

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 32 What's Wrong with you Baby?

Vivian looked at Sarah and curled her lips in disdain. She looked at Julian beside her and was a little angry. She reached out to take the cheque of five million.

“Are you crazy? Five million! One million is enough for her!” As she spoke, she reached out to put the cheque into her bag but Julian took it over.

“The funds in the company are tight recently. Give it to me first!”

“Why did you give her so much money if the funds were tight?” Vivian asked in a depressed tone.

“I know she won't take it!”

Vivian heard his words and could not help but laugh, “You really know her well!”

Julian looked at her and then looked at the direction of the door. He was a little depressed. “What if she does not want to divorce my Brother?”

“If she doesn’t want to divorce, then forget it. She doesn’t have any relationship with Christian. With Christian’s bad temper, no one can tolerate him! Who knows, she might take the initiative to propose a divorce soon!”

“Well, what you said makes sense!” Julian nodded in agreement. He looked at Vivian and said, “Let’s go back.”

Vivian sat and did not move.

“What’s wrong?” Julian looked at her in confusion.

Vivian looked at him with a slightly depressed expression. “I even have a child with you. You still refuse to propose me. Do you really want your son to have no father? Have you never thought of marrying me?” Marrying into the Cooper family had always been her dream. Now that she finally had a child as a bargaining chip, she had to seize the opportunity no matter what.

Julian couldn't help but laugh when he heard her words. He held her hand in his palm and rubbed it. “Look at what you said. If I don't want to marry you, I won't fall out with Sarah, right?”

“When are you going to bring me to register?”

Christian married Sarah on the first day they met. Do you know that he was trying to show off to you? If you don't marry me, he will definitely laugh me to death!”

This was a good opportunity for her, and she could not let it go.

“Even if we go and register for our wedding, we have to wait until Big Brother and Sarah’s wedding.” This matter was a little urgent and Julian had never considered it.

“What does his marriage have to do with you? Besides, registering is very simple. As long as the two of us agree, it will be done today! You just don’t want to marry me... Since that’s the case... Then let’s talk it out! You go on your path, I’ll go on my single wooden bridge!” Vivian pouted and stood up, pretending to pick up her bag and leave.

“Oh, Baby! What’s wrong with you? Let’s have a good talk, don’t be angry! What if it affects the fetus?” Once Vivian stood up, Julian immediately held her shoulder carefully and let her sit back down.

Vivian’s tears instantly gushed out and she said with grievance, “You definitely don’t really love me. You are still thinking about that Sarah, right?”

“I swear to God, I really definitely don’t! I just felt that this matter was a little sudden... Look, it’s already noon today. Let’s go tomorrow, okay?” Julian thought about it and felt that registering for marriage was not a big deal. Anyway, Vivian was already pregnant with his child, so he nodded and agreed.

“That’s what you said!”

“I said it! We’ll go register for marriage tomorrow! From now on, you are Mrs. Cooper!” Julian smiled and comforted her.

Vivian giggled and looked at him reproachfully, “Disgusting!”

Sarah came out of the coffee shop and immediately hailed a taxi to leave. Looking at the changing scenery outside the car window, tears of heartache rolled down one by one.

She never would have thought that... Julian actually brought Vivian, that woman, to see her. It was Julian who actually gave her a cheque of five million yuan.

Five million!

What did he think he was? What did he think of her father's feelings?

Nine years ago, her father treated Julian as his son...

She felt that it was not worth it! She also felt that it was not worth it for her father!

Her heart was torn apart piece by piece, and tears flowed out uncontrollably from her eyes like a broken dam...

Even when she saw him and Vivian together in the office, she was not as heartbroken as she was now!

Nine years!

Thinking about this long and passionate time, she could not help but laugh at herself. She used nine years to see clearly what kind of man he was.

Ridiculous! Really too ridiculous! How could she waste such a long time for nothing?

Sarah! You are too stupid!

You are really too stupid!

Tears flowed freely on her face but that heartbroken smile was still hanging on her face...

The car finally stopped at the seaside. Sarah paid the fare and got out of the car. She walked towards the beach alone. These few days of life were too depressing for her. She had to face the betrayal of Julian and also had to face Christian. The most painful thing was that she had to face her mother every time she went home!

Whether it was Julian's betrayal or Christian deliberately causing trouble for her... It was not even as painful as her mother's look!

Most of the time, she did not dare to face her mother's eyes. Those eyes contained too many things, and they were too heavy. Every time, they pressed down on her until she could not breathe!

The sea breeze mixed with a bit of the fishy smell of the sea blew over. It lifted up a bit of her short hair and made her instantly sober up.

Sarah, no matter what you have experienced, no matter what you have done, it is just a matter of the past. From now on, you must learn to start a new. In this world, there must be someone who was born for you.

A melodious ringtone interrupted Sarah's thoughts. She took out her phone from her bag and saw an unfamiliar number. She was not the mood to answer. She reached out and hung up. She looked at the time and it was almost noon. She wanted to go home and accompany her mother. She lifted her foot and prepared to leave.

Her phone rang again at this moment. Sarah frowned and picked it up again. She looked at the number on it and hesitated for a moment before answering the phone.

“Hello!” Sarah's voice was a little stiff and sounded cold. At this moment, she really did not have any mood.

“Sarah...” A familiar male voice sounded from the other end of the phone. His voice was so warm and carried a strong familial feeling which instantly melted Sarah’s heart.

“Mr. David!” Sarah’s eyes teared up when she heard this familiar voice but she had a happy smile on her face. However, this call was too sudden and surprised her. She still did not believe it. “Mr. David, is it really you?”

In her memory, only David would call her that!

David, who was on the other end of the phone smiled. “What is it? Did you forget me after not seeing me for a few years?”

Sarah laughed, “How could that be? I will not forget you! Mr. David, where are you? Tell me where you are! Are you back?”

“I just came back. I came to your house to see your mother. I wanted to give you a surprise, but you weren’t home.” David heard her surprise and relied with a smile.

“Mr. David, wait for me. I will go back immediately! Right away!” Sarah heard David’s words and immediately withdrew her line and ran to the side of the road. She wished she could hurry back home in the next second.

David heard that Sarah’s voice was no longer in the phone. He put down the phone with a smile and looked at Samantha opposite him. “She said she will be back in a while...”

Samantha also smiled. “When you come back, she will definitely be very happy. David, how have you been doing in the past few years? Looks like it’s not bad.”

Samantha kept looking at this child as she spoke. In the past, she had been neighbors with the Brown family, he often found his daughter Sarah to play with. A few years ago, she did not know why he insisted on going out to make a career. His family could no longer stop him no matter what. At that time, David’s mother even specially came to find her to help persuade him. But who knew that David would not listen to anyone’s words and in the end , he still left the city.

She did not expect that after a few years, that naughty young man from before had become a polite and cheerful man.

Hearing Samantha praise him, David grinned and smiled. “Auntie, I didn’t make much of a name for myself. I just opened a small restaurant. Anyway, I can feed myself.”

“That’s not bad. David, you didn’t bring a girlfriend this time?”

David smiled again. “Aunty, I don’t have a girlfriend yet. By the way, Auntie, how is Sarah? Didn’t she get engaged to Julian?”

Hearing his words, Samantha’s eyes dimmed as she sighed. “Sigh...”

“Auntie, what is wrong with you? Did something happen to Sarah? Did Julian bully Sarah?” When he saw Samantha’s expression, David stared at her closely and asked.

“David, Auntie doesn’t treat you as an outsider. Since you're back, Auntie will tell you the truth..." Samantha always had a good impression of this child and believed that she would not misjudge him.

"Auntie, please speak!" David immediately looked at her nervously.

Samantha forced out a bitter smile and sighed again. She slowly said, "Sarah and Julian had a falling out in his office two days ago. They broke up that day..."

"They broke up? Why?" David frowned and asked eagerly.

"Julian has been with another girl for a half a year. Sarah only found out the day before yesterday. This child is too stupid. She is the same as her father!" Thinking about how her daughter had surrounded Julian for so many years but ended up in this kind of situation, Samantha's heart ached and her tears could not help but fall.

David immediately took a tissue and handed it over.

“Auntie, don’t be too sad. This kind of thing is not necessarily a bad thing for Sarah. If Julian betrays her after marriage, doesn’t that mean she doesn’t even have the chance to regret it? Don’t you think so?”

Samantha nodded in pain and took the tissue to wipe her tears. She looked at David apologetically. “David, when you came back, Auntie told you this kind of thing. Don’t blame Auntie...”
