

Eyes Opened 2989

Chapter 2989

Joanna ignored this.

“Forget it then! I’m afraid of disturbing him.”

Seeing Joanna being so polite, the front desk lady wanted to help her.

“Ms. Picard, wait a minute. I’ll make a call to ask Mr. Tate if he’s busy right now.” After the front desk lady finished speaking, she immediately picked up the handset and dialed the internal line of the general manager’s office. “Ms. Picard brought kimchi, please ask Mr. Tate if he wants it.”

Joanna: “...”

ah! It’s embarrassing.

Originally, she didn’t want to bring kimchi to Hayden.

This was mom’s kimchi.

Just because Hayden invited her to a meal on the weekend and packed a dinner for her mother back home, so her mother insisted that she bring kimchi to Hayden today.

Joanna felt that people like Hayden might not be used to kimchi, but her mother thought that although kimchi was cheap, it was at least a kindness, a gift in return.

After returning the gift, she would not worry about owing others favors.

After a while, the secretary of the general manager’s office replied: “President Tate asked Ms. Picard to come up.”

“Okay.” After the front desk hung up the phone, she immediately smiled and said to Joanna, “Ms. Picard, Mr. Tate asked you to go up. I will take you there.”

The front desk enthusiastically took Joanna to the elevator door, and helped Joanna press the floor.

“After the elevator arrives, you go directly to the office without the address number, which is Mr. Tate’s office.”

“Okay, thank you!” After Joanna thanked, the elevator door slowly closed.

After a while, the elevator reached the designated floor, and with a ‘ding’ sound, the elevator door opened.

Hayden’s assistant Hailee stood outside the elevator door and waited.

Seeing Joanna coming out, she immediately said enthusiastically: “Ms. Picard, I am Hailee, President Tate’s assistant. Come with me.”

Joanna obediently followed behind Hailee and walked towards Hayden’s office.

The office areas on this floor were all pure white.

Whether it was wall, door, or window decoration, it was like entering another dimension.

She looked around curiously, and found that the interior decoration of each office was different.

It’s not as strong as the pure white stimulation outside.

If she worked in a completely white space, it would be very depressing.

“Ms. Picard, we’re here. Go in!” Hailee said with a smile, “President Tate is just about to have lunch, I hope your kimchi can suit his appetite.”

Joanna didn't know what to say except to laugh in embarrassment.

She didn't know if kimchi would suit Hayden's taste.

She liked the kimchi her mother made quite a bit because it wasn't overly sweet, sour, or spicy.

After entering the office, Hayden invited her to sit on the sofa.

"I won't sit down...my mother asked me to bring kimchi. You invited us to dinner on Saturday, and my mother insisted that I bring you some kimchi. If you don't like it, you can throw it away. I'm fine." Joanna handed him the bag.

Hayden took the bag and took out the jar from it.

The jar was very clean, although it had not been opened, but could already smell a fragrance.

"Have you eaten yet?" Hayden asked, "I haven't eaten yet, why don't you go after eating! If kimchi doesn't suit my appetite, you can eat it."

Joanna couldn't find the words to respond.

Because what he said made sense.

Her Mother really didn't want to waste the kimchi that she worked so hard to make.

"Where do you eat? In the office?" Joanna didn't see any food in his office.

"This way." Hayden took the kimchi and walked towards the room next to the office.

Unexpectedly, there was a rest room next to the south of the office.

There was a bed, a sofa, and a dining table.
