

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 1889

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1889 -Hayden added another sentence and asked: "Can you only pursue the person your grandma chose for you? Can you just change it?"

Kevin hummed: "It can only be chosen by my grandma."

The enthusiasm of Mrs. Queen and Mr. Queen suddenly cooled to the end.

When Hayden asked Kevin, she watched her parents' reaction out of the corner of her eye.

Seeing that her parents' enthusiasm had cooled down, she stopped in moderation and didn't ask any more questions.

Mrs. Queen was quite reconciled, she asked Kevin: "Kevin, you brothers are all dragons and phoenixes among the people, and they are also capable people, why is your grandma in charge of marriage?"

Mr. Queen also said: "Today's young people are pursuing free love and free marriage. They are not blindly married like in the old society. Parents can't force their children to make decisions for their children, they can only offer some opinions.

Your parents don't speak out, but let your grandma decide for you. Marriage is not a child's play, it is a lifelong event, the wife you marry will live with you for the rest of your life, what if you don't like the candidate your grandma chose for you? Are you going to live forever?"

Kevin ate the dish with chopsticks. After eating, he said to Hayden: "Mr. Queen, this dish is well cooked and delicious. Try it."

After glancing at the dish, Hayden continued to eat her meal gracefully. She said lightly: "My chefs are all invited back from five-star hotels. Every dish can be delicious in color, flavor and taste. Mr. York, you think it is delicious. Eat more, it is also an affirmation of my chef."

Looking at the catering industry of the York Corporation, what delicious food has he not eaten?

To be praised by him as delicious, to the chef of the Queen's family, it was as happy as winning a prize.

Kevin ate again with a chopstick of food. After eating, he answered Mr. Queen's question: "Uncle, we have been close to grandma since we were young. Grandma knows the temperament of our brothers very well. She knows What kind of girl is suitable for us.

Grandma will help us choose a wife, it must be suitable for us, and we also believe that grandma will not harm us. None of our brothers like anyone, grandma gave us a goal, Let's try it out, and we will be able to express our feelings in a year. If we really can't express our feelings, it's not too late to explain to grandma. My grandma understands and won't force us to marry her forever."

Marriage is a lifelong event.

They didn't play games.

Grandma couldn't play games.

"Didn't you just say that your grandma gave you one year, and within one year, if you don't satisfy your grandma, you will be expelled from the Wildridge Manor." Mrs. Queen seemed to see some hope again, but she still had to ask. Only she could do it.

Kevin: "Yes, but at the moment, neither of my elder brothers will raise the white flag to surrender within a year."

That is to say, Hayden was his wife. In the eyes of the residents of Jensburg, Hayden was the young master of the Queen family. He wouldn't get a response if he openly pursued Hayden, and he might even be labeled a homos*xual.

What he had to do was to expose Hayden's lies bit by bit, leaving Hayden nowhere to go but confessing his real identity, so that he can pursue Hayden openly.

That is to say, he moved a little slowly, a half-year had passed, and a few more months remained. He wasn't sure if he could make Hayden his wife in these few months?

The Queen family of three fell silent.

The older young master of the York family took the route of marriage first and then love. The second young master spent more than half a year and also won the eldest lady of the Newmans. The two were engaged, and now their relationship was as good as glue. Let how many people envy.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-