you fall?”

Mother Lu’s own old face was pale and colorless in fright, and she slowly stood up from the ground, and suddenly said, “It hurts, it hurts, no!”

Miriam was so frightened that she squatted down and checked, “Where does it hurt?”

“Sit down first!” Xiang Dongnan was still calm and calm, pulled a side chair, helped her sit down, and squatted down to check with Miriam.

He squeezed her leg gently, and Lu Mu suddenly gasped, “Yes, it’s there.”

Xiang Southeast squeezed her other places again, and asked, “Are there any pains in other places?”

“It seems that it’s gone, just the legs. I guess I didn’t step on the stool just now, but twisted it.” Mother Lu said embarrassedly.

Miriam twisted her eyebrows reproachfully, “I am all to blame, you should have been asked to open the door just now.”

Xiang Dongnan couldn’t laugh or cry, “According to you, I should be blamed for being too late.”

Then he stood up and said: “It is estimated that the leg is twisted. Let me take my aunt to the hospital for an examination.”

“Okay, I’ll be with you.”

Miriam didn't have time to think so much, she stood up, took her bag and mobile phone, and didn't change her clothes. He took Tian Tian and a few people to the hospital.

It's still that high-end private hospital.

It was not that Miriam wanted to go, but that she opened a VIP there. It cost so much money and there were not many people, so she didn't have to queue for so long.

I did a full-body checkup for Mother Lu, but luckily it just hurt her leg, so she was fine after a few days of rest.

Miriam finally let go of her heart and sat in the ward and kept guarding beside her.

Xiang Dongnan came in from outside with the medical sheet, and smiled softly at her, "The doctor said, if you don't want to be hospitalized, you can go back tomorrow. However, I still recommend that my aunt stay here for two more days. No one will look after her. , Miriam still has to go to work, she may be worried."

Mother Lu shook her head immediately, "It's okay, I'm lying down everywhere, and I don't need to spend money when I go home and lie down."

Miriam suddenly frowned, "That won't work, there is no one at home, I can't stand your scare again. You have a good rest, I will go through the hospitalization procedures."

Tucked in the quilt for her, Miriam completely ignored her resistance and pulled southeast out of the ward together.

In the corridor of the hospital, she turned to look at the man holding the child, smiling guiltily, "Sorry brother, I should have invited you to a meal, but I didn't expect such an accident. I'm causing you trouble."

Xiang Dongnan looked at her deeply, for a long while, a little helpless, "Miriam, can you not be so polite with me? Fortunately, I am here, otherwise how can you bring your aunt to the hospital alone?"

Miriam felt guilty by him, and turned aside her face unnaturally, "Thank you brother."

With a soft gaze towards the southeast, he looked forward and walked slowly, somewhat mocking himself: "I hope you can have more places to need me, so that I can still have the opportunity to express, otherwise, I really don't know what to do. How do you brush your presence in front of you."

"..."

Miriam was even more embarrassed now, and even touched her ears in a daze, thinking quickly in her mind the response, "That... brother, what I said before..."

Chapter 57

She tightened her eyebrows, her expression was a bit hesitant, a few seconds later, she gritted her teeth, "Sorry... I haven't thought about it yet."

She really didn't know what to do, facing him, she couldn't find the feeling in front of Bryan.

Considering the reality, she was really getting along with him seriously, but for so long, apart from friends, she couldn't find any further motivation.

Glancing at her to the southeast, turning back to the front, her eyes darkened impatiently, but she still smiled softly, "It's okay, I will wait. As long as you don't reject me, I still have information. ."

Miriam looked at him gratefully, and at the same time the guilt in her heart increased by another point. It seemed that she had to make a decision as soon as possible and could not waste other people's time like this.

After completing the formalities, heading southeast to buy food, Miriam took Tian Tian to accompany Lu's mother in the ward, but suddenly received a call from Mr. Henry.

"Mr. Season."

"Manager Lu, did you know Mr. Shang a few days ago?"

"Well, I've talked a few words, but, unfortunately, President Henry failed to introduce our company to him."

The phone number that she finally got was ruined by her.

President Henry didn't care at all, and he smiled and said, "That's okay. Just now his secretary sent an invitation letter. Later in the afternoon, I will meet you and let me take you with me. If you are fine, can you come over now?"

just now?

Miriam turned to look at Mother Lu, who was still dripping on the hospital bed, and asked, "Is he calling you to take me with me?"

“Yes.” Mr. Henry was actually very strange at the time, that Mr. Shang would remember her.

Miriam sighed.

Mr. Henry noticed something, “Are you unable to walk away over there? Should I explain to them?”

After all, it was a temporary decision, and his leader was not good at forcing others.

“No, you send me the address and time, I’ll be ready to go.” Miriam still did not refuse.

As a company manager, it is the responsibility to put the company’s interests in the main position, not to mention that Henry is still an individual leader of the subordinates, and she can’t make him too embarrassed.

“Well, well, tell me when you leave. Don’t worry, I will count the dividends at the end of the year.”

A dogleg smile appeared on Miriam’s face, “Thank you Henry Zong.”

Nima, in front of money, she has no ethics.

After hanging up the phone, she went to the nurse to explain a few words, and returned to the southeast in the ward.

“Miriam, come over and eat.”

Miriam walked over and said embarrassedly, “Sorry, brother, I just received a call from the company, and President Henry asked me to come over. There are some urgent things to deal with.”

Except for some accidents, Xiang Dongnan didn't change anything at all. He just asked, "Should you go now? You have been busy in the morning for a long time, and you haven't eaten your meal. No matter how busy you are at work, you must pay attention to your health."

Mother Lu was a bit dissatisfied and complained: "Does your boss know that today is the weekend? Why do you work overtime every day, and also overtime on weekends? You didn't tell him that I hurt my leg and need you to stay and take care of it?"

Miriam and Xiang Dongnan looked at each other, a little bit dumbfounded, and helped their foreheads, "Mom, in my heart, you are definitely the first. I just told the nurse. You can rest here at ease. I'm done. Come back to be with you."

Xiang Dongnan also smiled, patted Tian Tian in his arms, and said, "I have nothing to do in the afternoon. Tian Tian and I will be with you here."

Miriam was taken aback and turned to look at him, "Brother, don't be so troublesome. If you have anything to do with you, I have already explained to the nurse, no one needs to watch."

"Why don't you look at it? What's the matter with me and Xiaodong chatting? How do you think he is more filial than you." Mother Lu became dissatisfied with her again, urging her angrily, "Quickly, you can leave after eating... Don't let him Your big boss is waiting in a hurry."

Miriam, "..."

After eating casually, Miriam was driven out of the hospital by Lu Mu's various disgust.

First went home and changed clothes, then drove to the agreed hotel.

At about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Miriam met Mr. Henry and Shang Rui and his group in Mingcui Building.

In the quaint private room, the two were sitting on the ground, making tea and drinking each other, with green smoke curling from the incense burner next to it.

In addition to Henry Zong and Shang Rui, there was a woman sitting behind Shang Rui in the identity of a secretary.

Zheng Huanji, who was chatting, always saw her and said, "Xiao Lu, come here."

Miriam put on a correct attitude, walked over, respectfully nodded, "Henry, President Shang."

The calm and handsome man put down the celadon cup in his hand and looked up at her with a smile but a smile, "Miss Lu, originally thought you would call me after the reception, but unexpectedly, I still overestimated my charm."

Miriam was immediately embarrassed and forced a smile, "I'm not afraid that you are busy, why should I be prepared to invite you all formally."

The phone number is gone, how can she invite?

"Sit down." Shang Rui looked at her with a gentle expression.

The secretary put a cushion behind her from the side.

"Thank you."

Miriam slowly knelt down and sat down, but she was really not used to this sitting posture, and with a few months of pregnancy, her belly was not convenient, so that she leaned to one side as soon as she touched the ground.

Shang Rui gave her a quick hand, held her shoulder firmly with a big palm, and smiled, "Be careful, or move you a stool."

Miriam quickly sat down and shook her head embarrassedly, "No, no, that's it, it's okay."

"Don't be nervous." Shang Rui poured her a small cup of tea, her black eyes were calm and deep, "Like last time, Miss Lu can continue to talk about what she didn't finish."

Miriam blushed and lowered her head, "Last time I played a big sword in front of Guandong, this time in front of you and Mr. Henry, I still don't want to make a joke. I'm here to study today. Just listen carefully."

"Indeed, there are three veterans in shopping malls here today. It is indeed a bit difficult for you to talk."

Miriam smiled dryly, but then she was startled again, "Three?"

She glanced at President Shang's secretary, a very young and beautiful woman.

Shang Rui smiled, picked up the cup and put it on the tip of his nose and smelled it, "There is another one who hasn't arrived. He is late, and he will be fined for a while."

Miriam nodded clearly, and suddenly there was movement behind her. She looked back subconsciously, her eyes froze instantly.

The tall figure in front of him, the handsome and perfect face, is not Bryan or someone.

Her heart sank, Miriam's expression was a little ugly.

Why is he here?

He and Mr. Shang also know each other?

Also, the companies behind them are all business tycoons and two big-time figures. It's not surprising that they know each other.

Chapter 58

The look in Bryan's eyes changed a bit when he saw her, and he seemed a little surprised that she was here, but soon, as if he didn't know her, he went straight to say hello to the other two.

President Henry was conscious of his low level and stood up to greet him, "Mr. Shao."

Shang Rui sat still, just jokingly smiled, "I just said that you have to fine a few more glasses of wine for coming late. I didn't expect you to be here. The desire to survive is good, but you still have to be fined."

Bryan sat down opposite Miriam and retorted with a casual smile, "I'm here by myself, and I'll be driving in a while. Why not drink a few more cups of tea."

Shang Rui shook his head, "It's boring. It's rare to get together today. It's just a few of us. It's okay if you don't drink. I also heard that the branch you opened in City Two is opposite to the headquarters of Henry. It's not such a big fate. It's all you can say with a glass of wine."

“Right, right, right.” President Henry smiled and nodded, and personally picked up the teapot to pour tea to Bryan.

Miriam was a little absent-minded when he appeared, hanging her head slightly not knowing what she was thinking.

Shang Rui glanced at her and laughed, “What’s wrong with Miss Lu? You can still joke with me, Mr. Shao, you didn’t even say anything. You were scared?”

Miriam raised her eyes subconsciously, and immediately touched the handsome face of the opposite man, she was confused, and she silently left aside and smiled stiffly. “It’s normal to be scared. I didn’t have much chance to sit with three such characters before. Now.”

She is a little manager, she can’t even think about it.

After knowing that Bryan was Long Teng’s boss, she was also curious about how the man managed such a large company except for a good-looking face, who spoke very little in ordinary times and couldn’t figure out whether he was happy, angry or sad.

She really didn’t know much about him before.

Bryan suddenly smiled at her faintly, “With each other, if it weren’t for Mr. Henry, I wouldn’t know Manager Lu.”

“ ... ”

Miriam’s expression froze, a little embarrassed for a while.

His implication is that if Henry always took her with her, her level of identity would never sit here.

Did he come to humiliate her?

Reluctantly squeezing out a smile, Miriam responded lukewarm, "I really should thank Mr. Henry. If it weren't for him, I might not have seen Mr. Shao."

The implication is that if she had known that he would come, even if she offended Henry Zong, she would not come.

Henry Zongzheng, who has been mentioned many times, looked at the two men inexplicably. He didn't know how he got involved, he could only smile awkwardly.

Bryan looked at her, pursed her lower lip, and said nothing.

Shang Rui glanced at the two of them. His dark eyes were low and he couldn't see anything. He just said strangely: "I have known Mr. Shao for a few years. I heard that his hometown is in City Two, so I asked him today. Come here, it turns out that Miss Lu also knows him."

Miriam raised her eyebrows and smiled faintly, "I have seen... once or twice."

She deliberately added an accent once or twice. She thought she could irritate him, but the man uttered a few words without moving his brows, "I don't remember."

Miriam, "..."

This bastard!

Several people talked for a while about work and future development in City Two, as well as the cooperation that Miriam is most looking forward to with Yingxin. Of course, after seeing Bryan again, all her passion for work today is gone. The next few people said She didn't pay attention to anything.

Later, President Henry suddenly looked at her and raised a mouth, “Mr. Lu’s husband seems to be engaged in investment, and he seems to be in Jincheng.”

For a moment, the eyes of several people suddenly focused on her again.

Miriam was so scared that her nerves were stabbed suddenly, and she immediately became energetic.

Shang Rui’s expression was a little surprised, “Miss Lu is married? Looking at her young age and doing so well in her career, she is nothing like someone who already has a family.”

Miriam once again wore a deadly smile on her face, glanced at the man opposite, and said, “I got married a few years ago if I didn’t know what to do in a daze.”

Confused?

Bryan’s handsome face tightened slightly, staring at her without turning a moment.

If it weren’t for her dad to be a lobbyist, how could his dad force him to marry her, and how could it be like this now?

But... if he didn’t marry her, how could he find out now...

Shang Rui seemed to be amused by her, “It seems that Ms. Lu is very affectionate with her husband. It is a bit surprised that you say this kind of old husband and wife. If you can take care of your career and family, you must be a very good person. Since we are also in Jincheng, maybe we still know each other. Why don’t we tell us the name?”

Miriam's heart jumped, she hurriedly smiled embarrassedly, and deliberately made an unspeakable look, and said: "No, no, no, he just runs a small business, and the cost is very low, so he can't compare with you at all."

Bryan looked at her eager to hide her appearance, and a trace of anger surged in her heart. If they hadn't divorced, would she plan to keep it forever?

Anxiously, the man completely forgot their previous marriage status, where they came from for a lifetime, the agreement was only four years, and he never recognized her as the company.

Bryan didn't seem to realize it at this time. He just felt like a lover in her eyes, and his eyes gradually became cold when he saw her."Manager Lu is too humble. He can be a venture capitalist in Jincheng for so long. Surely it's not easy, right? Tell me about your name, and I'll know it when I meet it in the future."

"..."

If it weren't for Miriam's calmness, he would definitely pick up the cup in front of him and smash it.

What does this bastard want to do?

Does he want her to tell the world about her ex-husband's name?

After falling silent for a second, Miriam lifted her face, curled her lips and smiled faintly, and said calmly: "Although I want to talk too, but now he has nothing to do with me, I still can't disclose other people's private affairs. Because... ..I am divorced."

"Li..." Mr. Henry was startled, and suddenly remembered how she had borrowed money at that time. He suddenly said with great embarrassment: "Xiao Lu, I'm sorry."

Miriam's expression didn't matter, "Mr. Henry, it's nothing, it's not a big deal. I didn't tell you, but many people in the company know it."

Shang Rui didn't see the embarrassment at all, and even said quite naturally, "Ms. Lu's handling of emotional matters is so clean and tidy. I really admire you. You are so young and beautiful. I believe you should meet A better person."

"Thank Mr. Shang for your blessing. I also believe that I will find a better person." Miriam thought he was just polite, and replied lightly, but his eyes were on the opposite man.

Chapter 59

Bryan, who had already fallen down, stared at her, his anger almost uncontrollable.

Divorce, he had always been the only one who cared about divorce, in her eyes it was just two words.

Miriam lowered her head to sip the tea, her drooping eyes covered all emotions just right.

After a while, she put down the cup and smiled politely, "Sorry, I'll go to the bathroom."

Hurrying to the bathroom, ignoring the makeup on her face, she lowered her head and took a handful of cold water to pat her face severely, buried her head in the sink, and closed her eyes to calm herself down.

She raised her head when she heard someone coming in at the door, and calmly wiped the water off her face in the mirror.

With a pale and reflective face, although his facial features were still delicate and charming, Miriam really didn't want to face it at all.

The embarrassment and embarrassment in her eyes was clearly seen by her, and she should have seen it in front of him just now.

Wiping off the water a little bit, she suddenly curled her lips with self-deprecation.

After going to the toilet, the person came out, she lowered her eyes, threw the kneaded tissue in her hand into the trash can, and then took out the makeup box from the bag to reapply makeup.

After sorting out and coming out from the inside, Miriam's emotions were no longer visible at all, but... she was walking in a hurry just now and she couldn't find the way back.

"Damn! Isn't it?"

She cursed low, and she held her forehead somewhat.

Calling to ask Henry Zong, she felt ashamed again, so she found it herself.

Walking along the corridor, groping step by step in accordance with the memory, she saw a room with some decorations that were the same as before. She hesitated for a few seconds, arched her waist and slightly opened a crack in the door to see if it was right, but she didn't see anyone after looking at it for a long time. , She gave up closing the door, raised her head and bumped into something, so that she whispered in pain, and at the same time heard a gasp in her ear.

She was startled and saw Bryan frowning while clutching her chin.

With a guilty cough, she asked coolly, “Why are you standing behind me suddenly?”

Bryan rubbed his chin, put his hands down, and said lightly: “Look at what good things you are peeping.”

He also guessed that she was lost 80% of the time.

When he came in, he discovered that there are many rooms here, and the design is all Chinese-style, which is absolutely equivalent to a maze for her.

“You’re just peeping.” Miriam’s face turned dark, and she turned around and left.

Bryan’s heart moved, and suddenly stretched out his hand to grab her.

Miriam was taken aback, turned her head and glared at him, “What else do you want to do?”

“When did you meet Shang Rui?” He asked seriously.

Miriam was inexplicable, “When did I know you have anything to do with him? I didn’t see you being so lenient before. Now you even care about my job, why? If you don’t agree to remarry, do you want to take care of me as a mistress? “

The man’s face slowly sank, his eyes were a little bit cold, “He is not a simple person, and he is not as easy to get along with as you see, so stay away from him in the future.”

After half a day, he found that Shang Rui seemed surprisingly interested in her.

Although he has known him for a long time, he has only cooperated once, not to mention any friends. The market situation has always been bloody, let alone he achieved this kind of achievement at such a young age.

Even, he had to suspect that being invited here today was a careful plan and calculation.

Miriam was taken aback for a moment, then pulled her lips a little funny, her eyes filled with mockery, "Do I look so stupid in your eyes? How many people of this level are simple? But he If I wanted to hide it, I might really not be able to find out. After all, even people who have slept in the same bed for three years don't know anything? I know how to deal with it, so I don't bother Mr. Shao to worry."

"Miriam..." The man's throat seemed to be suddenly strangled, unable to make a sound, and looked at her with complicated eyes.

"I didn't... want to hide it from you."

Because it was a formal marriage, he only met once a week. He never talked about work in front of her, or the two basically never sat down and talked peacefully.

Miriam smiled softly, "Because there is never my place in your schedule."

Bryan was silent suddenly.

The ridicule in Miriam's eyes grew stronger, and she gently withdrew her hand, saying, "It's boring to look back at the past now, don't make it like you fooled me and got dumped, otherwise my future husband will definitely misunderstand."

After that, she walked away very neatly and neatly.

But after turning a corner, her breath suddenly disappeared, her strength vented, and she patted her forehead worriedly.

She still doesn't know the way back...

It seems that I really need to call Mr. Henry.

About to take out the phone, a voice suddenly came from behind, "Turn left and then right in the second room."

"..."

Miriam shook her hands in fright, but still held back her head, otherwise the domineering behavior just now must become embarrassing.

Set her mind, she pretended not to hear, straightened her back, put the phone in her arms, and walked away without looking back.

"Turn left first...turn right...first, second..."

She meditated in her heart, slowly stopped at the door, and then opened the door.

She hadn't seen it clearly, and her eyes shook, she was suddenly brought in by a force, and then the back hit the wall the next second, and then her lips were blocked.

The whole process only took a few seconds, and the fast Miriam had no time to react. The man's actions in one go made her brain go blank.

The warm and lingering touch on the lips and the tip of the nose are the familiar breath of men.

Miriam's dilated pupils gradually focused, and her head shook when she saw the magnified handsome face in front of her.

She, she was k!ssed by Bryan?

The tall figure covered her in a small space, and the man lowered his head and sucked her breath fiercely.

Originally, he just wanted to tease her, but he had never had such a naive mentality before, let alone the impulse just now. He wanted to get close to her. The moment he k!ssed her, he even had a faint miss in his heart.

"Shao, let go, let me go!" Miriam wakes up faster, but her mind is still blank.

Does he know what he is doing?

She doesn't understand him more and more now, and he has signed the divorce agreement, so why not let it go?

"Bryan..." Struggling to avoid his fierce k!ss, Miriam let out a cry of collapse.

The man's almost out of control reason was suddenly pulled back, and the action came to a halt, his lips pressed against her face, his eyes were a little confused, his breathing was rough and chaotic, "Yes, I'm sorry!"

Miriam was a little lack of oxygen, breathing quickly against the wall, but the anger on her face gradually rose, staring at him, and slapped her with all her strength.

"Snapped!"

A clear voice sounded, and with her furious tone, "Do you think it's fun to play with me? Do you want me to throw the divorce certificate in front of you before you admit that we are divorced? Bryan, can you? Tell me what do you want to do now? Don't tell me that you just realized that you fell in love with me suddenly. Do you think I would believe this kind of bloody idol plot?"

Chapter 60

She grabbed her hair angrily, then pushed him away severely, and left without waiting for his response.

Finally, she went to the counter and asked for the room number where Mr. Henry was staying, so that the waiter could take her there.

Except for her hair a bit messy, everything about her seemed to have returned to normal. When she returned to the room, Bryan was already there. She returned to the position and sat down without any abnormalities.

Shang Rui looked at her and chuckled, "Miss Lu has been there for so long, isn't she lost?"

"No, I just answered the phone." Miriam showed a slight smile on her surface, but she was secretly frightened.

Was he guessing or observing?

Thinking of Bryan's reminder just now, she frowned slightly. He did look deeper and more difficult to distinguish than Bryan, but she was just a little manager. What could he do?

What's more, with such an excellent condition as him, a bunch of upside-down women are connected to each other, and it is not her turn.

"Since everything is here, let's go to the restaurant next door. I have already ordered dinner." Shang Rui looked down at his watch and smiled elegantly.

The secretary got up first, and then a few people got up.

Miriam stood up and followed Mr. Henry. He never glanced in the direction of Bryan. The man seemed to have nothing happened just now, his eyes were calm, his handsome face was indifferent and without any expression.

Sure enough, it's not the same for people with identities. I guess there are not many people who can see their net worth after a meal.

A big table with only a few people looks much empty.

Miriam sat between the female secretary and President Henry. The opposite was not Bryan. She could finally raise her head to face forward naturally, but the things just kept lingering in her mind, making her look a little bit Absently.

Shang Rui didn't get a response after calling her, but Henry couldn't help but push her.

"Miss Lu, are you uncomfortable?" Shang Rui asked intimately.

Miriam smiled awkwardly, "I'm sorry Mr. Shang, I was thinking about my mother just now. She sprained her leg today and she is still in the hospital."

Shang Rui frowned, "Then do you want to go back now? I heard Henry always say that you were resting today, and I feel guilty to call you out."

Bryan glanced at her and said nothing.

Miriam shook her head and smiled, "No, I have already called, there is a doctor, it's okay."

"Really nothing will happen?" Mr. Henry also asked more.

“It’s really okay, but I may go back sooner, I hope Mr. Shang and Mr. Shao will forgive me.” She glanced at a few people apologetically, but she didn’t give Bryan her gaze.

“It’s okay, come here, let’s eat first.” Shang Rui greeted him, always looking gentle and calm.

A few minutes later, the waiter came up to pour the wine.

Shang Rui said to Mr. Henry and Mr. Bryan: “Mr. Shao, Mr. Henry, this is my first time in City Two. The new company will soon be operating here. I hope you two will take care of them in the future.”

“If you are Mr. Shang, you are running companies all over the country and in various industries. It should be Long Teng who needs to take care of it.” Bryan raised the cup, his eyes lazily.

“And Yingxin!” Mr. Henry added with a smile, and then touched the two with a toast.

One cup.

The waiter was consciously full.

Shang Rui curled her lips and looked at Miriam who was on the opposite side, “Miss Lu, I didn’t have a drink last time. This time, we must get to know you well. In the future, the cooperation between our two families will depend on you. .”

Miriam didn’t understand, “Me?”

She glanced at Mr. Henry again.

Mr. Henry smiled and explained: “Several companies that Mr. Shang has invested in City Two’s new investment plan to cooperate with Yingxin. I want you to be responsible and work hard.”
