

The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 911

The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 911

Chapter 911

Restaurant

Cory looked at Ivy, who seemed to be spacing out, not knowing what she was thinking

Try focus on eating.” he said helplessly, and signaled Laura to get by a hot glass of milk

Try looked at Cory. Cory, Mommy said she doesn't hate her anymore, so why did she still kick him?”

Honestly

Cory knew more about academic stuff, and there were many things about adult relationships that he didn't understand either “Mommy said it was an accident because she had a nightmare” Cory patiently answered by continued to ponder.

Cory decided to let it go and leisurely finished his breakfast

ing to Bane Corporation today

some and the mentors at Bane Corporation had agreed on a meeting

However it was already eight o'clock and Uncle Jaime was still asleep

Cory thought for a moment

He slowly got up, preparing to wake Jaime up

Passing the living room

Cory was spotted by Paige

“Cory all done eating?”

Cory turned around facing the living room, and leisurely replied, “Yeah, now I’m going to wake Uncle Jaime up”

Page glanced at the time

“At this hour? Doesn't your Uncle Jaime usually get up in the afternoon?”

He's working at Wayne's company now, Rosalynn answered for Cory. “By the way, son, you're going to your dad's company today, right?”

Cory nodded and then corrected. I'm going to meet some mentors and learn from them”

Paige laughed. “Listen to my godson's ambition!

Rosalynn thought for a moment

She hadn't been to Bane Corporation for a long time either

“Son can Mommy go with you?” Rosalynn asked

Cory was taken aback, then nodded, “Sure, of course!”

“Okay, you go wake your uncle, and I watch your sister eat breakfast” Mother and son quickly divided their tasks

Cory walked toward the elevator

“Who would've thought that our slowpoke Cory is a genius in IT?” Paige's gaze followed Cory's slow movement and sighed genuinely Rosalynn slapped her on the butt, “Be serious, are you going to see Grant today?”

Page's smile disappeared instantly

“No” she replied

Really? Rosalynn was worried that she would sneak off and get bullied again

I hadn't insisted on my position from the beginning, they would have raised their demands later. It's one thing if it's just me, but now I'm married to Baille, and my troubles are his troubles”

Rosalynn was stunned

She thought Page wasn't going because she was considering her own situation “You've grown up. Rosalynn said, patting her knee and getting up. “Don't you have to go to the company too? It's almost time.”

11 go out with you guys “Paige collapsed on the sofa

Rosalynn smiled helplessly

She went to the restaurant to watch Ivy eat breakfast.

Of course Rosalynn explained again why she had to kick Wayne, patiently and with a smile on her face

But in her heart, she thought that the kick this morning was too soft

What on earth was Wayne thinking?

It was one thing for him to hold her sleeping but in the middle of the night, he moved Cory and by to the small bed

Upon hearing that they were going to Bane Corporation building. Ivy's eyes suddenly sparkled, and she quickly finished her breakfast

Then she went back to her room to change clothes

Are you so excited to see Dad Rosalynn leaned against the doorframe of the dressing room, arms crossed, and asked by with a smile.

Chapter 912

Ivy mumbled. "No, mommy got it wrong. Ivy is going to see the girls in the office. They're all nice and give me candy"

Really""

Rosalynn was slightly stunned.

The only place with girls in Wayne's office would be the CEO's office.

Before she joined Bane Corporation, Wayne's CEO's office was all male employees

About a month after she joined, all the men except for special assistant Sean were transferred.

Wayne didn't arrange any new people and let her choose and arrange them herself.

So of course, she chose pretty girls

After that, the top level of Bane Corporation became colorful.

Except when Wayne was there, it was rarely dull

By the time she came to her senses, Ivy had already changed her clothes

Ivy had grown up and wasn't as in love with skirts as before.

Today, she wore a pair of overalls, and casually tied a braid in front of the mirror

Then, she seemed to think of something, sighed heavily, lowered her head, and her shoulders drooped.

"What's wrong?" Rosalynn asked.

Uncle Calvin is still not back. Tying a braid is so difficult," she complained

Rosalynn's eyes flickered

Then she went to Ivy and said, "Mommy will do it for you. How about a little ponytail?"

Ivy nodded.

“Mommy, when will Uncle Calvin be back? Is he still on a special mission? Ivy sends him videos, but he doesn’t answer,” Ivy sat on a small stool, dejectedly asked, “Does he know now Ivy misses him?”

Rosalynn’s eyelids drooped

She couldn’t help but want to cry

If Ivy knew she would never see Uncle Calvin again, she would be heartbroken

“Uncle Calvin knows, he loves Ivy the most, he must know.” Rosalynn tried to make her tone as light as possible.

Ivy nodded.

Although she didn’t get a response from Uncle Calvin, she sent him voice messages every day.

She thought that this way, even if Uncle Calvin was on a mission, he wouldn’t miss her daily updates

Rosalynn carefully tied Ivy’s ponytail

She even chose a hairpin that matched the overalls

However, her skills were far from Calvin’s

“It’s so pretty!”

Ivy, as always, praised everything mommy did non-stop

“Mommy is so amazing, so skillful”

“It would be great if mommy could do my hair every day!”

“Mommy is so good at choosing hairpins, this one is Ivy’s favorite!”

Rosalynn’s face turned red from the compliments

Jaime casually groomed himself and was lying on the couch, dozing off.

When Cory saw Rosalynn coming downstairs, he woke Jaime up.

Then the family left the house.

Paige’s destination was in the opposite direction of Rosalynn’s, s

o she got into her own car

“Drive slowly.” Rosalynn reminded her outside the car, “If someone keeps bothering you there and you’re too embarrassed to ask Baille for help, just come to me”

“Okay,” Paige nodded, then waved to Cory and try with a smile, “Babies, have fun!”

Ivy replied sweetly but loudly, “Godmom, you have a happy day tool”

Paige happily laughed and responded, then drove away

Jaime complained from the passenger seat

Chapter 913

1 thought you two were gonna go on and on till noon before stopping”

Ivy got in the car and seriously said to Jaime. Uncle Jaime with this straight man attitude of yours, you’re never gonna find a girlfriend! What a waste of that good-looking face!” Both Jaime and Rosalynn stared at Ivy in surprise

Who taught you to talk like this? Your godmother? Jaime asked

11 was the granny at the barbecue place!” by explained with pride

Did your godparents take you guys out for barbecue?” Rosalynn asked casually

Cory covered his forehead, while

Ivy laughed awkwardly

Busted

She had made a deal with her godmother that day.

This was something they absolutely couldn’t tell Mommy

Sorry godmother!

Little did Paige know she had been sold out by her goddaughter, humming all the way t o the office.

Paige’s company was now in a rented office space

It was only recently that they had gathered all the staff and started operations.

Because of the troubles surrounding her, she hadn’t held any grand opening ceremony.

She planned to do so once the building was completed.

She had been here many times, and 1

he receptionist on the first floor recognized her.

Upon seeing her enter, she greeted her immediately.

Page responded politely, but before she could reach the elevator gate, the front desk clerk came running out.

President Owens, there's someone looking for you over there," she said, with a hint of sympathy in her expression? Page followed her gaze T here were quite a few people sitting in the lounge area of the lobby.

Paige

Before Paige could react, a familiar voice rang out from the crowd.

Then, she saw a thinner, more aged Peyton, who got up and ran towards her

Paige's smile froze for a moment

As Peyton approached Paige came to her senses, "Why are you here? No, what are you doing here?"

"I'm your mother can't I come to your company to see you?" Peyton said with tears in her eyes, I never thought that after all the hardships I went through to raise you, you would turn out like this Do you not care about your mother at all?"

The receptionist looked a bit awkward, b ut she didn't move, seemingly enjoying the drama

Paige snorted coldly, feeling speechless, "We won't talk about how you raised me for now. I don't care about you? I've given you money, with transfers totaling tens of millions. The villa you're living in now, the Hermes bag you're holding, aren't they bought by me? Is that not caring about you? Mom, don't push it!"

Peyton's face stiffened, then she glared at Paige, tears streaming down her face, "Alright, are you trying to settle accounts with your own mother now?"

First of all we've already severed our mother-daughter relationship Secondly, yes, I do want to settle accounts with you. Do you dare to do it?" Paige asked word by word She never expected that Peyton would show up at her company!

This immediately reminded Paige of those parents who would go to their children's work place and make a scene if they didn't give them money

She never thought Peyton would be this kind of mother

Chapter 914

"Mrs. Sutton, how's your chat with your daughter going? When will you pay back the money you owe us for the construction work?" At this moment, people sitting in the relax area stood up and walked towards them.

They looked like a bunch of gangsters.

Paige glanced at them, her gaze finally landing on Peyton's face.

"So, this was never about alimony. You wanted to trick me into going to Grant's company and force me to pay these people?"

"Your Uncle Sutton has raised you for so many years "Peyton didn't look at Paige, her eyes downcast, lacking confidence as she spoke, "There's a total of 736 million in debt here. You you just give it to them"

736 million?" Paige laughed incredulously, "Mom, do you think I'm an ATM? You just throw a debt of over 7 million at me like a's nothing? Are you even my real mom? Why are you treating me like this?"

The little bit of affection and longing for her mother, held together by fantasy and possibility, crumbled in an instant

Listen, you two can argue in a bit We're all waiting for the construction money to put food on our tables "The leader of the group spoke with a rascal attitude, staring at Paige with a very unfriendly tone. If we can't get the money today, I won't be able to fulfill my duties, and I have to take it out on your mom"

Whatever The money you're owed is not my problem. I don't have

Paige said and walked away

Seeing this, Peyton quickly grabbed her sleeve. "Paige, don't be like this. You can ignore me, but if they don't get their money today, they'll really take me away!"

What about the money I gave you?" Paige asked

Peyton once again avoided her gaze

Paige understood, "You gave to Grant?"

Peyton snapped angrily. "So why did you make our business partners terminate their contracts with the family company? If it wasn't for these people, your Uncle Sutton wouldn't have a cash shortage!"

Paige was taken aback.

"It's the Sutton family who crossed the line first, angering my friends, and now it's my fault?" She scoffed, "My dad's death benefit, was all given to you by grandma, and you gave it to Grant. Now you take the money I gave you for your retirement and give it to Grant too. Do you love him that much?"

"Paige, this is the first and last time I'm asking you for money. You... Peyton seemed not to have heard what Paige was saying, gripping her arm and crying as she begged.

I don't have the money Paige tried to shake her hand off

Peyton then shouted, "You can borrow it! Your friend is rich, isn't she? Her husband is Wayne, a few million is nothing to them!"

Paige felt her blood freeze

She suddenly thought of Baillie, and a thought emerged in her heart

Luckily, the Sutton family didn't know about Baillie's background, or it would be real trouble.

"Let go!" Paige tried to reclaim her hand.

Peyton was also angered by her actions.

"Don't think I don't know You rented such a prime office location, bought land to build a new building, can't you afford 7 million? Paige, don't blame me for being too harsh as a mother if you don't give me the money today, I die right here!"

More and more onlookers were gathering around.

Paige looked at Peyton, who seemed like a stranger, a crazy woman

Paige took out her phone

With practiced ease, she dialed a number

It rang twice and was answered.

“Paige Grant’s voice came through

Page stared at Peyton

Her tone was ice cold. “Grant, you’re truly despicable

Chapter 915

Grant chuckled on the other side of the phone, Paige you got it all wrong. Your mom came willingly I tried to stop her, but she insisted, saying you’re her daughter and it’s your duty and responsibility’

Paige’s gaze stayed on Peyton, “Really? You didn’t force her?”

“Of course not! You know me, I’m not that kind of person But yeah, it’s true that our investments pulled out, causing a financial shortage and we couldn’t pay the workers. Your mom’s freaking out about it Look if you have the money, just lend it to us, and pay you back later”

Paige chuckled and hung up the phone

“I only ask you once, Paige stared intently at Peyton, Did he force you, or did you come to me on your own?”

Peyton looked at her, tears rolling down her face. “Uncle Sutton and we’re family” she sobbed

“Answer me Paige demanded. If you want the money, tell me the truth!”

Peyton pouted and reluctantly told the truth, “If I didn’t come, he’d divorce me.

Paige took a deep breath, suppressing her anger, “So what’s wrong with divorce? I’ve given you so much money, and you have all those jewels and houses.”

“I can’t handle a divorce” Peyton shook her head, crying

Paige clenched her fists. “I need to think about this,” she said solemnly

“How long?” Peyton asked anxiously

“President Owens, we don’t have much time.

“7 million? You think it’s just gonna fall from the sky?” Paige cut off the thug’s words

From her experience, this guy was definitely someone Logan Sutton found to scare Peyton and herself

“What’s with your attitude? Are you “the thug’s eyes widened when he heard Paige speaking so rudely

What attitude should I have when you’re trying to rob me?” Paige stared fearlessly at him, “If you dare to touch me, you won’t get a single cent.”

“Go back, I’ll contact you when I’ve made a decision,” Paige said to Peyton

But then

Paige, can you get the money today? Just call Ms. Jared and have her write a check!” Peyton still clung to Paige, looking pained Trust me, if she finds out you brought all these people to ask me for money, the Sutton family and you are done for “Paige pried Peyton’s hand off her fingers one by one

Then, without looking back, she walked into the elevator gate

Ignoring the curious or mocking looks from people around her, she went straight into the elevator

After the morning meeting. Paige returned to her office

She had a lot of pending matters to deal with and today would be very busy

Despite that, when she opened the first file she found herself unable to concentrate.

In fact, she did have the money Peyton needed in her personal account

In the past, she had never been stingy with giving money to Peyton, and even now, if Peyton needed money for personal expenses, she would give it

But if the money was to help Grant cover his losses, she wouldn’t! However, Peyton’s pitiful crying face kept appearing in her mind What would Grant do to Peyton if she didn’t get the money? She picked up her phone and stared at the dialpad for a while.

In the end, she put it back down

She had thought about calling Logan and asking him to persuade his father, but she quickly gave up on the idea. Could Logan really stand up to Grant?

Chapter 916

She sat there for a while

Her phone kept vibrating, all from messages sent by Peyton using a different phone

Paige didn’t read any of them, she didn’t want to Seeing that testing didn't work. Peyton called her after a while

Paige took a deep breath

She answered the call What do you want? I'm working!

"Sweetie Moms begging your Peyton cried out, her voice very low. Ive seen Grant's true colors now If you give me the money, I divorce him right away!"

Paige was stunned Really?

"Actually, this debt is under my name because of him I wouldn't have come to you other wise, honey" Peyton said through tears.

"Mom, Grant is not a good person. He's fine when there's money and no trouble, but on ce there's trouble and no money, he'll be the first one to push you out to take the fat Pai ge said solemnly. If you want to divorce. Hi hire the best divorce lawyer for you!"

"Okay" Peyton cried, "We'll give him the money today and divorce tomorrow!"

"Mom "Paige suddenly called her

What's wrong?"

Paige was silent for a moment Tm just thinking, you wouldn't be lying to me, would you ?"

Peyton quickly replied "How could I be to you? He sent me to jall and forced me to ask my daughter for money. I've had someone as good as your father I can see through him now! At the mentioning of her father,

Paige felt sad

If her father was still here, how could they have fallen to this point?

"Alright, I'll trust you one last time Paige said seriously. "But remember, if you use the di vorce as a scam, you'll completely cut off the last bit of our mother-daughter relationship"

1 won't lie to you, Mom won't lie to you "Peyton hurriedly answered

After hanging up the phone,

Paige sat there, silent for a long time.

To be honest, she wasn't a fool. Peyton was just crying about not being able to divorce, and now she was saying shell divorce after getting the money

It was too suspicious

But.

she really wanted to gamble on one possibility

She didn't believe her mom could really be that cruel to her.

She was her mom after all.

At noon

Paige booked a nearby restaurant serving food that Peyton liked

Peyton went there first.

As soon as Paige walked in, Peyton immediately stood up. "Did you get the money?"

"Let's eat first"

Paige sat down and said, "Mom, the house you guys are living in now, I bought it. I've talked to the lawyer, and I can revoke my donations, including the money I gave you, and get it back."

Peyton was taken aback

Paige looked at her and smiled, "During the divorce, I can get all this back for you. Then you can live a wealthy, unattached life without any restrictions"

Peyton lowered her eyes and smiled, "Alright, I'll listen to you!"

Paige continued. "I'm really busy lately, and your divorce case might take some time. After it's over, I take you skiing with Baillie."

Peyton's expression turned a bit sour when she heard about the name Baillie.

It was after meeting this man that Paige became the disobedient and rebellious person she was now

"Sweetie, this young guy isn't living off you, is he?" Peyton asked with some dissatisfaction

Chapter 917

"He makes his own money," Paige answered flatly

It's just temporary, right? The house and car are yours, right? That guy looks cunning and he is prone to using violence. He even beat up your two brothers, and my prison thing

Peyton's voice suddenly stopped

She realized that she had mentioned the prison thing on the phone because of Grani.

"What about the prison thing?" Paige looked at her Peyton shook her head. Forget it, I don't want to think about that unlucky stuff for even a moment."

"Hmm."

Paige responded

The meal was very quiet

The mother and daughter had little to say

Peyton felt uneasy

Naturally, the atmosphere was quite depressing

Daughter, those people are still wading "In the end, Peyton couldn't sit still and reminded her indirectly

Page put down her fork

She looked at Peyton. "Mom, did you really hear everything I said on the phone?"

Peyton nodded repeatedly. "Of course, I got it."

What would happen if you lied to me?" Paige asked.

Peyton was stunned for a moment, then said, "Our mother-daughter relationship would be cut off completely. I know that"

"Good, as long as you know." Paige opened her wallet and started looking for something as she spoke, "I've moved dad's grave take you to see him tomorrow"

"Great"

Peyton's eyes were fixed on Paige's wallet

A moment later,

Page took out a check

Peyton, as if afraid she would change her mind, grabbed it immediately

Paige really wished there were cameras in the restaurant to record her actions and expressions

Peyton quickly confirmed the amount

Then she put the check in her purse, and her face finally had a smile, no longer full of worry.

“You said you moved your dad’s grave?” she asked

“Yeah, the environment there wasn’t good

Before Paige could finish,

Peyton’s phone rang.

She immediately interrupted Paige: Those people are calling They’re probably urging me to give them the money. I’ll go give them the money first, then come back and find you, okay?”

Paige looked at her, and she blinked lightly

Before she could answer.

Peyton hurriedly picked up her purse and left.

Paige sat in the private room, sipping the cold tea

Peyton couldn’t hide her mistakes Just now, she saw Peyton’s caller ID, clearly her husband calling. How could it be those people?

Right Grant and those people were in the same group, so they also counted as those people

Peyton took the check and went to the basement, where

Grant’s car was parked in a corner

After getting in the car, she happily handed the check to Grant: Paige didn’t have it otherwise She borrowed it from her friends. That kid is just stubborn, but she still cares about me

Grant glanced at the check

If you didn't mention divorce, let's see if she would give it to you" Grant started the car as he spoke.

Peyton was stunned, Wait, I have to go back!"

"Go back"" Grant frowned at her What for?"

I promised her that after delivering the check, I would go back and have dinner with her Peyton replied

Grant was impatient, but still coaxed Peyton. "Honey, we need to cash the check as soon as possible to avoid other troubles"

With that, Grant drove off without waiting for Peyton's consent

Peyton sat there, looking back, and finally chose to remain silent, not getting out of the car to keep her promise with her daughter On the other hand, Rosalynn's group arrived at Bane Corporation very discreetly

Today, Wayne returned, and the top and middle management of Bane Corporation all went to the president's conference room

Chapter 918

Rosalynn, wearing a mask and sunglasses, took Cory to the information Engineering Department without anyone recognizing her

After settling Cory in, Rosalynn went straight to the top floor with Ivy

As luck would have it, when she stepped out of the elevator, she bumped into Sean who was about to enter

Although she was wearing a mask and sunglasses, Sean still recognized her after a moment of hesitation.

He stepped back, "Maam"

Rosalynn led by out and gestured to Ivy to greet him, "Say hi to Uncle Sean"

Hi Uncle Sean"

Ivy's voice was super cute

Sean was a bit stunned by the “Uncle Sean” greeting, and after a moment, he reacted with a look of horror on his face

Rosalynn smiled

“Ah, I don’t think I have access to the president’s office. Can you help me with the fingerprint scan?” Rosalynn pointed in the direction of the president’s office

Sean hurried over, puzzled

What was going on?

He hadn’t even met this lady before

Where did this inexplicable familiarity come from?

Was it just because of the looks?

When it came to looks, he couldn’t help but think of Secretary Tesdal

He glanced at Ivy with the corner of his eye.

Judging by the child’s age, she should have been born before Secretary Tesdal passed away, since President Silverman was bedridden for half a year afterward.

“Ma’am, I’ll give you access, and you can record your fingerprint for future convenience. Sean swiped his card and said to Rosalynn.

His tone wasn’t very friendly. What good tone could he use towards someone who took away Secretary Tesdal’s beloved?

“Sure”

She would need to go check on Cory Later.

It was indeed better to have access

“Please record your fingerprint here,” Sean gestured

Rosalynn went over and habitually placed her index finger on the scanner.

Next to the fingerprint machine was a small screen that displayed employee information after swiping.

As soon as Rosalynn’s finger touched the scanner, the door opened with a beep.

On the small screen appeared the employee information card belonging to the fingerprint.

“Rosalynn, President’s secretary

Sean was dumbfounded

Rosalynn was also a bit surprised, looking at Sean, “Has this machine not been changed for five years?”

Sean shook his head mechanically, “The system hasn’t been changed President Silverman doesn’t allow Secretary Tesdals information to be deleted”

1 see “Rosalynn shrugged, then looked at the dumbfounded Sean and smiled, reaching out her hand, Sean, long time no see”

Sean, trembling reached out his hand,

He held Rosalynn’s hand

In that instant, he felt like crying

1st really you?” he asked

Rosalynn pointed to the information card. “This can’t lie.”

“Secretary Tesdal Sean, with red eyes and a laughing face, was so emotional that he looked like he was about to cry

Ivy clung to Rosalynn’s leg

She looked at this strange Uncle Sean, puzzled, was he going to laugh or cry?

“Oh no!” Sean suddenly seemed to remember something. “Secretary Tesdal let’s catch up later, I have to go to the HR department right now!”

With that. Sean hurried into the elevator

Rosalynn faintly heard him mumbling, something about a resignation report

Chapter 919

HR department?”

Rosalynn mumbled in confusion

Ivy held her thumb and shook it “Mommy, why did he call you Secretary Tesdal?”

Rosalynn reached out and pinched Ivy’s chubby cheek

It's a long story, Mommy will tell you later Let's go see the girls you want to meet first, okay?"

Ivy nodded vigorously

Then she let go of Rosalynn and ran inside

Rosalynn stood at the door, looking at her employee information card once more

The person in the photo on the card looked gentle and tender, completely different from herself now.

It had been a long time since she had seen herself like that, and suddenly she felt a sense of separation

Wayne hadn't been back to the company for a long time.

Today he suddenly came back and the atmosphere in the president's office was very tense

Emily had just returned from the conference room

She brought back a bunch of materials that had to be sorted out today and distributed to various departments

As she was assigning tasks to her colleagues.

someone poked her waist lightly from behind

Emily turned around in surprise, and when she saw the little girl behind her, she was stunned

"Do you still remember me?" Ivy asked sweetly

Emily suddenly realized. "Ivy, when did you come?"

"Just now"

President Silverman I mean, does your dad know you're here?" Emily remembered that the last time this young lady came, she sneaked in Ivy shook her head.

Emily's legs went weak

This little princess really didn't know the dangers of the world!

A cute little kid like her running around without a parent's company could easily get kidnapped and sold!

"Tvy honey, I'll call your dad right away!" Emily said, immediately picking up the phone to call the conference room.

"No need "At this moment, a pleasant voice came from the side

Emily and her colleagues looked over in surprise, and t hey became even more confused.

"Mommy!" Ivy ran to Rosalynn and held her hand. This is Emily Last time Ivy came here , Emily braided my hair very nicely!"

"Really?" Rosalynn smiled gently

"Ms Jared Emily quickly greeted

Rosalynn glanced at the files piled up next to her "We just came to take a look. Don't mind us, get back to your work, and please don't bother President Silverman in his meeting"

"Okay "Emily pointed to Wayne's office President Silverman's office is this one"

Rosalynn nodded

The president's office hadn't changed at all over the years.

She remembered that when she resigned, Wayne brought Ashley to replace her position.

In just a few days. Ashley had thrown out the plants she had arranged in the president's office and replaced them with new ones

Now the plants here were back to how they were when she was here

Rosalynn's gaze finally rested on the closed secretary's office door

"Who's using that office now?" Rosalynn casually asked

Emily glanced at it the expression on her face changed instantly That office is vacant" in the eyes of those who didn't know the truth, Rosalynn and the current Mrs. Gabriella Silverman looked very similar

On the internet, the hype about Secretary Tesdal had been escalating recently Those who hated Gabriela wanted to spread the love story between Secretary Tesdal and President

Silverman far and wide

Emily didn't believe that this Mrs Silverman wouldn't know

This question was a difficult one for her

No matter how she answered, as long as Mrs Silverman was even slightly upset and complained to President Silverman

She would become the unlucky scapegoat!

"You go ahead"

Chapter 920

After Rosalynn finished speaking, she held Ivy's hand, gently talked to her, and walked towards the president's office

Emily lowered her head

"My career is over," she said, looking at her colleagues

But her colleagues were all super excited

"OMG, she's even prettier in person than in the video!" Colleague A exclaimed in a low voice

I've never seen Secretary Tesdal in person, but seeing Ms. Jared today, well it's hard to find anyone who can compare to her, right? Her looks, figure, and temperament are all so amazing!"

"She's also so smart Is there anything that she cannot do?"

Ivy said she wanted to come and hang out with the sisters in the president's office

In reality.

after entering Wayne's office, she never left

She took an online class for a full hour

While her mom was busy working, she sneaked a cookie and then sprawled on the couch, snoring away

Rosalynn came back after answering a phone call and she saw Ivy sleeping so sweetly

She couldn't help but feel a mixed of emotions

taking a small blanket from her bag and covering Ivy's stomach

It was time for her to check on Cory, and

Rosalynn tiptoed out

Emily and others looked at her. "Ms. Jared, do you need any help?"

Rosalynn smiled. The little one is asleep. I'm going to check on her brother. If she wakes up before I come back, please let her know I went to see her brother."

Her brother??

Emily and the others were amazed

President Silverman's son came too?

Why didn't he come with his mom?? Where could a child so young go to play at Bane Corporation?

Of course, they couldn't ask these questions

They could only accept Rosalynn's request and watch her leave.

It was a coincidence

When Rosalynn arrived at the target floor, s he happened to see Wayne's high-priced hires taking a smoke break outside.

"I'm so confused this morning," one of them said, blowing a smoldering

Another one in a plaid shirt rubbed his shiny forehead, "It's a good thing that the younger generation is strong"

Dillon, in this kid too strong? When he came, he was so clueless about what I told him, but now I feel like he's getting it! The man speaking was wearing a pair of glasses with a very thick prescription

These three really did look like the stereotypical programmers

Honestly, at first, I wanted to secretly take this kid as my apprentice before you guys, but now I don't dare" Dillion with the shiny forehead took a deep drag of his cigarette, looking very melancholic

Damn, you actually wanna do that!"

"Don't tell me you guys didn't have this idea Dillion snorted

The other two were obviously guilty

Before Rosalynn came down, she sent a message to Jaime

As they were talking, Jaime quickly walked out

The three who had just been full of emotions,

all looked over at the same time

Seeing Rosalynn.

their faces turned red at a noticeably fast speed

Dillon

guys smoki

nephews mom

Nice to meet you Ms. Jared "D

rosadly introdu I them. My sist