

Chapter 2049 The Stunning Design

Time flew by, and as soon as Janet completed the dress redesign, the staff hurried in to remind her that the fashion show had begun.

"Got it." Draco acknowledged the staff with a nod, then turned to his assistant. "I'm leaving the rest to you."

"Of course," the assistant replied briskly, rushing off to find a model to showcase the redesigned dress.

Meanwhile, in the bright and spacious fashion showroom, the viewing booths, which held a thousand guests, buzzed with anticipation.

Elegant music filled the air as tall models strutted onto the stage one by one, showcasing garments from various studios.

Attendees in the exhibition area snapped photos on their phones and whispered to one another, but one person stood out.

Having wrapped up his tasks, Brandon hurried to the fashion show, settling into the seat Janet had arranged for him. He scanned the room, searching for Janet, but couldn't spot her.

Frowning slightly, he pulled out his phone and sent her a text without taking his eyes off the stage.

"I'm here. Where are you? Why aren't you here?"

After sending the message, Brandon kept his eyes fixed on his phone screen, waiting anxiously for Janet's reply.

Three minutes passed without a response.

Five minutes went by, and still, there was no reply from Janet.

All preparations for the fashion show should have been completed in advance. Why wasn't Janet responding?

Could something unexpected have happened at the fashion show that was keeping her occupied?

Brandon frowned at the thought and raised his hand to call Sean.

"Go find out if anything's happened to Janet," he ordered in a serious tone.

"Understood." Sean nodded solemnly, then quickly turned to investigate.

Meanwhile, the fashion show continued on stage.

Models paraded down the runway with stoic expressions, presenting garments from various studios. Soon, it was time for the joint exhibition of W Marks and Rowena Studio.

"This is the part I've been waiting for!" one of the young girls exclaimed excitedly.

"Yeah, me too. I'm really curious about what W Marks and Rowena Studio have in store," her friend replied.

Though not loud, their conversation carried enough for Brandon, sitting nearby, to overhear.

Initially worried about Janet, Brandon's attention shifted as he heard the girls' conversation. His gaze turned towards the stage.

Models entered, showcasing intricately designed garments that garnered cheers from the audience.

Finally, it was time for the highlight: a model from W Marks appeared, adorned in a phoenix dress modified by Janet.

The unique design captivated the audience, who burst into applause.

The model gracefully ascended the steps and bowed towards them. Suddenly, the feathered hem of her dress loosened and fell to the floor.

Gasps of surprise replaced the applause, discussions grew louder, and cameras flashed incessantly.

Unfazed, the model remained composed.

"What a disappointment. I was so excited for W Marks and Rowena Studio's joint exhibition," remarked one disappointed attendee.

Beside her, the other girl spotted something remarkable. "Look!" she exclaimed.

As she spoke, the model elegantly performed a dance move akin to a phoenix spreading its wings.

The fallen feathered hem soared into the air, caught by the model, and draped elegantly over her left shoulder, freezing in a dramatic pose.

It became evident that this wasn't a mishap but a deliberate part of the design.

The audience paused briefly, then erupted into thunderous applause that filled the exhibition hall like a tidal wave.

After the show, the design rankings were announced based
