

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2287

Chapter 2287

"Nonsense! You're not the person whose son died, so of course you can say all of this so lightly! If the roles were reversed and Yuri was the one who died, you would not be saying all of this at all!" August snapped, sneering.

"I-" Angus was rendered speechless by this.

"Angus, August is right! We have plenty of evidence holding Leon responsible for this, so there's no need for any further investigation! You and Roanne should both get out of our ways! I'm going to kill Leon Wolf with my bare hands and avenge Yonas's death!" a glimmer of malice flashed through Arthur's eyes at this.

Although he was always a man of integrity, he could no longer remain calm in the face of his only grandson being murdered. At this point, hatred and vengeance clouded his judgment and rendered him ruthless!

Besides, all evidence pointed to Leon's involvement, and no matter how hard anyone tried to convince him otherwise, he was certain that Leon was the murderer!

He would kill Leon no matter what, and would not allow any chance for Leon to escape before he could avenge Yonas's death!

"No! I won't do that!" Angus shook his head, his tone resolute.

"You! Are you insisting on disobeying me?" Arthur was beside himself with rage. When it came to Roanne's disobedience, he could let it slide and chalk it out to her naivety, but he could not do the same for Angus; Angus was the leader of the Thompsons' direct descendants, and his ranking within the family far surpassed any of the collateral descendants and even the two elders! Angus' decision represented their entire family, and now that Angus was insisting on crossing him, this changed everything entirely!

"Uncle Arthur, that was never my intention at all. However, Mister Wolf saved Roanne's life multiple times, and we are greatly indebted to him. I can't possibly let him pay the price for a crime he may not have committed, not before we get to the bottom of this," Angus replied.

"Very well then! Angus, I can't believe that you're choosing to ignore the truth of your nephew's murder, all because of your so-called debt to this man! What a selfish act! I'm going to give you one last chance. As the head of the family, I order both you and Roanne to get out of the way! If not, you will be banished from the family!" Arthur finally decided to bring out the big guns!

"What?" Angus' heart sank at this.

Ancient families like the Thompsons respected their heads of families very much, and if any member were to directly disobey the head of the family's orders, they would be met with serious punishment; this was a known fact.

From the moment he decided to stand on Leon's side, Angus was already mentally prepared to be met with Arthur's punishment, but he never once thought Arthur would choose to threaten him with such a hefty and serious punishment!

One could only imagine his shock at this! i
