

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 1996

Married at First Sight Chapter 1996-Hayden was angry, so she called his younger brother and told him to go home for dinner.

“Why did Dad ask us to go back for dinner? Is there a happy event at home?” Hugh asked.

The siblings usually lived in villas under their respective names, and they only went home to have dinner with their parents on holidays.

“Kevin went to our house in the afternoon, and he accompanied Dad to fish for an afternoon. He said that he had caught half a barrel of fish. Kevin wanted to grill fish. Dad asked us to try Kevin’s cooking skill.” Hayden said these few words full of resentment.

Kevin’s mouth was the best at flattering people. Donald would fall in front of Kevin for less than three seconds, and it was really possible to reveal everything about Hayden.

Hugh smiled and said: “Kevin really has the ability to coax Dad to be happy. Brother, since Dad told us to go back to eat, let’s go back. I haven’t had a drink with Dad for a long time. Tonight have a drink with Dad.”

Hayden said helplessly: “I have to socialize tonight, and Dad insists on me going back.”

Hugh said rather gloatingly: “For parents, business matters are trivial matters. The big things in your life are the big things.”

Hayden: “After you sell me, you won’t be able to run away, so don’t gloat here, I’m only ten minutes older than you.”

Hugh: “...Brother, Then you should wait a little longer, don’t accept Kevin’s pursuit too quickly, let me play for two more years. I plan to get married at the age of thirty.”

Now Hugh was only twenty-eight years old, and he could still play for two years.

Hayden silently hung up the phone.

Big things in her life...that she never thought about.

Kevin’s appearance disturbed her peaceful life.

At his father’s request, Hayden had no choice but to go back to Queen’s old house.

Just right, she could ask Kevin, what was his secret in pursuing her?

Hayden sat quietly in the office for two minutes before getting up and walking out of the office, ordering the secretary who was still waiting for her: "The chairman has something to call me home, and help me cancel all the plans for tonight."

"Okay."

The secretary didn't dare to ask the chairman what's the matter.

It's a big deal because the president had to cancel all the trips tonight and go home.

10 minutes later.

Hayden walked out of the office building, and her bodyguard team was waiting for her at the door. Seeing her coming out, the bodyguard team respectfully called the young master, and followed her towards the parking lot.

Who knew that she was stopped by Shiloh at the entrance of the company.

The driver stopped the car.

Shiloh went to Hayden's car window and knocked on it.

Hayden didn't press the window, but told the driver: "Drive."

The driver drove quickly.

It was too late for Shiloh to block Hayden's path again.

"Young Master Queen, Young Master Queen..." Shiloh ran after her for a few steps, knowing that she couldn't catch up, she had to stop.

Recommended Novels