

Chapter 1207 Lancy

At that moment, Liam subconsciously looked in the direction where the voice had come from.

The person who had spoken and asked Flame to stop was a little girl who radiated a white glow all over her body.

However, Liam had no strength to observe her now.

When Flame retracted all the magma balls, Liam collapsed to the ground. He was so exhausted that he passed out.

The little girl jumped to Flame's side, crossed her arms, and glared at it. She said, "Flame, what do you think you're doing? I told you before not to hurt anyone. But you almost hurt someone while I was away. If you don't listen to me, I will never talk to you again."

When Flame heard the little girl's words, it lowered its head.

Flame extinguished the blazing flames surrounding its body and gently rubbed its head against the little girl. It was as if it were apologizing through its actions.

The little girl glared at Flame for a moment. Then, her anger seemed to have dissipated. "Alright, I'll forgive you this time. But promise me that you won't do it again."

Flame's eyes immediately lit up with joy after being forgiven.

The little girl then turned to Liam. She walked over to him to check his condition.

She breathed a sigh of relief when she found that Liam had only fainted due to exhaustion.

The little girl cast a white glow into Liam's body.

Liam instantly woke up.

He checked his surroundings vigilantly. Then, he noticed a strange sight.

The fire monster called Flame was now hiding behind the little girl. Hadn't this monster aggressively hurt him just now? How could it be so timid now?

Liam switched his gaze from Flame to the little girl. He looked at her with a frown.

He felt the girl surreal. How could this little girl's entire body glow with white light? And the white glow her body emanated seemed inexplicably eerie.

The little girl didn't mind Liam's gaze. A pure smile appeared on her delicate face as she said, "You're awake! My name is Lancy. It's nice to meet you."

Liam's frown remained when he heard the little girl's name.

Judging from her name, her origin might be something he couldn't understand.

Moreover, he realized that Lancy's name coincidentally matched the Blue Star he was on.

Liam had already experienced so many things. He didn't believe the similarity between Lancy's name and Blue Star was just a coincidence.

Thus, a sense of vigilance surged in Liam's heart. After greeting Lancy, he asked, "Lancy, where are you from?"

Lancy didn't intend to hide anything, so she replied truthfully, "I'm from here; the underground world is my home. I own this planet."

When Liam heard this, his pupils involuntarily trembled.

If Lancy owned this planet, it only meant she was the master

Lancy smiled and continued, "Actually, you're not the first person I've met. But among them, only you have given me the most special feeling. Maybe because I sense a World Power within you that belongs to the entire universe. This feeling makes me feel very close to you. And perhaps it's also because I haven't seen anyone for many years, and I feel very lonely."

After a pause, she added, "In fact, that's the reason I created Flame, the one that attacked you just now. I gave it life so that I could have company through the long years. He is my only companion and family. So, Liam, please accept my apology on behalf of Flame. I know it hurt you. I am so sorry. Please forgive Flame."

Lancy was sincere in her apology. However, Liam was not moved at all.

He was still completely stunned by her earlier words.

It turned out that this cute little girl was the master of Blue Star.

He hadn't expected that such a significant figure was on Blue Star.

But what surprised Liam the most was what Lancy had said just now.

Was he really carrying the World Power?

Liam pondered silently, realizing his understanding of Blue Star was still far from enough.

There were many things he could not comprehend here.

Liam didn't understand why Lancy said he possessed the World Power.

He didn't even know what this so-called World Power was.
