

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2268

Chapter 2268

"Yonas, how are you? Are you alright?"

Fiona hurriedly helped Yonas up after he was kicked to the ground by Leon.

"Leon, y-you despicable dog. How dare you break my arm! Just you wait, the Thompsons won't let you off!"

Yonas clutched his hurting arm, and his eyes were completely reddened as he looked at Leon with hatred and anger!

At that moment, he already hated Leon to the bone. He wanted to shatter Leon to pieces, or his anger would not be sated!

"You sure don't know when to give up! Yonas, should I just break your other arm if you continue to speak arrogantly? Maybe I just smack that mouth of yours off?!" Leon said coldly with a murderous glint in his eyes.

"You!"

Yonas had a chill in his heart as he immediately swallowed what he wanted to say.

After what happened before, he could already tell that Leon was different from everyone else! Others would be afraid of the Thompsons' power, and would never hurt him so quickly, but Leon was not!

Leon did not seem to be afraid of the Thompsons, and did not care about who he was at all!

If he continued to anger Leon, Leon might end up continuing to harm him!

That would be no one's fault but his own!

It would do him no good at all!

"Alright, you can get lost now! For the sake of the Thompsons, I'll let you go for now! However, let me tell you this. This is the first and last time! If there's a second time, you won't be so lucky anymore!"

Since Yonas wisely shut his mouth, Leon scoffed as he dropped the matter!

After that, Yonas looked at Leon venomously, no longer daring to stay as he pathetically left with Fiona.

Other than that, Norm and SuUy's injuries already recovered quite a bit after the rest!

They slipped away with despondent looks on their faces, going after Yonas!

The battle finally ended with that!

On the other side, since the dust already settled, John and Chandler no longer needed to continue fighting. The two of them stopped and separated.

The next moment, John immediately walked over to Leon before kneeling!

"Mister Thompson, what are you doing?"

Leon was shocked when John suddenly knelt.

"Mister Wolf, I'm trying to apologize. You gave me the pills before, but I returned the favor by attacking you. This is my fault. Please assign me a punishment. It doesn't matter what you want, I'm willing to take it without any complaint," John said with a complicated expression.

"There's no need! You're just helping your master. I can understand how you feel! I don't blame you for this at all. Just get up!" Leon shook his head and reached out to help John up.

He knew that John and him were in very different positions. John was trying to protect Yonas for the sake of the Thompsons and the bigger picture. It was perfectly understandable!

Furthermore, John completely failed in the end, not stopping him from punishing Yonas!

Naturally, there was no need to blame John for something so small!
