Married at First Sight Chapter 1956-She was scared.

She asked anxiously: "Kevin knows you are a woman? How does he know?"

This was the first time someone had questioned whether her daughter was not a man.

After Mrs. Queen was frightened, she was pleasantly surprised again.

Kevin questioned her daughter's male identity, which means that Kevin thought her "eldest son" was a woman, so Kevin would pursue her daughter.

In that case, even if Old Mrs. York chose a wife for Kevin, as long as Kevin didn't like her, her daughter still had great hope.

Mrs. Queen's mood was like riding a roller coaster, rushing up to the peak at one time, and falling down again at another time, with ups and downs.

Hayden said with a headache: "I don't know why he became suspicious. I'm sure I didn't show any flaws when I got along with him."

The longest time she spent with Kevin was on weekends.

Usually, that is, occasionally saw the previous side.

They didn't get along much.

Those who get along with her every day had never suspected that she was a woman.

"Ask him, what evidence is there to prove that you are a woman?" There was a little excitement in Mrs. Queen's words.

Hayden heard the excitement in her mother's words, and knew what her mother was thinking, so she bluntly poured cold water on her mother, "Mom, Old Mrs. York chose a wife for Kevin. Sooner or later, he will marry that woman."

Mrs. Queen said: "Who knows what will happen in the future. Hayden, what did Kevin say? Where did you show your flaws, and he suspected you."

She heard that the York family had a very good family style, and the elders were very open-minded.

Even if her daughter Hayden wasn't the granddaughter-in-law chosen by Old Mrs. York, she was superior to countless daughters from prominent families. If Kevin genuinely liked Hayden and the two were happy together, York's parents would respect Kevin's decision and accept her daughter's.

If so, the elders of the York family couldn't accept two children together, and Mrs. Queen thought their Queen family would not mind having a son-in-law.

"He said that he felt that I was a woman based on his feelings, and there was no evidence." Hayden said. She didn't tell her mother about Kevin asking her to take off her clothes. "Mom, I'll take care of this matter. You and my dad don't have to worry about it, and don't think about it."

Hayden didn't want to discuss this topic any longer.

Mrs. Queen said: "Mom knows that you are powerful, and you can solve anything you encounter. Your father and I are not worried about your ability, but we are worried that you will be an old aunt for the rest of your life. Hayden, although Kevin has an internal choice for his wife, you are not without chance, and he is pursuing you now, you don't need to respond to his feelings on the surface, but you can observe him for a while, if you think he is good."

"mom!" Hayden said helplessly: "I don't want to marry, I'm not used to being a woman."

She is used to being a man.

Mrs. Queen: "But you are a woman."

Hayden: "Do women have to marry?"

Mrs. Queen: "...All right, I won't force you, you should be busy, Mom is hanging up."

After finishing speaking, Mrs. Queen hung up the phone.

As soon as the phone hung up, she said to her husband beside her: "Husband, we can often invite Kevin over for dinner in the future. He is pursuing our daughter, and he questioned that Hayden is not a man. "

Donald was listening to the call between his wife and daughter, and he already knew what was going on.

He smiled and said: "I think Kevin and our family Hayden are very suitable. He has eyes. The children raised by the York family are excellent, and their eyes are better than anyone else."
