I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1825—David did not answer Valerio's question right away, but instead, he asked something else, "Mr. Valerio, the situation the Fellowes family is facing now is pretty challenging, right? Not only is the Lightfoot family watching from the sidelines, but even the Palmore family also joined in.

These words made Valerio frown unconsciously. He was very upset on the inside.

'Isn't the current crisis we're facing caused by you, David?

'If it weren't for you, the Fellowes family would never have ended up in this situation.

'Even something was going to happen in the future, that's still in the future.

'What do you mean, David, when you say these sarcastic remarks?

'Are you mocking my family?

'Besides, the Lightfoot family is targeting you, David, not us."

However, even if he was thinking that, Valerio did not say anything, but replied honestly, "Master David, the Fellowes family is in a tough position now. It can be said that it has reached the point of life and death Originally, this would only happen in some time, but unfortunately, due to certain circumstances, this was brought forward and my family wasn't quite ready.

His words were actually exaggerated to a certain extent.

The Fellowes family was in a challenging situation now and one could say they were in a tight spot.

However, it was not at all to the point where things were life or death.

Besides, the Fellowes family also has three True Saints standing by.

Even if there were two suffering from serious injuries and had not recovered, they could not be killed just because the enemy wanted them dead.

The reason why Valerio said this was so that David would understand his intentions.

Another meaning of what he said just now was, 'My family was about to be annihilated in order to help you. So, you better ask your master to come out to solve the crisis.'

David could tell what Valerio was saying.

He would be lying if he said he did not feel guilty.

However, what could he do?

David would have already gotten his Sacred Saint master if he had one.

However, he did not!

David could only pretend not to understand and said, "Mr Valerio, since the Fellowes family has reached such a dangerous situation, should you put all your eggs in one basket?"

"What do you mean by that, Master David? My family has tried my best to help you just to fight for a glimmer of hope. At this point, how do you want us to continue the fight?" Valerio asked, feeling puzzled.

"Your family has helped me with all your strength, and I will never forget this, but if I can't finish the task, I won't have anything to show my master. You have to continue to help me complete the task. Otherwise, I may not be able to solve your crisis."

"But Master David, East League Trading Company has been seized and cannot conduct any transaction."

"Even if my family wants to help you, I can't!" Valerio said helplessly.

"No, Mr Valerio, your family can help me as long as you are willing," David said seriously.

"How?" Valerio asked.

"Treasure Trove has so many branches in the entire Central Sacred Continent. If you just sell me some, you will be completing my task for me."

"But East League Trading Company has been seized! It is impossible to complete any transaction with. Treasure Trove, and I can't sell them even if I wanted to," Valerio said, feeling at a loss for words.

He had been talking about cooperation for so long, but David was not listening to him at all.

The Palmore family was the reason why East League Trading Company was shut down for no reason. It was clear they wanted to prevent the Fellowes family from transferring the assets of Treasure Trove elsewhere.

Perhaps in the eyes of the Palmore family, Treasure Trove was already their private property.
