

She Becomes Glamorous After The Engagement Annulment

Chapter 48 | Nora Smith Is Q!

Surprised, Samuel and everyone else looked at Nora in disbelief.

Someone swallowed hard. “Y-you know where Q is?”

Nora did not speak any more. Instead, she pushed the door open and entered the room.

Joel was sitting there quietly waiting for her. From the way he looked, he didn't seem anxious at all. He looked clear and confident about what he was doing.

Nora had thought that she would see him tired and haggard, but unexpectedly, he was actually so calm. She raised her eyebrows.

Joel smiled. “You've come.”

“Yeah.”

Nora stood right beside him. “How did you know I would come over?”

Joel replied, “When Jill asked me to arrange for a position in the company for her nephew the other time, I knew at once that you would definitely have a back-up plan. Come on, spill it, what are you planning to do?”

Nora: “...”

She kicked Joel's chair lightly to indicate to him to step aside. Joel stood up. When Nora sat down, she asked curiously, “What if I didn't have a back-up plan? After all, the other party is saying that they're Q, you know!”

Joel stood beside her and smiled. “Do you think that restricting our Internet alone is enough for one to have the Smith Corporation's destiny in their hand when I've already been in the company for so many years?”

As though he was teaching her, Joel explained patiently, “One must have everything within their control. Since the Smith Corporation does not have a world-class top hacker, our main form of business mustn't be Internet-related! This way, even if the company's network is down, the breakdown will only have minimal influence and will not affect the whole company's operations. As for the stocks... I naturally also have ways to counterattack and even things out."

Enlightened, Nora gave Joel a thumbs up. "Impressive."

Joel rested one hand on the table and his other on the chair. As he stood behind Nora and watched her turn on the computer, he couldn't help but ask, "Do you know Q?". "... Yeah, I suppose you can say that." Joel couldn't help but say, "If they are reliable, can you find a way to hire him as a cyber security consultant for the Smith Corporation?" He sighed and said, "The Hunt Corporation has Y guarding them, so they are not afraid of attacks from any hackers, which has made their operations in this aspect very smooth. I just don't know how Justin managed to get a top hacker like Y to become so loyal to them. I also don't understand why he trusts Y so much..."

Joel sighed emotionally and added, "In this respect, it's a weakness for the Smith Corporation. Uncle Ian had only assigned Quentin to the hidden forces since the rest of your cousins were all unreliable. He'd originally planned to train and groom Louis into a hacker, but he instead became interested in games... In the end, the Smith Corporation does not even have a top-class hacker that we can trust!"

By then, Nora had successfully turned on the computer. As she placed her hands on the keyboard, the corners of her lips suddenly curled upward a little. "Joel," she said.

Joel paused. "Hmm?"

An unorthodox glint flashed in Nora's almond-shaped eyes. "The Smith Corporation does now."

Joel was taken aback.

His first thought was that Nora must be very familiar with Q, so Q would be a very reliable ally... He was about to speak when he saw Nora's fingers flying across the keyboard at high speed.

As she implemented coercive measures against the hacker, the dark screens slowly started lighting up.

The screen was still black, but it was unlike the unresponsive screens from just now where nothing happened no matter what keys they pressed. Together with the rapid movements of Nora's fingers, rows and rows of programming code moved up the screen.

It was so fast that Joel couldn't even see what exactly she was typing... Utterly stunned, he looked at Nora in disbelief.

For a moment, he felt that his cousin's profile looked so serious and determined. There was a strange charm and confidence in the unorthodox smile on her lips.

It wasn't blind confidence she had; rather, it was strong and powerful confidence that she had in her own abilities!

A thought suddenly formed in his mind, and a surprised and astounded Joel slowly asked, "You... you're Q?"

He thought of how calm Nora had been right from the beginning. Originally, he'd thought it was because she had already made arrangements for everything. For example, perhaps she knew the real Q and was able to get Q to help them tide through the difficult situation.

Or perhaps, Nora had borrowed Y from the Hunt Corporation!

Joel had imagined all sorts of scenarios, but he'd never once thought that Nora might be Q herself!

How could this be...?

She was already the world-famous number one surgeon domestically and internationally!! Nora took aggressive measures and cut off the enemy's virus attack, allowing the computer in front of her to function normally. In fact, she had even repaired the servers as well. They were currently in the midst of restarting, which would take a certain amount of time.

Nora had easily resolved the Smith Corporation's Internet crisis in under ten minutes!

She stretched, turned her head sideways to look at Joel, and nodded. "Yeah."

Joel: "...”

He was a little dumbfounded.

At this point, the deputy CEO knocked on the door. He poked his head in and asked softly, “Mr. Smith, since Ms. Nora has said that she knows Q, can she ask Q for help?”

Joel raised his brows.

The deputy CEO said, “All the computers in the company are still unusable at the moment. Everyone uses them for work, so no one can’t work normally right now.”

Joel looked at Nora.

“One hour,” said Nora.

Joel looked at the deputy CEO. “Give all the employees a day off. They can come for work as per usual tomorrow.”

When the deputy CEO heard this, he glanced at Nora with a complex look. Then, he turned around and went out.

After he left, Joel asked, “Is an hour enough for you to restore everyone’s computers?”

“Oh,” Nora flexed her wrists and said, “I only need five minutes.”

Joel: “? ?!”

Nora put her hands on the keyboard again. “I asked for an hour because I’m planning to have some fun with the other party. While I’m at it, I will also... catch them.”

Joel: “...” Nora had already decided to play along with them a long time ago. When Jill sent her nephew into the company, she had already sensed something.

Therefore, she had long since known that something might go wrong with the Smith Corporation. She had allowed it to drag on all the way until now just so she could get the mastermind behind the scenes to surface.

Needless to say, she naturally knew that the one surfacing was just a high-level hacker in the mysterious organization. It was the easiest for one to expose their identities in online battles, so the “little master” whom she had been exchanging text messages with might not be with the hacker at the moment.

But every little bit counted, regardless!

At this moment, her phone vibrated.

She picked it up and took a look—sure enough, the little psycho had sent another message: ‘My little servant, do you like my gift to the Smith Corporation?’

Nora’s lip corners quirked upward. She wrote: ‘Yeah, I like it quite a lot.’

After all, it had exposed another member of his organization!

Chapter 482 She Is Far Inferior To Q!

In the hotel.

The man stared at Nora’s reply. When he saw the words “Yeah, I like it quite a lot”, he was a little stunned. He scratched his head and asked bewilderedly, “Why does she like it? Does she resent the Smiths now and wishes for their downfall?”

His bodyguards and assistants suggested hesitantly, “How about... We stop the attack?”

“No!” The man grinned. His voice was filled with excitement as he said, “She must be trying to deceive me! Does she think that I’ll let her off if she says that? How naive! Get our new toy to give them some more goodies!”

“Yes, sir!”

After his subordinates left, the man took his cell phone and sent another message to Nora: “My little servant, since you like it so much, I’ll give you something even better to be happy about...”

At the Smith Corporation.

After seeing his reply, Nora paid no more attention to him and tossed the phone aside.

She looked at the computer.

She had only restored Joel's computer at the moment. Additionally, the servers needed time to restart, and the rest of the computers hadn't been restored yet. Thus, the opponent hadn't yet realized that their attack had failed, and was still under the impression that it was a success.

At this moment, all the screens of the computers that had been shut down suddenly lit up. Rows of text started appearing:

‘Mr. Smith, how does it feel to not have even a single hacker out there who dares to help the Smith Corporation?’

When the computer screens outside lit up, Nora was already typing away at high speed. As she searched for the enemy hacker's location, she replied: ‘You are not Q. Who are you?’ The person chatting with them on the computer was no longer the little psycho on the phone! This was because there was actually a bit of faint resentment and anger in their speech.

It was resentment and anger towards Joel.

More text appeared on the screen:

‘An old friend.’

‘An old friend whom you abandoned.’

‘Hahaha! I'm sure you've never imagined that I would ever return, right? And this time, I can shake things up real bad for all of you!’

An old friend...

Nora suddenly thought of something. She looked up at Joel, upon which Joel nodded at her. Thus, Nora immediately understood. She wrote: ‘You are Yvonne.’

With her identity now exposed, the woman didn't bother with pretenses anymore. She wrote:

“That's right! I am Yvonne! The person whom all of you had looked down on! But I am back now! My hacking skills have improved to a whole new level again. Do you now regret what you've done, Joel? Hahahaha!”

Nora: “...”

Joel: “...”

At this instant, Nora felt really strongly that the little psycho must be sick in the head. Everyone he had approached were all people whom she didn't get along with.

Also, Yvonne had actually managed to hack the entire Smith Corporation all by herself! This showed that her hacking skills had indeed improved by leaps and bounds during this period of time!

Nora frowned.

Her cell phone beeped again at this point. She looked down and found that it was a message from the little psycho: “You should know by now who the hacker is, right? In that case, you should now have a more intuitive understanding of our genetic modification drug, right? It's very powerful, isn't it? Are you tempted now? As long as you join us and become my servant, I will give you the drug. You can improve anything you want about yourself!”

The genetic modification drug!!

So, what the special department had been studying all this time was a genetic modification drug!

Nora sent a screenshot of this to the three-man group chat with Morris and Brenda.

Then her phone beeped again—it was another message from the little psycho: “Yvonne used to be a pretty good hacker, but taking the genetic modification drug, in just ten days, she is now a top-class one! She is now on par with Q and Y! Do you want to become even better in your medical skills?”

Nora raised her eyebrows and replied slowly: ‘In terms of medical skills, it seems like I am already the best.’

When the other party saw her reply, he fell silent for a long time.

It seemed that he had never thought that Nora would say that. He hesitated and replied: “Then I can make you stronger in other ways! Such as physical strength and speed! Have you heard of Big Brother and Big Sister? Their physical strength and speed are the best in the country. I can make you as strong as them! Nora: “...”

She replied: “That is not necessary.”

The little psycho: “Why? Don’t you want to become stronger?”

She was already the strongest. Nora held her forehead and replied again: “Perhaps it’s because I don’t want to be that strong?”

Joel was standing next to her and reading her chat with the little psycho. The man, who already knew her identity as Big Sister, was speechless.

She must be the queen of all humblebraggers out there!

Joel couldn’t help but look up at the heavens.

Suddenly, he couldn’t tell anymore if it was really a coincidence or what. Of all the things the other party could say, why was he simply trying to tempt Nora with the things that she was already skilled at?

“Our genetic modification drug is very powerful! Once you use it, you can become as powerful as yourself!”

What a joke!

The other party fell silent again. Then, he became angry and wrote: “I don’t believe there’s anyone in this world who doesn’t want to become stronger! I’m sure you also want to, you’re just being stubborn. Heh heh, in that case, I will show you the skills of a hacker on the same level as Q!”

Nora: ‘You are mistaken.’

The little psycho: “Mistaken? What am I mistaken about? Even if someone only manages to become stronger after taking the genetic modification drug, it doesn’t change the fact that they’ve become stronger. I don’t think I’m mistaken!”

Nora: “... What I mean is, she is far inferior to Q. She isn’t even worthy of being her servant.”

Joel: “...”

Nora, is it really alright for you to praise yourself like that?

But for some reason, the sight simply felt so good!

The little psycho: “That’s impossible! Heh, our genetic modification drug allows one to develop a certain aspect of themselves to the extreme! It can affect one’s IQ! She is definitely on par with Q now!”

He didn’t seem to understand much about hackers, so Nora didn’t say anything else to him.

However, it seemed like he had told Yvonne what she had said, so Yvonne became angry. She typed on the computer: “Hah, Q is indeed the world’s top hacker, but so what even if I am not as good as Q? Can you even find the real Q? All of you are at my mercy now!” Nora: “...”

Why was there always a group of arrogant people that simply insisted on shoving their faces toward her so that she could slap them in the face?

She didn’t even want to slap them anymore, yet they just kept making things difficult for themselves. This simply made... her hands itch so much!

She sighed. Yvonne sent another message: “Why don’t I live-stream the current situation to you? These are all trending topics on social media. The Smith Corporation’s stocks have already fallen by 10%! If you still don’t beg me for mercy, it’ll probably reach the lower limit! Haha!!”

Chapter 483 A Fake Will Always Be A Fake

It seemed like Yvonne really wanted to show off her achievements, so she started to show them the trending topics on social media that day on the computer.

There were few new trending topics, such as #AllEmployeesOnLeaveInSmithCorporation, #SmithCorporation OffendsQTheHacker, #SmithCorporation StocksDropBy10%, and so on.

Some Smith Corporation employees had revealed that all the top-level executives were now waiting for orders in the CEO office on the top floor and that so far, everyone was at a loss as to how to counter Q.

As all the computers had crashed and couldn't be switched on, the rest of the staff had all been given a day off. However, the employees didn't feel any joy about that but were instead worried that they would wake up to the news of the Smith Corporation being declared bankrupt the next day, leading to them losing their jobs.

It was rumored that the young missy of the Smith Corporation had offended the top-class hacker Q. That was why they had brought Q's revenge upon themselves. By right, a hacker shouldn't have been able to influence the network of such a large company, but this was Q, the legendary existence. It was said that Q alone could breach a country's cyber defenses!

The Smith Corporation was finished!

The Smith Corporation's stocks had already fallen by 10%, and the network in the entire company had been down for over fifteen minutes. At present, investors were still observing the situation.

If they couldn't restore the network within an hour, then it was possible that investors would get rid of the stocks they had on hand. When that happened, they might hit the lower limit!

The Internet analyzed all the terrible outcomes that the Smith Corporation might face.

Yvonne presented them one by one.

Fortunately, Joel had already given all the employees in the company a day off. Otherwise, the ordinary employees might break down if they saw the content.

However, even though the two inside the office were calm and composed, the people outside were already in a huge panic.

In order to prevent Yvonne from realizing that they had already taken control of the situation, Nora hadn't taken back the control of the computers outside.

Thus, when Yvonne was showing the articles on the screen, the computers outside were also displaying the same thing.

The deputy CEO and top-level executives were fearful and horrified. The executive assistants and secretaries also looked at one another. For a while, none of them knew what they should do.

Samuel looked at the closed door to Joel's office and yelled furiously, "It's over! It's all over! The Smith Corporation is about to be destroyed by Joel!"

The executives looked worried.

Speedy, the hacker who had just left the Smith Corporation and returned home, heaved a huge sigh when he saw the news.

He felt that he couldn't have made a more correct choice.

In fact, in that instant, he was even afraid that Q might retaliate and take revenge on him.

Speedy was a member of the Hacker Alliance. He immediately took out his cell phone and sent a message to the Hacker Alliance.

Speedy: "Boss Q, I have already withdrawn from the Smith Corporation. I'm not going to go against you! Don't worry. Also, if you need me to provide you with some of the Smith Corporation's network vulnerabilities, I can also do that..."

Although he knew that doing this wasn't right, Speedy had no other choice.

If he offended the Smith Corporation, if worse came to worst, he could at least go out of the country.

But if he offended Q, then he could forget about staying in the hacker industry. He was very clear about that!

After sending Q a private message, he thought about it and posted a tweet.

Unexpectedly, the moment he posted the tweet, it trended.

Speedy: “The Smith Corporation shouldn’t have offended Q. I have absolute respect for Q, so I hereby announce my withdrawal from the Smith Corporation. Also, thus far, no one has dared to contend with Q on the Internet.”

Speedy had been worried after he posted the tweet that his actions might offend the Smith Corporation, but when he saw how his tweet had taken the third spot among all the trending topics, he suddenly gained peace of mind.

It was obvious that the trending topics algorithm had also been hacked. All the negative news about the Smith Corporation had been pushed to the top!

It was apparent that the other party was very strong and capable!

His decision to take sides at the critical moment had played a decisive role.

With that, surely Q wouldn’t hold a grudge against him anymore... right?

While Speedy was on tenterhooks, Yvonne had displayed his tweet on the computers in the Smith Corporation.

Additionally, after his tweet trended, someone had filled everyone in on who Speedy was. Everyone immediately lost even more hope in the Smith Corporation successfully restoring their network!

‘Oh my god, even Speedy has quit. Who else can save the Smith Corporation?’

“Q really isn’t someone to be offended. I mean, look at the alphabet itself—they are the queen of the hacker world!”

“How apt! I’m suddenly in awe of the queen. At the same time, I’m also worried about the Smith Corporation. Just how exactly did they offend a big figure like that?”

Next to the numerous comments were Yvonne's own comments:

“Heh, even Speedy has betrayed you at a crucial moment, Joel. What does this show?”

“It shows that no one can be trusted except your own family! If you apologize to me and let me return to the Smiths, and also publicly announce that you're abandoning that hillbilly called Nora Smith, I can come back immediately!

“Of course, you also have to declare that I didn't do anything wrong back then. Dad didn't die anyway. He's currently resting healthy in the hospital, isn't he?”

“Once you accomplish all of this, I don't mind letting go of my control over the Smith Corporation and letting all of you go back to normalcy. But if not...”

As Joel read her messages, he suddenly looked at Nora and said, “Reply to her, ‘A fake will always be a fake.’”

Nora: “...”

From what Yvonne had written, one could tell that the woman actually still missed the Smiths.

Otherwise, she wouldn't ask to come back.

She hadn't expected Joel to actually say something as harsh as that, though.

What Yvonne minded the most was her identity as an adoptive daughter. Joel's words were entirely capable of sending her into a flying rage.

Joel had pretty good potential in honing a sharp tongue.

With that in mind, Nora typed that to Yvonne.

Sure enough, Yvonne flew into a rage.

“Joel! I see you as my elder brother, yet you are treating me like this! You have never cared about me, have you?! “I'll tell you this—I am now angry! Very, very much so! I am going to completely destroy the Smith Corporation's network, as well as all the files in everyone's computers!”

“Just you wait! I will make you pay for saying that! Even if you regret your actions and want to beg me for mercy, it is too late!!”

Following these words, all the computers in the company suddenly went back to normal. Then, all the internal hard drives were opened, and the cursor moved to the Delete button.

Once she clicked the button, all the data in all the computers would be completely destroyed!

When that happened, chaos would definitely break out in the Smith Corporation!

In a dark room somewhere.

Yvonne stared at the computer screen in front of her. The light from the computer shone on her face, making her look exceptionally hideous and terrifying!

Chapter 484 Caught You!

Yvonne stared at the screen, a weird and insidious smile gradually forming on her face. Once she clicked on that button, she would be able to see the Smiths' downfall!

Her fingers were shaking in excitement.

Then, she opened her eyes wide and pressed the button!

What she should have witnessed the next moment was all the data files in the company being erased. What she should have witnessed was Joel in a panic and at a loss, but unexpectedly...

The moment she pressed the button, the computer screen in front of her... suddenly blacked out!

At the Smith Corporation.

When Yvonne was about to destroy the documents, Nora had already taken action. Her fingers tapped away on the keyboard at high speed. In no time, she had set a trap for Yvonne.

Yvonne's skills had indeed improved a lot—at the very least, even as of now, the special department still hadn't managed to pinpoint her location through traces of her activity on the Internet.

If one were to look closely, one would see that Nora was actually wearing a Bluetooth headset in one ear.

Brenda's voice was currently playing in the Bluetooth headset. She said, "Yvonne Smith had indeed disappeared from prison when the sick Hillary Jones was picked up two days ago. The strange thing is that if not for what you've just discovered, even as of now, no one has noticed it at all! It is very likely that they have set up arrangements inside!"

Morris stayed silent for a while. Then, he said, "Please stall for a bit more time. We are still tracking her location. Once we find it, we will arrest her at once!"

"... Captain Ford, your men kinda suck!" said Nora.

Morris: "..."

He coughed and said, "The guy on the team is already a top-class white hat. It's just that Yvonne Smith has indeed become very skilled in this respect after her genetic mutation. Just like what she said, she's already comparable to Q and Y now. It's normal that we can't catch her right away."

Those who provided service for other people were called hackers, but if a hacker was working for a country itself, then they were known as white hats. Nora didn't like the sound of that. She said, "I told you, she's nowhere near Q and Y at all!" Like her, Y was also the leader of the Hacker Alliance. The two of them had had showdowns with each other before, so they both knew just how skilled the other was. Being compared to Yvonne was simply too much of an insult to both of them!

Morris: "..."

Brenda couldn't help but be amused. "Nora, how do you know that they aren't on par with one another? It's true that comparison is necessary, though. Why should someone who took a genetic modification drug be comparable to naturally-endowed ones like us?! Hehe, wait for me, I'll go to Justin and borrow Y!"

Brenda actually felt a little sheepish when she was saying that.

Y was the insurance that ensured the Hunt Corporation's network security, but everyone knew that Y never took outsiders' employment requests.

Not even Brenda's.

Three years ago, when she was carrying out a mission abroad, the other party had more powerful hackers on their side while the hackers in her department were not that skilled. She had called Justin to borrow Y but had been strictly rejected.

Y was so mysterious that no one knew where he really was. Justin had really kept him too well-protected.

Also, when she asked Justin why he trusted Y so much, he even said there wasn't any particular reason why.

This had even made her once suspect that there must be some kind of deal involving physical intimacy between Justin and Y!

But since it was for Nora's sake this time, she wondered if Justin would be willing to let his pretty little wife out to help Nora?

While she was thinking about it, Nora said, "No, it's fine."

Brenda was taken aback. "Huh?"

Nora's lips curled into a smile. "Q alone is more than enough to deal with her."

Brenda was a little dumbfounded at first.

The next moment, however, she suddenly realized something. She swallowed hard. "Nora, you... you have Q helping you out? W-where is he?"

No wonder Nora wasn't in a panic all this time!

"... Q has been here all along."

Brenda became even more astonished. "But we did not notice a third person in the room! ... Oh, I see!"

Brenda exclaimed. Just as Nora thought that she had finally understood what she meant, she instead heard Brenda say, “Does Q only need to provide support online? So, he doesn’t have to be present at all?!” Nora: “...”

Never mind. Since she had misunderstood, then so be it.

Seeing that she wasn’t saying anything, Brenda assumed tacit agreement. She immediately started to tease her. “Nora, have you seen Q in person before?”

“... Yes.”

After all, she had to look in the mirror every morning after she woke up and went to wash up, right?!

Brenda became even more interested. “Then... is he handsome?”

Nora: “?”

“He must be very handsome, right?! People with technical skills are usually very handsome! Nora, how sneaky! How can you hide a handsome guy all to yourself and not introduce him to me?!”

Nora, who found her really noisy, cut her off. “I’ve found Yvonne.”

Morris’ voice rang out in a timely fashion. “Arrest her at once!”

In a small dark room somewhere.

Yvonne had been brought there after she came out of prison.

This was a room in a small guest house and was only a few square feet big. Apart from a single bed, the only other thing in the room was the computer.

Even the toilet in the room she used to occupy when she was living in the Smiths’ manor was bigger than this!

But she knew she had no right to protest.

She and Hillary had both taken the genetic modification drug. Hillary had died because she couldn't withstand the drug's effects.

But she had succeeded.

God knows how excited she had been when she discovered that her understanding of hacking had become so clear that it was like the fog lifting!

She knew that she would be able to take her revenge very soon!

Those among the Smiths who had looked down on her, those who had bullied her... all of them would receive retribution very soon!

She was in a very good mood. Those people would be suffering while she welcomed a new life and became the new god of hacking!

Y?

What was the big deal about them? From now on, the world of hackers would be hers to triumph in!

Yvonne was so excited at the thought that she was even trembling a little.

Why did the computer in front of her suddenly blackout, though?

Yvonne's first reaction was that the computer's electricity supply had gone out—because, given her skills, she didn't think that anything would go wrong with her hacking!

But when she went to look at the power supply, she found that the power supply was plugged in.

She was taken aback. When she stayed there and thought for a while, the computer screen turned on again.

A few words appeared on the screen:

‘Do you think you can do whatever you want just because you know a little bit of hacking?’ This was... she had been invaded! She stared flabbergasted at her flawless defensive firewall.

Her fingers trembled as she typed: “Who are you?”

The other party: ‘Q.’ As the alphabet appeared, Yvonne immediately understood something.

She sprung to her feet. Just as she was about to run to the door, someone suddenly kicked the door open. Then, a group of people rushed in!

“Freeze!”

“You’re under arrest!”

Chapter 485 We Have Q!

“We’ve caught her.” When Morris’ voice rang out in the earphone, Nora had also just received a text message on her cell phone—it was from the little psycho again.

“You’re still not giving in even now? Looks like you really wish for the Smith Corporation’s downfall!

“Hehe, the Smith Corporation’s stocks have already fallen 20%. Are you still not gonna beg for mercy?”

“C’mon, my little servant, make up your mind! Otherwise, even if my new toy lets you guys off, the Smith Corporation will still suffer heavy losses! How can a company that cannot even guarantee their network security be trusted?”

Nora raised her eyebrows as she read the text messages.

She ignored him and looked at the time—all the servers had successfully rebooted. Her long, slender fingers landed on the keyboard and she started to type away at high speed.

Five minutes later, all the computers in the company returned to normal!

The Smith Corporation—including all their subsidiaries that relied on the servers—was back to normal!!

Outside.

As Samuel looked at all the trending topics on social media that Yvonne was showing them flash by on the computer, he became so infuriated that his blood pressure soared to the high heavens!

To be honest, he also owned some of the Smith Corporation shares and received dividends every year. Although he and Ian didn't get along and he didn't like Joel, should the Smith Corporation really be ruined, he would also be implicated!

This was also the reason why even though Samuel had kept on making an appearance in minor incidents over the years, apart from ruining Ian and Joel's moods, he had never actually done anything during major incidents!

Of course, he didn't have any authority to make any decisions, either.

However, he had never colluded with outsiders to cheat his own family's company.

But now!

Samuel was so mad that he was practically stamping his foot. He pointed at the things on the computer screen and yelled furiously at the people around him, "Didn't she say that she knew Q, and would ask the real Q for help? Is this what the so-called Q she invited can do?"

"She's such a jinx. She has never done anything good ever since her return to the Smiths!"

"Why did she offend Q for no reason? She's too much!"

"Oh, my shares! They have already fallen by tens of millions of dollars!"

Samuel clutched his heart and shouted to the people around him, "Remember this, if I collapse here today, it's all because of that unfilial Nora Smith!"

The executives: "..."

No one said anything. All of them stared at the screen nervously.

Although no one was saying anything, all of them were still nervous. Given how things had already come to this point, they felt that Mr. Smith was simply too calm!

Someone swallowed. “I think it’s better that we get Ms. Smith to borrow Y from the Hunt Corporation!”

“Sigh! The Hunt Corporation’s Y is like a national treasure. How would they loan him to us so easily? Don’t even think about it!”

While they were talking—in fact, they couldn’t even bear to look at the screen anymore—they suddenly saw the one-click Delete button for the computers’ hard drives appear on the screen!

Right away, everyone panicked!

The executives looked at Joel’s office. Someone even rushed over and said, “M-Mr. Smith! If all the data in the computers are deleted, we will suffer heavy losses!”

What came out of the office was Joel’s voice that still sounded as calm and collected as ever. He said, “Got it.”

The people outside were close to going crazy from their anxiety!

However, a minute later, someone suddenly let out an exclamation.

Everyone turned and followed his gaze to see that the computers had restarted... They had succeeded!

Someone couldn’t help but ask, “Surely it’s not because they have already deleted all our data, so they decided that they can restore the computers for us now, right?”

Hearing this, the executive assistant hurriedly rushed to his workstation, opened up his hard drive, and then found that...

“Nothing was deleted!”

When the rest heard this, they all ran to their workstations excitedly!

A girl sighed emotionally and said, “Oh my god, my computer is okay now! Nothing has happened to it at all, it’s exactly the same as before! It’s as if it hadn’t been invaded at all! Ah, the picture of my idol is still here!” Another man exclaimed, “F*ck, even my porn videos are still here?”

There was a moment of silence in the executive assistant department.

The man suddenly raised his head in embarrassment and scratched his head. “I... I was just joking...”

These people, who had stayed in the office and worked overtime, were the first to discover that the network had been restored. However, spreading the news required a certain amount of time.

In a hotel room somewhere.

A man leaned against an armchair with one leg perched over the other. His black suit-clad legs were long and straight, and his leather shoes were also smooth and shiny. He looked very smug. He grinned and said, “My little servant will be reporting very soon, heh heh...” But as he said that, the assistant next to him suddenly exclaimed, “Sir, 1-look at the trending topics on social media...”

The man was taken aback for a moment. He glanced over, upon which he became dumbfounded.

Then, someone suddenly rushed over in a panic. “Sir, it’s over! Yvonne has been arrested!”

“Shit!” The man cursed in a low voice. “Useless piece of rubbish! You’re all a bunch of rubbish!”

Nora had just repaired the network when someone knocked on the door. Joel’s executive assistance said, “Mr. Smith, look at the number one trending topic!”

Number one trending topic? Joel raised his brows and looked at Nora in surprise. “You even paid to make a topic trend?”

Nora: “?”

She blinked. “What does paying to make a topic trend mean?”

Joel was dumbfounded. He’d originally thought that the incident would definitely trend on social media once Nora repaired the network, but for it to become the top trending topic so quickly, there was no doubt that someone was manipulating this behind the scenes. He'd thought that Nora was the one behind it, but in the end, she wasn't aware at all?

While thinking about it, Joel opened Facebook. When he saw the top trending topic, he suddenly looked at Nora with a complex look on his face.

Nora: “?”

She craned her neck and looked at Joel's hand. A resigned Joel could only hand the phone to her. “Here, take a look.”

The top trending topic wasn't about the fact that the Smith Corporation's network problems had been resolved. Instead, it was...

The Hunt Corporation: “Do you need Y to help? He'll be there whenever you call. @SmithCorporation”

Nora: “!!”

She looked at Joel in surprise, upon which she saw his eyes flicker a little. Then, he took the phone back, logged in to the Smith Corporation's official Facebook page, and replied.

The Smith Corporation: “We appreciate the gesture. But The Smith Corporation is going to be fine on its own. @HuntCorporation”

Netizens who were originally unhappy about the Smith Corporation were astounded by the two posts!

“We all know that the Hunt Corporation has hired Y as their network consultant—they hired such a powerful person as a consultant to deter their enemies. But isn't the Smith Corporation being a little too funny here? Q was the one who invaded their network, yet they are still being stubborn and refusing to accept the Hunt Corporation's kindness!”

“What would be a good way of saying ‘We have Q.’?”

Chapter 486 Nora... is Angering People to Death

After all, in the beginning, the Internet was spreading the news that Q had invaded Smith Corporation. Therefore, the netizens felt strange when Smith Corporation suddenly said that they had Q.

Someone even questioned, — We have Q. I know these words if I look at them separately. But when they're put together, why can't I understand what they mean? Below this question, Smith Corporation answered seriously: “It means that we have hired Q to be our Internet consultant. From now on, Smith Corporation has made up for its shortcomings! Please use our services without any worry! There will be no more problems!”

Everyone: “??”

Everyone was stunned.

Wasn't Q invading Smith Corporation? Why had Q suddenly become a consultant for Smith Corporation?

Just as the netizens imagined a heartbreaking story of love and murder, Smith Corporation Official sent another Weibo post explaining the entire situation!

For a moment, everyone was in an uproar!

— How is that possible? If Q had been hired as a consultant, why would Speedy have resigned? Furthermore, Speedy publicly posted on Weibo saying that he did not dare to offend Q?

– That's right. Even Speedy said that the one who invaded Smith Corporation was Q. How could there be a mistake?! What is Smith Corporation playing at?”

Speedy had jumped out himself. At this time, he still did not know that Smith Corporation's Internet had been repaired. He was at home browsing Facebook and waiting for Q's reply. Therefore, when he saw Smith Corporation's message, he was the first to find it unacceptable.

He was stunned. He reposted Smith Corporation's Facebook post and labeled it with a question mark to express his confusion. But just as most people were questioning the authenticity of this news and the netizens were discussing it, someone suddenly sent a message! On the hacking forum, Q used his public account to send a message:

Q: “I have officially accepted Smith Corporation’s recruitment and have become Smith Corporation’s consultant. Someone was impersonating me to attack the Smith Corporation, whom I have already handed over to the police! I will also send her to court for legal punishment!”

Speedy: !!

When he saw this news, he suddenly trembled.

He swallowed. Suddenly, his personal inbox lit up. It was Q who had replied: “Oh, then you don’t have to stay in the hacker world anymore.”

Speedy: “...”

His fingers softened and his phone slipped out of his hand...

#SmithCorporation’sInternetNetworkRecovery, #SmithCorporation SupplementedTheirInternet Shortcomings, #SmithCorporationCarriedoutAnOnlineCombat Exercise, and other topics immediately became trending under Joel’s control.

ne

The people who had been scolding Smith Corporation finally reacted.

Some gamers even realized that the Internet seemed to be smoother after entering the game! The gaming experience was better!

Another analysis post went straight to the top of the trending searches.

Smith Cooperation used to focus on the physical industry with the Internet industry as support. The development of new media was not good enough, but now, they had filled this shortcoming. With Q as a backup, Smith Cooperation’s future was promising!

Many people had seen this trending post. Accordingly, Smith Cooperation’s stock price that had plummeted to nearly 20% suddenly began to rise crazily!

The price of a single share was almost equal to that of Hunt Corporation!

As everyone watched Smith Cooperation's stock prices skyrocket, someone even started a conspiracy theory.

– Now, I feel that all of this was self-directed and acted out by Smith Cooperation. They used the attack to attract everyone's attention, and in the end, they retaliated! It was simply beautiful. Today, Smith Cooperation's shares soared crazily!

– Ahhhh, I don't care what kind of conspiracy it is. Smith Cooperation is the greatest of all time! With Q, Smith Cooperation is like a tiger that has grown wings!

— If Smith Cooperation's momentum continues to be so fierce, it feels like the number one family is going to change!

– Oh my god, Smith Cooperation must have taken over the trending searches today!

When Nora saw this Facebook post, she raised her eyebrows and smiled as she sent the link to that little lunatic.

Then, she replied: “You've spent too much. You helped us get on the trending searches.” The other party was silent for a full two minutes before he gritted his teeth and sent, “Shit!”

Nora was very satisfied when she saw this word.

To be able to make this little lunatic curse, it was enough to show that he was extremely angry, right?

Smith Cooperation's crisis had been resolved. She stretched and said to Joel, “I'm going home.”

Joel nodded.

Nora stood up and stretched her neck before walking out slowly. The moment she pushed the door open, Samuel and the other executives immediately took two steps back and made way for her.

At this moment, everyone looked at her with admiration.

Samuel even took a trembling step forward and held her hand. For the first time, he said in a tone that was not hostile, “Nora, you must maintain a good relationship with Q! You must win him over by hook or by crook, okay?”

Nora glanced at him and knew that Samuel was frightened this time.

If the Smiths went bankrupt, he would also suffer losses!

However, when she thought of how he had come to cause trouble time and time again, Nora’s eyes flashed. She thought of Samuel’s hobby that Joel had told her about and said, “Samuel, Q likes antiques the most, especially the blue and white porcelain from the Qing Dynasty. You also know that I came from California, and I don’t have such precious things. Sigh! Q said that if I can’t find it for him, he won’t cooperate further with us!”

Samuel: “!!!!”

That blue and white porcelain was his most precious collection. It was worth almost a hundred million dollars! How could he give it away just like that?!

However, when he thought of how quickly Smith Cooperation’s shares had fallen after the Internet collapse today, he felt as if his heart was on a rollercoaster. He gritted his teeth. “What’s wrong with that? I have it! Give it to Q right now!”

Nora narrowed her almond-shaped eyes and revealed her white teeth. “Get it sent to the Smiths.”

“...Okay.”

Nora left after saying this. Joel, who was sitting in the office, also heard their conversation: II 11

His little cousin had such a devious side to her!

... How cute!

Nora returned to the Smiths.

After parking the car, she looked at the time. It was almost 11 PM. The children's rooms upstairs were dark. They must have slept long ago.

She entered casually and was about to head upstairs when she saw the man sitting on the sofa.

There was no one else in the living room. Under the warm and comfortable light, Justin was looking at his phone. There was a rare relaxed joy on his face, the corners of his lips curled up slightly. Even the mole at the corner of his eye was curved into a happy smile. The man had his legs crossed and was staring at his phone.

Nora walked over in surprise and looked at his phone. She wanted to know what the man saw that made him smile so happily.

Unexpectedly, it was...

Chapter 487 I'll Tell You a Secret~

When Nora looked over, the man was browsing Facebook

On Facebook, there was a small-time user called "Nora—Justin Couple". Below, it posted:

[Ahhh, what should I do? Did you see what Hunt Corporation said at the critical moment? I'm at your beck and call! I feel so spoiled!) [I'm a fan of a couple from two companies!]

[The domineering Mr. Hunt is seeking attention. The cold Beauty Smith has rejected him!]

[He has Y while she has Q. The emperor and queen of the hacker world are in their hands. They look more compatible!]

(Ahhhh, I saw a text, it's so sweet! Link attached!)

Justin's slender fingers opened the link, and inside was a short piece of a text:

“Actually, Hunt has always been deeply in love with Smith. Smith has long had her heart set on Hunt, but the two strong people have never learned how to express themselves. They only worked hard to show their best sides in front of each other.

Smith tried hard, but she was tripped by someone. The moment she fell, Hunt suddenly realized something. It was too tiring for Smith to chase after him.

Hunt stopped in his tracks and reached out to her. ‘My hand is right here. Come as you wish.’

Smith looked at that hand but did not clench it tightly. Instead, she stubbornly pressed her hand against the ground and stood up. “I have my own hand.”

Smith did not notice that when she said this, her tone was filled with shyness... To be continued...”

Justin looked at the words and smiled, liking this Facebook post.

Justin was currently logged into Hunt Corporation’s official account.

This little like immediately made the netizens hype up again. Everyone shouted, — Ahhhh, the couple is real!!

Nora was speechless. No matter what Justin did, he was always serious and very vigilant. However, she had been standing behind him for so long, yet this man still did not notice her arrival. The corners of Nora’s lips twitched. She watched as Justin liked every post that praised them. When he had liked more than ten, Nora could not stand it anymore and turned around to go upstairs.

When she increased her pace, she attracted Justin’s attention!

He looked up suddenly and smiled when he saw Nora. “You’re back?”

Nora: “...Yes.”

She wanted to say something, but when she turned her head back to look, she saw that Justin had already lowered his head again and was looking at his phone. He had started his journey of likes again.

Nora: "..."

The "thank you" was stuck in her throat.

This fellow had deliberately created a "Y" that could be used at will in a high-profile manner. He had even shouted loudly on the Internet and bought the top trending searches just to help them.

Nora shook her head slightly and sighed. She prepared to go upstairs.

She had just taken the first step when she heard Justin's bright voice. "Nora."

Nora stopped in her tracks and looked at him.

Justin finally looked up. His eyes were still smiling, and his dark eyes were as bright as the stars. "Is Q you?"

Nora: "..."

She was silent for a moment before asking, "Then is Y you?"

In the silence, they looked at each other. Suddenly, they smiled again.

No words needed to be spoken.

Nora went upstairs to sleep. When she woke up again, the sky was bright. She picked up her phone and glanced at it. She realized that many people had contacted her, but most of them seemed to know that she was resting, so they had only left messages.

Nora ignored Brenda, Morris, and the others. Her gaze first landed on Lily's message. Usually, Lily would not look for her for no reason. Now that she was suddenly looking for her...

Nora hurriedly unlocked her phone and dialed her number. Lily picked up immediately and said, "Boss, Old Maddy seems to have regained some rationality. He kept nagging about looking for you! I'm trying to calm him down, but I think he has something to say to you." If he had something to say... Nora thought of the secret her mother had left behind and sat up immediately. "I'll be right there!"

She got out of bed, put on her clothes, and rushed downstairs. Then, she went to the car park and drove straight to the hospital!

In the hospital.

Nora came to the door of Old Maddy's room. Before she entered, she heard Old Maddy shouting, "Where's Ian's daughter? Where's Yvette's daughter? I want to see her! Her mother has a secret that she wants me to tell her! Shh, I won't tell you. I'll only tell her! I can only tell her!"

Chapter 488 A Secret!

When Nora heard these words, she hurriedly pushed open the door and walked in.

Lily was pressing on Old Maddy's arm. Ever since he was poisoned by Yvonne, his body had not been well, and his mind had not recovered.

His expression was still not good, and the burns on his body were terrifying.

Lily comforted him. "Boss is coming soon. Don't be agitated..."

Old Maddy danced around and kept shouting, "I want to see Yvette's daughter! Quickly call her to see me! It'll be over if she's late! I want to tell her a secret..."

Lily almost couldn't control him anymore. At this moment, Nora entered the door. When she heard the door opening, Lily turned back to look at her and finally heaved a sigh of relief.

"You're finally here!"

Lily stood up and said with resentment, "If you hadn't come soon, Old Maddy would really have gone crazy this time!"

Nora ignored her nagging and walked straight to the bed. When he saw her face, Old Maddy calmed down.

His turbid eyes suddenly became clear. He looked at Nora quietly for a while before smiling. "You're here." "I'm here."

Nora held his dry hand. His fingers were especially dry because they had been burned before, and his skin was very wrinkled.

She asked softly, “What’s the matter?”

Old Maddy looked at her and his eyes gradually calmed down. He smiled. “I want to tell you that you need to have a child!”

Nora: “?”

She was stunned. “What?”

“You need to have a child! Now, now! Hurry!” Old Maddy suddenly became anxious and pushed her out. “Do it now.”

His words were incoherent, making her even more confused.

However, Nora’s heart jumped a little. She seemed to have thought of something and asked, “Why?” “Why?”

Old Maddy was stunned. “Yes, why?”

He was pushing Nora’s hand, but he suddenly quietened down. He scratched his head hard. “Why? Why can’t I remember why? Why? Why? Why? Why? ...”

He muttered softly to himself. After saying these words, he grabbed his hair hard because he could not remember the reason. A few strands of hair had been plucked off by him from his already barren scalp, but he still could not seem to remember.

He suddenly slapped his head angrily. “Why? Tell me quickly. Why?” Nora saw that he was gradually losing his mind and seemed to be getting more and more anxious. She hurriedly held his hand. “Old Maddy...”

When Old Maddy saw her, he did not think about why anymore. Instead, he held her hand. “Quickly go and have a child. Go!” Nora: “...I already gave birth.”

“You gave birth?”

Old Maddy was stunned. “It really happened?”

There were even two of them.

Nora did not say the last sentence. She only stared at Old Maddy. When she saw that he seemed to have heard this, she heaved a sigh of relief. Then, he slowly closed her eyes. His emotions seemed to have calmed down. Nora asked tentatively, “Can you remember anything else?”

Old Maddy whispered, “I can’t remember. I can’t remember. I’m old. I’m crazy... And I can’t think. My head hurts. My head hurts so much...”

“Okay, don’t think about it yet. But if you remember anything else, you have to tell me.”

Nora reminded him softly. Old Maddy nodded. “I’ll remember. I know...”

After Old Maddy fell asleep, Nora walked out of the ward.

Lily looked at her. “Anti, I think Old Maddy’s condition has improved. At least he was talking to you normally just now. But he’s so strange! Why did he want you to have a child?”

Nora shook her head to indicate that she did not know.

She told Lily, “Take good care of Old Maddy. When his physical fitness reaches a certain level, I’ll continue his treatment.”

Old Maddy might be someone who knew about some things back then! Only by curing Old Maddy could she possibly know some of her mother’s secrets.

Since she was at the hospital, Nora went to visit Quentin again.

Quentin lay there and was getting another nurse to feed him fruits. As he ate, he said, “Don’t look at how I’m paralyzed on the bed now and can’t even lift a cup of water. You don’t know how powerful I used to be.”

At this point, he took a bite of an apple and continued, “My martial arts are especially good. It’s not a problem for me to fight ten people alone! What’s with your expression? When I’m done, I’ll fight ten for you to see!”

When Nora heard this, she stopped in her tracks.

As she stood at the door, she heard the nurse say, “Okay? How big is your heart? Do you know how serious your injuries are?”

Quentin smiled. “Do you know who my cousin is?”

The young nurse: “...I know. It’s Anti!”

“Other than Anti, she’s also Big... Forget it, I won’t tell you anymore. You won’t understand even if I tell you. Anyway, she’s very good at fighting!”

The young nurse asked, “Is she better than you?”

Quentin: “...Damn, she’s just a little better than me. Really, just a little. When I recover, I’ll practice for another ten years. I’ll definitely beat her! Because she’s too lazy. She only knows how to sleep every day... If she doesn’t practice, she’ll only worsen! Why should I tell you about fighting? What I want to tell you is that with her around, I’ll definitely be able to stand up!”

Nora clenched her fists silently. Her almond-shaped eyes drooped slightly. It was as if there was suddenly a heavy burden on her shoulders.

She did not expect Quentin to trust her so blindly.

This made her feel pressured.

She did not enter and instead turned to Ian’s lounge.

Ian was holding his phone and looking at something. However, Nora could vaguely hear Joel’s voice.

She was about to take a closer look when Ian heard her enter. He quickly switched off her phone and looked at her guiltily. “Nora, why are you here?”

Nora: “...How are you?” Ian smiled. “I’m quite good. I feel like I can be discharged in a few days.”

Nora nodded.

Ian looked at her.

Nora pursed her lips.

Ian was still looking at her.

Nora sat down at the side and stood upright.

Ian was still looking at her.

For a moment, there was nothing between them. A faint awkwardness filled the room.

Looking at her new father, Nora still felt a sense of estrangement.

After all, she had seen him fewer than a dozen times.

Nora stood up. “If you’re fine, I’ll get going.” Ian subconsciously asked, “You’re leaving so soon?”

He had not seen enough of his daughter! Nora nodded. “Yes, I still have something to do.”

She walked towards the door and had just opened it when Ian’s voice suddenly came from behind. “Nora, you just went to see Quentin, right?”

Nora paused.

She did not turn back, but she still heard Ian’s voice. “It’s okay. As long as you try your best, even if the outcome is unsatisfactory, it’s okay. I know Quentin. He won’t blame you.”

Nora felt relieved. She felt as if strands of warmth were flowing into her heart again.

She lowered her head. “Yes.”

With that, she turned around. “Thank you.”

After leaving the hospital, Nora got into her car and planned to interrogate Yvonne.

However, she suddenly thought of something and picked up her phone. She suddenly sent that little psycho a message: “Can I ask you a question?”

The little psycho replied quickly: “Beg me.”

Nora: “Then forget it.”

Little Psycho: “No, you have to ask!” He was extremely curious about what questions his little servant wanted to ask.

Nora: “No.”

Little Psycho: “Ask! I can answer you a question for free!”

Nora was waiting for this sentence. “Why must I have a child?”

The moment this question was asked, the other party replied.

After seeing that reply, Nora’s eyes widened in shock...

Chapter 489 Little Psycho?

On the other end of the line, the other party’s message was very clear.

(You’ll die if you don’t have children.)

Nora stared at those words and felt that she did not understand what they meant. She frowned and sent another message. “Why?”

The other party: “This is the second question. Beg me.”

Nora: “...”

She lowered her eyes. “Please, will you tell me?”

The other party: "It depends on my mood."

He clearly did not intend to say anything.

Nora ignored him and threw her phone aside.

She did not understand what this answer meant, but from what she heard, she felt that things were developing in a strange direction.

Why would she die if she did not give birth?

She sat in the car quietly and thought for a long time before starting the car and heading to the special department.

In the special department.

Previously, when Yvonne was in an ordinary prison, she had always felt that her prison break was very simple. Therefore, even after she was arrested by the special department, she still sat there calmly and did not say anything.

Morris and Brenda did not torture her, but they did not get any useful information.

Ever since she was arrested, she had been in the interrogation room. She did not eat, drink, or sleep. At this moment, she looked very haggard, but the gaze in her eyes was very firm.

Nora entered the interrogation room and sat opposite her. She thought for a moment and suddenly said, "Are you waiting for them to save you?"

When Yvonne heard this, her eyes trembled before she raised her head. "I don't know what you're talking about."

Nora spoke again. "Your computer skills have improved tremendously recently!" A complacent smile appeared on Yvonne's face. "If you're mocking me, then I can tell you that there's no need. Do you really think that the Smiths can do whatever they want with Q? If you have the ability, wait a while for me. I will definitely be more powerful than Q!"

When she said this, there was only confidence on her face without any hesitation.

Nora frowned a little when she looked like this. She did not know where her confidence came from.

She suddenly said, “How are you going to compete with Q? Even if you invaded Smith Corporation this time, you needed someone to bring in a hard drive for you. What’s the point of breaking the firewall from the inside?”

Hearing this, Yvonne bit her lips. Indeed, this invasion was because Jill’s nephew had brought in a USB flash drive when he entered Smith Corporation. From then on, she had planned this attack.

What a pity...

They had put in so much effort, but Q had easily disintegrated them!

Yvonne lowered her head and sneered, “You don’t have to provoke me with your words. Anyway, I won’t die if I’m arrested for a while. You can wait for me for half a month. I’ll let you know what it means to be a peak hacker!”

Her words were very arrogant.

She looked at Nora and reached out her hand. “Do you know how it feels to suddenly become stronger? My mind suddenly became clear. Some algorithms that were originally as difficult to overcome as mountains were easily figured out by me. My logic was clear, and everything was in my mind! In my palm...”

Nora saw that when she said these words, she seemed to be in a daze. She frowned and suddenly said, “Hillary was suddenly in a coma. When the prison guards couldn’t find out the reason, she was sent out of the prison. You took the opportunity to hide in the car and escaped, right?”

Yvonne was stunned.

Nora said again, “Are you certain that if they can save you once, they can save you a second time? Did you expect to be arrested by the special department this time?”

She could be easily rescued from ordinary cells because the restrictions there were indeed not very strict.

However, the special department was the most tightly guarded department in New York. Where did Yvonne get her confidence from to think that she could escape from here?

Yvonne was not frightened by Nora's words. She lowered her eyes and sneered. "They won't give up on me." "Why?"

Nora asked.

Yvonne smiled. "Because I'm about to become the best hacker in the world. They need a genius like me!"

Nora listened to her and frowned. It seemed like that little psycho had promised Yvonne something. Otherwise, a selfish person like her would have betrayed them long ago.

But how could that little psycho rush to the special department to save someone?

She shook her head and sneered. "Even so, you have to ensure that you can touch your phone or computer. But can you touch them here?"

Yvonne shook her head. "You don't have to scare me. If you want to use torture, then use it. I'm not afraid at all! But what do you want me to say? Heh, I have no comment!"

With that, she lowered her head and looked like she did not want to talk anymore.

Nora could only leave the interrogation room.

Morris walked forward and asked, "We can't use torture right now because we're drawing blood for testing."

Nora clenched her jaw. "You mean..."

Morris nodded. "She admitted that she became so powerful because she was injected with a genetic modification drug." Nora instantly pursed her lips tightly.

Genetic modification drug...

This was the first time she had directly felt the changes brought by the genetic modification drug.

Yvonne's computer skills in the past were indeed ordinary. She was just scaring laymen.

But this time, even with the help of Jill's nephew, Yvonne had hacked everyone's computers in Smith Corporation in a short period of time. She was indeed very powerful!

If it was anyone other than Nora—even if Solo was here—they would not be her match!

Could that genetic modification drug really develop a person's brain to the limit?

If that was the case, then could Quentin be saved?!

Seeming to have sensed her hesitation, Morris said, "You can go to the laboratory and take a look at the current report."

Nora nodded and entered the laboratory at the side.

The people there were all researchers. They had taken Yvonne's blood and were examining it. Nora walked over and took the report. She saw that there was indeed some unknown component in her blood.

Everyone was still examining the composition, and they were temporarily unable to distinguish the structure.

Nora took the reports over and checked them one by one.

She read the last copy first...

Suddenly, she stood up and looked at the documents in her hand. "Oh no!"

"What's wrong?"

Someone asked.

Nora stood up and was about to walk out. However, before she could step out, a low voice suddenly sounded from the interrogation room!

Chapter 490 Another Identity~

Hearing that low voice, Nora rushed into the interrogation room.

Yvonne fell to the ground with her eyes closed. She seemed to have lost consciousness, and the guards were frantically patting her as they shouted, “Wake up, wake up...”

Nora took a step forward hurriedly. “Move!”

When the staff worker saw that it was her, he immediately made way.

Nora came to Yvonne’s side and used one hand to check her breathing while the other hand pressed on her pulse. Her breathing was already very weak, almost gone.

Even her pulse became unclear.

Nora swallowed.

The person beside her shouted, “CPR!” Nora immediately stopped him. “No!”

“Why?”

She slowly said, “The unknown composition in her blood is increasing exponentially. Those things can improve her genes, but they will also take her life!”

Although the results of those reports were from the same batch of blood, the unknown concentration of components changed every hour.

As the change was not big and the coefficient was too small, the researchers did not notice it immediately.

However, when Nora went to take a look, she realized this problem!

The unknown components in her blood were like bacteria. From the moment they entered her body, they began to reproduce!

As time passed, it slowly spread throughout her body.

Nora also realized this before shouting “no” and rushing over.

The worker did not understand the full story, but he understood what she meant. “You’re saying that if we perform CPR, it will cause the blood in Yvonne’s body to flow faster and increase the growth of those things?” Nora nodded. “Yes.”

The worker was anxious. “Then there’s nothing in these emergency measures that can save her now!”

How were they supposed to get any clues when she was dead?

When Nora heard this, she reached into her purse and took out a bunch of silver needles. Then, she quickly took out a short needle, stabbing Yvonne’s head twice.

After two stabs, Yvonne let out a cry and slowly opened her eyes. She did not understand what was going on and asked, “What are you guys doing? What’s wrong with me?”

Nora lowered her eyes and said slowly, “The genetic modification drug they injected into you multiplies endlessly in your body.” Yvonne was stunned for a moment before she seemed to understand something. “So they’re lying to me? But how is that possible? I’m so powerful, why would they lie to me? Without me, they can’t find another hacker! I know now. Are you acting? Are you trying to get something out of me?! Let me tell you, don’t think I’ll believe you just because you said you could treat me!”

Nora pursed her lips and looked at her. “I can’t treat you.”

Yvonne was stunned. “What?”

The silver needle in Nora’s hand was still inserted into her brain. “I’m just holding your breath now, but I can’t stop those reproductions. You only have one minute.”

Yvonne was stunned.

She looked at Nora in a daze and felt the pain in her temples. There seemed to be something crawling in her body. It made her feel cold and afraid.

She looked at Nora in disbelief. Suddenly, waves of pain came from her bloodstream! The pain stimulated her nerves! It made her feel like her entire body was about to burn!

This pain made her realize that Nora was not lying!

Yvonne widened her eyes in shock and grabbed Nora's hand in disbelief. "Save me, save me. I don't want to die. I don't want to die..."

Unfortunately, the more agitated she was, the faster her blood flowed.

Almost after she said that, she suddenly coughed out a mouthful of blood and fell to the ground again!

Nora frowned and whispered into her ear, "Don't you want to take revenge? Tell me, who contacted you..."

Yvonne looked at her, still in shock.

Suddenly, she grinned and said the last sentence of her life. "As long as you can't get what you want, I'll be happy..."

The interrogation room was silent.

Nora stared at the woman in front of her. She had fallen to the ground with her eyes staring into empty space unwillingly. Her face, distorted due to the pain, slowly relaxed after she died.

Morris and Brenda heard the sound and rushed over. When they entered, they saw Nora standing beside them with a frown.

The two of them looked at the worker beside them hesitantly and asked, "What happened? What did she say before she died?" The worker shook his head. "Nothing..."

Nora also came back to her senses. She was actually a little puzzled earlier. She understood that the moment Yvonne was arrested, she had been abandoned by that little psycho.

Yvonne definitely understood this logic. That little psycho was her murderer, but what was this woman thinking? Why was she unwilling to tell her who it was even until she died?

Especially that last sentence. It was clearly saying that as long as you were unhappy, I would be happy!

Was a woman's jealousy really that strong?

She winced and quickly recovered from this state.

Yvonne's problem was definitely her own, and it had nothing to do with Nora!

She turned to look at Morris and Brenda and said, "I realized that the genetic modification drug isn't safe to use at all."

Morris and Brenda looked at her simultaneously.

Nora slowly said, "That drug can at least be said to be imperfect. After being injected, although her genes had indeed improved in a short period of time, the drug infinitely replicated in her body. It stimulated the limits of her body. Yvonne died because her brain had reached its limits and could not keep up with the drug's stimulation. In the end, she died from the backlash!"

When Morris and Brenda received this news, their expressions instantly turned grave. Even Brenda no longer had her usual image as she looked at her seriously. "So, they gave Yvonne a semi-finished product?"

Morris nodded as well. "This at least proves one thing! They haven't perfected the drug yet!"

Yvonne's death was worthless. However, to Nora, it was like a blow to her head, waking her up. There were no shortcuts in the world.

She was the only one who could treat Quentin's illness. That genetic modification drug would have pushed Quentin to his death.

As she thought about this, she went out and prepared to make a trip to her alternative medicine doctor's house to ask if there was any way to regenerate a person's bones.

In the car, she received another message from the little psycho: "Are you thanking me now?"

Nora: "?"

Next, she saw his message: “I’ve already killed the two women you hate the most. You’re welcome.”

Nora: “...”

Little Psycho: “You should have realized by now. The genetic modification drug that Hillary and Yvonne used is semi-finished. The reason I gave Yvonne to you was to show you the effect of that drug. Even the semi-finished product can let people break through their limits. Don’t you want to know what kind of changes a finished product will cause? Aren’t you tempted?”

Nora replied, “We caught Yvonne, you didn’t give her to us. Thank you.”

The little psycho was silent again before replying: “Little servant, since you don’t know what’s good for you, don’t blame me for being rude! After serving two appetizers, don’t blame me for being unruly to you next! Hehe...” Nora frowned.

This person was really annoying. Why was he pestering her? However, if he did not pester her, she would not have a chance to solve the case.

Nora lowered her eyes.

She did not know who the little psycho was going to target this time.

As she was thinking, her phone suddenly rang. She glanced at it and realized that it was Simon, the uncle of the Andersons. She picked up the call and heard Simon’s voice. “Nora, something has happened!” “What?” Nora’s heart sank.

Then, she heard Simon’s voice. “Elaine Miller has been suspended. You seem to be the one who did it, right? She’s now slandering you everywhere. She said that you worship modern medicine and look down on alternative medicine. That’s why you chased her out of the system! Do you still remember Mr. Myers? When he heard about this, he immediately contacted Elaine and made this matter bigger. Now, the entire alternative medicine world knows that Anti looks down on alternative medicine. They want to reason with you!”
