

Chapter 1184 Exiting The Maritime Secret Realm

At dawn the following day, the elusive exit of the maritime secret realm materialized.

Simultaneously, leaders representing different forces and families had congregated along the shoreline, poised to greet and welcome their relatives and friends.

However, their anticipation stretched on as the emergence of individuals from the secret realm was notably delayed.

After a considerable wait, a pair of silhouettes finally materialized at the exit of the maritime secret realm.

Susannah and Idris were the first ones to emerge, warmly welcomed by the Prescott family, who, upon learning about Susannah's successful endeavors and accomplishments in the realm, departed with Susannah and Idris cheerfully.

Following closely behind was Rodney, who had maintained a discreet presence to return safely and reveal the true identity of "Kolton".

Immediately upon exiting the realm, Rodney went to see Carlden.

Recognizing Rodney's secretive demeanor, Carlden inferred that Rodney had unearthed significant information. Carlden led Rodney to an isolated area, where he employed magical concealment to safeguard their conversation from prying eyes and ears.

Excitedly, Rodney said to Carlden, "Sir, I've uncovered a monumental revelation within the maritime secret realm! It concerns Liam, the wanted individual in the Chapman family's records!"

Carlden's expression darkened immediately, his sharp intellect deducing the matter's link to Liam and the likelihood of Liam's compromised secrecy.

Narrowing his gaze, Carlden entertained the possibility that Liam's real identity had been exposed.

While surveying the surroundings, Carlden noted the presence of individuals with comparable capabilities. He deduced that any action here would not go unnoticed.

Taking this into account, Carlden suggested discreetly, "Don't tell me the matter here. Follow me."

Subsequently, Carlden guided Rodney to a secluded refuge.

Upon reaching the hideout, Rodney, unable to contain his emotions any further, said with a somber expression, "Mr. Jenkins, that Kolton is fake! Liam has been disguised as Kolton all along. He caused chaos in the maritime secret realm and annihilated my entire team! And it's not just that..."

Interrupting Rodney mid-sentence, Carlden's countenance shifted into a cunning grin as he coolly warned, "You see, possessing excessive knowledge isn't necessarily beneficial."

Immediately after Carlden finished speaking, Rodney experienced a sharp pain in his chest.

Glancing down, Rodney was shocked to see Carlden snatching his heart out of his body.

Rodney was stunned, not understanding why Carlden would attack him.

With a dull thud, Rodney's body collapsed to the ground.

Following Rodney's demise, Carlden scattered powder over the body, obliterating it entirely and erasing all evidence.

Swiftly tidying up the aftermath, Carlden returned to the exit of the secret realm.

At that moment, Adamson and Cillian from the Saint Society arrived. Carlden just acknowledged them with a nod.

Given the distant relationship among the protectors in the Saint Society, Adamson and Cillian reciprocated with indifferent nods, unaware of any underlying anomalies.

They had come here because their juniors hadn't come out of the maritime secret realm for over half a day.

They were worried and decided to come and wait.

Unbeknownst to them, Townsend and Garrett had already met their demise and become sustenance for the realm.
