

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 1902

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1902 -“Liberty, I really like you. I have liked you for a long time. I blame me for being slow. I didn’t find out that I like you earlier. Otherwise, I would have confessed to you earlier. Maybe we have passed the break-in period. “

Liberty withdraw her hand and sat down on the chair in front of her desk.

After a moment of silence, she raised her head and met Duncan’s expectant black eyes, and said, “Mr. Lewis, I don’t know how things will develop tomorrow, and I can’t give you an answer now. Until now, I haven’t thought about remarrying. You do your rehabilitation well. If, after you have recovered, I change my mind and decide to remarry, I am willing to give you a chance.”

Although this answer did not make Duncan feel at ease, at least it was a little. Looking forward to it, he nodded with a smile, “Liberty, thank you for giving me some hope.”

After that, after he finished his rehabilitation every day, his bodyguards would send him to Liberty’s place. Only by gaining a sense of presence every day could he have hope.

It could also prevent new men from approaching Liberty.

After all, Liberty was still young, and Liberty who had regained her slender figure was very charming.

Zachary sent Duncan over that day, and then Zachary left. He was sent home by Liberty. When Liberty pushed him out of the restaurant, the young owner of a supermarket diagonally across the street kept staring at her.

Liberty might not have noticed this. Duncan’s sensitivity was still a bit stronger than Liberty, so he noticed it.

“Mr. Lewis, I don’t necessarily change my mind. I feel fulfilled and at ease in this day and age, and I don’t really want to change.” Liberty felt that living with her son was good.

She was free during the day to take care of her business as long as her son had been sent to kindergarten.

Married, there were a lot of things for the in-family, law’s even if the Lewis family was wealthy, so she didn’t need to do anything, but she had to consider her husband’s and in-feelings law’s family’s in everything she did, so she didn’t have the freedom she had now.

If Duncan was willing to only fall in love and not get married, Liberty might have given him a clear answer long ago.

Unfortunately, Duncan presupposed marriage.

“Even if you’re with me, I won’t ask you to change anything for me. You can do what you want, and you can live how you usually live. You don’t need to worry about my feelings. I will come and do it.” Duncan said seriously, “Liberty, trust me, I can give you the life you want.”

Liberty smiled and changed the subject: “Mr. Lewis, let’s talk about feelings later, now I have no intentions.”

Duncan: “If someone else pursues you...”

Liberty: “I have rejected even such an excellent man as Mr. Lewis, and if other men come to pursue me, I will also refuse, and besides, there is no other man pursuing me now “

She frequently brought her son with her, and the mother and son look so similar that anyone could assume she is married, and those who were unfamiliar with her were unaware that she is already divorced. Duncan felt a sigh of relief.

“Ding Dong.”

A decoration master came and knocked on the open office door. When both of them looked at him, he said to Liberty: “Miss, a gentleman is looking for you, and it seems to be someone’s lawyer.”

“Whose lawyer?” Liberty was suspicious, she got up and went around the desk, and said, “Where is that lawyer?”

The decorator pointed to the door of the hotel.

After Liberty walked out of the office, he saw a middle-aged man in a suit and leather shoes standing at the door.

Seeing Liberty coming out, the middle-aged man walked towards Liberty, introduced himself politely, then took out a letter from his black briefcase, handed it to Liberty, and said to Liberty: “Miss Hunt, my client entrusts me to forward this letter to you.”

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-