Chapter 1270 Success

Liam knew what the other Primogem Warriors were thinking.

He furrowed his brow and scanned his surroundings.

For others, finding the curse's origin was like finding a needle in a haystack.

But for him, his spiritual power far surpassed that of his contemporaries, reaching the lofty heights of a Primogem Expert.

With meticulous searching, Liam soon sensed the ominous aura of the curse.

He followed this sinister presence, determined to locate its source.

Thanks to his extraordinary spiritual power, Liam was astounded to discover the curse's origin in the sky.

Meanwhile, the other tenth-tier Primogem Warriors were quick on the uptake, trailing Liam's gaze to the sky.

What was up with the sky?

The clouds overhead were peculiar, cloaked in a lifeless, dull grey.

Liam's expression darkened.

The curse emanated from those very clouds.

After pinpointing the curse's source, Liam used his special power of the light element, unleashing a radiant beam that pierced through the curse-laden sky.

The light revealed a swarm of creatures akin to insects within the cursed cloud.

Suddenly, a person in the crowd exclaimed, "They're black gadflies! Masters of cursing!"

Liam heard this, and the pieces of the puzzle clicked into place.

But Liam didn't rush to kill the black gadflies now.

He intended to find all the black gadflies and obliterate them in one swoop.

The strongest among these black gadflies were only sixth-tier with seven stars; they were no match for Liam, let alone with so many tenth-tier Primogem Warriors present.

Besides, these black gadflies were one-trick ponies with their curses. They were feeble in battle.

Two minutes later, Liam had pinpointed every black gadfly.

Seizing the moment, he unleashed the special power of the light element, directing it at all the black gadflies in an instant.

Everyone witnessed countless beams of light erupting from Liam.

A cacophony of anguished screams then echoed from within the cursed cloud!

Then, a shower of black dust descended from the sky.

These black particles were the remains of the black gadflies, disintegrated into nothingness by Liam's attack.

The other Primogem Warriors were left dumbfounded.

Many of them looked at Liam with twitching mouths, their expressions forlorn.

They realized they were utterly useless in the situation.

Liam had eliminated these black gadflies single-handedly.

Reflecting on this, many couldn't help but grumble, disregarding their images.

"Damn it! How can this guy be so powerful? This was supposed to be our mission, not just his! Now, we're all just the runners-up."

Their complaints lacked malice; they were merely voicing their frustration.

Liam didn't mind it and turned a deaf ear to their words.

After dealing with the curse's source, he employed the Origin Technique of Life Purification to rescue groups of refugees.

Once all the refugees were saved, Liam didn't rest. He even used Life Purification to purify the curse aura from the planetary system.

By this point, the curse power that had claimed many lives was entirely purified by Liam.

Exhausted, Liam collapsed to the ground.

Fortunately, the World Power quickly replenished his energy, easing his discomfort.

Liam understood that his lack of proficiency in Life Purification had led to exhaustion and an excessive drain on his primogem energy.

But Liam had also gained something from this.

Due to the exhaustion, his strength had reached the seventh star of the tenth rank.

The others were taken aback when they saw Liam had made a breakthrough.

Many muttered to themselves, "This guy is advancing so fast!"
