

Chapter 1268 An Urgent Task

In truth, the five elements that Liam possessed differed from the traditional five elements.

Liam was using the special power of lava as a substitute for the special power of the fire element.

Similarly, the special power of the wood element was substituted with the special power of life.

Because of this, Liam had managed to create three Origin Techniques entirely on his own.

Liam's unique three Origin Techniques were the Earth Defense, derived from the special power of the earth element, the Light Transmission, which utilized the special power of the light element, and the Life Purification, born from the special power of life.

When Liam fought on the ground, he could use the Earth Defense to significantly enhance his defensive capabilities by connecting directly to the Earth. The technique, when paired with his robust physique and life force, would greatly increase his chances of survival.

The Light Transmission could harness the special power of the light element to transmit the Origin Technique, all the while preserving its original characteristics.

As for the Life Purification, it had the power to resolve all negative conditions of Liam. For instance, Liam could use Life Purification to instantly save himself from being poisoned. In addition, it could replenish a notable portion of his life energy.

Liam had gained considerable power and versatility.

Liam stretched and walked out of the cultivation chamber.

However, he had only taken a few steps when he suddenly received an urgent task.

Urgent tasks typically represented emergencies within the Human Clan. It was collected by the Network of Human Sovereign and then transmitted directly to every Primogem Warrior with corresponding authority in nearby planetary systems.

Liam had learned from Lindy that completing such urgent tasks would yield the most valuable rewards.

Thus, Liam hurriedly checked the content of the task.

The task was set in the No. 105 planetary system.

A large number of ordinary people from the Human Clan had perished for unknown reasons in that planetary system. Moreover, those who had managed to survive were also plagued by strange diseases. The task required Liam to travel to that planetary system and investigate the cause of this situation.

After comprehending the details of the urgent task, Liam furrowed his brows slightly, lost in thought.

He believed that he might be able to resolve this difficult problem using his Origin Technique—Life Purification.

With this in mind, Liam readily accepted the urgent task.

It was only after he had accepted the task that he remembered to check the reward for the task.

He found that there was no designated point reward for this urgent task. Instead, it was stipulated that a relative grade would be assigned after his performance of the task was evaluated, and then, the corresponding reward would be provided.

 +120 Points at most

Liam didn't dwell on this. After accepting the task, he promptly made his way to the transmission array and soon arrived at the No. 105 planetary system.

As soon as Liam arrived at the planetary system, he was greeted with a pungent stench of death and decay.

Liam frowned. He had a vague feeling the situation was more complicated than it seemed.

This might be caused by a special curse!
