

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 107 A Shameless Man

Sarah felt a little uncomfortable when she heard what Syrus said about Christian. She immediately explained, "He went back to the army. It will take him some time to come back. "

"Then you can't go on like this! When will your husband come back?"

"He will be back in 13 days. . . "

She wished that tonight would be the day she broke the agreement with Christian. That way, she would be able to get rid of Julian's entanglement with her.

In fact, the reason why she insisted on leaving Christian was not only because of the agreement between them, but Julian was also one of the most important reasons.

"Thirteen days?" Syrus tapped on the steering wheel with his long fingers. After thinking for a while, he looked at her and smiled. "Then I will send you to work tomorrow."

Sarah was a little surprised to hear his words and immediately rejected him. "How can that be? I am only your secretary. I can go to work myself. . . "

Syrus smiled. "When I go to work, you are my secretary. But now it is time to get off work. You are only my friend, understand?"

"That won't do either! Besides, what the CEO did. . . If your girlfriend finds out, she will definitely misunderstand you. . . " Sarah hurriedly rejected him, saying that she could not let him receive her no matter what.

Syrus smiled and covered his chest with a little sadness as he sighed. "Sarah, I'm a little disappointed. I don't have a girlfriend."

After he said that, he said with regret, "Sigh, I'm so handsome that I don't even have a girlfriend. No one would believe me if I told anyone."

Sarah was amused by his narcissistic words. She also did not quite believe his words. "The CEO is such a handsome person and his family is so good. How can he not have a girlfriend?"

"Really not!" Syrus shook his head again with certainty.

"Is it because the president doesn't want to look for her?" With his superior's qualifications, once he opened his mouth, the people who pursued him would definitely go after him one after another, right?

"It's not that I don't want to find her, but I won't be able to find someone I like. I am a person who would rather love than to be rotten. It was not easy for me to meet one, and in the end, when I met her, she even got married. . . Do you think I am miserable?"

After saying that, Syrus looked at her thoughtfully and then withdrew his gaze.

"Who do you like? Maybe I can help you if you tell me!" Sarah looked at him enthusiastically.

"Yes, I like people with big eyes. They are cute and have a good heart. Their skin should be whiter and not too tall. They should be about the same height as you." After saying that, he didn't forget to add: "My condition isn't too high, right?"

Sarah asked him a little stupidly, "Then what are your requirements for the family?"

"I don't have any requirements, because I don't lack money, and I don't care what family the other party is from. I only care if I like it or not."

"Really? Then why don't I introduce one to you?"

Sarah suddenly thought of her good friend Kendall and her relationship with David. Although David had already explained it to her, she still felt somewhat indebted to her in her heart.

The Syrus beside her not only had good looks, but his family background was also good, and he also had a good heart. Most importantly, during the period of her employment, she had never heard of him spreading any unconventional news to anyone.

Syrus did not think that he would do it unintentionally.

With just one sentence, this girl actually took it seriously, so he nodded his head in a joking manner. "Okay! It can't be your twin sister, right?"

"No! She's my best friend! She's prettier than me, taller than me, and better at doing things than me!" Sarah really felt that Syrus might fall in love with her friend.

"Then forget it! I don't like girls who do things too well!" Syrus directly refused.

"Why?" Sarah looked at him in confusion and asked. She did not understand.

"You also know that I have three older sisters. They can tell me. Each of them is more capable than the other. I think there are only a few girls in this city who can surpass them. If I find another one like this, I will definitely be tired of aesthetics." Syrus explained with a smile.

"Oh, what you said makes sense. . ." Sarah nodded her head in understanding.

The car finally stopped in front of Sarah's community. She thanked Syrus and got out of the car. She smiled and waved at him. Syrus then started the car and left quickly.

Seeing his car disappear, Sarah turned around and walked to the entrance of the residential area. She walked towards her house.

The original few minutes of journey was almost half the distance Sarah had walked. When she turned around a residential building and reached her house, she suddenly heard hurried footsteps behind her. Before Sarah realized what was going on, someone grabbed her wrist tightly. "Sarah!"

Julian's voice came from behind again in horror. Sarah immediately looked back and found that it was indeed him!

"Julian! Let go!" Sarah raised her hand and started to struggle with all her might, but before long, both of her hands were tightly grabbed by him.

"Sarah, I don't have any other intentions. I just want to have a good talk with you once. Can't you just give me a chance?" Julian looked at her imploringly.

"You bastard! Let go! Don't you know that I am your sister-in-law?" Sarah angrily stared at him and looked at the people who kept walking past her. She was very nervous.

"Of course I know! But I also know that you were once my girlfriend. If it wasn't for me. . . How could Big Brother marry you? Sarah, Big Brother and you are only husband and wife in name. What kind of happiness can you have with him? Can you give me one last chance?"

It was unknown if it was because he could not get it, but the more Sarah refused him, Julian's desire for her became stronger and stronger.

He wanted to see if he could break free.

Sarah helplessly compromised. "Okay, then let me go first! I will go with you!"

"Really?"

"Yes!" Sarah nodded heavily.

"Okay, then come with me now!" Julian was not that stupid. He just let go of one of her hands and dragged her to the side of his car.

Sarah held the bag with one hand and was forcefully dragged by Julian with the other. Seeing him car getting closer and closer, she lowered her head to look at his calf and used all her strength to kick at his calf!

Julian frowned and his leg also involuntarily bent. His body instantly became shorter, but he did not let go of the hand that was holding Sarah.

He turned his head and was about to say something when Sarah held her bag and smashed it at his face.

Bang!

The moment Julian's face was hit by the bag, he felt something scratch his eyelids, bringing a sharp pain. He screamed in pain and let go of Sarah's hand.

Once her body was freed, Sarah grabbed the bag and ran towards her house with all her might.

"Sarah!"

Julian covered his eyes with his hands and quickly stood up. He unwillingly chased after Sarah and ran out a few steps. He felt something wet flowing down from his eyes, so he had to stop. He took his hand away from his eyes and saw what was in front of him. He frowned slightly, turned around, walked to the side of the car, opened the door, and sat inside.

He wiped it with a tissue and looked into the rearview mirror. Only then did he realize that Sarah had cut a small wound on his right eye's eyelid with the hard object wrapped around it. He watched the blood flow down the corner of his eye. He used a tissue to cover his eyes with one hand and used the other hand to quickly start the car and drive in the direction of the hospital.

...

Syrus really did what he said. From the next morning onwards, he came to pick up Sarah to work. Although she insisted on taking the bus, Syrus was not moved by her words. He still came to pick her up every day. Because of him, and the last time she smashed Julian's eyes with her bag, in the next few days, Julian did not appear again.

In the blink of an eye, it was the weekend again. Sarah received a call from her coach saying that she could go and get her driver's license. After breakfast, she took her bag and went to get her driver's license. On the way back, she received a call from an unknown number. She picked it up and looked at it. Without thinking much, she pressed the answer button.

"Hello!" Because she did not know who the other party was, Sarah was the first to speak.

"Sarah, I am your Aunt Brown!" It was David's mother's voice that came from the phone.

"Hello, Aunt Brown! What can I do for you?" When Mrs. Brown called her, Sarah instantly felt flattered. But then she remembered what her mother said the other day and felt a little nervous.

"Oh, it's like this Sarah. I have something I want to ask you to help me with. Can you come over?" Mrs. Brown did not say anything.

"Now?"

"Yes! Do you have time now?"

"Alright! Please tell me the location. I'll be there in a moment." Since it was Mr. David's mother, she would definitely try her best to help. Sarah readily agreed.

When Mrs. Brown heard her words, she immediately told her where she was at. Sarah put away the phone and stopped a taxi by the side of the road towards the coffee shop Mrs. Brown talked about.

Because it was not too far away, the car arrived in less than 20 minutes. Sarah paid the fare and took the bag into the coffee shop by the road.

As soon as she walked in, she saw Mrs. Brown sitting by the window. Sarah immediately walked over quickly. Only then she realized that there was also a very fashionable beauty sitting on the sofa opposite Mrs. Brown

"Aunt Brown!" Sarah smiled and greeted Mrs. Brown.

"Oh my, Sarah is here? Quickly sit! Quickly sit!" Mrs. Brown saw Sarah and immediately got up to let her sit beside her. She smiled and introduced the girl opposite to Sarah.

"Sarah, this is David's girlfriend. Her name is Mila. When Auntie was waiting for you here, she happened to be here too. Mila, this is the David's sister that I often mentioned to you. Sarah!"

Mrs. Brown's words made Sarah's heart sink, but she still maintained a bit of composure on her face. She looked at the girl opposite her and nodded slightly, "Hello!"

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.