Married at First Sight Chapter 2241-Liberty walked over and looked at the big and small, like a father and son.

She didn't wake them up right away, but looked around. The waiters had already packed everything before they got off work, and the restaurant was neat and tidy.

Today was the first day of the opening. In addition to her banqueting relatives and friends, there were also many people coming in for dinner. Throughout the day today, as long as anyone came in for dinner, she would give a discount and give a small gift.

Just now she calculated today's accounts, and the profit was much bigger than her All You Can Eat breakfast shop.

But today was just opening, and many people came here for today's distinguished guests.

Let's see what happened next.

Liberty believed that her All You Can Eat restaurant could surpass her All You Can Eat breakfast place.

After achieving one goal, she moved on to the next one.

Liberty gently pulled out a chair, sat down on the chair, and quietly watched the big and small who accompanied her to the end.

Everyone left, including her own sister, Serenity was pregnant, and Liberty wouldn't let her stay here until late at night. As early as after lunch, she asked her brother-in-law to take her back to rest.

Other relatives and friends also left one after another in the afternoon.

Accompanying her until late at night was her dependent son, and Duncan, who had admired her for nearly a year.

During his hospitalization, Duncan lost a lot of weight. After he was discharged from the hospital, he adjusted his mentality and became much more energetic. His lost flesh slowly grew back.

He often said that if he didn't insist on doing rehabilitation every day, he would grow into a big fat man if he kept growing like this.

He also asked Liberty, if he became a big fat man, would she like him? Liberty just laughed, and replied, "Even if Mr. Lewis becomes fat, many people will like him."

She didn't mention herself.

Duncan would often curl his lips and say, "It's not me who those people like, but my status, and how much benefit I can bring them."

Liberty asked him: "Aren't you afraid that I will also go after your status, are you a woman who worships money?"

Duncan would look at her with a smile, and said with a smile: "I'm not afraid, I think you are such a person, You are not that kind of person."

Liberty could only smile.

When they first met, she was a little embarrassed, and when they met again, she was still a little embarrassed.

He had seen her worst side. He never disliked her.

Seeing that he fell asleep, he still hugged Sonny's small body with both hands, for fear that Sonny would fall to the ground.

He really loved Sonny.

In his words, he liked the child Sonny first, and then paid more attention to Sonny's mother, that is, her.

"Mr. Lewis...Duncan..."

Liberty softly called the persistent man's name.

She stretched out her hand, wanting to touch Duncan's face, but she didn't dare. In the end, her hand fell on her son's immature face.

Touching her son's immature face lightly, the little guy didn't wake up, but moved.

As soon as Sonny moved, Duncan knew it.
