

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2069

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2069-After a while, the blue light disappeared.

A figure appeared in front of Eira and her sisters.

He looked very young and was roughly equivalent to a person in his thirties on Earth.

What was unusual about him was that this person had blue hair, blue eyes, and a blue coat.

There was also a word embroidered on the chest of the coat.

'Feather.'

The figure that suddenly appeared was the master that Eira and her sisters spoke of—Azul.

He fled to Star Kingdom with serious injuries more than a million years ago, and after preparing the Nine Heavenly Dragon Array, he slept here.

After more than a million years of hard work by his four slaves, who had cultivated enough special physiques for sacrifice, he finally awakened today.

The powerhouse had returned!

"Master!"

The four sisters shouted excitedly.

"You four girls have done a good job, and you have lived up to my expectations. Go and recuperate from your injuries and leave the rest to me," Azul praised.

His voice was calm, and he did not ask about the sisters' health.

The poor condition of the four did not have any impact on Azul.

They could not even evoke a single emotion from him.

As the slaves of a direct descendant of the Feather family like Azul, they had to sacrifice everything for him.

So, in Azul's view, everything Eira and her sisters did for him was only expected.

He was already used to it.

When he was happy, the most he would do was say a few words of praise.

For the four slaves, this was already a great gift.

Indeed, the word of praise made Eira and her sisters beyond excited.

Their gazes looked even more crazed.

Even if Azul asked them to die immediately, the four of them would execute it without hesitation.

'T-Thank you, Master, for your p-praise, as long as... as long as Master can wake up, no matter how much... no matter how much we pay... it's all worth it," the eldest sister Marin was already a little incoherent with excitement.

The other three were no different.

In the four sisters' hearts, Azul was their spiritual sustenance for more than one million years.

Everything they did was to wake up their master.

Now that their master had approved of them, their already dilapidated bodies felt much better in an instant.

Azul's words stimulated the nerves of the four and made them very excited.

The pain in their bodies also suddenly decreased a lot.

David looked at the five strange people ahead.

A young man in blue with four old women stood behind them.

It was understandable for an old woman to call a young man master as this was normal.

However, for a man in his thirties to call the four old women girls was a bit excessive.

Even knowing that this person was no younger than the four old women, David still felt awkward.

Recommended Novels