The Ex-Husband's Revenge Chapter 65

"Darling, why don't we have a look at another store if we can't find one here?" Marilyn suggested.

Brody shook his head. "There's no point. This shop is the largest and most famous one here. If there aren't any high-quality products here, it's even less likely for the other shops to have them. We'll just be wasting our time if we go there."

"What should we do then?" Marilyn's heart sank. She just got her marriage certificate with Brody two days ago, and it was the first time that Brody officially brought her home to meet his elders. Furthermore, it was also a very important occasion because it was a birthday banquet.

The

two of them needed to get a good birthday gift and make a good first impression. Substandard products simply could not cut it!

"How about we have a look at the raw jade stones over there? If we can find one that's good enough, we can always ask a master craftsman to carve the finished product in a couple of days. We can make it in time for grandpa's birthday banquet!" Brody pondered for a while and suggested.

He knew a thing or two about speculating on the value of raw gemstones. Although that was not his hobby, he could try his luck by buying a piece or two if he came across any raw jade stones that seemed to have good value. Another option would be to pay a high price if anyone offered to sell high-quality material
