I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2013-'Um?'

When David was about to display his Sacred Saint energy, he suddenly sensed that another powerhouse was approaching.

'Who's that?'

He quickly looked in one direction.

A Sacred Saint's energy instantly enveloped the audience.

The seven True Saints who had just rushed out also stopped in their tracks.

This was because they felt a strong crisis and fear from this energy.

The whole scene was silent.

At this time, an old man appeared between the Palmore and Fellowes families.

David looked at him.

'A late Sacred Saint!'

'And he should have broken through to peak Sacred Saint.'

'There should be only one such powerhouse among the Sacred Saints known to Star Kingdom.'

'And that's the previous head of the Saints Association, Sid Griswold, an old man respected by all forces in Star Kingdom.'

'After being defeated by Zenon, he stepped down as head of the Saints Association.'

'Sid has always taken it as his duty to maintain the peace of Star Kingdom, so with him here, I don't have to expose myself.'

David was secretly happy.

However, David was not the only one who was feeling happy on the inside.

Everyone in the Fellowes family was extremely excited too.

Sid was the previous head of the Saints Association, the person with the highest prestige in Star Kingdom. What he hated the most were large-scale wars in Star Kingdom.

Now that he was here, the Palmore family's grand ambition to wipe out the Fellowes family was no longer possible.

"Greetings, Lord Sid!" Cedar and the others clasped their fists first and said respectfully.

"Greetings, Lord Sid!" the Fellowes family shouted at the same time.

Sid waved his hand in response to the Fellowes family.

Then, he turned around to face the Palmore family.

The four True Saints from the Palmore family looked at each other and were a little nervous, They had no idea how to face this old man.

If were before, they would do the same as the Fellowes family.

However, Sid was no longer the Saints Association's head.

Instead, the Palmore family's grandmaster was the head of the Saints Association.

Hence, the Palmore family naturally would not do that.

Otherwise, wouldn't it be slapping themselves in the face?

"S-Sid, you... What do you want to do? Let me tell you, our grandmaster is also here. If you dare to mess around, he will not spare you. If the grandmaster could defeat you once, he can beat you the second time," a True Saint from the Palmore family said tremblingly.

Slap!

He flew backward the moment he finished speaking.

This scene also surprised everyone present.

After the person stabilized himself, everyone discovered that there was a deep handprint on his face.

It was obvious that someone had slapped him hard across the face.

"Y-Y-You..."

The man pointed at Sid, unable to utter a complete sentence.

The slap just now had already stunned him.

He was a True Saint, but now, he felt as aggrieved as a child.

The rest of the Palmore family members were horrified and did not dare to speak.

Before this old man was defeated by their grandmaster, he was number one in Star Kingdom.

At this moment, a team of soldiers wearing armor with 'law enforcer' carved on them came out of the fleet and walked to the front. After that, they went before Sid and got on one knee to shout respectfully, "Greetings, Lord Sid!"

The person in front was Captain Quintus of the Saints Association's law enforcement team. He was also a peak True Saint.

Behind him were countless True Saints and dozens of Pre-Saints.
