

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1911

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1911-Both Sahar and David cast the Eternal Golden Body.

This was the best way to launch a long-range attack.

When he was in the Milky Way galaxy, David used the Eternal Golden Body for the first time when he broke through Eternal Realm. With a single wave of his sword, he spanned the distance between the Milky Way and the Beast Galaxy, beheading one of the Nine-Headed Serpent's heads.

Sahar did not want to fight David in close proximity as he was afraid he would suffer a disadvantage when it came to his weapon. Therefore, he could only fight like this.

The main reason was that his injury had not healed, and he would suffer a disadvantage.

Of course, he was unwilling to go all out to deal with David.

A Saint loved their life.

No one would say no to a long life.

The fact that Nek put down his dignity and cried for mercy when he was dying just showed that he was very afraid of death.

Even though Nek was an important figure in the Simmons family, Sahar would not risk his life to avenge him.

He was only fighting with David as he was forced to make a statement.

He never intended to kill David.

Aside from the fact of whether he could, he would also suffer greatly even if he tried his best to kill David.

In addition, his injuries had not healed.

The consequences would be quite serious.

It might not even heal after hundreds of thousands of years of living in seclusion.

A Saint would rarely want to inflict damage on the enemy when they would also suffer a smaller but comparable level of damage.

This was unless their opponent killed his father, stole his wife, or killed his entire family.

Only then would a Saint do something so crazy.

That being said, Sahar still needed to make David pay a certain price so that he would have an explanation for the Simmons family and the entire Star Kingdom.

Otherwise, he would fail as the grandmaster of the Simmons family. How would he face others as the head of the Simmons family, and how would the Simmons family gain a foothold in Star Kingdom in the future?

“David, cut off your arm today so that I will have an explanation for the Simmons family and we will stop pursuing you for killing Nek. How about it? Otherwise, if we continue to fight, the result will be a loss for both sides, which will be of no benefit to anyone,” the golden giant spoke in Bahar’s voice.

He was still looking for a perfect solution.

He never wanted to fight.

As long as David was willing to cut off his arm, Sahar would have an answer for the Simmons family.

Making a late True Saint break his arm was not an easy task.

If that happened, the other forces in Star Kingdom would not dare to laugh at the Simmons family anymore.

That would be the end of the matter.

In fact, Sahar did not truly want to let David go.

However, he also did not want to take action now.

When he finally healed and restored his strength as a peak True Saint, he would settle the old and new grudges together.

When the time came, he would let David know that the Saint of the Simmons family was not so easy to kill.

“Nek wanted to kill me, so I killed him. This is only fair. Do you think it’s possible for me to cut off my own arm and compromise? Of course, you can do it yourself, it just depends on whether you have the ability. As long as you have that strength, you can even cut off my head, let alone my arm," David directly refused.

"David, don't be stupid and don't force me. If not, I will give you an unforgettable lesson even if I have to pay a price. I will let you know what 'there will always be someone better than you' means. Even a Sacred Saint is not invincible, let alone a True Saint like you." Sahar's Eternal Golden Body waved his hand and pointed the executioner's sword at David in the distance.

"Just fight if you want to! Why are you spewing so much nonsense? I know True Saints are not invincible, but it's enough to defeat you. Come on! Let me see what an old guy like you who has lived for more than one hundred thousand years can do."

David's Eternal Golden Body also lifted his hand to point the red long sword at Sahar.

"You want to fight?"

"Old man! You have been living for so long, but did a dog eat your balls? Why are you so long-winded when it comes to a fight?" David asked impatiently.
