

Chapter 1237 Lancy's Introduction

Hearing Lancy, Liam nodded, memorizing all the useful information.

Lancy continued, "The Cosmic realm has tens of thousands of races. The Human Clan is not one of the greatest, but it could be considered one of the races of note. I advise you to join the forces of the Human Clan after you go to the Cosmic realm. You will get the corresponding guarantee!"

Liam understood what Lancy had said.

In fact, he was hardly worried about what Lancy had said about finding the Human Clan and joining it.

Because he still had the jade pendant Lindy had given him. He would be able to enter the academy Lindy was in with that.

Lancy then said, "That's all I know about the Cosmic realm. Ask others if you need more information. There's a passageway to the Cosmic realm beneath my world of the earth's core. I'm in charge of it. Only a level-ten Primogem Warrior would be able to withstand the pressure of the Cosmic realm. You would be torn to pieces if you tried to enter forcefully. As a newcomer to the Cosmic realm, you would be able to obtain the gifts there. It enhances a Primogem Warrior's strength, soul, and special power. So, work harder, Liam!"

Liam nodded again. He had only one last question left.

"Is there a way to quickly improve my strength to that of a level-ten Primogem Warrior?" he asked.

Liam knew it would take years for him to become a level-ten Primogem Warrior if he did it the normal way.

He didn't have such time on his hands.

Julie and Asher wouldn't be killed by the Blood Clan so soon, but he was worried that as time passed, they would be of no use to the Blood Clan. And once that happened, Julie and Asher would be in danger.

Liam was just asking to make himself feel better; he hadn't expected Lancy to actually have a solution.

"I have an idea," Lancy replied. "You have the World Power protecting you, Liam. You'd be able to withstand a portion of the pressure of the Cosmic realm. There is a special area in the center of my world. Because of the influence of Blue Star's law power, time in there passes very slowly. Meaning that even if you stay there for ten years, it'll only have been a year in the real world."

After a pause, she continued, "This is actually the law power that many powerful races possess in the Cosmic realm. Only the talents of those races could enjoy this treatment. However, it is not perfect. It's very easy for people to lose control of themselves if they rely on it for too long. But your situation is different! You should be able to use this place."

Liam's eyes lit up.

A place where time passed at a speed ten times slower than the outside world?

It was unbelievably perfect for his current situation.

Liam beamed. "Thank you!"

Lancy smiled warmly. "Anytime. I already told you, helping you equals helping myself. Plus, we are friends, aren't we?"

"Yes, we are!" Liam replied in a good mood.

Soon after, Liam left the world of the earth's core.

He had planned to return to the Salvation Society to tell his master and Carlden what he had discussed with Lancy. He would also inform Shayla and the others. Then, he would go to where Lancy had mentioned to begin his cultivation.

He would only consider finishing his cultivation after he had become a level-ten Primogem Warrior.
