

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 2127

Married at First Sight Chapter 2127-After a pause, Kevin said in a low voice: "You have a secret passage, and I have one too, and I can guarantee that no one will find you follow me to the hotel."

Kevin hoped that one day Hayden's identity as a woman would be announced to the public voluntarily, which means she accepted him and was willing to restore her identity as a woman for him.

Therefore, even if Kevin knew that she was a woman, he still covered her up in front of others so that no one would suspect that she was a woman.

Kevin: "If you want to go, we will start now."

Hayden: "Let me think about it."

It would be a lie to say that Hayden was not moved.

She also wanted to enjoy the coolness in the hot weather.

It's just that if she went into the water recklessly once, she'd have to spend a lot of time dressing up as a man again after getting up, which was time-consuming.

When she got home every night, she promised herself she would not go out again, she would remove the false man's skin, restore her identity as a woman, take a quick soak in her bathroom's large bathtub, and relieve the pain of the entire day.

Then, every morning, she would get up early, and without anyone's help, she would dress up as a man again, and only then would she go out of the room after making sure that there were no flaws.

Such days were actually quite tiring. But she was used to this kind of life.

Kevin: "I guarantee that you won't be discovered. You don't have to think about it anymore. Think about it again. It's getting dark and we have to stay in the hotel overnight."

Hayden asked him back, "Are you planning to stay at my house tonight?"

Kevin: "Uncle invited me to play with him tomorrow morning. I said I was staying in a hotel and might not be able to come early in the morning. Uncle asked me to stay tonight."

Hayden's face turned dark.

Kevin said with a low smile: "I live in the guest room, don't worry, I won't take advantage of you. How about this, if you don't welcome me to stay overnight, let's go swimming, after that, I will send you out of the hotel, you come back by yourself, I will just stay overnight at my hotel."

After thinking about it, Hayden said, "Let's go."

Hayden really wanted to enjoy the refreshing taste unrestrained.

Kevin got up from her side and said: "I finally had the opportunity to stay at your house for one night, but I gave up just like that."

There was ample time.

After he took Hayden down, they became husband and wife. After returning to the old's house, they could stay for as many days as they wanted.

A few minutes later, Kevin drove Hayden away from Queen's mansion.

There was no bodyguard team with Hayden.

The butler and the bodyguards all saw their young master being stuffed into the car by Kevin unintentionally, and they knew that Kevin was very skilled and managed to get the young master.

After watching Kevin's car leave, the butler sighed to himself: "Our young master should beat up Mr. York, because Mr. York has suffered a lot, so he won't pester the young master again in the future."

One of the bodyguards said: "Eldest Young Master won't let us fight Mr. York, but Mr. York's boxing skills are very good. We have tested it. If we really fight, we are no match for him, let alone Mr. York."

Hayden could also box and kick, but not very powerful.

Kevin's men are very good at fighting and kicking, and professional bodyguards like them were no match for them.

"I think the Eldest Young Master's fight against Mr. York seems a bit..." The second bodyguard spoke halfway and stopped talking.

The young master was such a cold and cold person, but he tolerated the entanglement of Mr. York again and again, and tolerated the other party's shamelessness. Although the young master also had the intention of not wanting to be enmity with the York family, it was not impossible to really get rid of Mr. York.

Recommended Novels