

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2258

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2258

So, he had wanted to touch her for some time.

When he thought about how he could have some fun with the women that night, he felt so excited.

However, before he could touch the woman, he wailed in pain.

“Ah!”

His body flew backward.

Boom!

Then, he hit the wall not far away and passed out.

David was not the one who did this.

Instead, it was Beanie sitting next to David.

Nightingale City, where the Nacht family was located, was also a third-tier city.

Since she was the person in charge of the Nacht family in The Spirit Cage, Beanie was not weak. Her identity should at least be the same as the person in charge of the few major forces here.

The few hedonists in front of her should be the same as Nas and Nivia. Perhaps even more inferior.

Initially, Nivia had come to Sole with Beanie, but after selling the Silver Flood Dragon and the Beast Crystal, Beanie and the head of the family discussed letting Beanie stay with David, so it was arranged for Nivia to return to Nightingale City.

The sudden scene shocked Brutus, his friends, and the other customers on the second floor.

They all looked at Beanie in disbelief. They could not believe that she would dare hurt someone.

This was the first time Brutus and his friends had encountered this, so they were dumbfounded.

They had been arrogant for so many years that they were always the bullies.

When did they allow others to bully them?

“You... You... You...”

Brutus pointed at Beanie. After he stammered for a long while, he still could not form a complete sentence.

“I’ve been holding back for a very long time. You useless scoundrels! You can’t do anything other than bullying others. Master David is kind enough to give you a chance and doesn’t want to pay attention to you. However, not only did you not appreciate it, you still want to harass us. I have a bad temper and since you asked for trouble, you can’t blame me,” Beanie said coldly.

At that moment, David put down his cutlery and turned to look at the stunned men.

“Normally, if I beat you up, the elders of your family will come back, right? Go get someone to help you now. I’ll wait. If you’re late, we’ll be gone.”

Since they had started taking action, he should just take care of this altogether.

Just as he did to Conway, and now, there was no further trouble.

After Brutus and his friends came back to their senses, they looked at Beanie in terror and backed away slowly. When they got to the person who passed out because of Beanie, they bent to pick him up.

They looked at David and the rest before leaving quietly.

They were not stupid. They knew not to choose to suffer any immediate losses.

Judging from the strength displayed in her attack, it was evident that the woman who took action was formidable, and they stood no chance against her. Therefore, their best option was to temporarily retreat and seek someone else to return later for vengeance.

This was their territory, so how could they let David and his team leave after they had injured their friend?

How delusional!

As for the departure of the hedonists, David did not say anything. He just looked at Evie and asked, "Princess Evie, we didn't scare you, right?"

"I'm sorry, Master David. We're the reason you got into trouble," Evie said apologetically.

"It's fine! I think those guys are used to being arrogant so they need to be taught a lesson."

David chuckled and was not bothered by this.

The few hedonists were not worth his time.

The people continued their meal.

Wier.

Elven Queen Isa and the few Elves departed and headed on their way to look for Evie.

This time, they were heading on the route David and his team took.

Perhaps both sides would meet not long after this.