

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2700

Chapter 2700

Robert sat opposite Layla, drinking a bowl of soup.

“Are you feeling unwell? What’s wrong with you? I can see that your face is flushed, and you are very well.” Layla glanced at Robert.

“I...I feel uncomfortable.” Robert lowered his voice.

“Oh!” Layla figured it out, “You are staying at home to watch the excitement.”

“Don’t you want me to help you? If not, then I’m going back to school.” Robert’s desire to help her was overwhelmed Feeling over watching the excitement.

After all, they played together since childhood, and the relationship between the siblings was still very deep.

“You have a conscience.” After eating a bowl of rice, Layla felt a little uncomfortable in her stomach, so she served a bowl of soup, “Go to my room and take down my mobile phone.”

“Sister, are you sure you have finished eating? Why don’t you go back to your room to take a shower and change your clothes?” Robert reminded, “If you are arguing with our parents like this, they will think you are crazy.”

Layla immediately lowered her eyes and looked at her clothes.

She hadn’t changed her clothes for two days, and her clothes were already crumpled.

She didn’t wash her face or comb her hair before going downstairs. It is estimated that her hairstyle was as messy as her clothes.

“Aren’t I afraid that they won’t be able to wait?” Layla whispered, “Get me the phone first.”

“Okay!” Robert immediately went upstairs to get the phone for Layla.

When Robert took down Layla’s cell phone, Layla’s soup had just been finished.

She’d had enough to eat and drink, and her mind was much clearer now.

She took the phone from Robert, turned it on, and a lot of messages popped up.

Eric asked her if she had returned to Aryadelle.

Mike asked her if she got home safely.

Hazel told her that she had confessed to her parents last night.

Of course Layla wasn't angry with her sister, she was going to tell her parents about it.

It just so happened that Hazel said it last night, and her parents were mentally prepared.

After Layla replied to Mike, she looked at Eric's dialogue box and thought about it, but finally she didn't reply to him.

Eric did not hesitate to find someone to pretend to be his girlfriend to avoid this matter, because she didn't want to have a confrontation with her parents.

Then let her talk about it!

She put down her phone and walked towards the living room.

"Dad, Mom, I've been thinking about it for a few days." Layla walked to her mother and sat down.

Because she felt that her mother might not object to it so strongly.

"These few days?" Elliot asked back, "What can I think about in a few days?"

"It's not these few days, it's because I've been thinking about what kind of partner I want since I started my global marriage search." Layla immediately corrected her own words, "Dad, Mom, what I want is a partner who can make me feel comfortable and at ease. I don't care so much about other conditions. If I am wrong, if I am not happy in the future, I will stop the loss in time. I-I won't let myself be turned into a resentful woman by marriage."

Avery nodded, and wanted to say something, but Elliot spoke first: "Since you can bear divorce in the future, why don't you try it with another man? Are you right? Eric's relationship is just because you haven't been with other men day and night. My relationship with your mother only came after we got along."

Avery nodded again, thinking that what Elliot said made sense.

"Layla, Dad doesn't want to have any unpleasantness with you because of this incident. From the day you appeared in Dad's life, you are Dad's most beloved baby. Dad wants to give you the best things in the world. Dad wants to give himself The experience of those who have been here tells you that I want you to avoid detours as much as possible. Mom and Dad want you to be happy the most."

Elliot's sincere attitude moved Robert as well.

Avery was suddenly speechless. She didn't expect Elliot's eloquence to become so good.

And what Elliot said was impeccable, which made Layla completely unable to resist.

Seeing Layla's cheeks flushed, Robert immediately took a cup of warm water from Layla's cup and handed it to her.

After taking a sip of water, Layla looked at Avery, "Mom, what do you think?"

Elliot frantically gave Avery a look.

He hoped Avery was on his side.

Avery was really in a dilemma. If she was on Layla's side, Elliot would definitely feel emotional, and if she was on Elliot's side, Layla would be sad too. So after thinking twice, she chose to be neutral.

Avery: "Mom withdrew from the discussion on this matter."

Layla, Elliot, and Robert were speechless for a while.

How else could this be?

"My wish is that our family is safe, healthy and harmonious." Avery added, "You can think about what your father said just now. If you think what your father said makes sense, you should listen to him. If you feel that what Dad just said can't convince you, and you still want to stick to your own opinion, then you can talk to Dad again."

Layla lowered her head. Although she slept well, her spirit had not fully recovered.

Her mind was a little confused right now.

She wanted to say something, but didn't know what to say.

"I'm going to take a shower." Layla rubbed her nose, stood up from the sofa, and walked upstairs.

Robert followed immediately.

"Robert, Layla's going take a bath, what are you doing with her?" Elliot was afraid that Robert would give Layla some crooked ideas.

"I...I'll persuade my sister." After Robert said this, Elliot didn't say anything else.

After Robert followed Layla up to the second floor, Layla glared at him.

"Don't you see that I'm unhappy now?" Layla said, striding towards her room, "You're just a kid, what can you persuade me?"

"I think what Dad said also makes sense. Sister, I thought of a good way to get the best of both worlds." Robert said in a low voice, "The problem now is that you want to marry Eric first, but Dad wants you to marry another man first. It's simple! Dad didn't ask you to get married now. You can have a secret relationship with Eric first, and if you have a happy relationship, you two can live together in secret! When you get tired of playing with Eric, you can marry someone else. Isn't it the best?"

Layla was stunned!

How did Robert say like this?

"Am I so sc*mbag in your heart?" Layla asked with difficulty.

Robert scratched her head in embarrassment: "I want you to be happy! If you don't want to dump Uncle Eric at that time, you can get pregnant with his child, so that Dad will definitely not object again."

Layla covered his face with her hands, very Pain: "Robert, stop this. Do you see too much romance movies? Why would you give me such a sh!t idea?!"

"Sister, I really want to help you!" Robert said sincerely, "Go take a bath! Anyway, don't be too sad. I asked for leave today, it's fine, if you want to chat with me, you can come to me anytime!"

Layla glanced at Robert, and she felt his concern for her besides the absurdity.

Whether it's Robert, or her parents, they were all very kind to her.

She should be content.

Layla returned to the room with heavy steps.

After closing the door, she turned on the phone, found Eric's number, and dialed it.
