

Chapter 1333 Not Enough

Caden didn't intend to completely destroy the Astron family. After all, although their hunt for Liam was unwarranted, they had already paid a significant price—Tom had lost his son.

However, this didn't justify the Astron family's arrogance.

Caden's eyes turned cold. He said, "All members of the Astron family who have reached the Primogem Expert level and above, go to the front! The Astron family must kill one hundred thousand enemies at the Primogem Expert level before returning to the No. 75 planetary system. Otherwise, I will strip you of everything you possess now."

For someone like Tom, who was used to living a luxurious life, this punishment was like a bolt from the blue.

But he knew that Caden was genuinely furious. This was already a significant concession since Caden didn't choose to harm the Astron family.

Tom didn't dare to plead for the Astron family further. He had no choice but to nod and say, "I assure you that the Astron family will fulfill all your demands."

After saying this, he prepared to leave the secret realm of Feathered Gold with his people.

However, Caden suddenly stopped him and said, "You've threatened Liam so severely. Shouldn't you compensate him?"

Tom froze for a moment. He soon realized that he couldn't leave without sacrificing something.

At the thought of this, he smiled bitterly and said through clenched teeth, "I am willing to offer one hundred pieces of Feathered Gold to compensate Liam."

Excitement surged in Liam's heart when he heard this.

He could significantly boost his ability to comprehend the law power of metal with the one hundred pieces of Feathered Gold.

Liam had only hoped to acquire around ten pieces of Feathered Gold within the secret realm before.

He hadn't expected to receive a hundred pieces of Feathered Gold from the Astron family.

Arthur saw the excitement on Liam's face. He quickly pulled Liam aside, stepped forward, and said, "Tom, are you serious? With your family's wealth, you can only offer Liam one hundred pieces? That's not enough!"

Tom almost lost his temper. He wanted to curse Arthur.

If those one hundred pieces of Feathered Gold were used properly, they could sustain a Primogem King for two years.

How could Arthur deem it insufficient?

But Tom also knew he was in the wrong. That was why he couldn't retort at all. Besides, he had already realized now that Caden and Liam knew each other.

So, he was willing to do whatever it took to earn Liam's forgiveness and lessen Caden's displeasure with the Astron family.

Arthur added, "Points can be transferred, right? Tom, since you admit you are at fault, why not give Liam ten thousand points and ten drops of Six-Light Nectar? That way, I will be able to believe your apology is sincere and that you are really remorseful."

Tom's face darkened at once.

The Six-Light Nectar was far more valuable than the Feathered Gold. Its recovery price was one thousand points per drop in the Network of Human Sovereign.

Liam was also aware of the value of the Six-Light Nectar in comprehending the law power of the water element.

Hearing Arthur's words made him feel even more excited.

He glanced at Arthur gratefully.

After all, if Arthur had not intervened, he would have foolishly accepted the Astron family's initial compensation, missing out on the valuable offer of ten thousand points and ten drops of Six-Light Nectar.
