

Chapter 1224 The President Arrives

Seeing Liam collapse, the masters of the Saint Society, who had been observing from above, finally relaxed.

Even the Holy Lord felt relieved, muttering, "Thankfully, Liam can only unleash such a devastating attack once. Otherwise, no matter how many formidable warriors we brought, they would be powerless against him!"

The powerful warriors of the Saint Society shared the same thought. If Liam hadn't consumed so much energy after that terrifying attack, they wouldn't even have the courage to land.

The Holy Lord then said to the masters of the Saint Society beside him, "Let's go down now!"

With his command, they swiftly descended to the ground.

The sudden appearance of the Saint Society masters and the Holy Lord himself immediately put the members of the Salvation Society on high alert.

Those who hadn't been informed by Liam of the Saint Society's plan were even more shocked.

Their sworn enemies from the Saint Society had all shown up directly at the headquarters of the Salvation Society.

Sylvester Morgan, who had overseen the battle's fairness and announced its rules, stepped forward with a stern expression. Glaring at the Holy Lord and his entourage, he said in a deep voice, "This is Genesis Island. We do not welcome the Saint Society here! You would do well to leave immediately. Otherwise, we will not hesitate to take action!"

Upon hearing Sylvester's intention to expel him, the Holy Lord let out a cold snort but remained silent.

Cillian, the weakest guardian among the Holy Lord's subordinates, immediately stepped forward and mocked Sylvester, "Old man, can't you see the situation clearly? We, the Saint Society, have come here to wipe out the Salvation Society! There will be no Salvation Society on Blue Star from now on! If you're wise, surrender now and join us with your people. It's your only chance to live!"

Sylvester, the only level-nine Primogem Warrior besides the Salvation Society's president, held deep loyalty to the organization.

He refused to yield. With a cold voice, he retorted, "Today, I won't let you destroy the Salvation Society so easily, even if it costs me my life! Men of the Salvation Society, will you fight with me to death for our Salvation Society?"

Though aged, Sylvester's voice boomed with authority, stirring the hearts of many Salvation Society members.

In a thunderous chorus, they echoed his resolve, "Fight for the Salvation Society! We will not yield until death!"

Their unified roar reverberated across the battlefield.

Some among them had even previously backed Orlando in the contest for leadership of the Salvation Society.

But faced with an existential threat, they swiftly understood the situation and changed their minds.

The Holy Lord of the Saint Society sneered at the renewed unity among the Salvation Society members. His voice dripped with sarcasm as he mocked, "What a spectacle! You think you can defy the Saint Society? If the unity of the weak held any power, then strength would be meaningless!"

With a cold smile, the Holy Lord launched a direct assault on Sylvester.

A surge of potent energy radiated from him, overwhelming the Salvation Society members nearby.

Though both Sylvester and the Holy Lord of the Saint Society were level-nine Primogem Warriors, there existed a significant disparity in their strength.

The eyes of the Salvation Society members were filled with sorrow as they watched Sylvester being pushed back under the relentless assault of the Holy Lord. Anxiety gripped them all, knowing that Sylvester might not hold out much longer against such overwhelming power.

Yet, despite the seeming hopelessness of their situation, no one was willing to surrender.

Unified by the imminent threat, they set aside their previous animosities and resolved to fight together to the end for the Salvation Society.

Just as they were about to make their desperate stand against the Saint Society, a figure suddenly appeared near the battlefield.

It was none other than Liam's master, the current president of the Salvation Society.

Though his face was changed, some members of the Salvation Society still recognized him because of his aura of strength. Their voices rose in excitement and hope, shouting, "It's the president! He's still alive! The president has returned to turn the tide! Our Salvation Society will be
