The Ex-Husband's Revenge Chapter 211

"Mister Wolf, we have so many talents in our R-and-D department. It took them half a year to even obtain any noticeable results!"

"Who do you think you are? Claiming that you'll manage to develop ten cosmetic products in just one week?"

"You're just dreaming!" George mocked.

If someone who was not even in the field was able to develop new cosmetics in just a week, then what would be the purpose of the research and development department?!

"Leon, I know you're acting with the company's interests in mind, but this isn't something within your capabilities. What are you trying to cause a scene for?!" Iris glared at Leon unhappily.

She remembered very well how Leon told her himself that he was not that confident in this the night before.

Yet, at that moment, Leon guaranteed that he would be able to develop ten new products in just a week

"Alright, I agree! You'll be out of this company soon!" Ashwin sneered as he looked at Leon in disdain. He looked like he already had victory in hand.

"That's a promise! Let's have Miss Young and all our colleagues here be our witnesses!" Leon smiled.

"He doesn't know his place!"

The executives were amused by Leon's words.

They did not think Leon had the skill to obtain victory, and none of them knew where Leon got the courage and confidence from!

"Alright, the meeting is ending!" Iris glared at Leon unhappily.

She thought the same as the rest and did not think that Leon could lose. However, when she saw how confident Leon looked, she did not say anything about it in the end.

In the next few days, Leon threw himself into the factory, looking into how to increase the effectiveness of their products with Stanley as well as developing new products.

Thanks to all their hard work, the matter saw a drastic improvement.

George had an incredibly pleased look on his face.

"Really? Then we'll have to congratulate you!"

"High-

end cosmetics are very important to the growth of the company. Once Miss Young finds out, your department will be handsomely rewarded!"

Quite a few executives offered their congratulations.

"Mister Proctor, you did well!" Ashwin nodded in satisfaction.

He was in the same boat as George at that moment. The fact that the R-and-D department succeeded was a good thing for him. It meant that they already secured half of the bet!

Not long after that, they heard some high heels walking over. Iris entered the room with Gracie, the secretary.

She sat in the main position and looked up, saying strangely, "Hey, where's Leon and Ariel? Why don't I see them?"

George clapped, motioning for the specialists from the R-and-D department to bring the trolleys over. After that, he handed the products to them to be tested.

All of them explained the relevant data and requirements needed to be considered high-end products before they put the cosmetics into the machines.

As the machines worked, George used his laptop to connect to the screen and showed the results on the large screen in the meeting room.

Right next to it, he displayed the data for high-end products so everyone could compare.

"Miss Young, please look. All three of these products are qualified to be high-end products based on the country's regulations! There are also three of those data points that greatly exceed the requirements!" George said proudly.

Twelve main factors were being tested, and three of them far exceeded the requirements. It meant that the effects were very good.

The company could use those three factors to storm into the market!

"That's great! Mister PProctor, you did very well this time. My faith in your department was not misplaced!" Iris was ecstatic.

Leon put all the products from the black bag onto the meeting table. There were exactly sixteen bottles.

"Sixteen?"

"Is he for real?!"

Everyone was stunned as they exchanged looks of uncertainty.

No one dared to believe what Leon said!

"You can see if it's real or not after testing!" Leon had a calm look on his face as he handed all sixteen products to the specialists.

The men from the R-and-

D department were incredibly doubtful as they placed all of the products into the machines, undergoing their testing.

Not too long after, the results came out.

The employees rubbed their eyes in disbelief when they saw the numbers displayed on the screen.

It was not a big deal anyway, and doing the test again would not use up that much time.

After that, the specialists from the R-and-D department recalibrated the machines. After making sure there were no issues, they put the products into the machine again, performing an even more detailed test.

The results were out very quickly.

Looking at the screen, the results were the same. Ashwin, George, and all the doubtful executives were suddenly completely quiet.

Suddenly, there was not a single sound in the entire place.

Leon looked around and calmly fixed his gaze on Ashwin and George. He was the first to dispel the quiet atmosphere, "Mister Mercer, Mister Proctor, do the two of you have anything else to say?"

"I..."

Both Ashwin and George looked incredibly ashen. They had an incredibly defeated look on their faces.

The two of them could not figure out how Leon did it at all. It was too unbelievable!

"Since the two of you have nothing to say, then I've won this wager!" Leon said coldly.

It was absolutely a divine blessing in her eyes!

It was the first time she sincerely acknowledged Leon's abilities!

"T—that... Is he even human?!"

All of the executives in the company had their jaws wide, almost touching the ground. They all looked at Leon like a monster.

Ashwin and George were in an even worse state. They were completely dumbfounded by the shock!

“That’s more like it. I guess I have to accept your apology! I won’t take it to heart this time. I hope you’ll know your place in the future!” Leon said plainly, ignoring Ashwin after that.

“Miss Young, if there’s nothing else, I’ll go back to work,” Ashwin had a dark look on his face. He had been thoroughly embarrassed, and no longer had the dignity to remain there. He turned around to leave.

“Mister Mercer, please wait,” Iris had Ashwin stop.

“Miss Young, do you need anything else?” Ashwin asked.

“Mister Wolf’s already developed new products. The next step is for the company to mass-produce them. When it comes to that, I’ll leave him responsible for it for now. After that, you’ll take over from him...” Iris addressed.

Leon did not only develop new high-end products but even increased the efficiency of the processing of raw materials.

Both of those things were incredibly related to production. Leaving them to Leon for the moment would increase productivity in the future.

If Leon managed to get ten percent of the dividends, then he would get four to six million dollars a year. It was no small number!
