Chapter 1776

Everyone in the Lightfoot family knew that Dax did not like to be disturbed when he was writing.

Therefore, something horrible must have happened if the person was knocking on his door now.

Even though he was not happy, Dax still said, "Come in!"

A white-haired old man came in after opening the door.

This person was the senior butler of the family, Duke Lightfoot

At the same time, he was also a peak Sovereign Ranker.

"Lord Dax" Duke called out respectfully after he came in.

What is so urgent?" Dax asked.

"Lord Dax, we got the news just now that Master Archi is dead. His life plaque was broken just now.

The others who died with him were all powerhouses sent by the family. All of them are dead and none of them survived."

Boom!

"What? Archi is dead?"

Dax slammed his hand down on the desk when he heard that.

“Yes, Lord Dax. It’s true, I’ve confirmed it,” Duke answered.

He would not dare to tell Dax anything unconfirmed.

“Get everyone together for a family meeting. I want to see who’s so brave to kill two of our heirs. Do they think we’re weak? How dare they beard the lion in his den! They are really courting death,” Dax growled.

“Yes, my Lord. I will call a meeting right now.” Duke left the room after he said that.

Dax stood on his ground, his blood boiling.

“How long has it been since the second-in-line heir died?

“We haven’t found the murderer and now the first-in-line heir is dead as well?

‘They’re clearly slapping the Lightfoot family across the face!

“Who’s so bold?

If I don’t find them and annihilate their entire bloodline, I won’t be able to quell the family’s anger.”

Not long after...

Dong dong dong!

Nine dongs resonated through the Lightfoot main residence, breaking the silence.

Countless people came out from various buildings. Then, they leaped into the air and flew to the main hall.

The nine dongs were the highest convening order of the family.

Anyone who heard this should head to the main hall no matter what they were doing.

Inside the Lightfoot family's main hall, the head of the family, Dax, was sitting in the main seat with a gloomy look on his face.

The other cores were the same as him.

They all had abnormally solemn looks on their faces.

Clearly, they had learned about Archimedes' death.

The Lightfoot family were tense now that two of their heirs were killed one after another.

If they failed to take care of this properly, the blow to their family's reputation would be unmatched.

Plus, there were two late Sovereign Rankers among the people who died.

In the end, everyone had died, which showed how powerful their enemy was.

Normal people would not be able to do this.

They might even have to ask the grandmasters to handle this.

They needed to ask the grandmasters to handle this and at the same time, they also needed to do something about it.

Two of their heirs died, so they could not stay quiet.

If not, the outside world would think the Lightfoot family was weak!
