The Ex-Husband's Revenge Chapter 114

"Alright, I'll admit that you're stronger. Is that enough?" Iris said with a smile.

She saw Leon's skills before. The first time she met Leon, he was almost killed by two thugs by the river to save her.

The second time, he was badly beaten up by Brody's bodyguards and pressed to the ground. Leon was lucky she appeared just in time to save him.

After those two experiences, she knew that Leon was just a very ordinary man, outside of having some courage and ruthlessness. It would be hard for him to stand up against four people, so how could he make an enemy out of those people?

However, men were very particular about their dignity. Even if she did not believe him, she could not expose him.

"Let's forget about that. Let's go hike up the mountain!" Leon took a deep breath and composed himself before heading up the mountain with Iris.

The foot of the mountain was the most well-decorated part of the scenic area, and it was the place with the most people as well. There were plenty of things to eat and play with.

There was a street of stalls comprised of a lot of food and snacks, and there were also some entertainment facilities like merry-go-rounds and bumper cars.

The moment Iris appeared, her amazing looks and noble air immediately garnered a lot of attention. Quite a few guests, whether they were men or women, shot looks of admiration over.
