

Chapter 161 Completely Overturned All Her Thoughts

Lu Heting drove straight to the nearest mall.

He and Su Bei went shopping for clothes first before they went to eat hotpot.

Su Bei realized that he usually wore suits and shirts even on weekends. He was very handsome, so there was really no problem with it. Besides, his figure was perfect, and his temperament was exceptional.

However, it seemed to be a bit hard to wear such clothes all the time. After all, he had to straighten his back at any time in such suits.

“Why don’t we take a look at casual clothes?” Su Bei suggested.

That was exactly what Lu Heting wanted. She looked at him with a pure and innocent smile, still as lovely as she was five years ago. In the years that passed, it seemed that she didn’t change at all.

But Lu Heting was already twenty-eight years old. When he thought that he was almost thirty, he felt that their age gap had suddenly widened.

His real intention of asking her to go shopping with him was to buy some casual clothes.

However, as soon as they entered the clothing store, those casual clothes made Lu Heting frown slightly. He was really not comfortable with complicated styles. It seemed that he still liked shirts and formal wear.

“We’ve already come to this kind of shop. Why are you still looking at these shirts?” Su Bei took the shirt from his hand and put it away. “Let me help you choose.”

“Okay.” Lu Heting stopped and watched Su Bei shuttle back and forth. Finally, a faint smile crept across his face.

A few moments later, Su Bei came to him with so many clothes in her arms. She asked him to try them on.

Lu Heting felt a little embarrassed. He had never worn such kind of clothes before, so he felt a little uncomfortable in the fitting room.

When he came out, Su Bei’s eyes lit up. She exclaimed, “You look so handsome! Lu Heting, you have a very good figure. You look good no matter what you wear. Try these too.”

He was wearing a beige polo shirt and casual pants.

The other outfits she chose for him were jeans and T-shirts.

Every time he came out of the fitting room, her eyes shone bright like stars in the sky.

Looking at Su Bei’s eyes, Lu Heting was no longer resistant to the clothes. He let her choose the clothes at will, and he just put them on. The expression on his face didn’t change either.

Su Bei was really amazed. With such a perfect figure like his, it would be a shame if he didn't try a few more clothes.

He was simply a natural hanger. He looked excellent no matter what kind of clothes were on him.

The beige casual clothes highlighted his gentlemanly side. The simple jeans and white T-shirts made a big difference on him. He looked like a sophisticated young man.

The casual sportswear made him look strong and hot.

Su Bei stood in front of Lu Heting and carefully helped him adjust the clothes.

When she saw Lin Yu today, she thought that he had good looks and a good figure. It even made her feel that no man was more handsome than him. Even Zhuang Wenhao, who was the best actor, was no match for him.

However, Lu Heting had completely overturned all her thoughts during the day.

He was better. No, he was even the best.

Lu Heting opened his arms and didn't resist all the clothes that Su Bei had handed to him at all. The feeling of being taken care of by his wife filled his whole body.

Well, it was the feeling of being fully charged with energy. It was as if his life was complete. Even every strand of his hair was full of energy now.

Chapter 162 A Man Will Make Himself Handsome for His Lover

"Let's buy all these clothes!" Su Bei exclaimed. Looking at Lu Heting's perfect figure, only these words could express her praise for him at the moment.

Lu Heting lowered his beautiful eyes and looked at her. "All of them?"

"Well... as long as you like them." Of course, she still had to respect his opinion.

He looked at the clothes seriously and asked, "Which one do you like?"

People always said that women made themselves beautiful for their lover. Men were also the same.

In that case, he must buy something that his wife liked.

Su Bei picked up a pile of clothes with a satisfied look on her face. Then she asked, "Can I say that I like all of them?"

Actually, she didn't just like the clothes. She preferred to see Lu Heting wearing them.

He gave souls to all the clothes when he wore them. She just couldn't stop looking at him.

"I'll buy them all then." Pleased by the expression on Su Bei's face, Lu Heting decisively took all the clothes he had tried on just now and walked to the counter.

"It's twenty-nine thousand yuan in total, sir," the cashier said with a smile.

Since it was just an ordinary shop, the clothes there were at a budget price. So Lu Heting's overall purchase was not that high.

He chose the most common card and handed it over to the cashier. Actually, the price was nothing to him. He bought all the clothes because Su Bei liked them.

He didn't know much about his own clothes. But obviously, the price of his shirt was higher than the total price of all these clothes

Lu Heting was already keying in his pin code when Su Bei realized that the total price of their purchase was a bit too high.

If she was still the daughter of the Su family, such amount was negligible to her.

But now, she was making a living and trying to save money. And Lu Heting's salary was not high enough.

She took out her own card and was about to stop him. However, he had finished inputting his pin code, and the machine had started to print the receipt.

'It seems that I've gone too far,' she thought to herself. Lu Heting had so many company uniforms to wear. Su Bei had never seen any famous brand logos on his clothes, so she thought that they were all customized by his company. But now, she made him waste so much money because of her own preferences.

When she looked at his closet, she knew that he seldom bought clothes. But she preached these clothes and asked him to buy them. Perhaps he didn't want to embarrass her, so he spent so much money in buying them. She really made a mistake.

She glanced at him quietly. It seemed that he didn't care about it at all. He even looked very calm.

'Forget it. I'll just pay for the hotpot later,' she thought inwardly.

Lu Heting picked up the pile of shopping bags. He had already changed his suit and shirt into a simple white T-shirt and a pair of casual shorts, and it made him look taller and stronger.

"Sir, you really match up with your girlfriend. It's rare to see a couple like you who are so fit in shape and appearance. You two are perfect for each other," the cashier exclaimed with a smile.

"Thank you." Lu Heting nodded politely. The cashier's compliments made him decide to come to this store more often.

He walked out of the shop with Su Bei and went to the hotpot restaurant she had chosen.

Su Bei had just eaten hotpot and was still full. So as soon as they sat at the table, she handed the menu to Lu Heting.

People around looked at them and started whispering to each other. "He is so handsome."

"Yes. Look at those long legs!"

"They're such a perfect match!"

Chapter163 Another Man's Name

A smile crept across Lu Heting's face. It turned out that even strangers were also friendly. He had never noticed this before.

It seemed that he and Su Bei had to hang out more often in the future.

He ordered some food and a cold snack for Su Bei. Then he pushed it in front of her.

Su Bei, who had been sweating profusely, was in a good mood when she saw the cold snack. She had just eaten hotpot, and she felt thirsty now. So she wanted to eat something cold.

When the hotpot was served, Lu Heting started to eat by himself. He seldom ate hotpot, but he was able to eat it in an orderly manner.

He was born with elegance, and there was an indescribable dignity in his every move. He was still calm and graceful while eating.

When Su Bei raised her eyes to look at Lu Heting, she couldn't help but sigh softly and murmured, "Lin Stone, you are a star with hundreds of millions of fans. But you are defeated by an ordinary man."

"What did you say?" Lu Heting keenly caught the name of another man in her words.

"I said you are more handsome than Lin Stone," she replied with a smile.

"You mean, Lin Yu?" This was the second time that he heard the name "Lin Stone" from her.

"Yes." She nodded.

"Are you two close to each other?" He couldn't help but pry.

As he asked, the chopsticks with food in his hand also froze for a moment.

Su Bei stretched out her chopsticks to help him put the tender beef into his bowl and said, "Yes, I've known him for more than ten years. Our relationship has been pretty good. Otherwise, he wouldn't have helped me out today."

She and Lin Yu had known each other for more than ten years. Lu Heting had only known her for five years. And she said that she was always on good terms with Lin Yu. So were they more intimate? A layer of solitude shrouded Lu Heting's body.

He was silent for a moment. It was a kind of silence that was very different from his usual silence.

"You and him..." He sat back for a few seconds to ponder. But he still couldn't find an appropriate way to ask her.

"We've met each other in the orphanage. Don't you think it's amazing?" Su Bei laughed with a hint of carelessness. "After my mother passed away, my father married Xu Zhiqin and brought her to our house with Su Huixian. Then my father sent me to an orphanage where I stayed for two years. It was only later that he decided to take me back home."

Lu Heting's heart tightened for no reason. Was she really sent to the orphanage by her biological father for two years? What kind of a father would do that?

Su Bei was only in her early twenties now. She said that she had known Lin Yu for more than ten years. This only meant that she was sent to an orphanage when she was a child. At such a young age, he had a happy and complete family. But she had to stay in the orphanage for a full two years.

How could her father be so cruel to her?

No wonder Su Xingfu had always been siding with Xu Zhiqin and Su Huixian. He was so unfair to Su Bei.

Su Bei was smiling brightly. There seemed to be no pain in her eyes anymore. But Lu Heting could feel the hidden pain in her heart.

“Su Bei...” He put his dry and broad hand on the back of her hand. His voice was full of pity.

He swore that he would never let anyone bully her in the future.

No one had the right to bully his woman.

Chapter 164 You Will Lose Your Appetite

“It’s okay. I am fine now.” Su Bei smiled brightly and continued, “When I was at home, I never concealed my aversion to Xu Zhiqin and Su Huixian. But my only mistake was that I thought that my father would believe me no matter what happened. I always held that extravagant hope in my heart. But what happened proved that it was just all my illusion.

I was so stupid. How could I expect a man who sent his own daughter to the orphanage to please his wife to believe me without reservation?

Fortunately, I didn’t suffer a lot in my two years in the orphanage. I even met many good friends.”

Aside from Lin Yu, she also met Feng Ze, Feng Feifei, Gu Xifeng, and Hua Cuo. Meeting those lovely friends was one of her fortunes in life.

When Su Bei came to her senses, she realized that she had already said a lot of things. She seldom mentioned her past to others because she thought it was unnecessary.

Empathy was a rare quality. Not everyone had the ability to connect with other people’s emotions.

But in front of Lu Heting, she unconsciously said those things. Everything seemed to come out of her mouth naturally.

Seeing that he was stunned, she covered her mouth and said, “What have I said? You will lose your appetite if you continue listening to these things. I’ll just tell you a joke...”

“Bei Bei...” Lu Heting’s voice was low but steady and powerful. He said slowly and affectionately, “You have a home now... and me. I will trust you without reservation, and I will believe in every choice you make.”

The man sitting opposite her had deep obsidian-like eyes that could make people inexplicably attracted. He spoke slowly, and he looked so calm. So she couldn’t dare to look into his eyes for too long. It was as if she was afraid of being sucked in.

Moreover, the words he said directly hit her heart, giving her a feeling that feathers were brushing it.

He said and did that. No matter what she did, he believed her even if the whole world doubted her.

Su Bei was mesmerized by Lu Heting's gaze.

He was like a magnet, attracting her fiercely. She pinched her palm hard to wake herself up.

'Oh my God! This man... He is beyond my imagination. No, I can't go on like this,' she thought inwardly.

She rubbed her face, wondering why she had said those words to him just now. It had been over ten years. She didn't care about it anymore, but she still told him about it.

Seeing that Su Bei was uncomfortable, Lu Heting let go of her hand and asked in a low voice, "Do you want to eat something more?"

"Yes!" Su Bei nodded her head vigorously as if it was a way to restore her composure.

After eating, she finally forgot the embarrassment she felt just now.

She and Lu Heting went home with so many shopping bags. As soon as they entered the house, Gun Gun rushed to her and hugged her thigh.

He said in a sweet voice, "Little cutie Bei Bei, I didn't accompany you last night. Don't be angry, okay? I was busy with social engagement, so I came back a little late."

Gun Gun wanted to apologize last night. But when he came back, he was so sleepy that he fell asleep quickly. When he woke up this morning, Su Bei had already left for work. He was so upset and spent the whole day wondering if he made her unhappy.

Chapter165 Busy with Social Engagement Last Night

Last night, Gun Gun went to see Liao Xintong. When Su Bei heard that he took it as a social engagement, she couldn't help but burst into laughter. "I'm not angry. Your aunt loves you so much. You should see her."

She didn't really know who Liao Xintong was. But since they both loved Gun Gun, she thought that they were on the same side. And Gun Gun should also learn to feel the goodwill of others.

"Okay, I'll listen to my little cutie Bei Bei." Gun Gun nodded and then grinned. What Su Bei said was definitely right.

He was finally relieved and satisfied, so he obediently picked up his pajamas to take a shower and go to bed.

After taking a shower, Su Bei lay beside him. He blinked his eyes, looked at her solemnly for a while, and said, "Bei Bei, you won't leave me, will you?"

"No, I won't. Don't worry," Su Bei replied in a soft voice.

Gun Gun then closed his eyes with relief and happiness on his cute face. Su Bei was not only lovely but also really good.

When the little boy had fallen asleep, Su Bei sat up and tied her long hair into a bun. She walked out of the room and saw that Lu Heting was still watching news in the living room. She closed the door and walked up to him.

“Gun Gun has fallen asleep,” she said as she sat down opposite him.

Lu Heting looked at her and said, “Thank you, Su Bei. It’s not your responsibility to take care of Gun Gun, but...”

“Gun Gun is a good boy, and I like him very much. I want a son like him.” Su Bei was sincere with her words. It would be great if her little cutie was also there.

What was more, Gun Gun’s existence also resolved a lot of embarrassment between her and Lu Heting, allowing them to live under the same roof and get along well.

Su Bei looked forward that in the future, Da Bao and Gun Gun would love and support each other.

Lu Heting’s heart softened when he looked at her smiling face.

She then said, “By the way, Heting, since we’re a married couple, I think we can share the bills. What do you think?”

Today, she seemed to have made him spend a lot of money unnecessarily, and it made her feel so guilty.

Twenty-nine thousand yuan was a large sum of money for any ordinary family. It was she who instigated him to easily spend it.

So she was trying to make up for him.

“I don’t think so. I think it’s a man’s responsibility to take care of all household expenses,” Lu Heting subconsciously said. For him, a woman didn’t need to make money to support the family. “I’ll pay the bills.”

He worked hard to make the lives of the people he loved less strenuous.

Su Bei was deeply touched by his words. What he said was not simply sweet words. They represented a man’s sense of responsibility.

Women wanted to hear such words not because they wanted to stop working hard, but because they wanted to know if their men were willing to take responsibility for their families.

Su Bei was stunned for a while upon hearing what he said. The words that came out of his mouth made her heart skip a beat.

She patted her chest lightly and thought inwardly, ‘Can this man not be so charming?’

But since she knew Lu Heting’s condition, she went to get a small tin box and put it on the tea table. She smiled and said, “Your idea is old-fashioned. You don’t need to support our family all by yourself, okay? Nowadays, men and women are dividing the responsibilities.”

Chapter 166 Show You My True Self

“How about this? Both of us will take out a portion of our money and put it in this small tin box. Then the common expenses of our family will be taken from here. And we can spend the rest of our own money individually,” Su Bei suggested.

Her expenses were definitely huge. No matter how she lessened her spending, life in the entertainment industry was expensive. It was something that ordinary people could not imagine.

Of course, she couldn't let Lu Heting shoulder her personal expenses. That was why she suggested that they could spend their remaining money individually.

Seeing that he pursed his lips slightly, and the lines on his face tightened, she thought that he disagreed with her.

However, she really wanted him to agree. Otherwise, how could he afford their huge family expenses with his salary as a driver?

So she smiled and said, “Do you mind if I ask about your monthly salary? If you do, then you don't have to tell me.”

Lu Heting really didn't want Su Bei to work too hard. His woman shouldn't live to work just to save money.

And his salary?

The salary of the drivers in Lu Group was being taken care of by some designated employees. As the CEO of the company, he didn't need to care about such a trifle.

In short, he didn't know how much did the drivers of his company earn. Lu Heting thought for a while.

Since he really didn't have any idea about such a trivial matter, he hesitated for a moment and chose a conservative number. “More than one hundred thousand.”

If his monthly salary was more than one hundred thousand, Su Bei should be relieved.

Su Bei laughed. “More than one hundred thousand? You're talking about your annual salary, right? It seems that Lu Group treats its employees pretty well. If your annual salary there as a driver is more than one hundred thousand, then you earn more than ten thousand a month. So how about we put five thousand each in this box for our household expenses? Will that be okay?”

Su Bei thought that ten thousand would be enough to cover all their basic expenses in the family. She could buy more things for the family at ordinary times.

“I will put all my salary in there. Anyway, the company pays for my daily necessities, food, transportation, Gun Gun's tuition, and Aunt Chen's expenses. I usually don't need to spend money.”

“Lu Group is worthy of being a big company. It treats its employees well, and the benefits are really good.” Su Bei was satisfied with Lu Heting's personal status. Although he was not very rich, Da Bao could live a stable life with him in the future.

Lu Heting said in a low voice, "Su Bei, most women in the entertainment industry want to marry into wealthy families, so they don't need to work too hard to maintain their lifestyles. These women also have the chance to meet all kinds of affluent people. Have you ever thought of marrying a CEO?"

He had asked her this question before, and she made it clear that she hated the life of exchange and trade.

That was why he was left with no choice but to hide his real identity. He was afraid that he would scare her away again.

However, he couldn't help asking her again this time. If she could accept it even a little bit, he could make her way in the industry much smoother.

The smile on Su Bei's face gradually disappeared, and she looked at Lu Heting seriously.

Then she said earnestly, "Don't worry. Since I came back to you, I have never thought about keeping an unclear relationship with other men in the entertainment industry. I know what to do."

"Su Bei, that's not what I mean." Lu Heting realized that his words made her misunderstand him.

"It doesn't matter what you really mean. I just want to show you my true self," Su Bei said seriously.

He nodded. "I will keep a distance from other women as well."

Of course, this was what he had always been doing.

Chapter167 Know and Understand Right from Wrong

Seeing that Lu Heting was extremely serious, and his eyes darkened, Su Bei laughed and said, "Why are you so serious? Besides, how can I hope to have a CEO husband? Life in a wealthy family is hard. It is beyond outsiders' imagination. The Su family, where I came from, is not that rich. But it hides countless intrigues. If my husband were a rich CEO, I would never have wanted to come back to such kind of life and bear the hardships."

If Da Bao lived in a rich and powerful family, and he would struggle like her when she was a child, she would rather have him stay in the United States without a father. She didn't want him to be sent to an orphanage like her.

She couldn't help but recall that day when Su Xingfu decisively sent her to the orphanage. At that time, she cried and refused to leave. Her arms tightly grasped the table at home, but he ruthlessly pulled her and dragged her out of their house.

Also, when she finally returned to the Su family, Xu Zhiqin and Su Huixian framed her over and over again. No one was willing to really believe her sadness and despair, even Su Xingfu.

That was why she regarded Du Luo as her only savior at that time. She wanted to leave with him as soon as possible, away from the Su family and those people.

However, even Du Luo had never really trusted her. And the Du family might also be a cage similar to the Su family.

Since then, Su Bei had become dissatisfied with rich families.

Fortunately, Lu Heting was not a wealthy man. He had no complicated relationships, and he was patient and kind to his child. A man like him was rare, and she was lucky to have him.

A hint of disappointment flashed through Lu Heting's eyes. If he told Su Bei his real identity, she would leave him without hesitation, wouldn't she?

"Lu Heting, you will always treat Gun Gun nicely, right? Will you spare no effort to protect, love, and trust him even if he makes a mistake and makes you angry? He may be thoughtless sometimes and offends someone you like and respect. But, will you always tolerate and understand him?" Su Bei suddenly asked seriously, changing the topic.

Lu Heting looked at her, wondering why she asked those questions.

Did she want to know who was more important to him, Gun Gun or her?

Or did she have other meaning?

He looked at her seriously with a firm will in his deep-set black eyes. "I will, Su Bei. He is my son. As a father, I will take all the responsibilities for him. I love and trust him, so I will raise him. And more importantly, I will teach him to know and understand right from wrong. But if he makes you unhappy, I will also try my best to protect you, so you won't be wronged at home."

Lu Heting thought that a responsible father and husband should do these things.

Su Bei's lips curved into a sweet smile. He didn't disappoint her. She knew that he would definitely treat Da Bao exactly the same as Gun Gun.

"Thank you, Lu Heting." 'In this way, I won't have too many regrets in my life, and I can find a trustworthy person for Da Bao.'

She walked over to him and held his hand tightly before she rushed back to her room.

Feeling the softness and fragrance of her skin that lingered in his palm, a touch of satisfaction surged from the bottom of Lu Heting's heart.

He thought that the second half of his words pleased Su Bei. But actually, it was the first half of his words that made her feel more relieved.

Lying on the bed and holding Gun Gun in her arms, Su Bei was in a good mood. Now that there was no problem with Lu Heting, she only had to wait for Da Bao to finally decide to live with them.

Chapter 168 Matching Outfits

The next day, Lu Heting wore the clothes that he and Su Bei bought yesterday.

He wore a clean and simple white T-shirt, denim shorts, and a pair of simple white shoes. Su Bei also always dressed this way. So he thought that they were a couple wearing matching outfits today.

In his mind, he formed an image of him and Su Bei standing next to each other. He was so satisfied with the product of his imagination that his eyes twinkled.

However, a trace of disappointment flashed through his eyes when she came out of the room, humming a song softly. She was wearing a white dress, not a T-shirt or shorts.

But with her beautiful face and youthful temperament, the simple and ordinary white dress looked very different on her. She made it look like one of the dresses of a top Italian luxury brand.

After a while, Lu Heting felt satisfied. Su Bei looked good no matter what she wore, and she was also wearing white anyway. His white T-shirt also matched her white dress.

“I’ll drive you to the studio first.” He really enjoyed the task of sending her to work.

After dropping her off, he went directly to Lu Group.

Lu Heting parked his car at the underground parking lot and walked towards his exclusive elevator.

A security guard quickly ran over to him and said, “Sir, please wait a moment. Guests and employees should go this way. This is an exclusive elevator for the CEO.”

The security guards in this building seldom saw Lu Heting. But they easily recognized him because he was very tall and eye-catching. He wore suits and shirts all year round. Even if they couldn’t see his face most of the time, they could still identify him from his temperament.

But for the first time, he wore something that he didn’t usually wear today. So even the security guard didn’t recognize him.

By the time the security guard got close to Lu Heting, he had already used his fingerprint to open the exclusive elevator and walked in.

It was only then that the security guard recognized him from his imposing manner.

Before the security guard could see his face clearly, the elevator doors closed.

“What’s wrong with Mr. Lu today? Why is he wearing such clothes?” The security guard was confused. “Did we let a wrong person enter the CEO’s exclusive elevator?”

“No, he is our CEO. Don’t you see his imposing manner? Actually, I’ve already felt his unusual aura from a distance. How can he be a wrong person?”

The elevator took Lu Heting to the top floor. His assistant ran over to him, only to be dumbfounded upon seeing his outfit.

“Mr. Lu, are...are you going on a vacation?” the assistant asked and thought inwardly, ‘But he didn’t ask me to change his schedule. What is wrong with him? Although he looks very handsome in his outfit, it’s not appropriate attire for conferences and other office activities. As his assistant, should I remind him not to dress this way?’

Lu Heting seemed to have read his assistant’s mind, so he said, “Bring my suit here before the formal event.”

“Okay, Mr. Lu.” The assistant wiped the sweat on his forehead. Lu Heting had a spare suit in his office.

But what was going on? He was really confused.

In Feng Shang's studio.

Everyone knew that Wei Lan had already decided to put Lin Yu and Su Bei on the front cover. And Zhuang Wenhao and Su Huixian would be on the back cover.

As for the other models, who were supposed to be on the cover collectively, they could only appear on the inside pages now.

This, of course, made them feel very uncomfortable.

"Huixian, is it true?" someone asked sourly.

Chapter 169 Her Words Can Now Change Everything

Su Huixian nodded. "Yes, it has been decided. I've tried my best to persuade the editor-in-chief, but she has made up her mind. There's nothing I can do about it anymore."

"But she told us that the six of us would appear on the front cover collectively. It was a good opportunity for us to showcase ourselves, but Su Bei stole the limelight alone." Luo Li felt very uncomfortable.

"Although appearing on the inside pages is not bad, why can she be on the front cover alone?"

"That's right. If Lin Yu and Zhuang Wenhao will be featured on the front cover, we won't have any opposition. But why does it have to be Su Bei?"

"I don't know what Su Bei has done to deserve this. During our first photo shoot, Kang Peng let her stand at the side. Obviously, even the photographer can see that she is not really attractive. But now, she will be on the front cover. Does Wei Lan think that Feng Shang is so popular that she has to do something to reduce its popularity?"

The incident had caused discussion among the models.

But this matter was a foregone conclusion. Even if everyone clamored, it was useless.

Wei Lan canceled her vacation plan. Her daughter Meng Meng was going to spend the holiday with her, so she took her to the studio. First, she wanted to see Lin Yu, which was a very rare opportunity.

Second, since the arrangement of the models was changed, she had to be there personally to communicate with everyone.

When it came to style, status, and position, Feng Shang was at an absolute advantage. So she came here only to inform them of the changes she had made.

All the models were silent in front of Wei Lan. But although they didn't say anything, they were extremely unconvinced in their hearts.

"Thank you, everyone, for your cooperation. When this shooting is over, I'll treat you all to dinner," Wei Lan said to comfort them.

Su Bei winked at Lin Yu from a distance and gave him a look that only the two of them could understand. Her eyes said, "Lin Stone, you impressed me! You have taken over the front cover page."

“Of course! That’s who I am.” He was actually not surprised by this result. Some of the magazines that had featured him before were even more famous than Feng Shang.

Seeing that Luo Li was still very angry, Su Huixian said in a low voice, “Forget it. Don’t be so fussy anymore. If Wei Lan says that Su Bei’s photos are better, then your photos on the inside pages might also be replaced.”

“Really? Wei Lan can possibly deprive me of the chance to appear on the inside pages? Well, Feng Shang has also spent a lot of money inviting me here,” Luo Li muttered.

“Don’t think about things too simply. It’s precisely because they’ve spent money on you. As long as they have given you the money, they can have the final say on everything else. Haven’t you heard of an actress who has worked so hard to shoot dozens of episodes of a TV series, but in the end, the director has deleted all her scenes just because of the female lead’s words? Su Bei is with Lin Yu now. Her words can now change everything,” Su Huixian explained.

Luo Li felt like her heart jolted. What Su Huixian said was possible.

If she let Su Bei go on like this, she might lose the chance to be featured even on the inside pages.

She looked in Su Bei’s direction. Today, they would shoot in their swimsuit. Su Bei had already changed into a swimsuit and was doing some warm-ups by the swimming pool, revealing a pair of particularly long legs.

As a supermodel, Su Bei had a good figure. She was taller, her legs were slender and straighter, and her waist was softer than theirs. God seemed to have favored her and given her everything better.

Her small face had exquisite facial features and was as bright as diamonds.

Chapter 170 Must Have a Grudge against Her

Luo Li said that Su Bei was not good enough to be on the front cover or to be Lin Yu’s partner. But she knew rationally that Su Bei was really worthy of it.

If Su Bei was not worthy of being on the front cover, then no one else here was worthy.

While Su Bei was warming up, a girl about six or seven years old ran towards her and said something to her.

Looking very patient, Su Bei squatted down and talked to the little girl seriously.

Luo Li recognized the little girl at a glance. She was Meng Meng, Wei Lan’s daughter.

It seemed that Meng Meng and Su Bei were close. They chatted happily, and the scene was very harmonious.

‘Su Bei is really good at scheming. First, she has invited Lin Yu to be her partner. And now, she is fawning on a little girl. If the little girl happens to be someone else’s daughter, I’m sure she won’t be that patient, ‘ Luo Li thought indignantly.

Su Bei had a child, and she liked children so much, so she was very patient with all children. When Meng Meng approached her and asked her a question, she smiled and chatted with the little girl.

After chatting with her, Meng Meng trotted towards Wei Lan in high spirits.

Luo Li's face suddenly turned pale. If Su Bei continued to act like this, she would definitely use her relationship with Lin Yu and Wei Lan to remove the other models' photos.

She had offended Su Bei several times because of her friendship with Su Huixian. So Su Bei must have a grudge against her.

If Su Bei asked someone's photos to be removed, it was most likely to be hers.

Su Huixian's words repeatedly hovered in Luo Li's mind, "Su Bei's words can now change everything."

Once those words rooted and sprouted in her heart, they would quickly grow like towering trees.

She clenched her fists so tight that her fingernails dug into her palms. If she couldn't find a way to save herself, she would really become a nobody this time.

Luo Li frowned, thinking of a way.

Seeing Meng Meng standing next to Wei Lan, she came up with an idea. At present, it seemed that this was the only way to save herself.

In a short while, she found the opportunity.

There were two swimming pools in the studio, which were a bit far from each other.

The rest of the people were shooting in the first swimming pool while Wei Lan went to the office to chat with Lin Yu.

Meng Meng was playing with Wei Lan's secretary by the other swimming pool where no shooting was going on.

Luo Li set up the camera, put it aside, and walked towards them.

Meng Meng wanted to drink juice, but the secretary couldn't leave her alone. So when she saw that Luo Li was approaching them, she was relieved. She went to get juice for Meng Meng.

Taking advantage of the secretary's departure, Luo Li walked towards Meng Meng and stood behind the little girl.

Then she secretly stretched out her evil hand and gently pushed Meng Meng into the swimming pool.

Meng Meng was playing happily, and her two little feet were randomly paddling in the water. So when she was pushed into the swimming pool, she was caught off guard and fell defenselessly. She slapped the water frantically, wanting to cry for help. But she didn't even have the strength to make a sound.

Her little head went in and out of the water, and her little hands were helplessly trying to grab something. However, she was too small, and she had no ability to cope with the situation at all. She could only helplessly let the water submerge her.

Luo Li was about to jump into the swimming pool to save her.

But before she could make a move, a graceful figure leaped into the swimming pool one step ahead of her. The person quickly lifted Meng Meng out of the water, took her to the poolside, and swiftly performed first aid to revive her.
