Liam tested his hypothesis by capturing a Dark Mist Spirit.

The Dark Mist Spirit struggled fiercely, but Liam's hundredfold gravity field rendered its efforts futile.

He swiftly used his life-draining Origin Technique to extract the Dark Mist Spirit's life force.

Despite its shadowy nature, the Dark Mist Spirit's life force was remarkably pure. Liam's life-draining Origin Technique successfully converted this pure life force into the most refined primogem energy, which he absorbed into his body.

"It's working!" he exclaimed.

With this success, Liam sensed a surge of joy.

He realized the potential for significant improvement in his strength here.

If he could enhance his power, future missions would undoubtedly become much easier for him.

Meanwhile, the Primogem Experts on the ground were stunned. Liam's effortless handling of the Dark Mist Spirit left them in disbelief.

They had never expected that a level-one Primogem Expert could swiftly eliminate a Dark Mist Spirit, whose power was similar to a level-seven Primogem Expert.

Furthermore, the shadowy substance released upon the Dark Mist Spirit's demise had had no effect on Liam!

The onlookers, shocked to their core, halted their attacks on other Dark Mist Spirits and began whispering among themselves.

Unfazed by their astonishment, Liam pressed on. Having vanquished the Dark Mist Spirits in this area, he proceeded to the next battleground, intent on continuing his extermination.

Liam eagerly anticipated the growth of his power and the sword of darkness upon completing this mission.

Liam's speed in killing the Dark Mist Spirits was remarkable with the help of his sword of darkness and his life-draining Origin Technique.

Within half a day, he had vanquished ten Dark Mist Spirits, pushing his primogem energy to the peak of level one as a Primogem Expert.

Now, he stood on the brink of advancing to a level-two Primogem Expert!

Moreover, the sword of darkness had undergone some enhancement. Despite the subtle change, Liam, deeply attuned to the sword of darkness, could discern the difference.

After eliminating all nearby Dark Mist Spirits, Liam looked for a secluded spot.

The urge to break through his current level was almost uncontrollable.

Liam worried that if he didn't locate a peaceful place to advance soon, he might inadvertently break through during battle, a scenario that could prove disastrous without trusted allies nearby.

Liam quickly found a small cave.

Once he had set up a protective barrier for safety, he sat down cross-legged and delved into comprehending the second layer of his law power, aiming to achieve 2% mastery.

His focus centered on the law power of the earth element, the aspect he grasped most profoundly.

He kept mentally simulating the application and potency of the law power of the earth element, striving to enhance his mastery.

Liam focused intensely, methodically manifesting, condensing, and then releasing the law power of the earth element, honing his compatibility with it...

After half a day, Liam's command over the law power of the earth element had advanced to 2%.

He had successfully advanced to level two as a Primogem Expert!

Energized by his achievement, Liam sensed the shifts in his law power of the earth element and couldn't resist murmuring to himself, "The potency of the law power of the earth element has surged significantly! The suppression of the gravity field has even doubled, now reaching two hundredfold!"

This amplification of gravity field suppression marked a substantial improvement post his breakthrough.

But Liam's advancements didn't halt there. The bolstered gravity field suppression was merely one of several gains.

Fresh from his retreat, Liam was eager to put his newfound strength to the test.

He found five Dark Mist Spirits, each with the strength of a level-six Primogem Expert.

The moment Liam came into view, the five Dark Mist Spirits lunged at him, their eyes gleaming with predatory intent.

Yet, before they could reach Liam, the crushing force of the two-hundredfold gravity field immobilized them. They let out desperate roars as if pleading for mercy.

Liam smirked coldly, ready to strike.

However, suddenly, a surge of primogem energy blasted forth from a distant source, obliterating the five Dark Mist Spirits in an instant.

Liam's gaze shifted.
