Chapter 1283 It Will Be Dangerous For You

The sixth round of battle concluded.

Liam was not about to lay all his cards on the table yet.

He still had some hidden strategies left.

Typically, Liam would have chosen to step down from the ongoing arena battles.

He didn't care for showboating.

But Chad's reminder had shifted his perspective, making him see the merit in unleashing his full prowess.

When the announcement from the Network of Human Sovereign echoed through the arena, Liam chose to continue.

Come the seventh round, his adversary was none other than Chad, once again.

Now, Chad had ascended to level ten with seven stars as a Primogem Warrior, marking him considerably more formidable than he had been.

As Chad made his entrance, he bellowed, "Liam! This is where your challenge ends! I'm not holding back this time!"

Entering the seventh duel, skepticism surrounded Liam, shared by the crowd and numerous top figures.

After all, Liam had secured victory over Chad by merely outlasting him in the last round.

This indicated to many that Liam might have reached his limit.

The battle-hardened veterans, enduring through millennia, all understood this.

Nevertheless, Christos and Caden maintained their faith in Liam.

They understood his strengths more intimately than most across the Rosefinch Galaxy.

They believed Liam had a contingency plan, though the specifics of what Liam, as a level-ten one-star Primogem Warrior, could do remained a mystery.

The seventh round soon commenced.

Before the clash, Liam fixed a serious gaze on Chad and advised, "Chad, you'd better shore up your defenses. I'm about to unleash my real strength, and it will be formidable. It will be dangerous for you!"

If the words had been coming from anyone else, Chad would have just scoffed.

But this was Liam, the man who had defeated him five consecutive times. Chad could not simply brush off his words.

Despite his reservations, Chad heeded the warning and bolstered his defenses.

Once prepared, Chad responded, "Liam, I'm ready! I will be the one to defeat you this time!"

Liam gave a slight nod. "Be careful!"

Almost immediately after, he drew his sword of darkness and invoked his World Power.

He had developed this unique skill during a desperate struggle against the Saint Society on Blue Star.

That fight had inspired him greatly.

It had prompted him to continuously refine and experiment with this technique.

Eventually, Liam had discovered that World Power was viable for combat applications.

Yet, deploying it could consume a substantial amount of his primogem energy and stamina.

This left him with only a single chance to use it effectively.

When Chad saw Liam use World Power, a hint of astonishment flashed in his eyes.

It became clear that Liam had been conserving his true capabilities!

Then, a subtle purple glow surrounded Liam.

"Malicious Aura Domain!"

Some experienced people among the spectators immediately identified it and reacted with sharp intakes of breath.

By merging his World Power with the Malicious Aura Domain, Liam's offensive strength escalated exponentially.

The sword of darkness radiated a menacing light, as though it had the power to cleave through celestial barriers.

For the first time, Chad's expression shifted to one of deep seriousness.

Because he sensed an overpowering force and a palpable threat emanating from Liam's prepared attack.

However, compounded by the effects of the Malicious Aura Domain, Chad found his reactions slowed.

He stood helplessly as the sword of darkness, now brimming with prodigious energy, struck him in a swift, decisive blow.
