

Chapter 1194 News About His Parents

Liam's face became grave as he nodded and said, "Master, I get it now."

At that moment, he tightened his fists in determination.

For the very first time, he genuinely felt the hopelessness of being part of a weaker race.

He was shocked to recognize how vulnerable the human race was within the so-called Cosmic realm. Even more disturbing was the realization that humans were not united; there were traitors among them!

Liam let out a sigh, feeling a deep sorrow for the hardships his people were enduring.

Then, he thought of Lindy, the woman he had encountered during his trials in the Shadow Palace. He asked, "Master, since you also come from the Cosmic realm, are you familiar with the Heavenly Dragon Academy? During my trials in the Shadow Palace, I met a student from that academy who saved my life. She asked me to contact her once I go to the Cosmic realm, saying she could help me get into the academy."

Liam's master nodded slowly and replied, "Yes, I'm acquainted with that academy. It is a distinguished academy governed by a human emperor. Attending that academy would be a great chance for you to refine your abilities."

Upon hearing this, Liam hesitated. In truth, he wasn't very keen on joining that academy. To him, it all felt too unrealistic. Moreover, having been born and raised on Blue Star, he found it hard to grasp the idea of a vast world beyond his home.

Liam had no interest in making his life more complicated. He wasn't eager to complicate things further; he simply wanted a quiet life, concentrating on his own little world and the people he loved.

That was Liam's genuine wish.

Noticing Liam's worried expression, his master chuckled and said, "Liam, you don't truly have much of a choice. Many things are out of our control."

Liam frowned, confused.

Seeing Liam's confusion, his master explained, "In less than a year, the Saint Society will completely take over Blue Star. They will eliminate any resistance. Their plan is to call for reinforcements from the Saint Society in the Cosmic realm. These fighters are beyond anything you could ever imagine. Once they conquer Blue Star, Blue Star will become their colony, continually stripped of its resources. With your current level of power, there's no way you can just hide and survive. And..."

He paused, looking into Liam's troubled eyes, then continued, "There's something I've wanted to tell you for the past five years. You look remarkably like a highly esteemed female Primogem equipment master from the Cosmic realm. And she, like you, originally comes from Blue Star. According to my research, this woman could very well be your mother!"

The leader's revelation hit Liam like a bolt of lightning, dramatically changing his expression.

Throughout his life, Liam had no recollection of his parents. The only information he had came from the stories his grandfather told him, saying that his parents had vanished in a sudden event.

Liam had always assumed that when his grandfather spoke of 'vanished', he meant his parents had died.

But now, based on what his master was saying, it seemed that the mystery surrounding his parents' disappearance was much more complex than he had thought.

Primogem equipment makers, specializing in crafting functional Primogem equipment, armor, and weapons, might not be the most powerful, but they possessed significant status.

Liam knew his master well enough to know that he wouldn't speculate without solid reasons.

Hence, Liam was now certain that the female Primogem equipment maker, who reportedly looked very much like him, was his mother!

Liam was really surprised.

He had never imagined his mother playing such an important role!

His thoughts quickly turned to his father.

If his mother had such a significant identity, then what about his father?

Could it be that his father was also in the Cosmic realm? Was there any truth to what Lindy said about Emperor Hoffman being related to his father?

Liam's mind was racing, and he couldn't resist asking, "I've heard that the Emperor in the Cosmic realm has Hoffman as his last name. Could he be my father?"

Liam's master shook his head with a hint of bitterness and responded, "I don't have the answers you're seeking. All I know is that Emperor Hoffman is a man shrouded in mystery, almost as if he appeared out of nowhere. And let me tell you, becoming an emperor is no simple task! So, it's unlikely that he's your father."

Hearing this, Liam let out a bitter laugh.

If even his master believed so, then the probability of Emperor Hoffman being his father was very slim.

So, where could his father possibly be?

Liam had managed to remain calm about the whereabouts of his biological parents for so long, but now, his peace was disturbed.

A new hope began to stir within him, a longing to meet the parents he had never met before.

Gazing into the distance, Liam muttered, "They must still be alive."
