Chapter 2559

...

Elliot frowned after reading the first draft.

“Dad, do you also think that brother’s conditions are too harsh?” Layla wanted to find approval from her father, “According to brother’s request, I really can’t find a boyfriend.”

Elliot: “Your brother’s list is not enough. I think there should be quite a few people who can meet these conditions. The threshold should be set higher.”

Layla: “???”

Avery: “Husband, are you serious? I think the first few things are okay, but the fourth one may be a bit difficult...30 years old and have no relationship experience...”

“It’s not for Layla to find a man who is 30 years old. 30 years old is just the maximum age.” Elliot said, “I think 30 years old is a bit too old, too young and naive. Finding someone of the same age will be more Good.” Elliot had his own ideas, “I have to listen to Layla in everything. I’m too old, I’m afraid I can’t do this.”

Avery and Layla were speechless.

“Dad, you can add it!” Hayden felt that what Dad said had some truth.

The father and son had never been so harmonious in anything, and they never expected that the terms of marriage proposed for Layla would allow the father and son to reach a unified opinion.

“Okay. I’ll add it up and show you.” Elliot readily accepted the job and went to the study with the first draft.

Avery couldn’t help laughing: “I’m afraid your dad will have to work overtime in the study tonight.”

“Mom, you don’t need to be so anxious!” After speaking, Layla looked at Hayden again, “Brother, did you write the request according to your own situation?”

“Your boyfriend can’t be much worse than me.”

Hayden said seriously, “How can a person who has no self-control achieve great things?”

Layla wanted to argue with reason, Avery said: “Layla, I think your brother is right. If the other party’s private life is too messy, he really doesn’t deserve you.”

“Okay!” Layla calmed down and she said, “Maybe I think I’m average! After all, I can’t even satisfy the conditions written by my brother, such as the school...”

“Layla, it’s because we don’t let you study abroad, it’s not that you can’t meet that requirement.” Avery said, “After calming down now, I feel that the conditions written by your brother are not too much. Those are just the most basic requirements.”

Layla: “....”

Layla was really curious about what her future husband would look like from the perspective of her parents and brothers.

.....

Thopiavelle.

The year was coming to an end.

Master Hogan and Esteban Hogan, the eldest Young master began to return to work in the company.

Cyrus Hogan was about to graduate soon, and now he could practice. Master Hogan asked him to go directly to Hogan’s company for an internship in two days, and then went to get his graduation certificate when he received his graduation certificate.

Cyrus never questioned his father's decision, so he acquiesced to his father's decision.

Paulina Hogan couldn't stay at home, so she bought a ticket back to school and left.

After Cyrus sent Paulina to the airport, he returned to Hogan's house. He didn't go directly into the main building, but turned to the side and entered the auxiliary building.

"Second young master, why are you here?" Siena was reading a book in the dining room, and immediately came out when she heard the movement.

Lucas said that Cyrus couldn't be allowed to enter the auxiliary building.

"I'm here to see my brother. Where's my brother?"

Cyrus didn't treat himself as an outsider, and strode into the living room.

"Young Master went back to his room after breakfast, he may be sleeping now! Second Young Master, please keep your voice down." Siena began to think about how to get Cyrus to leave the auxiliary building.

"I'll come over and sit down, you don't have to worry about me." Cyrus said, sat down on the sofa, took out his mobile phone, and started to check the news.

Suddenly, a piece of news from Aryadelle attracted his attention.
