

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2429

Chapter 2429

Forrest's eyes were lowered, and his stern face couldn't tell what the expression was.

When Ryan saw this, he couldn't help but respond, "Auntie, what my mom means is, don't tell Dani about her biological father in the future anyway, the two will never see each other."

"All right, I don't want Dani to know there's a father like that, shame on Rodney." Mrs. Lynch's heart sank after she finished speaking with a disgusted expression.

After all, even someone who is several decades older can recall Heidi's thoughts.

If Ryan and Freya marry in the future, Dani will be aware that Ryan is not his biological father, and a barrier between children and adults will always exist.

If no one says anything, Dani is still young. Dani is the same age as Ryan's child.

Heidi had this in mind, in addition to not wanting to get into trouble.

Mrs. Lynch felt a lot better after thinking about it.

Ryan appears to be more than just talking; the prime minister's wife can still accept her daughter.

Mrs. Lynch became more and more kind after a while of contemplation. "Ryan, you'll stay here for dinner at night and your Auntie will prepare some delicious meals for you."

"Auntie, please allow me to assist you."

Ryan was about to stand up when he rolled up his sleeves.

"You, get some rest; your face looks not good, and you didn't sleep well last night."

Mrs. Lynch entered the kitchen with a smile on her face.

"My mom told you to take rest." Freya said to Ryan.

"Last night, I only squinted for a few seconds." Ryan quickly held Freya's hand

"Today was my first day of business. I was so busy handing over things after several meetings that I didn't get much sleep."

"Please go to the guest room and rest."

Mr. Lynch could appreciate the hard work by others.

"Go ahead, I'll take you there."

Freya adored him and pushed him to a downstairs guest room.

She couldn't see outside as soon as she walked in. Her waist was constricted, and she was quickly pressed against the wall. The shadow above her fell and her moist lips were kissed immediately.

The sun has already set two-thirds on the horizon outside the window.

There were no lights in the room, and the dim light added to the enigmatic atmosphere.

Ryan kissed her passionately, as if he wanted to tear her apart.

Freya was shy and nervous because the door was not shut, but she couldn't care less at the moment. She has been on a roller coaster ride since last night.

She hadn't gotten much sleep the night before, not because she was worried, but because she was thinking about him.

She'd wanted to hug, kiss, and cherish him since she first saw Ryan's article.

Freya regained some sense of reason when the kiss became so intense that the two of them couldn't breathe properly. She tried to push him away, and whispered in a kissed voice, "Hurry up and rest for a while, it's been too long, Dad and the others will be suspicious."

Ryan stroked Freya's tiny face, her eyes gleaming with zeal "You will doubt it if you doubt it. In any case, we have a legal relationship."

"I'm sorry, but that can't be the case."

Freya blushed a little. She couldn't see her pink little face on the lower lip because the light was dim, but those twinkling eyes were enough to tickle a man's heart.

"I'll rest for a while, and you stay with me." Ryan kissed her on the lips once more.

"...Okay."

Freya hesitated and agreed.

Ryan was indeed very tired. He felt relaxed all over after lying in the bed.

Ryan fell asleep in two minutes while holding Freya in one hand.

Chapter 2430

Freya crept out of the guest room after Ryan fell asleep.

Forrest and Mr. Lynch gave thoughtful glances with Freya.

"I came out after Ryan fell asleep." Freya blushed subconsciously and explained.

"Well."

Mr. Lynch simply nodded and remained silent.

Forrest, on the other hand, abruptly stated, "We have no problem with your relationship, but be careful and don't get pregnant out of wedlock again." If you lose a bet, you should learn from it."

"...Brother, I don't require your advices.

"I'm aware about it."

Freya gave Forrest a stern look, shyly and annoyed, and then went to the toy room to play with Dani.

After an hour has passed.

Just in time for dinner, Ryan awoke.

I'm a lot more at ease after a good night's sleep.

Dani was overjoyed when she saw Ryan and kept asking him to hold her.

Ryan ate with one hand while holding Dani in the other. Dani blinked and stared at Ryan, her greedy saliva dripping down her chin.

When Ryan noticed this, he quickly brought a banana over and fed Dani with a spoon.

"You give Dani to the nanny and eat it yourself." says the nanny. Mrs. Lynch expressed her thoughts.

"It makes no difference; Dani hasn't seen me in a long time." She might cry if I let go."

Ryan was quite satisfied with this state and seeing Dani eat what he fed warmed his heart. I'm also very pleased.

Ryan took Dani to the toy room after they finished eating. Dani now enjoys crawling and has crawled on him several times.

Ryan held Dani's two little hands and coaxed softly, "Good, call me Dad." Freya came in with a bowl of fruit, just in time to see Dani sitting on Ryan's stomach.

"Ah..."

Dani muttered something in her grandma's voice.

"dad."

"Wow...wow."

Ryan called for a long time, but Dani did not say the two words he was looking for. She noticed Freya standing at the door when she looked up.

Ryan has a thick-skinned complexion and a seductive face.

"Dad?"

"We're not married yet." Freya tutted as she walked in with a half-smile. "If you want to get married, I can do it anytime."

Ryan coughed, embarrassed.

"Dream. "I finally got divorced, and I don't want to go to the tomb so quickly."
Freya snorted and rolled her eyes at him.

"Baby, this is a villa, not a tomb." Ryan leapt to his feet and dragged her into his arms.

He had Freya on the left and Dani on the right on his chest.

Suddenly, there is an indescribable sense of fulfilment.

Freya remained silent while leaning against his chest.

She loves him as well, but her first marriage had a significant impact on her, and she is hesitant to marry again for the time being.

She and Ryan are currently in love, but marriage is not easy, and the two still have a lot of work to do.

"In any case, I'll be waiting for you."

"Don't believe me, I never thought of breaking up with you the day I started dating you, and I had long since put Dani away." Ryan said, lowering her head and kissing the end of her hair. Dani will truly understand the meaning of the word father when she has her own daughter and grows up."

"What do you mean?" Freya asked while looking up at his dark and clear eyes.

"I want to teach Dani in the future because I am her father." "Freya, from today onwards, we will be in love for at most two more years.” Ryan said solemnly. Dani will be almost ready to start kindergarten at that point, if you understand what I mean. Two years is enough time for you to seriously consider whether I am suitable for a qualified husband, and it is also enough time for you to play well.”

Chapter 2431

“Two years...”

Freya murmured softly, neither too soon nor too late, when she was twenty-eight years old.

“Baby, it’s too late; being a bride isn’t beautiful.” Ryan gently squeezed her little hand. “Do you want to try being a bride if you’ve never been one before? Look, both Shaun and Catherine want to do something. It's going to be a make-up wedding."

Freya was taken aback.

Yes, she's been married before, but she's never been a bride.

Freya was deeply moved when she considered it in this light.

"Perhaps in two years, I'll want to marry you." Freya blinked, her hands encircling Ryan's neck.

"That isn't any better."

"Dear, I'm waiting for you to propose." Ryan said with a smile.

Freya was stunned, but she regained her composure and slammed her fist into his chest, yelling, "Ryan, believe it or not, I will not marry you."

It's completely shameless to ask her to propose to a woman.

Dani saw Mommy punching someone, so Dani did the same, waving her small fists at Ryan.

"Oh, Dani, don't try to be like your mother; she's too ferocious." Ryan wrapped his arms around two quickly.

"OK, so you think I'm a tyrant and choose to ignore me."

Freya pretended to be angry and wanted to leave.

"It's fierce and likes it tight," Ryan said as he grabbed her wrist, pulled her into his arms, and kissed her on the lips.

Dani came over to kiss Mommy after seeing this.

"This should not be done in front of children." Freya gave an embarrassment look to Ryan.

"Dani should get used to it; there's no way her father could love her mother as much as Ryan does." With his arms around her, Ryan expressed his affection.

"Then you really want to be Dani's father, will your uncle and his family agree?" Freya felt as sweet as honey at that moment.

"If they don't agree when I marry you, there's nothing they can do." Ryan smiled and said, "Furthermore, I am, after all, their nephew. Dani will have to call me dad sooner or later when we get married in the future."

"....."

Freya remained silent because she didn't think it would be easy to deal with Jason, who had given Dani a large share of the Snow Corporation.

Ryan, noticing her silence, whispered into her ear: "When Dani and Rodney were in contact before, neither of us had an opinion, but... Rodney was a completely different person after that. What a good person, he almost did something bad to the country this time. Dani will be uncomfortable in the future as she matures and becomes more sensible. As a result, avoid bringing up Rodney in front of her in the future. It has to do with her biological father."

Freya's cherry lips slightly opened.

It's as if my head has exploded.

Freya assumed Rodney was simply slandering her and Ryan's family on the Internet, and that Rodney had done something terrible.

She was terrified that something was seriously wrong with Rodney's brain.

Don't you think about your parents and daughter if you don't think about yourself?

It's also fortunate that his uncle became prime minister and had to hand over power to someone else....

Freya couldn't bear thinking about it anymore.

It's no surprise that Ryan stated that Dani should not be aware that Rodney was the child's biological father.

How ashamed Dani will be if she grows up and learns the truth about her father?

When Ryan noticed that Freya had suddenly stopped talking, he reached out and hugged her tightly, saying, "Don't worry, I'll be there in the future."

"Well."

Chapter 2432

Freya leaned into his arms and feeling a little depressed.

It wasn't until around 8:00 p.m. that Mrs. Lynch came in and said, "Why don't you go for a walk with Ryan while I give Dani a bath? Allow him to accompany the kid."

"It's fine, Auntie; I really like Dani; let me wash her. I used to wash Dani a lot."
Ryan said as he stood up with the child in his arms.

Mrs. Lynch was taken aback for a moment.

"No, I..." he hurriedly waved his hands after a brief pause.

"Auntie, please give me the opportunity to express myself; I truly want to be Dani's father." Ryan smiled and said in a pleasant tone.

Mrs. Lynch couldn't stop laughing and crying because Ryan's intent was so clear and direct.

"All right, Mom, just let him go."

"It's not that easy to be Dani's father, so behave well." Freya joked. She was not stopping Ryan from being so active.

Dani was given a fragrant bath by Ryan.

Bathing a child is a difficult task, but Ryan persevered and fed Dani a gallon of milk before Freya sent him out.

"It's a lot of work, so get some rest." Freya said while squeezing the palm of his hand. "Let's find a time for a date when you're done."

"All right, I'll be free every day after I've been busy for the past few days." Ryan regained his senses, his heart itching as he gazed at the bright woman in the moonlight.

"I don't need to stay in the prime ministerial palace every night after resigning, but I do plan to visit three or four times a week. Do you want to... accompany me if you live in a house outside?"

The last two words were light and ambiguous.

"It's not good." Freya blushed. "I now live with my parents and I can't leave Dani alone at night."

"You can also bring Dani there occasionally so that I can get used to being a father." Ryan hooked wiht her little tail finger and leaned into her ear and said, "I miss you."

"Let's go."

"I didn't sleep well last night, so I'm going back to sleep." Freya understood in seconds and said while throwing off his hand with a red face.

"Okay."

Ryan bent and leaned over, A piece of incense was stolen from his lips, "Good night, baby."

The hoarse voice was incredibly clear.

Freya's heart trembled as she raised her head just in time to meet his deep and soft star eyes. She almost wanted to say, "Let him stay."

She was aware, however, that it was unrealistic.

Ryan, who was proud of his love affairs, was in a good mood and slept well at night despite his frustrations in his career.

Rodney, on the other side, was imprisoned in an airtight room, unable to sleep at all.

Rodney hadn't slept for two days in a row, and it showed in his appearance. His peach blossom eyes were bloodshot and filled with hatred. When he looked someone in the eyes, he lacked the charisma of the past. Instead, he was as sharp as a knife, filled with heinous hatred.

At dawn...

Jessica entered the room and saw Rodney like this.

"Let me go, Jessica."

Rodney figured out a lot this night as well. He has already completely lost this case. He may not be able to eat good fruit if he continues to cause trouble like this. He should take it easy for a while, go abroad first, and then look for ways to avenge himself.

Anyway, Rodney knows a lot of things about the Snow family. He will undoubtedly let Ryan and the others to peel off their skins at that time.

He had a bad time, and no one should dwell on it.

"I figured it out, sister. I'm willing to go abroad. Anyway, I'm not going to be able to fight you for the rest of my life. I don't want to return to this horrible place."

Rodney showed a look of despair and regret. It appears to be a reasonable compromise.
