The Ex-Husband's Revenge Chapter 391

Toward the end, she lost all her strength and collapsed into his arms.

It was not until Iris was close to suffocation that Leon reluctantly let go of her lips, ending the passionate . kiss.

“You jerk, that was my first kiss. How dare you just take it like that!” She flushed and punched him in the chest half-heartedly.

“First kiss? That’s not right! I took your first kiss a long time ago!” He muttered as he recalled kissing Iris the time before.

“Can you just let me finish? I can agree to be your girlfriend, but my grandpa and dad might not, which is why I need you to work hard for their approval!” She warned, feeling slightly concerned.

She fell for Leon long ago, but as their background differed, she could not bring herself to initiate a relationship.

Leon was merely an orphan without background, who was married before, so it was evident that her family would not agree to such a match.

Iris’s relationship with her father was not always harmonious, so she did not mind if her father objected to the relationship; however, she was always close with her grandfather and never disobeyed him in the past. If her grandfather refused Leon, she could be stuck at crossroads.

"Yeah. That's right!" Leon nodded, pleased by her way of addressing him, only realizing that he just admitted to losing control.

"You two!" Iris glared at Leon, desperately hoping that she could hide.

"Alright, the two of you. I came for something serious! We haven't trained today. Let's get started!" Louisa urged.

"Dad, stop!"

Brody's weak voice calmed Samuel immediately.

"Brody, you're finally awake. How? How do you feel now?" Samuel hurried over to the bed, all the while suppressing his anger.

"I—" Brody opened his mouth to speak but felt a lump in his throat when he remembered the fact that he was no longer a whole man.

"Brody, I know that you're upset right now. Even if it cost every last penny in this family, I'm going to tear Leon into pieces to avenge you!" Samuel slammed his fists onto the table and gritted out.

"Dad, I've thought things through after this. We need to stop while we still can. I don't want to drag our entire family into this mess! Besides, Leon has enraged Mister Lowe and Mister Collins and those two will deal with him. We just need to stay out of it." Brody said calmly.

He grew more mature after facing death and though Leon injured him, Brody managed to survive.

Even as an incomplete man, he knew that he could still enjoy life relying on his family's wealth, and that was still better than dying.

The situation spiraled out of control and Brody refused to risk the rest of his life foolishly. He knew that he was no match for Leon, and could only hope that Anson and Jacob would kill Leon one day.

'Perhaps this is karma!' She thought.

In the following days, the Shear Family announced that they would be launching a new pharmaceutical company called Cynthion Group. The official opening ceremony was to be held in three days and products such as Energy Nurturing Pills, Beauty Bills and Life-Prolonging Pills would be the main focus.

The Shear Family exhausted all resources for marketing through different channels and invited all important personnel of different families to attend the ceremony.

The news struck Springfield City like lightning.

While most families showed no interest in the new pharmaceutical branch, the magical effects of the pills advertised by the Shears shook everyone to the core and no one could decide if the Shears' claim was truthful.

Gilbert was the heir to the Young Family and since he was the leader amongst the second generation of the Youngs, he was far more respected than anyone in the third generation. Elder Young decided to show his respect for the Shears by sending Gilbert to the ceremony.

“Alright. Dad, there’s something else,” Gilbert said hesitantly with a serious expression, “a few days ago, Iris utilized the family’s forces to help that brat, Leon Wolf, and this could not mean anything good.”

He only learned that Iris used the family’s influence to help search for someone in Leon’s place, but he was not informed of further details.

“The Energy Nurturing Pills? What are the Shears up to? Are they claiming that they can produce alchemical pills that allow martial artists to level up faster?” Vincent stared at the invitation in awe.

“Dad, it’s true. I’ve seen the Energy Nurturing Pills before and took one. It works like magic!” Fane said. Ever since he took the Energy Nurturing Pill, he never stopped thinking of it. Seeing how the Shears were launching the pills as a product, meant that Leon did not lie to him.

“The Shears haven’t even launched it yet, so how could you have taken the pill?” Vincent questioned.

“Leon gave one to me,” Fane said.

Businessmen and members of wealthy families came for the Nurturing pills and Life–prolonging pills, while high–born ladies came for the Beauty pills.

The hall was packed with people as far as the eyes could see and Iris was stunned by the sight. “The Shears sure put a lot of effort into this!”

She glanced over and spotted countless familiar faces that came from powerful backgrounds, amazed by the Shear Family’s success in gathering anyone who meant anything in the city.

“Yeah, I didn’t expect to see this many people either,” Leon said, impressed by the influence of the Shear Family.

Despite the Shear Family’s efforts, Leon knew that they gambled on the effect of the alchemical pills. If the pills managed to capture the attention of all the guests, Cynthion Group would be famous overnight, securing its future ahead; however, if the pills failed to obtain their approval, it would be the end of Cynthion Group.

"Brat, how dare an orphan like you try to pursue Iris! Dream on!" Anson sneered in contempt.

After what happened, he looked into Leon's background and learned that not only was Leon an orphan, he was known to be a good-for-nothing. However, he remained baffled as to how Leon managed to befriend the Shears, the Youngs, and the son of the Southern King, Fane.

"That's not it! Mister Collins, you don't know this, but this kid's ex-wife cheated on him and chased him out of her house! Even a hound would be worthy of more! If I was him, I would've just killed myself!" A voice echoed within the all and Jacob walked over with a few of his men, all the while eyeing Leon warily.
