

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3486-Kathryn was still the biological daughter of Clarissa. She had the blood of her mother in her body and inherited the genes of her and Holden. Who knew what would happen in the end?

However, Kathryn saved Liberty's life.

She risked betraying her mother and notified Liberty. She told Liberty about Clarissa's plan, which made them enter a state of tension in advance and always guard against Clarissa's murderous intentions.

Audrey sighed in her heart. She didn't expect it to develop so fast. She thought that Liberty would develop in Jensburg, gain a firm foothold, and then compete with the Farrell family, step by step solving the Farrell family head and taking back everything that should belong to their inheritance.

"She didn't do anything illegal. I think the greatest benefit God gave to the Farrell family head is that she left her a good daughter."

No matter what Clarissa did, Kathryn was innocent.

When the tragedy of the previous Matriarch Farrell happened, Clarissa was still unmarried, and unmarried people naturally had no children.

Therefore, Kathryn was unaware of it, let alone participated in it. She was an innocent person, but because she was Clarissa's daughter, she was forced to be involved.

Audrey and Tania chatted for a long time, and when they heard footsteps outside, the two started talking about their children tacitly.

As mothers, especially those whose children are nearly 30 years old, they easily talked about their children's marriages.

Audrey was worried about the life of her youngest son, Leland. She complained to Tania: "I don't know what Leland is thinking. I arranged a blind date for him, but he said he wasn't interested and didn't want to meet. Even if they met, there was no follow-up. I asked him to date, but he said he hadn't met a girl he liked and didn't know who to date. He used to travel all over the world, and I couldn't see him all year round.

Although he is now helping his brother with the company, I don't know where his heart is floating to. Alas, I can't say anything about him. He listens with one ear and out the other, and he always smiles, which makes me lose my temper. He is already 30 years old and still single. I am so worried. If this continues, he will still be single even when he is 40 years old.”

Tania smiled, “Maybe it’s not fate yet.”

Her sisters-in-law didn’t have to worry about their sons’ marriages. The old lady worried about everything. She was happy and relaxed.

As soon as the Zachary brothers reached the right age to get married, the old lady would start arranging their marriages. The old lady was more anxious than their mother.

The old lady had good taste. She picked good people. No matter their family background or abilities, they were all suitable for the sons of the York family.

Whenever she heard her peers complain about their sons not getting married or complaining about their daughters-in-law being bad, Tania and her sisters-in-law didn’t dare to say anything, fearing that if they did, they would attract a lot of jealousy.

Tania wanted to comfort Audrey, so she said, “Marriage is a matter of fate. If you are destined to meet, you will meet each other even if you are thousands of miles apart. If you are not destined to meet, you will not know each other. Look at Zack and Seren. They had never met each other before, but because of fate, they got married in a flash, and it had a good result. Who would have thought that someone with Zack’s temper would get married in a flash?”

And Julian, he makes his parents worry about him, and he is also sick. There is only one woman in this world who can make him a real man. Because of fate, he can meet his destined woman in the vast sea of people. So you don’t have to worry too much, just let it go and wait for his fate to come, and he will bring you a daughter-in-law.

You are a grandmother now, and you are not in a hurry to have grandchildren. Elisa has a good home again, so just relax. We don’t know what will happen to Evan in our family now, so I won’t worry about him. It’s his own marriage; he can decide for himself. Anyway, he will be the one who will live with her in the future.”

Married At First Sight Chapter 3487-Tania looked casual. “I’m not worried about them.”

Audrey said, “You sisters-in-law don’t have to worry. The wives chosen by the old lady for them are all good. I need to ask the old lady to help Leland choose one.”

“That’s right,” Tania smiled. “We sisters-in-law are lucky. Marrying into the York family is a blessing. It’s just a little hard being pregnant for ten months. After the child is born, we don’t have to take care of it. My parents-in-law have raised the children very well.”

Audrey said, "Tania, don't say anymore. If you do, I'll be jealous to the point of going crazy."

Tania laughed again.

"I heard that Tatum went to Annenburg in Province X to apply for a chef position. He's already a boss, but he still went so far to be a chef. What's the point?" Audrey asked curiously.

Tania smiled. "Didn't I just say that our youngest son has a girlfriend? The old lady picked her out. She's the eldest daughter of the Ormond family in Annenburg, Province X. The old lady has excellent taste, but it's a pity they live so far away. I don't know if their precious daughter is willing to marry so far away or if Tatum will go there to live. If Tatum goes there, I'll have one less son."

At this point, Tania was also worried. As a mother, she couldn't bear to have her children too far away from her.

"At the beginning, you were reluctant to let Elisa marry far away. Annenburg, where the Johnson family is located, is in the same province as our Wiltspoon. Although the driving distance is far, at least you haven't left the province, and many living habits are the same. Tatum's girlfriend is more than 2,000 kilometers away from Wiltspoon. It's too far, and the living habits are different. Not to mention the winter there is freezing cold. I don't know if Tatum can get used to it.

"Alas, I can't bear to see my son leave me and settle there. I love my grown-up son so much that I can't bear to see him marrying far away. Just put myself in their shoes."

Audrey didn't know how to respond. She opposed Remy and Elisa being together initially because she thought Remy was too far away and she couldn't bear to see Elisa marrying far away.

Even though Remy had a house in Wiltspoon and even bought the villa next to the Stone family, she was still hesitant. It wasn't until Remy's parents, brothers, and sisters-in-law came over and expressed their opinion that it was okay for Remy to come.

Audrey admired Remy and knew that the Johnson family had a very good family tradition. Many wealthy mothers-in-law could not tolerate her daughter's temper. If she married Remy, she wouldn't have to worry about conflicts between mother-in-law and daughter-in-law.

Besides, Remy would stay in Wiltspoon for a long time. In Wiltspoon, he managed the Johnson family's business and only went back during the holidays.

Elisa married Remy and basically lived in Wiltspoon after marriage. During the New Year and other holidays, she went back to her husband's house with Remy to accompany the elders.

After thinking again and again, Audrey finally agreed to their marriage.

Elisa didn't need Remy to come to her house, and she got married.

Anyway, Remy's house was next to the Stone family. In Elisa's words, she could go back to her mother's house for dinner. When the dishes were put into the pot, she came over, and they weren't cooked yet. She could hear her mother's call over the wall.

"Don't think too much. Children and grandchildren have their own blessings. Let it go." Audrey looked at the time and asked Tania, "Tania, let's go down the mountain to eat something and drink a few drinks?"

"Okay," Tania agreed readily and picked up the phone to call her sisters-in-law. Everyone went down the mountain together and joined the old lady's barbecue team.

Spring was warm and flowers were blooming.

Married At First Sight Chapter 3488-A car stopped at the door of Spring Blossoms.

Camryn, who was trimming the large tray of potted flowers, looked up at the car.

It seemed to be Carrie's.

After she regained her sight, Carrie came back and drove away the car. Camryn remembered Carrie's license plate number.

Carrie's car was a BMW 7 Series, her 18th birthday present.

Camryn remembered that after Carrie got the car key, she went to show off in front of Camryn, saying that Camryn would never have her own car in her life and couldn't drive because Camryn was blind.

At that time, Carrie's unbridled laughter still echoed in Camryn's ears.

Back then, Camryn had her own car and owned several luxury cars, but she still couldn't drive. This was a fact.

She considered taking a driver's license test but couldn't spare the time. She had to be busy with official business and start preparing for her wedding with Callum. After the

New Year, she planned to review her high school knowledge, re-enroll in September to repeat her senior year, and then take the college entrance examination.

She was still young, and it was not too late to learn again.

Ten years ago, when she was in high school, she was suddenly attacked and lost her sight. Her mother wished she were dead, and her stepfather and uncle treated her well on the surface, but it was just verbal concern without any substantial care.

Her mother wouldn't let her go to school anymore, let alone send her to a special school for further studies. Her education stopped at high school, and she did not graduate.

After regaining her sight, she could see and run the company herself, but she found that many contracts were in English, which she couldn't understand. She had to ask Dalton to translate them for her to understand the contracts. It hit Camryn hard.

The old doctor came over and checked Camryn's eyes. He said that after she finished the medicine for this course of treatment, she wouldn't need to take medicine anymore, but she still needed to protect her eyes and not overuse them.

It would take half a year for her eyes to recover fully.

She planned to repeat her senior year in September next year and take the college entrance examination in June the following year.

Anyway, she couldn't have a baby in the next few years, so she should improve her academic qualifications first.

Callum had a high academic qualification and knew the languages of several countries. He was very accomplished.

She couldn't hold him back and must work hard to shorten the gap between them in academic qualifications.

She didn't want others to say that she wasn't worthy of Callum.

Carrie got out of the car. She wore sunglasses and had long wavy hair. When she got out of the car, she deliberately changed into high heels.

She didn't forget to hold her designer bag, which she had bought when she was the second lady of the Newman family.

Now, in the eyes of others, she didn't have enough money to afford luxury goods.

Camryn looked at Carrie approaching and always felt this person didn't look like Carrie. The walking posture was different. Carrie was particularly arrogant and looked down on people.

Therefore, Carrie liked to lift her chin high when she walked, as if her eyes were on top of her head.

"Miss Newman, oh, you're already the second young lady of the York family, and you still trim the branches yourself. Yes, you are used to it. Even if you fly to the branches, you can't adapt to the life of a phoenix. This is what is called flying to the branches but not becoming a phoenix."

Carrie walked in front of Camryn and said sarcastically.

Camryn stood up straight, stared at Carrie for a moment, and asked coldly, "What are you doing here?"

"I have no money to spend. Give me some money. My car is running out of gas. If you don't give me money, I won't have any to refuel. The living expenses Trenton gives me every month are not enough."
