

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 1691

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1691 -Camryn: "I can only go out when someone is looking at the store."

Since she wanted to communicate with the Lewis family, it was more sincere to go by herself.

She called the clerk on her old phone, and the clerk answered quickly.

"Boss, I'm back at the door."

The clerk smiled, then she hung up the phone, parked the electric car, and entered the store.

Seeing Liberty and Sonny, they greeted each other with a smile and hugged Sonny.

Sonny believed that he was extremely adorable, just like a flower in bloom.

Camryn asked the clerk for a few words, took some supplements, and then she and Liberty and Sonny visited Duncan at the hospital.

When they arrived at the hospital, Duncan still refused to see Liberty.

Hearing Duncan's words that he didn't want to see Liberty, Camryn was stunned.

Not only did he not see Liberty, but even his favorite and beloved Sonny, so the bodyguards of the Lewis family had to obey Duncan's words and prevent Liberty and Sonny from entering the ward.

Sonny was puzzled, and shouted at Uncle Duncan at the door, but after he called several times, Uncle Duncan wouldn't let him in.

Only Camryn entered the ward under Mrs. Lewis's leadership.

Camryn had no friendship with Duncan, and she couldn't see him. She said some caring words in the ward, left supplements, and came out.

Mrs. Lewis looked at her son on the hospital bed, and persuaded her distressedly: "Duncan, don't you want to see Liberty and Sonny? Didn't you say you like Sonny the most? Sonny is a child who doesn't understand anything. If you look like this, Sonny might think you don't like him anymore."

Duncan closed his eyes and didn't speak.

Although his Grandma scolded him, Duncan was still very conflicted.

He didn't know what to do next.

Seeing that her son didn't want to talk, Mrs. Lewis's eyes turned red again.

It was her fault.

It's all her fault!

She quietly asked the doctor, how much hope was there for Duncan's leg injury to recover as a normal person? how much time was required?

According to the doctor, there was still hope, but it mostly depended on the patient's willingness to cooperate with the therapy and his ability to persevere through rehabilitation. This was a mental test, and it was unclear how long it would take.

After listening to the doctor's words, Mrs. Lewis's heart sank to the bottom of the valley.

From the moment her son knew about his injury, she saw self-abandonment from him.

When other people came to visit, except for talking to his Grandma, Duncan basically didn't talk much. Anyone who saw Duncan could tell that he was depressed and lost confidence in the future.

However, he was unwilling to see Liberty, and Mrs. Lewis was still thinking that her son liked Liberty so much. After her son was discharged from the hospital, she would ask Liberty to accompany him in his rehabilitation, so that his son could persevere and recover faster.

Well!

Mrs. Lewis thought regretfully, if time could go back, she would definitely not stop her son from pursuing Liberty.

.....

Annenburg.

FC Manor.

Tim helped Lilian Carden out of the house, but she felt that Tim helped her to walk, and she was uncomfortable walking.

Throwing away Tim's hand, she said, "I can still stand on a plane for several hours without your support. You help me walk like this, making me feel like I am a sick person."

Tim said: "You have a big belly and you are going down the steps again. I will help you down the steps safely. I am so considerate, but you still dislike my consideration."

Lilian: "Okay, okay, you are considerate, I don't despise you."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 1692

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1692 -Lilian smiled and squeezed Tim's face.

Because of her big belly, the wedding of the two of them would not be held for the time being, and the marriage certificate would be obtained first.

Both Jane and Iris gave birth, and the little thing in her belly will be reported soon. Jane was pregnant with twins, so the baby would report in advance, otherwise the little thing in her belly would be the same as Jane's. The child was about the same age.

Now that Jane had unloaded the goods, she still had to have a big belly every day, like a big watermelon stuffed in her stomach.

The little baby was very naughty, and the fetus moved violently. Sometimes she could see little feet or little hands arching her belly into a small bag.

Tim now liked teasing the baby the most. Every night when the fetus was moving the most, the father and son were playing through her belly.

Lilian had known for a long time that she was carrying a baby boy.

She was a doctor, and a good one at that.

Tim's face turned dark, and he didn't like Lilian pinching his face all the time.

However, he didn't pat Lilian's presumptuous big hand away.

When Lilian gave him the antidote, it was because of his face that their child could inherit his good genes because he was good-looking.

Tim accompanied Lilian for a walk in the villa.

Lilian used to fly around frequently to see patients, so she couldn't be free.

After returning to FC Manor and becoming the Fourth Young Mistress, everyone regarded her as a national treasure. She was extremely boring, but she had a big belly, and it was difficult to run outside, so she had to grab Tim and let Tim accompany her for a walk in the villa.

FC Manor was big and had nice views, which was a good thing. Every time she walked around the villa, she was attracted to the beautiful scenery.

The butler came over and said, "Mr. Johnson, Ms. Carden, the second young master of the York family, Mr. Callum is here again."

Callum always ran to FC Manor these two days, and he could run three or four times a day.

Hearing this, Tim looked displeased, and said, "Did you not make it clear to him? I repeatedly informed him that Lilian was pregnant and that she was unable to see the patient at this time, so he could either hire another person or stay and wait. He must have noticed Dr. Carden's large belly. It won't help even if he stays in my FC Manor. Why can't he just ignore my baby and take care of his fiancée's eyes?"

Tim was very dissatisfied with Callum who came three or four times a day. .

Although Lilian was in good health, and now she looked like a normal person with a big belly, if she was really asked to see a patient, she could go, but Tim was worried.

Annenburg and Wiltspoon were so far apart, it took several hours to fly there.

Even if the York family could dispatch a private jet to pick her up, Tim refused Callum's repeated requests for his wife.

Callum loved his fiancée dearly, and hoped for his fiancée's well-being.

Didn't Tim love his wife? Didn't expect his wife to be good?

As if she couldn't hear her husband's complaints, Lilian said to the butler, "Allow Mr. Callum to enter, please and sincerely, he comes here several times a day. The visitors are our guests. If you don't invite them in, it's because we don't treat guests well."

"Isn't FC & Co. and the York Corporation doing business? There are a lot of banknotes, and you have to treat Mr. Callum."

Tim was very upset, but Lilian had a good impression of Callum.

Callum and his fiancée were not actually engaged yet, but he unilaterally regarded her as his fiancée.

He wasn't worried at all that if the woman's eyes were cured, she might not marry him.

He was really doing good things for that woman, even if he might not get anything in return, he wanted to heal her eyes.

Callum had been going to FC Manor three or four times a day in the past two days. He didn't know that Lilian was not suitable for visiting the doctor. He hoped that Lilian could help him to come forward and invite the genius doctor to come over.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 1693

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1693 -Tim had a stern face and did not speak.

Lilian walked into a pavilion and sat down under the pavilion.

Tim naturally followed her.

“Have someone deliver some tea and snacks. Mr. Callum will come later, so he can entertain guests.”

Tim took out his mobile phone, made an internal call, and asked someone to bring some tea, snacks and some fruits.

There were also snacks that Lilian liked to eat.

After Lilian became pregnant, as long as Lilian was awake, she couldn't stop talking and always wanted to find some snacks.

She could also eat three meals, but she could eat so much, she herself was not very fat, and the nutrition was absorbed by the baby in her stomach, which belonged to the kind of fetus that was not fat.

About 10 minutes later.

Callum followed the butler into the gazebo.

The butler :”Mr. Callum, Dr. Carden.”

Callum greeted with a smile.

Tim kept his face sullen and did not speak. Lilian glanced at him, and she changed into a gentle expression, and greeted Callum politely: “Mr. Callum, please sit down.”

Callum was able to discern that Tim didn't like seeing him.

He came over three or four times a day, and Callum probably got tired of him long ago. It was because of his good temper and good cultivation that he didn't keep him out of the door.

But for the sake of Camryn, even if Callum looked at Tim's black face, he didn't care, and sat down cheekily.

Lilian greeted Callum to eat tea and snacks, but Callum was not polite, just eat and drink as he wanted.

"Dr. Carden's snacks are delicious." Callum praised.

After visiting FC Manor once, he observed that Lilian liked to eat all kinds of snacks, so he forced himself to act like he also liked to eat, so that he and Lilian had the topic of food.

Lilian smiled and said: "It's very delicious, I can't get enough of it now."

Tim said: "I rarely see a big man likes to eat sweets."

Callum said with a smile: "A big man is also a human being. If you are a person, you may like to eat sweets."

Lilian also said: "Mr. Callum, you're right, there is no rule that sweets are for women and children, and many men also like them."

It's just that some men love to eat, but they have to hold it and put on a look that they don't like to eat very much.

Like Callum, he could eat if he liked it, and he didn't eat it if he didn't like it, how real.

"Mr. Callum, you came here to treat your fiancée's eyes, right?" Tim cut right to the point, not wanting to chat too much with Callum.

He was taking a walk with his wife, and it was supposed to be an affair, but it was interrupted by Callum's visit.

Such a large light bulb was bright and dazzling without self-knowledge.

Tim kept complaining about Callum in his heart.

Before Callum could speak, Tim said: "Mr. Callum, you also saw that my wife is now pregnant, not far from the expected date of delivery. Except for the birth checkup, she basically doesn't go out, let alone travel far. It's really powerless to help you."

When Callum came to Lilian's house for the first time to invite her, Tim saw that they knew people in each business. If Lilian hadn't had a big belly, Tim would have helped Callum talk and let Lilian go to Wiltspoon.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 1694

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1694 -But now Lilian had a big belly, and when she went out for a prenatal checkup, Tim had to bring a few bodyguards to follow her to take care of her.

Callum hurriedly said: "Fourth Young Master Johnson, I know that even if Dr. Carden agrees to treat my fiancée's eyes, I would not dare to let Dr. Carden go out."

Callum looked at Lilian and begged, "Dr. Carden can you help me? I can pay for it no matter how much it costs, and I can agree to any terms."

Dr. Carden was very good, and the miracle doctor was even more superb. After all, he was a master, and the name of the miracle doctor had been passed down. After decades, being able to be conferred by the gods proved to be a really powerful person.

If Callum could invite miracle doctor to come and help Camryn's eyes to be cured, then the chances of being cured were very high.

The miracle doctor and Lilian, master and apprentice, were Camryn's last hope.

Callum promised to Camryn that he would seek a miracle doctor to cure her eyes so that she could see again.

Even if Camryn couldn't restore the light, she won't despise him.

It's just that Callum didn't dislike her, but Camryn had a sense of inferiority. No matter how good Callum was to her, no matter how much he promised, it's useless. Camryn always had a sense of inferiority, felt that she was not worthy of him, and was unwilling to accept his feelings.

Seeing that half of the one-year deadline given by grandma had passed, Callum was really in a hurry.

He couldn't force Camryn into the Civil Affairs Bureau to obtain a certificate when the time limit expired, right?

That was called forced marriage and no one in the York family had ever tried to marry by force.

He couldn't break precedent.

When it came to matters involving genius doctors, Tim was not easy to answer. He was the son-in-law of an apprentice who had become a genius doctor, but he couldn't and did not dare to treat the genius doctor.

Lilian said apologetically: "Mr. Callum, my master is old and has been out of clinic for a long time, and he has not been here for the past two days, so I'm sorry."

Her master was now very particular about fate in treating patients.

The old genius doctor believed that anyone who was in a relationship with someone else could provide care for no charge. He brought a lot of money to find him if he didn't want to be treated, but the old genius doctor didn't even glance at it.

The most important thing the master and apprentice need was money.

"Mr. Callum, I promise you, after I give birth, I will help your fiancée's eyes as soon as possible. I have heard your fiancée is blind due to poisoning, and she can barely see people. I'm sure she can walk around; the chance of recovering her eyesight is 100%.

Don't worry, just wait for two or three months, and I can treat your fiancée's eyes. Even if I haven't seen your fiancée yet, I dare speaking of poison-related matters, I know better than many people, and I'm 99% sure that I can cure your fiancée's eyes."

Callum went to FC Manor three or four times a day, but he did not see the old genius doctor, knowing that Lilian would not lie to him.

If he couldn't ask for a doctor's visit, then he could only ask Lilian to go to Wiltspoon to treat Camryn's eyes after Lilian gave birth and confinement.

"Thank you, Dr. Carden." Callum thanked gratefully.

He heard that it would cost a lot of money to invite Lilian.

"Dr. Carden, what conditions do you have? Just ask, I will meet your conditions right now, and then wait for two or three months."

Lilian smiled and said: "My husband's company has business dealings with York Corporation. Your elder brother and sister-in-law are friends with my brother and sister-in-law, and my fifth brother has even closer contacts with you. I can't close the war because of these things. It's the second young master's money."

She promised: "I will treat the eyes of your fiancée for free, without any conditions."

Callum was extremely grateful.

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 1695

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1695 -Having received Lilian's promise, Callum felt relieved.

It's not good for Callum to stay in FC Manor anymore, Tim didn't like to see him very much at the moment.

Callum also knew the whole story of Tim and Lilian from his eldest brother.

At first, Lilian only wanted children and not men.

Knowing that Tim had been looking for someone, Lilian didn't say that she was the one he was looking for.

And ran away.

She didn't even attend Jane Murphy and Young-Johnson's wedding.

When Tim knew that Lilian was the girl he was looking for, he left his job and flew to Lilian's side desperately. After staying by Lilian's side for more than half a year, Lilian was willing to follow him back to Annenburg.

What Tim did and how much he paid in those six months was unknown to outsiders.

But it could be imagined that it was very difficult for Tim to win Lilian's heart, and they finally became husband and wife. Although they were still newlyweds without a wedding, what Tim liked most was to be with his newlywed wife.

Callum came to disturb the young couple twice in three days, it's no wonder Tim gave him a good face.

Not letting anyone throw him out was Tim's self-cultivation.

After Callum thanked him, he got up to say goodbye and left FC Manor.

Tim asked the butler to send Callum out of the villa.

After Callum left, Tim heaved a sigh of relief and said, "Finally send him away. Within two or three months, we should be able to have peace of mind."

Lilian laughed and said: "If he didn't want to ask my master to visit him, he would never have the cheek to run three or four times a day. However, I admire him, a man who doesn't want to be shameless for the one he loves. He is full of sincerity."

Tim: "I can do it too."

Lilian smiled and said, "I see, you are the best, you are the best among them."

Tim pulled her up, hugged her out of the gazebo, and said, "Just now After eating so much, I'll take a walk with you to digest food."

Lilian: "Are you disgusted that I can eat? It's nothing. How could I not like that you can eat? If you eat enough for two people to digest, just eat more."

Lilian raised her hand and pinched his face lightly.

Tim was the one with the best hand feeling among the men she had ever touched. Of course, she touched the skin of other men when she performed surgery on those men.

Tim: "I know you are thinking about your child. When your son is born, you will take care of him. Okay, I will take care of him. I will be the baby daddy."

Tim was what she said.

Unexpectedly, in the future, when the son cried, both the husband and wife wanted to be deserters.

.....

After Callum left FC Manor, he didn't leave Annenburg immediately. He also wanted to visit FC & Co. on behalf of York Corporation. After all, the two groups had business contacts.

In this way, he stayed in Annenburg for ten years before returning to Wiltspoon.

When Callum returned to Wiltspoon, Duncan's injuries, except for his legs, healed well.

It's just that Duncan's mental state was very bad, mainly because of his mentality.

Callum found that Duncan couldn't walk now, even when he was sitting up, just moving his legs would bring him excruciating pain, which made him afraid to even sit up, let alone walk on the ground.

Knowing that Duncan had a car accident, Callum went to the hospital with Zachary and Serenity to visit Duncan the day after he returned to Wiltspoon.

Although Duncan didn't want to see the Liberty sisters, and often shut Zachary out, they still cared about Duncan health very much. Whenever they were free, Zachary and his wife would go to the hospital every day.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-