

Chapter 1336 Progress

Liam was completely absorbed in the Sea of Laws.

This time was way different from his first try.

Now, he understood the many law powers inside the Sea of Laws much better, which helped him comprehend much faster.

It felt like he was swimming through a giant ocean of law powers, with powerful currents all around him offering countless insights.

With each passing moment, his grasp over these law powers improved.

Time flew by. Soon, fifty days had passed inside the Sea of Laws. Meanwhile, only five days had passed in the real world.

Liam's mastery of the law powers was advancing at an astonishing pace.

Liam didn't limit himself to a single law power. He now had an embryonic form of metal elemental law power inside his body. There was also the law power of the water element residing inside him.

As he comprehended the law powers more, his strength soared.

Liam seized this chance to enhance his understanding of the law powers. After all, his time here was limited. His progress was astonishing, but he had higher aspirations.

Training here saved him countless priceless resources. After all, outside the Sea of Laws, awakening law powers would require massive use of treasure with law powers.

That was why treasures like Feathered Gold and Six-Light Nectar were so valuable, even for low-tier experts like Tom. They were the keys to a practitioner's growth.

That was why major families considered these treasures of strategic importance.

Liam blocked out all distractions and focused on improvement.

Finally, after a hundred days in the Sea of Laws, it was time for him to leave. He felt a dizzying shift, a weird pull, and his mind went back to his body.

Liam wished he could stay in the Sea of Laws longer, but he was running out of special points.

He was unwilling to use his actual points to get more training time in the Sea of Laws; he needed them to raise his clearance level.

Overall, Liam was satisfied with his gains this time.

After 100 days in the Sea of Laws, he was familiar with both the law powers of the metal element and the water element. The law power of the metal element was almost fully formed inside him. He just needed a little more practice to master it.

Ready to improve even more, Liam retrieved a hundred pieces of Feathered Gold. He planned to absorb the law power of the metal element inside them.

These weren't like pills one swallowed. Feathered Gold was a special metal full of energy. Liam only needed to hold the Feathered Gold and use his primogem energy to absorb its power.

Each piece of Feathered Gold was tiny in size, but the energy it contained was immense.

Liam pushed the energy from the Feathered Gold into himself, merging it with his law power of the metal element.

In half an hour, he had absorbed the energy from five pieces of Feathered Gold. Now, he had a basic command of the law power of the metal element.

He couldn't use it as effortlessly as his earth law power yet, but this was a big step forward.

Liam now realized why Gold Devourers, creatures that ate Feathered Gold, were so powerful—Feathered Gold was packed with energy!

He focused again, determined to absorb more.

As he did, he felt himself getting stronger.

At this rate, Liam figured he would completely master the law power of the metal element in just ten days.
