Chapter 1191

Benjamin ignored Renee's greeting, a prime example of male chauvinism.

Renee was told to sit at a neighboring table with a group of strangers.

She did not even get to speak to Benjamin.

On the other hand, Liam was treated very well, and was asked to sit at Benjamin's left.

While eating, Benjamin and Liam had a very happy chat.

It was clear that he liked Liam very much, and wished he had a son like him. Liam behaved obediently the whole time, making Benjamin very happy.

When it was almost time for the feast to end, he glanced at Renee, and pretended to ask

Benjamin casually, "By the way, Master, where is Joanne? Why didn't I see her?" Both Joanne and Liam escaped from the red-light district together. They had become Benjamin's disciples at the same time, but Joanne chose to stay while Liam wanted to leave.

Back then, Benjamin valued Joanne just as much as he valued Liam. She should have been promoted to a very high position, but Liam hadn't seen her around, which was strange.

surprise,

Benjamin

the table and

went silent.

Benjamin's

eldest foster

son, Danny

Evans,

immediately

smiled and said

reassuringly,

"Liam, let's not bring up unpleasant things at a time like this. Why did you ask about that

jinx?" "Danny, what do you mean? Joanne is our junior. What did

she do to anger all of you like this?"

Noah Gomez, Benjamin's third foster son, snorted and stated disdainfully, "She was the lead role in the red-light district previously, so of course, she isn't a nice woman. I knew that she had some ulterior motives as soon as I met her. As expected, she was soon exposed, and actually dared to betray Master. As a result, the police confiscated a batch of Master's goods, and we suffered a terrible loss. Don't you think she's a jinx?"

"Umm..." Liam knitted his brows slightly. Suddenly, he did not know how to handle the situation. If Joanne betrayed the fort, she might be long dead by now given Benjamin's cruelty and ruthlessness.

Renee was sitting

she could not hear

Benjamin's table.

"Mr. Jenkins, I'm new here, but I didn't bring you any gift. Let me offer you a toast as an apology." After that, she leaned her head backward and gulped down the wine in her glass.

However, Benjamin did not even look at Renee as he said aloofly to the others at his table,

"You know that none of the women in this world are nice except my dear Gem. They don't even have the right to eat at the same table as me, let alone toast me. She thinks too highly of herself."

Renee was speechless. She was so angry that she had to stop herself from breaking the glass in her hand. Although she met patronising men before, this was the first time she had met a man like Benjamin who believed that men dominated everything.

Hence, she could not hold herself back.

“Mr. Jenkins, I disagree. If all women are bad, then I must tell you that no men are nice either. The global crime rate proves this—men make up ninety percent of it while women make up merely ten percent of it. What’s more, the women committed those crimes to protect themselves. Your opinion is too biased.”

—men make up ninety percent of it while women make up merely ten percent of it. What's more, the women committed those crimes to protect themselves. Your opinion is too biased."

As soon as she made that statement, the silent hall became quieter, and the atmosphere became tense. "How dare you doubt me!" Benjamin's eyes bulged in disbelief and rage. It was the first time

Benjamin had met a person as reckless as Renee. The fact that she was a woman made him even more determined to teach her a lesson. "Mateo, tell her the consequences of those who doubted me in this fort!"

"Okay, Master."Mateo nodded and glanced at Renee before he explained, "The people who dare to doubt Master will have their tongues cut off and lips sewn shut. After that, they will be locked up in dungeons until they die.'

Renee unconsciously swallowed, in disbelief at how cruel this old man was. Such a ruthless punishment was almost as bad as the punishments Quinton used.

"What are you waiting for? Hurry up and execute her!" Benjamin barked, unable to stand the sight of Renee.

"Wait!" Liam immediately stood up and begged for mercy for Renee." Master, it's my girlfriend's first time being here, so she doesn't know the rules. Please let her off the hook this time, I promise that she won't do it again. I spent quite a long time trying to win her heart. Besides, I respect you very much, so I brought her to you. Please do me the favour, okay?"

"Fine, just this once." Benjamin sneered before he ordered, "Lock her up in the dungeon first. I'll release her after negotiating with Liam."

Although Liam could not bear to see Renee suffer, he did not dare to disobey Benjamin under such a circumstance. There was no way they could go against so many armed opponents after all. "Okay, Master, I'll listen to you. Don't worry, we'll talk this out.'

He decided to pacify Benjamin temporarily before he tried to get Renee out. Inwardly, he was regretting bringing Renee here. If he knew this would happen, he would have been firmer and refused to bring Renee here no matter what. However, he heard some good news during the meal. Joanne, who betrayed Benjamin, was still alive, and just happened to be locked up in the same dungeon as Renee.

At the end of the meal, Benjamin's mood became much better. He held Amber's hand and put it on Liam's, then smiled happily and said, "My little gem, Liam's name is always on your lips. He's back now, so why are you so shy? I'm worried about you, you know? Why don't you show Liam around and deepen your relationship with him?"

"Dad, don't do this. Liam has a girlfriend now, so stop trying to set me up with him," Amber protested, and gently pulled her hand away.

After a brief pause, Liam said casually, "It's fine. She's my girlfriend, not my wife, and I'm not that conservative either. It's been a long time since I last met you, Gem. Let's take a walk."

"Silly girl, he's already invited you! Why are you still shy?"

"Well, okay then." Amber stood up but kept her head low in embarrassment. She then said to Liam, "Liam, I... I bought a few pets which are very adorable... Umm, you can go and see them with me."

"Sure, I like small animals a lot." Liam agreed to it bluntly. Benjamin roared with laughter. "There's a good kid!"

Mateo watched them leave enviously. He gritted his teeth and said," Master, can't you tell? Liam's just trying to stall for time. All he cares about is his girlfriend. He's insincere toward Miss Jenkins!"

"Hmph! I don't care if he's sincere or not, as long as he can pretend like this his whole life and make my dear daughter happy," Benjamin sneered deviously.

place in the fort that was surrounded by a lot of guards.

“How dare you offend Mr. Jenkins! If not for Mr. Osborne, your tongue would have been cut off by now! Stay in there and reflect on yourself.” The guard fiercely pushed her into a small, dark room, which was the so-called dungeon. The door was closed again, and Renee felt her throat tighten in the tiny room, like she was being strangled.

“Who’s there?” There was movement in the furthest corner, and Renee immediately realised there was someone else in the dungeon with her.

“You’re new here?” The person leaned back against the wall and stared at Renee. Renee couldn’t make her features out in the dark, but her voice was eerily toneless.

Renee frowned and asked tentatively, “Could you be... Joanne?” She vaguely heard that Joanne was locked up in the dungeon too. Besides, there were practically no women around, so it was very likely that this person was Joanne.

“You’re new here, but you know me. You don’t seem like the average person.” There was a hint of teasing in Joanne’s flat voice.

She figured Renee had to be special for her to be locked up in here too.

“You’re Joanne?” Renee rushed to the woman and said happily, “That’s great! I didn’t expect to see you so soon!”

“Hey, back off! I don’t know you, so stop acting so pally,” Joanne snapped, immediately on guard. She had been hurt so many times before that she never let down her guard in front of anyone.

“It doesn’t matter if you don’t know me. You should... You should know the boss of Carmine Pawnshop, right? Quinton, who’s called Night Demon?”

“Brother...” Joanne’s aloof voice softened slightly, and she sounded like a lost little girl.

“Yes, he was once the brother you loved the most, but you betrayed him. I’m glad you still , and refrained from cursing this woman who repaid Quinton's kindness with betrayal.

"Brother... I did do him wrong, but what would you know about that?" Joanne gritted her teeth and said, "I would do it again if I had the chance! In fact, I would have killed him!"

"W-What did you say?" Renee was shocked, not expecting such a reaction from Joanne. She thought that Joanne must have been in a situation where she was forced to stab Quinton, but unexpectedly...

"Can you tell me what Night Demon did to make you hate him so much?

You guys were on good terms in the past, and you were always the angel who protected him and kept him company. Why did you-"

"Hmph, angel?"

The Untouchable Ex-Wife

Chapter 1194

g deep into her palms. “It depends on who the angel meets. If an angel meets another angel, then it’ll be heaven. But if the angel meets a demon, it’ll go to hell... He was the one who sent me there!”

“Miss, you... Wait a minute...”

Renee’s mind was a mess. Feeling bewildered, she asked Joanne in confusion, “You betrayed him and stabbed him, but you also said that he was a demon who pulled you down to hell... Is that right?”

“Yes, that’s right.” Joanne nodded vigorously, unashamed of what she had done.

“Well, you’re being unreasonable. How can you shift the blame to him?” Renee argued.

“What do you know? No one knows about my past with him, so none of you know how he dragged me to hell.”

“Do you mind telling me then? It seems like both of you are troubled by something... maybe I can help?” Renee felt that the woman she had heard about was not that unreasonable and ruthless.

There had to be some kind of misunderstanding.

“Who the hell are you? Why should

I tell you my secret?” Joanne narrowed her eyes at Renee. Ever since Renee mentioned Quinton, she had been suspicious of her.

“I’m...” At first, Renee wanted to say that she was Quinton’s sister, but after seeing how much Joanne hated him, that seemed like a bad idea. “I’m Liam’s girlfriend.

I’m here to save you, so I need you to trust me. Tell me your story.”

“Liam’s girlfriend?” Joanne sat up straight and tried to see Renee’s face in the dim light. She sounded very envious. “So, you’re the first love that Liam yearned for. I wonder how charming you are to make a man love you so deeply. Unfortunately, we’re in the dungeon, so I can’t really see you...”

“Ah...” Renee touched her hair awkwardly, secretly cursing Liam and how talkative he was. Why did he tell everyone his story? So much for wanting to travel the world-it felt more like he just wanted to go around and tell people about his love life!

“Yeah, it’s not easy to be with him.

When he came back, he told me that it was because of your help that he was able to escape from the red-light district, and decided to become a committed man. So, he won’t stand by and do nothing either since you’re in trouble now.’ “I know that he’s a loyal friend. He managed to leave this fort back then by paying a heavy price...” Joanne heaved a long sigh and shook her head.” He’s so silly.

How dumb! He

deserve such kindness.”

“Don’t say that! I believe that you’re an angel. You might have made a mistake, but I’m sure you have your reasons. I’ll try to take you back to Beach City so you can talk it out with Night Demon and resolve the issue between the both of you,” Renee said quickly, becoming slightly impatient.

This made Joanne doubtful. She frowned and said, “You claim that you’re Liam’s girlfriend, but you can’t stop bringing up my brother. What’s your relationship with him?”

“I... I am...” Renee did not know if she should tell the truth.

“It’s okay, I don’t really care. I don’t want to have anything to do with him. What’s more, I won’t leave this place. I’m as good as dead.” After that, Joanne closed her eyes and leaned against the wall in despair.

absently. She had long lost all hope to survive. When she recalled the things she did in the past, as well as the things she had experienced, she lost her desire to live. She no longer recognized herself.
“You want to make up for your mistakes, so it proves that you haven’t given up all hope. There’s still something you can’t let go of... So, don’t just give up on yourself, okay?
We’ll get out of this place together.” In the dark, Renee extended her hand towards Joanne.
“Even if you won’t do it for yourself, do it for me. Let’s escape together. Can you do that for me?” i “No, I don’t want to!” Joanne refused, turning away from Renee firmly. Her heart had broken when she jumped into the sea with Quinton-now, she just existed.
After the incident, she had wandered into the red-light district.
Many people had humiliated her there, which instilled a deep hatred in her heart. She hated the world, and she hated herself even more.
“Wow, you’re really...” Renee sighed exasperatedly. She wanted to comment on how stubborn Joanne was, but decided against it. She demanded, “Don’t tell me you have no regrets! Isn’t there anyone you want to see again?”
“A person I want to see again?” “Yes! Imagine if you could see one person before you die, so that you could die without regrets. Wouldn’t that be nice?”
Renee finally asked.
Unexpectedly, Joanne responded to the question hesitantly.
“You’re right. I do care about someone. For so many years, I’ve yearned to see him again.
I can die in peace after meeting him.” “Really? Who do you want to meet? It’s Night Demon, isn’t it? I know that you still care about him.” Renee’s eyes lit up and she became excited. It seemed like the great reconciliation she wanted would finally happen!
“Of course not! The one I want to see is the president of H Group, Stefan Hunt,” Joanne responded bluntly.
Renee’s smile stiffened, and she was dumbfounded.
Did she hear Joanne wrong? The person Joanne wanted to see again before she died... was also the scumbag who had lied to her and manipulated her.
“The only person I feel that I’ve wronged is Mr. Hunt.
Unfortunately... I didn’t manage to say sorry to him. I...”
“Please stop.” Renee immediately stopped Joanne’s confusing words.” Miss, you can tell me if you were fooled and bewitched by Mr. Hunt. I can help you. Don’t you know that he lied to you and manipulated you?”
If she managed to bring Joanne back to Beach City but Joanne went to see Stefan instead of Quinton, ‘the great reconciliation’ might become ‘the great war’ instead...
The very idea of it was terrifying.
On the other hand, both Liam and Amber were taking a walk under the moonlight. However, he was ill at ease and engulfed in anxiety

The Untouchable Ex-Wife

Chapter 1196

He's just trying to scare you,"

Amber said softly, finally picking up the courage to speak as she walked beside Liam shyly.

"I know. He has a soft heart,"

Liam replied absent-mindedly.

He couldn't stop worrying about

Renee.

"I know that lady is very important to you. If you want to save her, you'll have to outsmart him. Don't take him head-on. If not, the consequences will be unimaginable..."

"Outsmart him?" Liam finally turned his attention to the young woman beside him. Under the moonlight, Amber's long hair, large eyes, and white outfit gave off a pure and gentle aura.

"Yes. I have a way to help you outsmart him."

Amber looked up at him,

her dark eyes shining like stars.

"Really? I'm all ears." Liam was a bit doubtful of this young woman who blushed the moment she saw him. He felt that she would not come up with any constructive ideas, but he couldn't deny his curiosity.

Amber then glanced at the guards who were following them and tried to say fiercely,

"Stop following Liam and I. We want to talk in private."

"But Miss Jenkins, the master ordered us to protect you closely in case..."

"In case of what?" Amber put her hands on her hips and demanded in a slightly fierce tone. "Umm... In case..." The guard glanced at Liam but did not dare to continue talking. So, it seemed that the crafty

Benjamin was not entirely trusting of Liam.

"You guys are afraid that Liam will harm me, right? That will never happen. When he came,

he gave up all his weapons.

Besides, he's not that kind of a person. I just want to tell him some secrets. Don't I have the right to do that?"

"Yes, sure." It was the first time the guards saw the ted quietly.

“Great. Those annoying people are finally gone.”

Amber heaved a sigh of relief before she inadvertently met Liam’s gaze. Her cheeks immediately turned red again.

With his hands in his pockets, Liam said lightly, “So, how do you plan to outsmart him?1’ “Take this.”

Amber approached Liam and subtly stuffed something into his hands.

Liam looked down and was surprised to see that it was a dagger. “With just this? All the guards here are fully armed, so I’m afraid that this small dagger can’t do much for me... It can’t help me save her.”

“I’m not that dumb . Of course, this dagger isn’t to save her.”

“Then what is it for?”

“Let me show you.” Amber took Liam’s hand that was holding the dagger and put it to her throat. “My father adores me very much. You can ask him to exchange your woman with me. You can save her then, right?”

ke Amber to show such a tough side.
He
immediately
put away the dagger and
said firmly,
“Don’t joke around like that. Aren’t
you worried
that I might actually take you as a hostage?”
Amber was
very naive.
Her eyes were pure and clear
as she said, “I think it’s worth
it even if you
hold me as a hostage in exchange for your beloved
woman!”
“Silly
child. You should

Liam
would never use
such an immoral
tactic,
even if he was left
with no
options.
He looked around.
Although
those two guards had been sent away, they were still following
them from afar. All the exits were guarded too,
so it would be practically impossible to save Renee
under the guards’ strict
monitoring.
“Gem...
Amber...
Forget about
the hostage
plan. Can you take me to the

ly way he could think of. Amber was the only one on his side that had a bit of status in the whole fort.

“The dungeon is very dangerous, so my father prohibits me from going there... but if you want to see her, I can take you there.”

Amber nibbled her lip nervously as she made up her mind, then led Liam to the dungeon.

She knew her father would be angry and punish her, but she wanted to do whatever she could to help Liam.

The dungeon was located in a very remote place, and was guarded all around.

Generally, one would only be locked there if Benjamin wanted to sentence them to death or sell them to others.

Currently, both Renee and Joanne were locked in there, so their fates were unimaginable ... It was a dark night.

The two guards were slightly tired, so they started chatting idly.

“Did

alone
else.
They'll
come
and get her
tonight.
“Ah, how sad! She's pretty, but she'll soon be torn into pieces. What a pity!”
“It's not a pity at all! If she didn't
betray him,
she might be
his wife now.
She's
ungrateful. It serves her
right!”
Liam
happened to hear their conversation,
and his eyes
widened in shock.” Did I hear right?
Your father
wants to sell
Joanne's body parts?! Isn't
she his only
female disciple?
That's too
cruel!”
With her head lowered, Amber grasped the hem of her clothes awkwardly.” Joanne is indeed very pitiful. She did
the right thing
and didn't want to conspire with my dad... I tried to beg for mercy for her,
but no one can change my dad's mind
once he decides on something.”
At the same
time, two people in lab coats
and masks
walked into the dungeon,
carrying a
toolbox.
The guards immediately blocked their path. “Show me your pass.” The two people showed their passes to the

gave to be delivered fresh.” The guards ordered them. Meanwhile, Liam was terrified. He had long heard that Benjamin was ruthless, but he had always appeared amiable. He even took Liam in as his disciple and taught him martial arts. As a result, Liam assumed that Benjamin was not that bad. Now, it was clear that the man was actually a ferocious demon who had no qualms about killing others! The most horrible thing was that Benjamin had admired Joanne greatly in the past. She was the one exception—his only female disciple.

Liam was slightly surprised. He did not expect the weak and child-like Amber to show such a tough side. He immediately put away the dagger and said firmly, "Don't joke around like that. Aren't you worried that I might actually take you as a hostage?" Amber was very naive. Her eyes were pure and clear as she said, "I think it's worth it even if you hold me as a hostage in exchange for your beloved woman!" "Silly child. You should know your worth." Liam would never use such an immoral tactic, even if he was left with no options. He looked around. Although those two guards had been sent away, they were still following them from afar. All the exits were guarded too, so it would be practically impossible to save Renee under the guards' strict monitoring. "Gem... Amber... Forget about the hostage plan. Can you take me to the dungeon to see my girlfriend?" Liam was helpless, and this was the only way he could think of. Amber was the only one on his side that had a bit of status in the whole fort. "The dungeon is very dangerous, so my father prohibits me from going there... but if you want to see her, I can take you there." Amber nibbled her lip nervously as she made up her mind, then led Liam to the dungeon. She knew her father would be angry and punish her, but she wanted to do whatever she could to help Liam. The dungeon was located in a very remote place, and was guarded all around. Generally, one would only be locked there if Benjamin wanted to sentence them to death or sell them to others. Currently, both Renee and Joanne were locked in there, so their fates were imaginable... It was a dark night. The two guards were slightly tired, so they started chatting idly. "Did you hear? Master plans to tear Joanne into pieces and sell her to someone else. They'll come and get her tonight." "Ah, how sad! She's pretty, but she'll soon be torn into pieces. What a pity!" "It's not a pity at all! If she didn't betray him, she might be his wife now. She's ungrateful. It serves her right!" Liam happened to hear their conversation, and his eyes widened in shock. "Did I hear right? Your father wants to sell Joanne's body parts?! Isn't she his only female disciple? That's too cruel!" With her head lowered, Amber grasped the hem of her clothes awkwardly. "Joanne is indeed very pitiful. She did the right thing and didn't want to conspire with my dad... I tried to beg for mercy for her, but no one can change my dad's mind once he decides on something." At the same time, two people in lab coats and masks walked into the dungeon, carrying a toolbox. The guards immediately blocked their path. "Show me your pass." The two people showed their passes to the guards, and were allowed to enter the dungeon. "Be quick. The items have to be delivered fresh." The guards ordered them. Meanwhile, Liam was terrified. He had long heard that Benjamin was ruthless, but he had always appeared amiable. He even took Liam in as his disciple and taught him martial arts. As a result, Liam assumed that Benjamin was not that bad. Now, it was clear that the man was actually a ferocious demon who had no qualms about killing others! The most horrible thing was that Benjamin had admired Joanne greatly in the past. She was the one exception-his only female disciple. Chapter 1198 Currently, Joanne was forced to have her body parts sold just because she disagreed with Benjamin's cruel ways. How horrible! "They're so used to this. Will Boss be..." Liam's heartbeat quickened, and he did not dare to think about it. "No, I must save them. I can't delay any longer!" Driven by panic, he rushed towards the entrance of the dungeon. Naturally, he was stopped by two guards. "The dungeon is a restricted area. Please show me your pass." "I don't have a pass!" Liam snarled coldly, "My girlfriend is in there, and I've come to get her back." "You don't have a pass but you want to barge into the dungeon without permission. It looks like you're an intruder. Well, don't blame us for being harsh." The guards raised their weapons and aimed them at Liam's head. Sometimes, there were people who tried to barge into the dungeon like Liam was doing. It was usually quite easy to deal with them-the guards simply pulled the trigger, dragged the body away, and threw it aside.

“What are you doing? Let go of him!” Amber quickly rushed forward and stopped the guards.

“Miss Jenkins, we’re just doing our duty. Please cooperate,” the guards said solemnly. “You should be aware of the rules in the fort. Anyone who wants to enter the dungeon must have a pass. Even if it’s the master, we have to kill him if he tries to barge in without a pass.”

Benjamin had enforced that rule when he first established the fort. Their power and influence had grown because of it, and thus, the fort had become a dangerous spot that ordinary people dared not approach.

“Who told you I don’t have a pass?” Amber took a pass out of her bag and handed it to the guard. “Look at it carefully... That is my dad’s exclusive pass. I can go anywhere with this, and I can give any order I want. If you disobey me, you’re disobeying my dad.”

“Umm...” The

two guards were in a dilemma. The pass was indeed the most powerful pass in the whole fort. Guards like them, who had only a small status, had no right to doubt it, so they could only obey her. They put down their weapons and let Liam and Amber enter the dungeon. Right after that, they reported the incident to Benjamin.

When Benjamin’s four foster sons heard that, they became so angry that they wanted to hack Liam into pieces.

“Master, Liam is way out of line. How dare he instigate Miss Jenkins to steal your pass! If this goes on, she’ll even give up her life for him!” Mateo burst out furiously. He didn’t hate Liam, it was just that he had a crush on Amber. He was worried that she might do something more outrageous under Liam’s orders.

However, if Benjamin lost his temper, he might even punish his daughter.

“Miss Jenkins is a pure and kind woman, so she can’t be with a cunning man like Liam. Let’s forget about our past friendship and hack Liam into pieces and sell him to others!”

Danny, Benjamin’s eldest foster son, suggested impatiently.

He always thought that human lives were worthless.

Naturally, disobedient people had to be eliminated.

In the dark, Joanne smiled sadly and said to Renee, "Finally, my time has come."

Renee had been feeling drowsy, but now, she was fully awake. "What is it? Where are you going?"

"I will be reborn again.'

"Reborn?" Renee asked slowly. "Has that old man suddenly grown a conscience? Does he want to let you go?"

"Yeah, he wants to let me go." Joanna's smile became even sadder. She reached out and embraced Renee as she whispered, "Miss Everheart, I'm glad I got to know you. If you get the chance, please say sorry to Mr. Hunt for me.'

Renee rolled her eyes and scoffed,

"He lied to you and fooled you, but you want to apologise to him?"

"Yes, I've wronged him deeply. Many things aren't as they seem... I'm leaving.' Joanne let Renee go hesitantly, then went out under the urging of the guard.

Renee was still rooted to the spot as she thought about what Joanne had said. Suddenly, it dawned on her. 'Didn't Joanne tell me that she wants to meet Stefan again before leaving? Why did she ask me to pass on the message? Could it be that... Benjamin didn't let her go? Damn it, Renee, why are you so dumb?!'

Helplessness engulfed her, and Renee immediately stood up and ran towards the exit of the cell. She then smacked the large iron door and screamed, "Let me out! What did you do to Joanne? Let me go!"

The guard could not take the noise, so he warned her through the palmsized hole in the door. "Be quiet. If you keep screaming, I'll be forced to use poisonous gas on you."

"Where did you take Joanne? Let me go! I can give you a lot of money if you let me go..." "Calm down, it'll soon be your turn. You'll know where they take Joanne later."

"Let me go, okay? I have a lot of money, so I can give you as much as you want. After all, this is just a job." Renee tried to bargain with him.

"Just give up. We'll be doomed if we dare to take others' money after becoming the master's subordinates.'

Benjamin's cruelty was extended to everyone in the fort. He ruled over all of them like a dictator, and no one dared to disobey him.

Just when Renee was losing hope, Amber successfully barged in with Liam. "Let her go." Amber ordered the guard.

"Miss Jenkins, I'm sorry. We can't casually let anyone in the dungeon go without the master's order.' The guard was respectful but firm.

"The pass is the order. If you don't let her go, I'll ask my dad to punish you both."

"Miss Jenkins, we can't do that. Please don't make things difficult for us. We..." Before the guard could finish talking, Liam suddenly snatched the weapon from the guard as well as the key. He stated coldly, “You should know that the secret rule of this fort is to act

first and talk later.”

“Liam, you’re resourceful.” Amber swallowed slightly before she put away the pass.

Liam grabbed the key and quickly opened the large door of the cell. “Boss, are you okay?”

He barged in and held Renee’s shoulders, asking anxiously.

“I’m fine. Go and save Joanne now. She’s in great danger.”

Liam pressed the gun to the guard’s head and demanded, “Where’s Joanne?”

“I’m not telling you anything, so you might as well kill me.” The guard tilted his head and closed his eyes, refusing to give in.

“You!” Liam was greatly infuriated. The people in the fort had undergone high-intensity physical and mental training, so they were loyal to Benjamin and would never easily admit defeat.

“Maybe she’s in the dismantling room,” Amber said hesitantly. “I once heard from Mateo that anyone who betrays my dad will be sent to the dismantling room. Their body parts will then be dismantled and sold.”

“What?” Renee clenched her fists and snarled indignantly, “That old man is merciless!”

“Maybe that’s why Joanne reported my dad. I didn’t expect that... it would put her in such great danger.” Amber kept her head low. She did not approve of some of Benjamin’s actions, but as his daughter, she did not know how she could stop all this.

“There’s no time to wonder. Let’s go to the dismantling room and save Joanne before your father sends his people here to stop us.” Renee scowled, wishing she could destroy this terrible place.

“Yes, we can do that, but I heard that there are thirty-two dismantling rooms, and they’re all over the fort. What’s more, this fort is 50,000 acres large,” Amber elaborated timidly.

Bewilderment and deep despair overcame Renee. It would be like looking for a needle in a haystack if they wanted to find Joanne!

“It doesn’t matter, let’s just go.’ Liam realised how serious the issue was, and knew they had to leave now if they wanted to have a chance of saving her.

“Yes, let’s go.” Renee nodded and suggested, “Let’s split up and look for her. It’ll be more efficient.”

“No way!” Liam held Renee’s hand and said firmly, “I finally rescued you. I don’t want to part with you again.”

Disappointment and jealousy filled Amber when she saw Liam hold Renee’s hand tightly.

‘She’s so lucky... The only time he notices me is when it’s for her.’

“How about this? You guys go one way, I’ll go the other. After all, I’m my dad’s only daughter, so nobody dares to touch me. I can go to any part of the fort quickly. I’ll contact you once I find her,” Amber said sincerely.

“That’s a great idea. Thank you.” Liam agreed with Amber’s suggestion.

They went their separate ways and looked for Joanne in every room.

Meanwhile, Joanne was wearing only her intimates in the most secluded dismantling room.

She lay flat on the surgery table with her limbs tied up. The dazzling white light above her shone down, making her face look pale.

The person in a lab coat who was responsible for dismantling her body leaned over her, about to anaesthetise her.

“Any final words?” The man casually asked Joanne as he adjusted the syringe
