The third young master of the York family pursued a Man, such explosive news could bombard both Wiltspoon and Jensburg.

"knock knock." There was a knock on the door.

Callum guessed that it was his fiancée who came.

Camryn refused to acknowledge that she was his fiancée, but he insisted on it everywhere, supported her, and dealt with the Chandler and Joyner families regarding Camryn. Camryn simply didn't want to acknowledge it.

Kevin: "It must be Ms. Newman."

Callum got up, went around the desk, and opened the door for Camryn himself.

Kevin's gaze followed him. Looking at Callum's cheerful look, he felt both envy and incomprehension.

Could love really make people happy?

Kevin, who was not caught in it, couldn't feel the taste of love for the time being.

Callum opened the door of the office, and really saw Camryn standing at the door, holding a bouquet of flowers in one hand, a bag in the other and her blind crutch.

"Camryn, you're here, come in quickly." Callum gently staggered his body and let Camryn enter.

Camryn seemed to hesitate for a moment, but she still walked into Callum's office.

It's not the first time.

She was somewhat familiar with Callum's office, she didn't need to use a blind man's cane to find the way, and she didn't need Callum to guide her, she could walk to the desk without any mistakes.

But when she was about to walk to the desk, she stopped suddenly.

There were others in the office.

She looked at the other party, but only saw a blurry black shadow. She couldn't distinguish the facial features, so she couldn't see who the other party was.

"Ms. Newman." Kevin took the initiative to say hello.

After Camryn heard Kevin's voice, she smiled back, but guessed his identity in her heart.
