

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 2352

Married at First Sight Chapter 2352-The only man Remy really regarded as his rival in love was indeed Andrew Reading.

In Remy's eyes, Julian was just an actor, because his acting was too obvious.

"Eldest young mistress."

Mrs. Lane walked in and told Serenity with a smile: "Mrs. Johnson and Young Mistress Johnson have brought their two children."

Ben's family all lived in Wildridge Manor.

Zachary and Serenity personally entertained the whole family of Johnson's family. When the wedding time came, Serenity returned to live in her sister's house from her husband's house. On the wedding day, she went out from her sister's house.

The elder sister's home was her mother's home. If it was before, and her sister was still the daughter-in-law of the Brown family, Serenity probably wouldn't have left her home.

It's different now, her elder sister was independent, her elder sister's home was not called Brown's, but Hunt's.

The elder sister was in charge, she had the final say, and her natal home was the elder sister's!

"Please."

Serenity returned to her natal home for a while, so Jane's mother-in-law and Jane brought the two children to see her.

The main reason was that Jane was not familiar with the place in Wiltspoon.

She was only familiar with Serenity, and she would become sister-in-law with Elisa in the future, but the two of them didn't meet much for the time being.

Apart from looking for Serenity, Jane didn't know who to play with.

Ben was different, he was the head of FC & Co., and FC & Co. had another career in Wiltspoon. When he came to Wiltspoon, many business leaders in Wiltspoon warmly invited Ben to dinner, where they talked about business.

Jane did not accompany her husband because she was worried about her two children.

Serenity and Elisa walked out of the main house together, and saw Jane walking over with Enzo in her arms, and Alannah was holding Avah.

Alannah, who was a grandmother, was definitely eccentric. No matter what time she hugged her granddaughter, Avah.

She often said that there was a high probability that Avah was her only granddaughter, a unique baby; of course she had to love her more.

Well, if she had many grandchildren, it's not rare. In fact, she only had one.

Enzo didn't know the reason, and was crying when his mother carried him away.

Avah kept looking at her brother, Enzo.

The two children were four months old, and they looked so cute, but Enzo loved to cry.

"Enzo, what's wrong?"

Seeing Enzo crying in Jane's arms, Serenity walked over quickly, asking Jane while walking.

Soon, she walked in front of Jane.

Then she saw clearly that there were two red marks on Enzo's fair and clean face, and she knew at a glance that he was arrested.

Jane said: "The brothers and sisters all slept together. When Enzo woke up, he always opened his mouth and cried. Avah didn't know if this was on purpose or not, so she slapped her brother in the face and grabbed Enzo by the face. This made Enzo cry even more."

"He got out of the car in my arms, and he's still crying."

Avah: ...Brother is too noisy, I want him to shut up, but the shot is off.