When His Eyes Opened Chapter 3167-Joanna: "Okay. This time, we put our bags in the room. Hazel and Lucas are in the restaurant on the first floor, waiting for us."

Avery: "You said that Lucas talks less. You can find more topics to talk about with him later."

Joanna smiled and said, "Okay."

After hanging up the phone, Hayden walked to Joanna's side and said, "Your attitude towards Lucas is too good; it will make Lucas feel that it is easy to pass our test. This is not good."

Joanna: "I was down there just now, and I was talking to Lucas normally, right?"

Hayden: "It's obviously not normal. You just asked him to call you sister-in-law."

Joanna explained with a smile: "In our hometown, married women are called sister-in-law. This title is okay; otherwise, it would be inappropriate for me to ask him to call me Joanna, right? After all, he and Hazel are of the same age."

Hayden: "You are still too kind to him."

Joanna: "I treat everyone like this! I'm not just kind to Lucas."

Hayden: "I know. I mean, you shouldn't be too friendly. After all, we are here as Hazel's elders."

Joanna: "Should I keep a straight face with you? How embarrassing! Mom asked me to talk to Lucas more! Only through chatting can I know what kind of person the other party is."

Hayden stopped talking.

Okay, husband, don't worry; even if Lucas passed our level, wouldn't there still be Dad's level? I guess Dad won't let him go too smoothly." Joanna coaxed.

“Let’s go down!” Hayden adjusted his mood.

“Well. Husband, have you thought about what question to ask Lucas later? If you are embarrassed to ask, I can ask it for you.” Joanna took Hayden’s arm and came out of the room.

Hayden: “I haven’t thought about it.”

Joanna: “Okay! Let’s adapt to the situation later! Anyway, we will stay here for a few days.”

Hayden: “Um.”

When the two arrived at the restaurant, Hazel immediately handed them the menu with a smile.

“Brother, sister-in-law, you must be hungry, right? I’ve ordered a few dishes; you can take a look and see if there is anything you want to add.” Hazel ordered the dishes first according to the tastes of Hayden and Joanna.

Joanna took the menu, glanced at it, and said, “There are four of us; six dishes are enough.”

After speaking, Joanna handed the menu to the waiter.

The waiter took the menu and left.

The atmosphere froze all of a sudden, and no one spoke.

Joanna cleared her throat, ready to ask Lucas a question.

At this time, Hazel bumped Lucas with her elbow and said, “Tell me about what you are doing now.”

After hearing Hazel’s words, Lucas was a little puzzled: “Aren’t we eating now?”

Hazel couldn’t laugh or cry, “I’m talking about your company.”

Lucas suddenly realized, “I’ve been working on a new game recently. It will be launched in about a week.”

Joanna looked embarrassed and said with a smile, “Really? That’s amazing!”

Lucas: "Sister-in-law, I can ask Hazel to send you the link when the time comes."

Joanna and Hayden spoke in unison.

Joanna said, "Okay!"

Hayden said, "She doesn't play games."

Lucas was a little embarrassed: "Sorry, I didn't know sister-in-law doesn't play games."

Hayden: "I don't play games either."

Lucas was even more embarrassed.

Hazel: "It's okay, your game is online; send it to me, and I'll play."

Hayden: "Hazel, I remember you don't play games either."
