The Lycan's Queen Book 1 – Chapter 15

"T... Taste," I managed to spit out.

Adonis's smirk got bigger. "Yes, taste. Your whole body is calling for me, little one."

I swallowed the lump in my throat as Adonis came closer to me. Of course my first instinct was to move up the bed further away from Adonis.

His eyes narrowed for a split second before they changed. Suddenly I felt like the prey and Adonis the predator. He looked at me like he wanted to devour me.

Before I could say or do anything, Adonis grabbed my ankles and pulled me down the bed, causing me to squeal.

"There's nowhere you can hide from me. I've smelled your desire, and now I am desperate to taste it." Adonis leaned down and whispered in my ear. Daily Latest update

Holy shit, this man will be the death of me. I can imagine my tombstone now, "Death by desire, caused by Adonis."

My thought process was interrupted by Adonis leaving little kisses from my jaw down to my neck. Why do his lips feel so good on my skin?

As he left more kisses, my eyes closed, and I found myself wishing he'd kiss my lips again. Being the tease he is, Adonis kissed near my lips but never on them.

Either he didn't realize the effect he was having on me, or he knew and was enjoying my discomfort.

Well, if he isn't going to make the first move, then who says I can't? Groaning in frustration, I opened my eyes and grabbed Adonis's head before smashing my lips to his. Daily Latest update

He growled and pressed his lips against me harder whilst positioning himself over me.

Gosh, his lips were amazing! I pulled his head closer to mine to deepen the kiss.

If I die after this, that would be okay. At least I kissed a guy who made me never want to stop kissing him.

Adonis broke the kiss and rested his forehead against mine as we both caught our breaths.

"Well I didn't expect that," Adonis finally said.

"Why? Because girls can't make the first move?" I retorted.

"No, because I thought you were repulsed by me," Adonis replied.

"Why would you think that? I'm definitely not repulsed by you. More like..." I trailed off.

Adonis's gaze pierced my own; it was like he was searching for something

"More like what?" he breathed out. Daily Latest update

"More like fascinated," I gasped as Adonis's lips found my neck.

"You taste so good, little one," Adonis groaned against my neck.

I didn't want to moan, but Adonis was making it hard not to. His attack on my neck stopped and his lips went lower to my chest.

When his hazel eyes connected with mine, I swear I stopped breathing. Never in my life had I seen eyes full of lust and love for me.

Adonis looked at me before trailing back up and whispering in my ear, "Breathe, little one."

As soon as he said those words, I let out a deep breath that I didn't even know I was holding.

"What are you doing to me Adonis?" I asked.

"Nothing compared what you are doing to me." Adonis kissed my ear.

Adonis sat up and picked me up so I was straddling him. Honestly, I could not get over how hot Adonis was.

"I just want you to know that you making it incredibly sexy," Adonis told me.

"You liked it?" I asked.

"I loved it, little one. You proved to yourself and to me that you are more confident than you think. There is nothing sexier than seeing a woman being confident in herself." Adonis smiled.. Daily Latest update

"You always know the right things to say so that you make me go crazy," I replied

Before he could say anything. I wrapped my arms around his neck and pulled him close, just for a hug.

Adonis chuckled and wrapped his arms around my waist.

"Don't think you're getting out of anything, little one. I want my taste," Adonis whispered

"Didn't you already have a taste?" I asked.

"Not enough to quench my hunger for you. I want a taste of the most intimate part of your body," Adonis kissed my neck

"Dimitri?" A voice called out.

"Ignore it," Adonis said, breaking our hug and trailing his finger down my face

I shivered in pleasure.

"Dimitri? I know you're in there! Please," that annoying voice sounded again.

The desire that fogged my mind decided to clear up once my slow brain registered who was at the door.

Growling, I jumped off Adonis's lap and opened the door to reveal none other than Savannah.

She was about to say something, but her eyes trailed over me. I probably looked a sight, with my swollen lips, messy hair, and Adonis's shirt on. Daily Latest update

"Yes? Can I help you?" I asked.

"Why are you wearing his shirt?" Savannah spit out.

I rolled my eyes. "Why are you still here? I think Adonis already told you that you are not welcome here."

"What do you want?" Adonis asked, standing over me.

"Well I wanted to ask you if...," Savannah trailed off, her eyes lowering.

My eyes narrowed on her, and I spun around to see Adonis standing there shirtless. This bitch was checking out my mate.

Growling, I pushed Adonis away and slammed the door so now it was just me and Savannah.

"You have no shame checking out my mate, do you?" I glared at her.

"He was meant to be my mate," Savannah said.

"Yes, he was meant to be, but he found me, and you are no longer in the picture. This is the last warning you'll get from me. You better leave me and Adonis alone. Don't come on this floor again because you are not welcome," I spat out.

Not even giving her a chance to answer, I left her outside and went back inside. Adonis was standing there with a confused look on his face.

"What? You can throw me over your shoulder when I'm wearing a sports bra, but I can't get angry when your ex is blatantly checking you out?" I rolled my eyes. Daily Latest update

"You look hot when you're angry. Jealousy suits you." Adonis smirked.

"Next time put a shirt on," I replied, going straight to my wardrobe to find another shirt.

Once I was dressed, I decided to leave this room. Staying in the same room with Adonis wouldn't be a good idea.

"Where are you going?" Adonis asked.

"I don't know, somewhere," I replied.

"Well, I guess the moment is ruined now. I'll have to get my taste some other day." Adonis winked at me.

"Or never at-all" I retorted.

"We both know that I will get that taste soon. What I want, I get." Adonis looked at me, daring me to defy him.

"We'll see about that." I raised my eyebrows and left the room before Adonis could hold me back.

Fate was on my side because as soon as I came down the stairs, Lexi was walking in

"Hey, Lexi," I called out to her.

She spun around and gave me a massive smile. "Aarya! Good to see you! Come and help me in the kitchen.

She spotted Adonis behind me and added, "If you aren't too busy."

I glanced at Adonis and then back at Lexi. "No, I'm not busy! I'll help you."

Adonis watched with a scowl on his face as I walked away with Lexi.

Seeing the desire in Adonis's eyes made me wonder if playing with Adonis was going to end well for me..
